Message from the President of the HOA

Southern Home Owners Association June Newsletter Message from the President

As we welcome the month of June, we step into a season known for sunshine, growth, and the official start of summer. June has long symbolized energy, warmth, and community, and it's also a month filled with meaningful observances. We recognize Pride Month, celebrating inclusion and the diversity of our nation; Flag Day on June 14; Father's Day, honoring fathers and father figures; and Juneteenth, commemorating the end of slavery in the United States. Each of these observances reflects values that strengthen communities like ours.

June also marks the start of hurricane season here in Florida. Now is the time to review your personal preparedness plans, check your supplies, and make sure your home is ready for severe weather. Pinellas County provides an excellent Hurricane Preparedness Guide, available at: <https://pinellas.gov/hurricane-guide>

June also leads us toward one of our biggest celebrations of the year. The HOA and the Social Butterfly Club are preparing for next month's Independence Day celebration, honoring our nation's 250th birthday. This special joint event will feature food, music, and a variety of activities for all to enjoy. Please keep an eye on the information boards for updates as planning continues.

With the return of some much-needed rain, lawns and plants are growing quickly again. You may find that more frequent mowing is needed to keep your lot looking neat. Thank you for helping keep Southern beautiful.

A friendly reminder that our common areas are shared spaces for everyone. Please be considerate of your neighbors — not everyone enjoys the same music, volume, or activities. A little courtesy helps keep our community peaceful and welcoming.

Also, please remember that smoking or vaping of any substance is not permitted in the pool area. This helps maintain a clean and enjoyable environment for all residents.

Wishing each of you a bright, relaxing, and enjoyable June!

Warm regards,
Jim Loomis

President, Southern Home Owners Association

H A P P Y
Father's Day

Notes from the Park Manager

Southernaire Mobile Home Resort invites its valued residents to participate in a referral opportunity, offering a $500 INCENTIVE FOR EACH APPROVED BUYER who purchases one of the three (if still available) park-owned homes, specifically Lot 39, 313 and 438. For further information, please visit the office or contact us at 727-525-2800.

We still have approximately 30 mobile homes in the park that still require a 2026 registration sticker, as stipulated by Florida state regulations.

Due to the insufficient participation with only 5 people signing up, we had to cancel the community yard sales in May. Hopefully we will see more interest in the fall.

As the rainy season approaches, it is crucial to maintain your lawn and control weed growth in your yard. During this period, bi-weekly or weekly lawn mowing is recommended. For residents who require assistance, there are local services available in the park that offer lawn care at a reasonable price.

Several things were noticed while reading the water meters in the park today. Residents are reminded that pet owners must pick up after their animals at all times. Pet waste is not permitted to be left in fenced yards or anywhere on the property.

In addition, all vehicles must be properly registered and display a current, up-to-date license tag. Broken down or inoperable vehicles are not permitted to be stored in carports or on park property.

Thank you for your cooperation in helping keep the park clean and well maintained for everyone.

Flying in the face of disaster

In the 1980s and early '90s, Continental Airlines was a disaster. The organization had gone bankrupt twice and was on its way to a third (and final) catastrophe. It had gone through 10 presidents in 10 years, and employees mistrusted management.

Then in 1994 Gordon Bethune stepped in. Instead of running around willy-nilly trying to stamp out the various raging fires, Bethune took a step back to return to the basics. He identified Continental's key goals so that employees' efforts would be concentrated on them rather than diffused by the disaster of the moment. One of his areas of focus was creating a corporate culture. Without the commitment of the employees, the other goals would be impossible.

Drawing on the organization's history of excellence in service, he rallied the workforce. Bethune discovered that the employees weren't bad—they just worked in a dysfunctional organization. So they were quick to get behind his new leadership.

Senior management was a different story. Bethune knew he had to make wholesale changes, and that meant getting rid of the bureaucracy. In a couple of months, Bethune and his top executives replaced 50 of the company's 61 officers with 20 top-notch people.

The changes were dramatic. In one year's time, Continental went from being ranked the worst in customer satisfaction among major airlines to first.

The birth of 'excellence'

Tom Peters didn't exactly give birth to excellence, but he did establish the idea that companies can achieve excellence under the inspiration of a management guru—like himself.

It all began in the spring of 1978. John Larson of McKinsey's San Francisco office was set to give a presentation to a client. But his computer crashed and took with it his notes. He turned to another consultant, Tom Peters, to throw together a presentation that would satisfy the client.

Peters had just returned from traveling the world to compile research on best practices in business. Up until then, his research had been collecting dust after he had presented it to the McKinsey powers that be. With an opportunity to present his findings again, Peters gathered his data. In search of a sexy title to give his presentation, Peters came up with "Excellence." It was a hit.

Eventually, Peters edited the material into a manuscript. Continuing with the idea of excellence, he titled the book The Secrets of Excellence. But the title didn't fly with the McKinsey folks, who feared that clients would think the company was selling the secrets of client operations. In 1982, Peters and co-author Robert Waterman renamed it the more politically astute In Search of Excellence. And thus was excellence born.

How to Make Watermelon Gelato

A few of tips before you get started:

- Cube the watermelon and freeze on a baking sheet.

Note: I rarely do this day to day for food preparation. I'm too food-rushed to bother!

Most times I just chuck fruit (sliced bananas, berries) in a Ziploc bag. If they stick together, I whack that bag on the counter until it yields. Anger management. 🤔

Yeah, you could do this here too, but it's easier to freeze in cubes beforehand.

The watermelon freezes quickly, and you can then pop into a Ziploc bag or container until ready to make the watermelon gelato.

- Don't add liquid to the puree! The watermelon is already so moisture-rich. Let it do its thing, and the watermelon gelato will be perfect! Food processor is easiest, but a rambo blender will also work.
- Make it creamier! If you want to add something for additional creaminess, try adding 1-2 tbsp of raw cashew butter. I wouldn't use roasted nut butter or almond butter, it isn't as mellow in flavor. You could also add 1-2 tbsp of coconut cream.
- This watermelon gelato is best enjoyed immediately, or after setting in freezer for just an hour or so. If the watermelon gelato freezes longer, it's still fine! It's just that the texture becomes a little more watery when it needs to thaw out.
- Sweetener is truly optional. I tested adding 1/2 – 1 tbsp of coconut nectar or cassava syrup (new sweetener for me). Use only if your banana isn't really overripe or you think the sweetness is not quite to your liking.

Exercise may improve cognitive functions in stroke patients

Exercise is essential to good health for everyone. Now a recent study suggests that an exercise routine can have positive mental health benefits for stroke survivors.

A stroke cuts off the flow of blood to the brain, and frequently leaves survivors with physical and mental impairments. An analysis of 13 clinical trials at the University of Pittsburgh appears to indicate that moderate aerobic exercise along with strength and balance training is effective at helping survivors regain such cognitive skills as attention and processing speed. Exercise programs of four to 12 weeks can be beneficial, even long after a stroke occurs.

The most effective programs emphasized strength, balance, stretching, and aerobic fitness that increases your heart rate just enough to make patients sweat. Instead of an intense workout, walking on a treadmill or riding a recumbent bike appears to have a positive impact—important news for anyone dealing with the aftermath of a stroke.

Mix these ingredients for cultural creativity

Do you want to nurture a culture of creativity in your organization? Try to build in these essential ingredients:

- Curiosity. Ask people questions that challenge the conventional wisdom. Encourage them to stretch boundaries and take chances on new opportunities.
- Emotion. People who love what they do are better at generating new ideas about their work. Hire and support people who show a real enthusiasm for your organization and its mission.
- Tolerance. People won't suggest ideas if they're afraid of being punished for failure. Encourage risk taking by showing forgiveness when things don't work out, as long as people are giving their best efforts.
- Direction. A clear sense of what you want to achieve will help people focus their ideas. Have a concrete mission statement that tells everyone what you're trying to do, why it's important, and how it will benefit everyone.

What do the instructions say? Creativity expert

Yoram Solomon often conducts workshops that teach people to approach problems with an open mind. In one exercise (recounted on the Inc. magazine website), he asks participants to build a structure out of a sheet of paper. Some cut the paper into smaller pieces, although his instructions don't specifically say they can.

Once everyone is finished, Solomon asks, "Did the instructions allow you to cut the paper?" Most believe they've done something wrong. But one person usually pipes up with, "You didn't say we couldn't, either."

"To be creative," Solomon points out, "don't assume restrictions that don't really exist."

Beware these creativity myths

Creativity can seem magical and mysterious, but you shouldn't make assumptions that can hold your imagination back. Watch out for these misconceptions that can impede your efforts to find innovative ideas and solutions:

- The “eureka” moment. Many people believe that creativity is a sudden flash of insight. More often it's the result of research and persistence, immersing yourself in a subject, and then building on what you learn.
- Inborn creativity. You aren't necessarily born with the ability—or inability—to think creatively. You can learn the knack by asking questions, looking at things in new ways, and challenging the status quo.
- Uniqueness. Good ideas don't always spring from something new. Often the best ideas and solutions come from combining separate elements in different ways.
- Lone wolves. The stereotype of the genius working alone in an office or laboratory is misleading at best. Although some mavericks do produce good ideas totally on their own, many of the best ideas and solutions are the result of collaboration by smart, motivated people.
- Brainstorming. Brainstorming sessions can produce results if they're focused on a specific issue. If it's just a free-form session of throwing ideas around, chances are you won't generate practical solutions. Keep the discussion centered on the problem you're trying to solve.
- No limits. Creativity may seem to thrive on the concept of thinking beyond boundaries. In reality, constraints can force your thinking in the right direction. Try setting some limits to what you want to create—size, budget, deadlines—and see how that helps focus your imagination.

Monthly

Adopt a Cat Month. Your local shelter has tons of cute, cuddly newborn kittens, mellow older cats, and everything in between. Shelter staffers are ready to help you adopt your very first cat or bring home a friend for another beloved cat.

National Dairy Month. Start the summer with nutrient-rich dairy foods. From calcium to potassium, dairy products such as milk contain essential nutrients that can help you manage your weight and reduce your risk for high blood pressure, osteoporosis, and other health problems.

National Zoo and Aquarium Month. June is an excellent time to explore your local zoo and aquarium as well as the websites of America’s great zoos and aquariums. Many of them have excellent educational resources—photographs, videos, facts, lesson plans, activities, and sounds so real you’ll think you’re there.

PTSD Awareness Month. The purpose of PTSD Awareness Month is to raise public awareness of PTSD and effective treatments and help all those affected by PTSD. Mental health experts aren’t sure why some people develop PTSD and others don’t, but if stress reactions don’t improve over time and disrupt everyday life, seeking help to determine whether PTSD is present is important.

Weekly

National Automotive Service Professionals Week, June 8-14. A weeklong celebration to honor the commitment and dedication of the automotive, truck, collision specialists and parts specialists who keep our vehicles running safely.

Men’s Health Week, June 15-21. The purpose of Men’s Health Week is to heighten the awareness of preventable health problems and encourage early detection and treatment of disease among men and boys. This week gives health care providers, public policy makers, members of the news media, and individuals an opportunity to encourage men and boys to seek regular medical advice and early treatment for disease and injury.

National Nursing Assistant Week, June 11-17. Nursing assistants work in hospitals and nursing homes performing everyday living tasks for the elderly, chronically ill, or rehabilitation patients who cannot care for themselves. This week is set aside to recognize the nursing assistants who dedicate their lives to the well-being of others.

National Mosquito Control Awareness week, June 20-26. During “Mosquito Week,” the American Mosquito Control Association’s goal is to educate the public about the significance of mosquitoes in their daily lives and the important service provided by mosquito control workers throughout the United States and worldwide.
