Mother's Day

Mothers have been around a long time; but it wasn't until an American woman from Philadelphia named Anna Jarvis decided that mothers should be honored. Her own mother was an organizer of women's groups to promote health and friendship. In honor of her late mother, Anna held a memorial service on May 12, 1907. Within five years every state was observing the day and in 1914 President Woodrow Wilson made it a national holiday. Originally, the custom of wearing a white carnation to honor your mother was Anna's idea. Eventually, the custom was changed to wearing red or pink carnations to honor the living and a white carnation for the deceased. As years passed, the honor of recognizing mothers extended to grandmothers and aunts; anyone who was in a mothering role. The day became known as a day of sending cards, flowers, and gifts. In an unexpected twist, Anna felt the day had become too commercialized and spent the remaining years of her life trying to abolish the holiday she created.

We've all had mothers, they cared for us when we were sick, they cooked for us, they worried about us, they gave us good (and bad) advice. At times they were our best friend and at other times our enemy, we loved them and hated them. No matter what your relationship is, and where she is today – she will always be “Mom”

Garden Volunteers

Ed Watzel

W*e need summer volunteers!*

The Fairway Village garden volunteers maintain the gardens at the pools, as well as, tending to all of the gardens and flower pots around the park. We would like to thank Paul and Lynnette Schiffhauer for helping this past month. With Fritz and Bill heading up north soon; Paul and Lynnette will be a big help this summer. Our current winter volunteers are Gail Carr, Bill Davignon, Trish Tallant and Fritz Weinrich. We are working with our manager, Anthony, to coordinate our efforts. However, we need your help in keeping our gardens beautiful during the summer.

If you are interested in volunteering; please call Gail Carr – 532-9790 or Ed Watzel – 524-2988. We would like to thank the maintenance men for their help and to all the residents for their compliments; it is greatly appreciated

‘Everything you love will be lost’

Writer Franz Kafka (1883–1924) never married and had no children. According to a story, he liked to walk through a park in Berlin where one day he met a girl who was crying because she had lost her favorite doll. She and Kafka searched for the doll unsuccessfully.

Kafka told her to meet him there the next day and they would come back to look for her. The next day, when they had not yet found the doll, Kafka gave the girl a letter “written” by the doll saying, “Please don’t cry. I took a trip to see the world. I will write to you about my adventures.”

Thus began a story which continued until the end of Kafka’s life.

During their meetings, Kafka read the letters of the doll, carefully written with adventures and conversations that the girl found adorable.

Finally, Kafka bought another doll and gave it to the girl. “It doesn’t look like my doll at all,” said the girl.

Kafka handed her another letter in which the doll wrote: “My travels have changed me.” The little girl hugged the new doll and carried it home.

A year later Kafka died.

Many years afterward, the now-adult girl found a letter inside the doll. In the tiny letter, signed by Kafka, was written: “Everything you love will probably be lost, but in the end, love will return in another way.”

So no aliens, but still a fascinating phenomenon for scientists to study.

Here’s the thing—you don’t need a captive audience to be heard. You need better true stories, well told. You don’t have to rely on luck to tell better stories, you can do it with intention and practice—by design. You don’t need permission to take the stage. You need to find and practice telling stories that matter.

— Bernadette Jiwa

There is something in us, as storytellers and as listeners to stories, that demands the redemptive act, that demands that what falls at least be offered the chance to be restored.

— Flannery O’Connor

Daily

Beltane, May 1. A Gaelic May Day festival most commonly held about halfway between the spring equinox and summer solstice.

International Firefighters' Day, May 4. A day when the world's community can recognize and honor the sacrifices that firefighters make to ensure that their communities and environment are as safe as possible.

Mother's Day, May 9. Send a card, make a call, or meet on Zoom to remind mom how much you love her.

International Museum Day, May 18. An opportunity for museum professionals to meet the public and alert them to the challenges that museums face.

Memorial Day, May 31. A day to remember those who gave their lives for their country.

Memorial Day: a solemn occasion

Memorial Day began in the 19th century as "Decoration Day." Citizens were urged to decorate the graves of soldiers who'd died in the Civil War. After World War I, Decoration Day expanded to include ceremonies honoring the dead in all of America's wars.

Decoration Day became Memorial Day officially in 1967. In 1968 the Uniform Holidays Act established it as one of three holidays (including Veteran's Day and George Washington's birthday, now called President's Day) celebrated on a Monday to create a convenient three-day weekend. Memorial Day is now observed on the last Monday in May.
