A Message from your HOA President:

It was so good to arrive for the yard sale and see a dry Strawberry Street. I'm sure we are all saying a little prayer that it is fixed. It took a lot of cooperation from a lot of people to make that all go smoothly. I am so glad it seems to all work out. In addition, it seemed like the yard sale was a success, and wasn't there a warm friendly, festive atmosphere? It seemed like old times, and I'm sure Julie and Donnie are responsible for that. They are doing a great job.

SINCE THERE WILL NOT BE A CHANGE of presidents this spring, we realized we do not need to hold another meeting until our annual meeting next January.(unless an unforeseen problem arises) So there was no reason to schedule a meeting to vote. We are due to vote for new officers in January, according to our bylaws. We have had other residents step forward to offer help and support since our last meeting, which is surely appreciated, In addition. our Secretary, Pat Sprague, has moved from the park so we will be electing someone to that position. Pat has tendered her resignation as of March 1st. We thank her for a job well done and best of happiness in her new home. She will be missed. So glad to learn that the pool temperature is warmer. Senior Citizens don't do well with cold water. Elaine Manner has reported that several have stopped (340) OVER TO PAY THEIR $5.00 DUES.Thanks for your loyalty and support. IT IS MY UNDERSTANDING THAT THE UNSIGHTLY RAILROAD ties are under discussion. Please note the 2020 park improvements on another page.

Until Next Time,
Carol Moss
Happy Spring

Recipe

Black Bean Enchiladas

Ingredients:

- 10 corn tortillas
 - 1 15oz can black beans
 - 8 oz shredded cheddar cheese
 - 1 avocado
 - 1 cup salsa verde or green enchilada sauce
- Salsa, sour cream, or cilantro (optional)

Instructions

Preheat the oven to 400.

1. Wrap the corn tortillas in plastic wrap and microwave them for 30 seconds. This will lightly steam them so you can roll them without them cracking.
2. Fill each tortilla with a few tablespoons of black beans and two tablespoons of cheese. Don't fill them too full or you won't be able to roll them up. You should end up using about 2/3 of the cheese as filling.
3. Roll them and place them in a baking dish, seam side down. It helps if you have a baking dish that is the width of the tortillas so they stay snug.
4. Keep lining them up until you reach the edge of the pan. I made one larger pan and one smaller pan since all of mine didn't fit in one pan.
5. Pour the salsa verde over the wrapped tortillas.
6. Sprinkle with remaining cheese.
7. Bake in the oven for 15 minutes or until the cheese has completely melted.
8. Top with avocado and serve immediately.

MONTH OF MAY

Celebrate the gorgeous month of May! The Sun is warming, the birds are chirping, the flowers are blooming, and the garden is growing. See what fun and interesting days May has to offer—from holidays to history to advice.

Oh! fragrant is the breath of May
In tranquil garden closes,
And soft yet regal is her sway
Among the springtide roses.

—William Hamilton Hayne, American poet (1856–1929)

The Month of May

May is named for the Roman goddess Maia, who oversaw the growth of plants. Learn more about the origins of the months' names.

Noteworthy Dates

May 1 is May Day. Mark the return of spring by bringing in branches of forsythia, lilacs, or other flowering shrubs from your region.

In Hawaii, May 1 is celebrated as Lei Day. Leis are garlands or wreaths that are often made with native Hawaiian flowers and leaves. Nowadays, they are given as a symbol of greeting, farewell, affection, celebration, or honor, in the spirit of aloha. Lei Day originated in 1927, when poet Don Blanding proposed a holiday to recognize the lei's role in Hawaiian culture. Writer Grace Tower Warren suggested May 1 for the date because it coincided with May Day, a celebration also linked to flowers. She coined the phrase, "May Day is Lei Day." The first Lei Day observance occurred on May 1, 1928. The following year, it was made an official holiday in the territory. (Hawaii did not become a state until 1959.)

Today, Lei Day celebrations may include music, games, exhibits, and lei-making demonstrations and contests.

May 5 is Cinco de Mayo ("The Fifth of May"). This day celebrates the victory of the Mexicans over the French army at The Battle of Puebla in 1862.

May 9 is Mother's Day—don't forget! Do you have something planned to show appreciation for your mother? Learn about the history of Mother's Day.

May 16 is Armed Forces Day, which honors those who serve in all branches of the United States military.

May 18 is Victoria Day in Canada. This holiday celebrates the birthday of Queen Victoria, who was born on May 24, 1819. The holiday is observed on the penultimate Monday in May.

May 22 is National Maritime Day. Created in commemoration of the first transoceanic voyage via steamboat (completed by the U.S.S. Savannah in 1819), this holiday recognizes the efforts of the U.S. merchant marine during both war and peace.

May 25 is Memorial Day—a poignant reminder of the tenacity of life.

It's tradition to raise the flag on this day; know how to fly your American flag properly.

“Just for Fun” Days

May is Get Caught Reading Month and National Good Car-Keeper Month.

Here are some more fun things to celebrate this May:

- May 1: School Principals' Day
- May 2: World Tuna Day
- May 4–11: Root Canal Awareness Week
- May 8: No Socks Day
- May 14: Dance Like a Chicken Day
- May 28: Slugs Return from Capistrano Day

May Weather

A warm January, a cold May.

May's full Moon traditionally goes by the name “Flower Moon.”

‘Everything you love will be lost’

Writer Franz Kafka (1883–1924) never married and had no children. According to a story, he liked to walk through a park in Berlin where one day he met a girl who was crying because she had lost her favorite doll. She and Kafka searched for the doll unsuccessfully.

Kafka told her to meet him there the next day and they would come back to look for her. The next day, when they had not yet found the doll, Kafka gave the girl a letter “written” by the doll saying, “Please don’t cry. I took a trip to see the world. I will write to you about my adventures.”

Thus began a story which continued until the end of Kafka’s life.

During their meetings, Kafka read the letters of the doll, carefully written with adventures and conversations that the girl found adorable.

Finally, Kafka bought another doll and gave it to the girl. “It doesn’t look like my doll at all,” said the girl.

Kafka handed her another letter in which the doll wrote: “My travels have changed me.” The little girl hugged the new doll and carried it home.

A year later Kafka died.

Many years afterward, the now-adult girl found a letter inside the doll. In the tiny letter, signed by Kafka, was written: “Everything you love will probably be lost, but in the end, love will return in another way.”

So no aliens, but still a fascinating phenomenon for scientists to study.

Here’s the thing—you don’t need a captive audience to be heard. You need better true stories, well told. You don’t have to rely on luck to tell better stories, you can do it with intention and practice—by design. You don’t need permission to take the stage. You need to find and practice telling stories that matter.

There is something in us, as storytellers and as listeners to stories, that demands the redemptive act, that demands that what falls at least be offered the chance to be restored.
