Bear hunting

Two men went bear hunting. One stayed in the cabin while the other went out looking for a bear.

He soon found a huge bear, shot at it, but only wounded it. The enraged bear charged toward him, and he dropped his rifle and started running for the cabin as fast as he could.

He ran fast but the bear gained on him with every step. Just as he reached the open cabin door, he tripped and fell flat on the ground. Too close behind to stop, the bear tripped over him and went rolling into the cabin.

The man jumped up, closed the cabin door and yelled to his friend inside, "You skin this one while I go and get another!"

The missing cow

A big city lawyer was called in on a case between a farmer and a large railroad company. The farmer's prize cow had gone missing from his field through which the railroad passed. He filed suit against the railroad company for the value of the cow. The case was to be tried before the justice of the peace in the back room of the town's general store.

The attorney went to the farmer and tried to settle out of court. The lawyer was very persuasive, and the farmer finally agreed to take half of what he was asking for to settle the case.

After the farmer signed the release and took the check, the young lawyer felt a little bad. He said to the farmer, "You know, I hate to tell you this, but I couldn't have won the case. The engineer was asleep and the fireman was in the caboose when the train went through your farm that morning. I didn't have one witness to put on the stand."

The old farmer nodded. "Well, I'll tell you, young fellow, I was a little worried about winning that case myself, because that durned cow came home this morning."

Long way down

On a mountain hike a man falls down into a crack. His wife calls after him, "Are you OK?"

"Yeah!"

"Are you hurt?"

"No!"

"Not a scratch? How come?!"

"I'm not done falling yet!"

A plan to save the vanishing leatherback turtle

Huge leatherback sea turtles, which weigh as much as a compact car and date back to the dinosaur age, migrate thousands of miles across the Pacific Ocean to the coasts of central and south America. According to U.S. News & World Report, scientists were startled by the discovery that the leatherbacks could make such a long journey, feasting on jellyfish in cold water off the U.S. west coast before heading back home.

Now scientists are worried because the number of leatherbacks off California has dropped 80% in the last 30 years, for a 5.6% annual decline. If it continues—due to climate change, international fishing, and the loss of nesting grounds—they could disappear off the coast within 30 years. The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration has launched an aggressive campaign to save them by reducing the number of eggs taken on beaches and reducing the number of leatherbacks tangled up in nets by commercial fishing.

Reflection

Long ago in a small village was a place known as the House of 1,000 Mirrors. A small, happy little dog learned of the house and decided to visit. When he arrived outside, he bounced happily up the front steps to the doorway of the house. He looked through the doorway with his ears lifted high and his tail wagging as fast as it could.

To his great surprise, he found himself staring at 1,000 other happy little dogs with their tails wagging just as fast as his. He smiled a great smile, and was answered with 1,000 great smiles just as warm and friendly. As he left the house, he thought to himself, "This is a wonderful place. I will come back and visit it often."

In the same village, another little dog, who was not quite as happy as the first one, decided to visit the house too. He slowly climbed the front steps and hung his head low as he looked into the door. When he saw 1,000 unfriendly looking dogs staring back at him, he growled, and was horrified to see 1,000 little dogs growling back at him. As he left, he thought to himself, "That is a horrible place. I will never go back there again."

All the faces in the world are mirrors. What kind of reflections do you see in the faces of the people you meet?

The story carries us along, bottles on the tide, each with our secret message and the fervent hope that it does not turn out to be blank.

Shorties

“Wow, honey, I never thought our son would go that far!”
“Yeah, that catapult is really amazing.”

Years ago, I threw away a boomerang really hard. I've lived in constant fear since.

My aunts would come and tease me at weddings, “Well, Sarah? Do you think you'll be next?” We settled this quickly once I started asking them the same thing at funerals.

Whenever I see lovers' names carved in a tree, I wonder how many people bring a knife on a date.

I haven't been sleeping well recently. Well, that's it for my last talent.

Lunch date

The geography teacher was lecturing on map reading. After explaining about latitude, longitude, degrees, and minutes, the teacher asked, “Suppose I asked you to meet me for lunch at 23 degrees, 4 minutes north latitude and 45 degrees, 15 minutes east longitude?”

After a long silence, a student answered, “I guess you'd be eating alone.”

Absentee

---

A mother asked, “Why did you get such a low mark on that test?”

“Because of absence,” her son answered.

“You mean you were absent on the day of the test?”

“No, but the kid who sits next to me was.”

Laughter heals all wounds, and that's one thing that everybody shares. No matter what you're going through, it makes you forget about your problems. I think the world should keep laughing.

Facts about your Father's Day gift

Father's Day is June 20 this year, and the 65 million fathers in the United States (give or take a few million) will bask in familial attention and be showered with gifts—mostly neckties.

So where did neckties come from? The earliest known version dates back to 210 B.C., when the Chinese emperor Shih Huang Ti was buried in the ancient Chinese capital Tian. The 7,500 terra cotta warriors built to guard him in the afterlife all wore neck cloths, for reasons unknown.

Similarly, the Roman emperor Trajan erected a marble column in 113 A.D. commemorating a military victory; the 2,500 soldiers depicted all wore some form of cloth neck covering.

The modern necktie evolved from the small, knotted neckerchiefs worn by Croatian mercenaries working for the French in the Thirty Years' War. The word cravat derives from a combination of the French "Croate" and the Croatians' own name for themselves, "Hrvati."

With the rise of the business class in the 19th century, demand grew for neckwear that was durable, comfortable, and easy to tie.

In 1926, a New York tie maker named Jesse Langsdorf developed a technique that improved the tie's elasticity, which allowed it to more easily revert to its original shape. The "Langsdorf" became the most common form of necktie.

Since then, ties have widened as far as 4.5 inches and thinned to three inches (or skinnier) depending on the current style, but whatever their width, they seem to be here to stay.
