Presidents Report

Rick Johnson

Hello La Plaza residents!
Summer is here!

At this time be sure to take care of yourself during periods of extreme heat as we all know the Florida sun can be and is brutal. Drink plenty of fluids and at all times be aware of the temperature. I've put together some names and contact information of agencies that may be able to provide assistance to our residents.

I want to remind everyone, be a good neighbor. If you know someone who lives alone stop by their house and check on them even if it's just to say Hi. It will brighten your day and theirs. If you know someone that's a shut in, see how you can help them.

The following is for informational purposes only. Your HOA does not recommend nor endorse in any manner whatsoever any agency, group or service listed here.

Cameras

Trena Nolan, HOA Parliamentarian

This is some information regarding cameras installed at residents homes. Many residents seem to think this is illegal or an invasion of privacy, but actually it is not. The Florida Law states: Laws on Security Cameras in Florida

Reviewed by: Michelle Seidel, B.Sc., LL.B., MBA

December 12, 2018

By: Jennifer Mueller, J.D. collage of security camera and urban video

Security cameras can be an effective means of security for your home or business. With so many relatively inexpensive systems accessible from a smart phone, many homeowners are turning to security cameras to keep their property and their loved ones safe. Generally, Florida doesn't restrict security cameras as long as you provide notice of their existence and keep them out of places where people have a reasonable expectation of privacy.

Reasonable Expectation of Privacy

The Florida law that regulates security cameras is a criminal statute prohibiting video voyeurism. To this end, it prohibits cameras in private places, such as a bathroom, dressing room, or hotel room. Generally, these are places where people should normally feel comfortable disrobing. For example, if you own a clothing boutique, you can't place security cameras so that they have a view inside the changing rooms.

The same rule applies in your own home. While it's legal to place security cameras on your own property, placing cameras in a bathroom or a bedroom that is shared with others is likely to be a crime. You'll be in violation of the video voyeurism laws statute if you record anyone, such as a nanny, who has a reasonable expectation of privacy in those areas of your home.

Conspicuous Notice

In addition to avoiding private places, Florida law recognizes that people have the right to know when they're being filmed. Accordingly, you should place the cameras where they can clearly and obviously be seen by anyone who enters your property.

If your cameras are hidden or not obvious, you can get away with a sign that clearly states that the property is under video surveillance. The sign itself must be clear and obvious to anyone who enters your property.

So as you can see residents having cameras is perfectly legal and these residents should not be harassed for having such cameras, it's for their protection.

QUOTES / ARTICLES FOR THE MONTH

Cece Bell

We must reject the idea that every time a law's broken, society is guilty rather than the lawbreaker. It is time to restore the American precept that each individual is accountable for his actions.
~~~~~Ronald Reagan

INDEPENDENCE DAY

When the Revolutionary War began in April 1775, most colonists were fighting for increased rights from Great Britain, not for independence. As the war continued, however, sentiments began to change. This shift was prompted by several events, including King George III's order that England expand the size of its army and navy as well as the publication of Thomas Paine's Common Sense, which argued that colonists had a "natural right" to independence. By January 1776, many previously conservative individuals had lost hope of a future reconciliation with Great Britain. On June 7, Virginia delegate Richard Henry Lee introduced a motion in the Continental Congress calling for independence. Amid much debate, Congress decided to take a several weeks-long recess before voting on the motion. Before it did so, though, it created a committee charged with drafting a document that would justify independence. This committee included five men: Thomas Jefferson (VA), John Adams (MA), Roger Sherman (CT), Benjamin Franklin (PA), and Robert R. Livingston (NY). Jefferson did the vast majority of work on the document, which came to be known as the Declaration of Independence.

Jefferson split the Declaration into five sections: an introduction, a preamble, a body with two subsections, and a conclusion. In the introduction, Jefferson establishes the intent of the colonies to declare independence from Great Britain, arguing that such an action is "necessary." The preamble contains the most famous words of the document: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness." The preamble argues that governments get their power from the "consent of the governed," meaning the support of the people. If this consent is betrayed, the people have a "right" and "duty" to overthrow their government and establish a new one that will prioritize their happiness and safety. The preamble claims that the British government engaged in "repeated injuries and usurpations" and tried to establish tyranny over the colonies, giving the colonists the right to reject its rule.

After being reviewed and edited by both the committee and the Congress as a whole, the Declaration of Independence was formally adopted on July 4, 1776. It was formally signed a month later on August 2.

RESIDENTS OF 6700 150TH AVE. N., 33764

Created by Colleen Talbot

La Plaza MHP residents have our own Facebook page that residents can join by sending a request through the Group page. It is a closed Group, so only people who have been approved can be added. Also, this group is not intended for complaints, but to advertise upcoming events, reminders to residents, for sale items, etc.

TO JOIN: On the top left side of your FB screen there is an “F” with a box next to it. In box, type, Residents of 6700 150th Ave. N., 33764 . It will bring up our Facebook group page. Join the group and wait for a welcome from Colleen.

NEIGHBORHOOD WATCH

Rick Johnson

REMEMBER:

Community members only serve as the extra "eyes and ears" of law enforcement. They should report their observations of suspicious activities to law enforcement; however, citizens should never try to take action on those observations. Trained law enforcement should be the only ones ever to take action based on observations of suspicious activities.

The Chairperson will be Rick Johnson at lot #211. If you have interest in learning more about this you can contact Rick.
