PRESIDENT'S PODIUM....

July whizzed right by with the highlight of the month being the July 4th Celebration of our “freedom”. There were hamburgers, hot dogs and all the fixings, followed y Good Neighbor Bingo. Great Day!!

CAUTION! CAUTION!

I do not know if anyone has had this problem or not, but I did. I parked my car on the street and left it there overnight. When I got up the next morning it was gone! It cost me $250 to get it back! The rule is by Glen Ellen, from dusk to dawn, if you park your car on the street or grass, it will be towed. Beware!!

KITCHEN IN CLUBHOUSE

The kitchen in our clubhouse is for functions sponsored by the HOA, it is not for individual residents to cook their meals. Please respect the liberties we have and do not make your own rules.

Do not forget to comply with recycling rules. Put items in proper bins and break down the cardboard.

The FIRST Thursday of August there will be a “FREE” coffee hour. Come and join in!

The true nightingale

Hans Christian Andersen’s fairy tale, “The Nightingale,” tells the story of a Chinese emperor so attracted to the singing of a nightingale outside his window that he invites the bird into his palace to live with him. At first they’re happy together, but then the emperor receives a mechanical nightingale as a gift. Losing interest in the living nightingale, he sends the bird back to the forest.

Years later the emperor lies dying. The nightingale returns to his bedside to sing to him one last time. Her song is so moving that Death allows the emperor to recover.

According to the Listverse website, the inspiration for the tale may have been Jenny Lind, a famous singer known as “the Swedish Nightingale.” Andersen was in love with her, but she didn’t return his love, choosing instead to marry Fredric Chopin, the Polish composer.

“Through Jenny Lind I first became sensible of the holiness of art,” Andersen wrote in his memoirs. “Through her I learned that one must forget one’s self in the service of the supreme. No books, no men, have had a more ennobling influence upon me as a poet than Jenny Lind.”

Winning as one

An anthropologist proposed a game to some children in Africa. He placed a basket of fruit near a tree and told them that whoever got to the tree first could have all the fruit.

When he gave the signal to go, all the children held each other’s hands and ran to the tree together. Then they sat in a circle enjoying the fruit.

When the anthropologists asked why they’d run as a group when the winner could have had more fruit on his own, one child said, “How can one of us be happy if all the other ones are sad?”

Labor saving?

According to an anecdote, Thomas Edison had a summer residence he was very proud of. He enjoyed showing visitors around the property, pointing out various labor-saving devices. At one point the visitor had to pass through a turnstile in order to take the main path back to the house, and considerable effort was needed to move the turnstile.

The visitor asked Edison why, with all the other clever gadgets around, he had such a heavy turnstile. Edison replied, “Well, you see, everyone who pushes the turnstile around pumps eight gallons of water into the tank on my roof.”

Short stuff

Here are a few quickies to liven up your conversation:

- A man walks into a library and asks the librarian for books about paranoia. She whispers, “They’re right behind you!”
- Want to hear a roof joke? The first one’s on the house.
- A cement mixer and a prison bus crashed on the highway. Police advise citizens to look out for a group of hardened criminals.
- I saw a movie about how ships are put together. It was riveting.
- Why did the taxi driver get fired? Passengers complained when he went the extra mile.
- A group of crows was arrested for trying to hang out together. The charge? Attempted murder.
- Some people eat snails. They must not like fast food.
- Have you heard the one about the skunk? It really stinks.
- It’s always windy in a baseball stadium. All those fans.
- What’s worse than raining cats and dogs? Hailing taxis.

Where do you live?

---

A police officer pulled over a teenager. Here’s how the conversation went:

Police: Where do you live?

Teenager: With my parents.

Police: Where do your parents live?

Teenager: With me.

Police: Where do you all live?

Teenager: Together.

Police: Where is your house?

Teenager: Next to my neighbor’s house.

Police: Where is your neighbor’s house?

Teenager: You won’t believe me.

Police: Tell me.

Teenager: Next to my house.

NUMBERS IN THE NEWS

Did we drink more during COVID-19?

Locked down in 2020 because of the spreading coronavirus outbreak, many people baked bread, studied foreign languages, and stopped wearing pants. But did they drink more? It might have been tempting, but a study conducted on behalf of the Beer Institute (reported on the Craft Brewing Business website), found that most people didn't increase their consumption of beer and other alcoholic beverages, despite the assumption that drinking must have increased during the lockdown.

Echelon Insights conducted a nationally representative survey of registered voters age 21+ during March 1–4, 2021. One in five respondents indicated they did drink more beer, wine, and liquor last year, but the same number also reported drinking less, and 60% said their drinking habits hadn't changed at all since the beginning of the pandemic.

COVID-19 did have an impact on the beer industry, though. The pandemic resulted in a loss of almost $20 billion in retail beer sales, and more than 561,000 U.S. jobs were lost, the majority in bars and restaurants that suffered from restrictions or closed outright.

AUGUST CALENDAR

American Artist Appreciation Month. The United States has been home to many amazing artists throughout history—Mary Cassatt, Jackson Pollack, Georgia O’Keeffe, Andy Warhol, and many more. Celebrate the month by discovering new American artists of all kinds. Check out your local museums and galleries to support local artists.

Children’s Eye Health and Safety Month. Along with shopping for back-to-school clothes and supplies, it’s time to make comprehensive eye exam appointments for the kids. Have your children’s eyes examined during well-child visits beginning around age three. Your child’s eye doctor can help detect refractive errors such as nearsightedness, farsightedness, astigmatism, and other diseases.

National Water Quality Month. National Water Quality Month is dedicated to making the most of the relatively small amount of fresh water we have. Clean water is vital to our individual health, our collective agricultural needs, and our environment.

Read a Romance Month. Love makes the world go around, right? In August people are ready for a romantic beach read. With no national holidays to distract you, you can make August an uninterrupted flow of all kinds of romantic reads.

Weekly

International Assistance Dog Week, Aug. 1–7. International Assistance Dog Week was created to recognize all the devoted, hardworking assistance dogs helping individuals mitigate their disability-related limitations.

Safe + Sound Week, Aug. 9–15. Successful safety and health programs can proactively identify and manage workplace hazards before they cause injury or illness, improving sustainability and the bottom line. Participating in Safe + Sound Week can help get your program started, energize an existing one, or provide a chance to recognize your safety successes.

Brake Safety Week, Aug. 22–28. Properly functioning brake systems are crucial to safe commercial motor vehicle operation. Commercial motor vehicle brakes are designed to hold up under tough conditions; however, they must be inspected and maintained carefully and consistently so they operate and perform properly throughout the vehicle’s life.

Have the Right Doctor? Ask Yourself These 10 Questions.

At Dedicated Senior Medical Center, we're committed to keeping seniors healthy, happy and at home. We understand these are scary times, but we're here to help. Dedicated doctors specialize in caring for seniors and that's why we make it easy for you to see a doctor.

Ask yourself:

1. Is your doctor's office still open?
2. Have you heard from your doctor in the past two weeks?
3. Is your doctor personally calling and texting to check on you?
4. Has your doctor called you to explain your risk of coronavirus?
5. Is your doctor's office offering doctor phone visits?
6. Does your doctor allow walk-in visits?
7. Are you able to call your doctor anytime, day or night?
8. Do you have any difficulty getting to and from your doctor?
9. Is your doctor helping to make sure you receive all of your prescription refills?
10. Is your doctor offering to help you get your medications delivered?

The neglected spouse

After 35 years of marriage, a husband and wife came in for counseling.

When the counselor asked what the problem was, the wife spent a long time complaining about years of neglect, lack of intimacy, loneliness, feeling unloved, and more.

When she finished, the counselor stood up, walked around his desk, asked the wife to stand up, and gave her a passionate embrace and a deep kiss as the husband watched.

The wife sat down, dazed, and the counselor turned to the husband: “This is what your wife needs, at least three times a week.”

The husband shrugged. “OK, I can drop her off Mondays and Tuesdays, but on Fridays I go fishing.”

Adoption

A husband and wife who worked for the circus went to an adoption agency looking to adopt a child, but the social workers there had doubts about their suitability.

The couple produced photos of their 50-foot motor home, which was clean and well maintained and equipped with a beautiful nursery.

The social workers were satisfied by this, but then raised concerns about the kind of education a child would receive in their care. The husband put their mind at ease, saying, “We’ve arranged for a full-time tutor who will teach the child all the usual subjects, along with French, Mandarin, and computer skills.”

Next, the social workers expressed concern about a child being raised in a circus environment. This time the wife explained, “Our nanny is a certified expert in pediatric care, welfare, and diet.”

The social workers were finally satisfied, so they asked the couple, “What age child are you hoping to adopt?” The husband said, “It doesn’t really matter, as long as the kid fits in the cannon.”

The facts about ransomware attacks

Cybercriminals are increasingly demanding what’s called “ransomware” to halt their attacks on company data around the world. A survey of 120 executives by Threatpost looked at its rise and implications.

Less than a third of respondents to the survey said they had suffered ransomware attacks. Of those that did, 17% were in the tech industry and 15% were in manufacturing, followed evenly by companies in finance, health care, and infrastructure.

However, 80% said they didn’t pay the demanded ransom. Their main reason: They couldn’t be sure paying the thieves would actually get them a decryption key. They were probably smart—80% of organizations that did pay the ransom were hit by a second attack from the same source, and a third said they suffered another attack by somebody else.

Of those companies that paid, five percent decided that giving into the demands was easier than dealing with the threatened business disruption, and two percent relied on cybersecurity insurance to cover the costs.

Sixty-five percent of attacked companies suffered a revenue loss as a result, and about a quarter had to shut down; 53% reported that their brands and reputations suffered damage, and 32% reported losing top-level talent as a result.

Getting back to normal—slowly

With vaccines now available and society seemingly reopening for business, at least some of us are ready to say that things are going back to normal after the pandemic year. According to Gallup, 66% of adults in the U.S. say their lives have “somewhat” or “completely” returned to normal. That’s 57% saying their lives are somewhat normal again, with only nine percent saying things are completely normal, and 34% saying normal life has yet to come back.

Complicating the return to normalcy is the finding that 52% of Americans say their life is still being disrupted because of the pandemic—14% say “a great deal” and 38% say “a fair amount.” And that may not change soon. Thirty-nine percent expect the disruption to continue through the end of the year, and 16% feel the impact will last longer.

What does that mean? Origins of common terms

The origins of some figures of speech are obvious — putting the cart before the horse, for instance. Others are a little more obscure. From Jeff Rovin’s book The Unbelievable Truth! (Signet) here’s a look at the explanations behind three common expressions:

- Pulling the wool over their eyes. In the 17th and 18th centuries, thieves and robbers would yank their victims’ wool wigs down over their eyes so they couldn’t see who was attacking them.
- Blackmail. In 16th-century England, mail meant “rent” or “tribute.” Debts that had to be paid in silver were called “whitemail.” A debt that could be paid in any other way—from livestock to property—was called “blackmail.” Because blackmail did not have a set value, the person collecting the debt could extort any amount or anything they wished from the debtor.
- Red tape. For centuries, it was British custom to seal important documents with red wax and red tape. Cutting through it was the only way to get at the documents and read them.

August: What’s in a name?

August is named for the Roman emperor Augustus Caesar, grandnephew of Julius Caesar. When Augustus defeated Cleopatra and Mark Antony at the Battle of Actium in 30 B.C., he became emperor of Rome, and the Roman Senate quickly decided that since the month of July was named for Julius, their new emperor should also have his own month.

At the time, Sextillius (the sixth month of the year in the pre-Gregorian calendar) had only 30 days, so the Senate also decreed that the newly named August should be equal to July, and took a day from February to keep the calendar in balance.

Other emperors tried to get months named for them: May was called Claudius for a while, and April became Neronius, but the names didn’t stick. Only Julius and Augustus Caesar’s names apparently had the staying power to last 2,000 years.
