From the Editor

What a wonderful time we had at the Pot-Luck. If you were not there then you missed meeting new people, catch up with old friend. The food offerings were large and oh so good, deviled eggs, potato salad, green beans green bean casserole, green salad chicken and more chicken, pickle tray, slaw. The desserts completely covered the table and there was dessert hanging off the table.

I urge everyone to participate in the next pot luck. We will have a sing along with this one.

A great big thanks to Becky, and Tammy for their hard work, and thank you Mr Bob Sachs for helping with clean-up.

This my last Chatter so if anyone is interested the floor is open, contact Monthly Media.

The true nightingale

Hans Christian Andersen’s fairy tale, “The Nightingale,” tells the story of a Chinese emperor so attracted to the singing of a nightingale outside his window that he invites the bird into his palace to live with him. At first they’re happy together, but then the emperor receives a mechanical nightingale as a gift. Losing interest in the living nightingale, he sends the bird back to the forest.

Years later the emperor lies dying. The nightingale returns to his bedside to sing to him one last time. Her song is so moving that Death allows the emperor to recover.

According to the Listverse website, the inspiration for the tale may have been Jenny Lind, a famous singer known as “the Swedish Nightingale.” Andersen was in love with her, but she didn’t return his love, choosing instead to marry Fredric Chopin, the Polish composer.

“Through Jenny Lind I first became sensible of the holiness of art,” Andersen wrote in his memoirs. “Through her I learned that one must forget one’s self in the service of the supreme. No books, no men, have had a more ennobling influence upon me as a poet than Jenny Lind.”

Winning as one

An anthropologist proposed a game to some children in Africa. He placed a basket of fruit near a tree and told them that whoever got to the tree first could have all the fruit.

When he gave the signal to go, all the children held each other’s hands and ran to the tree together. Then they sat in a circle enjoying the fruit.

When the anthropologists asked why they’d run as a group when the winner could have had more fruit on his own, one child said, “How can one of us be happy if all the other ones are sad?”

Labor saving?

According to an anecdote, Thomas Edison had a summer residence he was very proud of. He enjoyed showing visitors around the property, pointing out various labor-saving devices. At one point the visitor had to pass through a turnstile in order to take the main path back to the house, and considerable effort was needed to move the turnstile.

The visitor asked Edison why, with all the other clever gadgets around, he had such a heavy turnstile. Edison replied, “Well, you see, everyone who pushes the turnstile around pumps eight gallons of water into the tank on my roof.”

AUGUST CALENDAR

American Artist Appreciation Month. The United States has been home to many amazing artists throughout history—Mary Cassatt, Jackson Pollack, Georgia O’Keeffe, Andy Warhol, and many more. Celebrate the month by discovering new American artists of all kinds. Check out your local museums and galleries to support local artists.

Children’s Eye Health and Safety Month. Along with shopping for back-to-school clothes and supplies, it’s time to make comprehensive eye exam appointments for the kids. Have your children’s eyes examined during well-child visits beginning around age three. Your child’s eye doctor can help detect refractive errors such as nearsightedness, farsightedness, astigmatism, and other diseases.

National Water Quality Month. National Water Quality Month is dedicated to making the most of the relatively small amount of fresh water we have. Clean water is vital to our individual health, our collective agricultural needs, and our environment.

Read a Romance Month. Love makes the world go around, right? In August people are ready for a romantic beach read. With no national holidays to distract you, you can make August an uninterrupted flow of all kinds of romantic reads.

Weekly

International Assistance Dog Week, Aug. 1–7. International Assistance Dog Week was created to recognize all the devoted, hardworking assistance dogs helping individuals mitigate their disability-related limitations.

Safe + Sound Week, Aug. 9–15. Successful safety and health programs can proactively identify and manage workplace hazards before they cause injury or illness, improving sustainability and the bottom line. Participating in Safe + Sound Week can help get your program started, energize an existing one, or provide a chance to recognize your safety successes.

Brake Safety Week, Aug. 22–28. Properly functioning brake systems are crucial to safe commercial motor vehicle operation. Commercial motor vehicle brakes are designed to hold up under tough conditions; however, they must be inspected and maintained carefully and consistently so they operate and perform properly throughout the vehicle’s life.

NUMBERS IN THE NEWS

Did we drink more during COVID-19?

Locked down in 2020 because of the spreading coronavirus outbreak, many people baked bread, studied foreign languages, and stopped wearing pants. But did they drink more? It might have been tempting, but a study conducted on behalf of the Beer Institute (reported on the Craft Brewing Business website), found that most people didn't increase their consumption of beer and other alcoholic beverages, despite the assumption that drinking must have increased during the lockdown.

Echelon Insights conducted a nationally representative survey of registered voters age 21+ during March 1–4, 2021. One in five respondents indicated they did drink more beer, wine, and liquor last year, but the same number also reported drinking less, and 60% said their drinking habits hadn't changed at all since the beginning of the pandemic.

COVID-19 did have an impact on the beer industry, though. The pandemic resulted in a loss of almost $20 billion in retail beer sales, and more than 561,000 U.S. jobs were lost, the majority in bars and restaurants that suffered from restrictions or closed outright.

What does that mean? Origins of common terms

The origins of some figures of speech are obvious — putting the cart before the horse, for instance. Others are a little more obscure. From Jeff Rovin’s book The Unbelievable Truth! (Signet) here’s a look at the explanations behind three common expressions:

- Pulling the wool over their eyes. In the 17th and 18th centuries, thieves and robbers would yank their victims’ wool wigs down over their eyes so they couldn’t see who was attacking them.
- Blackmail. In 16th-century England, mail meant “rent” or “tribute.” Debts that had to be paid in silver were called “whitemail.” A debt that could be paid in any other way—from livestock to property—was called “blackmail.” Because blackmail did not have a set value, the person collecting the debt could extort any amount or anything they wished from the debtor.
- Red tape. For centuries, it was British custom to seal important documents with red wax and red tape. Cutting through it was the only way to get at the documents and read them.

August: What’s in a name?

August is named for the Roman emperor Augustus Caesar, grandnephew of Julius Caesar. When Augustus defeated Cleopatra and Mark Antony at the Battle of Actium in 30 B.C., he became emperor of Rome, and the Roman Senate quickly decided that since the month of July was named for Julius, their new emperor should also have his own month.

At the time, Sextillius (the sixth month of the year in the pre-Gregorian calendar) had only 30 days, so the Senate also decreed that the newly named August should be equal to July, and took a day from February to keep the calendar in balance.

Other emperors tried to get months named for them: May was called Claudius for a while, and April became Neronius, but the names didn’t stick. Only Julius and Augustus Caesar’s names apparently had the staying power to last 2,000 years.

Deep summer is when laziness finds respectability.

The neglected spouse

After 35 years of marriage, a husband and wife came in for counseling.

When the counselor asked what the problem was, the wife spent a long time complaining about years of neglect, lack of intimacy, loneliness, feeling unloved, and more.

When she finished, the counselor stood up, walked around his desk, asked the wife to stand up, and gave her a passionate embrace and a deep kiss as the husband watched.

The wife sat down, dazed, and the counselor turned to the husband: “This is what your wife needs, at least three times a week.”

The husband shrugged. “OK, I can drop her off Mondays and Tuesdays, but on Fridays I go fishing.”

Adoption

A husband and wife who worked for the circus went to an adoption agency looking to adopt a child, but the social workers there had doubts about their suitability.

The couple produced photos of their 50-foot motor home, which was clean and well maintained and equipped with a beautiful nursery.

The social workers were satisfied by this, but then raised concerns about the kind of education a child would receive in their care. The husband put their mind at ease, saying, “We’ve arranged for a full-time tutor who will teach the child all the usual subjects, along with French, Mandarin, and computer skills.”

Next, the social workers expressed concern about a child being raised in a circus environment. This time the wife explained, “Our nanny is a certified expert in pediatric care, welfare, and diet.”

The social workers were finally satisfied, so they asked the couple, “What age child are you hoping to adopt?” The husband said, “It doesn’t really matter, as long as the kid fits in the cannon.”

I will look for the flowers by the side of the road; I will laugh and love and be strong. I will try to lighten another’s load this day as I fare along.

Short stuff

Here are a few quickies to liven up your conversation:

- A man walks into a library and asks the librarian for books about paranoia. She whispers, “They’re right behind you!”
- Want to hear a roof joke? The first one’s on the house.
- A cement mixer and a prison bus crashed on the highway. Police advise citizens to look out for a group of hardened criminals.
- I saw a movie about how ships are put together. It was riveting.
- Why did the taxi driver get fired? Passengers complained when he went the extra mile.
- A group of crows was arrested for trying to hang out together. The charge? Attempted murder.
- Some people eat snails. They must not like fast food.
- Have you heard the one about the skunk? It really stinks.
- It’s always windy in a baseball stadium. All those fans.
- What’s worse than raining cats and dogs? Hailing taxis.

Where do you live?

A police officer pulled over a teenager. Here’s how the conversation went:

Police: Where do you live?

Teenager: With my parents.

Police: Where do your parents live?

Teenager: With me.

Police: Where do you all live?

Teenager: Together.

Police: Where is your house?

Teenager: Next to my neighbor’s house.

Police: Where is your neighbor’s house?

Teenager: You won’t believe me.

Police: Tell me.

Teenager: Next to my house.

To truly laugh, you must be able to take your pain and play with it.

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word - the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."
