February Message from the HOA

Please attend our Annual HOA meeting on Sunday, February 13 at 11 am. It is vital to have more than 50% of homeowners present to vote – only one owner per household - in order to maintain our HOA association. With fewer than 50% participation, we would permanently lose our membership in the organization. Please consider nominating someone – or yourself – for a position in this important group. The annual HOA membership dues of $10 will be collected in January. Only paid members will be allowed to vote.

February Message from Recreation Board

We have come up with some alternative events - with Covid still a large concern - to have outdoors, including a Poolside Social on February 10, featuring Leroy & Tim and a March Block Party outside the clubhouse, featuring Tangent, who were a hit at the Christmas Eve bash at Gary's. A big thank you to Gary & his volunteers for the fun evening. We appreciate your understanding during this unprecedented time.

Stay healthy and happy!

FLORIDA ANCHOR AND BARRIER COMPANY

To our valued customers:

During the current times we wanted to let you know that we are taking as many precautions as we can to ensure not only our workers safety but yours as well. We check workers' temperatures each morning and have limited the amount of contact our crews have with each other. Our crews work in Tyvek suits with respirators which helps to ensure your safety as well as theirs.

As a company, we want your business and there is no need for any contact if you so choose. Our business is deemed an "Essential Business" and we are here for you when you need us. You can schedule your inspection by calling 1-800-681-3772.

Listening to the groundhog

Most of us know the story of Groundhog Day. On Feb. 2, the legend goes, a groundhog that comes up out of its burrow to check the weather will go back inside if it sees its shadow, and winter will continue for six more weeks. But if the sky is cloudy and it casts no shadow, the harsh winter weather is over.

Punxsutawney, Pa., hosts the best-known Groundhog Day event, featuring “Punxsutawney Phil” (who gained fame in the 1993 film Groundhog Day), but other towns in Pennsylvania and Maryland hold similar celebrations.

Where does the legend come from? It may have origins in ancient European beliefs involving a badger or a bear as a weather forecaster, as well as the pagan festival Imbolc, whose traditions point to a bear or a serpent as a herald of good or bad weather. In the United States, Groundhog Day can be traced back to 1841, when a Pennsylvania shopkeeper wrote in his diary that that Candlemas day (Feb. 2) was the day on which, “according to the Germans, the Groundhog peeps out of his winter quarters and if he sees his shadow he pops back for another six weeks nap, but if the day be cloudy he remains out, as the weather is to be moderate.”

So keep an eye out for the groundhog’s report, and dress appropriately.

Love is in the air on Feb. 14

Although today the word “Valentine” is synonymous with love, several early Christian martyrs shared the name. The Valentine most closely associated with the holiday was a priest who lived in Rome in the 3rd century. The Emperor Claudius II had outlawed marriage, under the theory that married men didn’t make fierce soldiers. When Valentine continued to perform weddings, Claudius had him put to death.

In another version of the story, Valentine attempted to convert Claudius to Christianity while in prison and was executed. In other tales, Valentine healed his jailer’s blind daughter, and the two fell in love. According to legend, Valentine’s final letter to her was signed, “From your Valentine.”

Valentine’s Day began to take off in the late 18th century, when a British publisher brought out a book called The Young Man’s Valentine Writer, full of sentimental poems for lovers unable to compose their own romantic messages.

Better printing technology and lower postal rates combined to make holiday cards more convenient. The first line of Valentine’s Day cards was launched in 1847 by Esther Howland, whose father owned a book and stationery store in Worcester, Mass.

Valentine’s Day is celebrated today in many countries around the world, including the United States, Canada, Mexico, the United Kingdom, France, and Australia.

Pandemic eats away at savings and security for many

The economic impact of the pandemic has taken its toll on savings in the United States for many people, according to a poll commissioned by the Fund Our Future coalition and DailyPay. The survey of more than 2,000 U.S. adults found that 36% of those with incomes below $50,000 have less money in savings than they did before the pandemic struck; only 13% have more. On the other hand, 41% of Americans with incomes of $100,000 or more reported having greater savings than before; only 20% have less.

Understandably, 58% of Americans say they’re worried about their financial situation, including 71% of those 18–34, 70% of renters, and 67% of people whose household income is under $50,000.

Trust in science on the upswing

The COVID-19 has raised trust in science and scientists, according to a report in The New York Times. A survey of 119,000 people in 113 countries by the Wellcome Trust, a health research foundation in London, found that approximately 80% trust science “some” or “a lot,” and close to 75% say the same about scientists.

In the United States, 54% of Americans said they had “a lot” of trust in scientists, a nine percent increase from 2018, when the last survey was conducted. Trust in scientists increased by at least 10% in regions like East Asia, Latin America, Eastern Europe, and Southeast Asia.

Teen drug use down during pandemic

One positive side effect of the pandemic seems to be that alcohol and drug use by teenagers fell dramatically, according to a study funded by the National Institutes of Health. Alcohol use decreased among eighth graders from 20.5% in 2020 to 17.2% in 2021, the research found, along with a decrease from 40.7% to 28.5% among 10th graders, and a smaller decrease for 12th graders, from 55.3% to 46.5%. Marijuana use fell from 11.4% to 7.1% among eighth graders, and use of drugs other than marijuana decreased from 7.7% to 4.6% in the same age group.

Without science, everything is a miracle.

— Lawrence M. Krauss

Dedicated Senior Medical Center
A CHENMED COMPANY

Have the Right Doctor? Ask Yourself These 10 Questions.

At Dedicated Senior Medical Center, we're committed to keeping seniors healthy, happy and at home. We understand these are scary times, but we're here to help. Dedicated doctors specialize in caring for seniors and that's why we make it easy for you to see a doctor.

Ask yourself:

1. Is your doctor's office still open?
2. Have you heard from your doctor in the past two weeks?
3. Is your doctor personally calling and texting to check on you?
4. Has your doctor called you to explain your risk of coronavirus?
5. Is your doctor's office offering doctor phone visits?
6. Does your doctor allow walk-in visits?
7. Are you able to call your doctor anytime, day or night?
8. Do you have any difficulty getting to and from your doctor?
9. Is your doctor helping to make sure you receive all of your prescription refills?
10. Is your doctor offering to help you get your medications delivered?

Entrance requirement

A Sunday School teacher was testing the children in her class to see if they understood the concept of getting to heaven. She asked them, “If I sold my house and my car, had a big garage sale, and gave all my money to the church, would that get me into heaven?”

“No!” the children answered.

“If I cleaned the church every day, mowed the yard, and kept everything neat and tidy, would that get me into heaven?”

Again, the answer was, “No!”

“Well, then, if I was kind to animals and gave candy to all the children, and loved my husband, would that get me into heaven?” she asked.

Again, they all answered, “No!”

Bursting with pride, she asked, “Then how can I get into heaven?”

A five-year-old boy shouted out, “You have to be dead!”

Drawn to the light

A man walked into a brain surgeon’s office in the hospital. “Can I help you?” the surgeon asked.

“I keep thinking that I’m a moth,” the man replied.

“Well, you probably want to see a psychiatrist for that,” he said. “I’m a brain surgeon.”

“Yeah, I know,” he replied.

The surgeon looked confused. “Then why are you here?”

“The light was on.”

Divine intervention

After starting a new diet, a man altered his commute to work to avoid driving past his favorite bakery. One day he accidentally drove by the bakery and saw in the window a wide selection of chocolates, donuts, and cheesecakes.

The man prayed. “Lord, it’s up to you. If you want me to have any of those delicious goodies, create a parking place for me directly in front of the bakery.”

And sure enough, he found a space on the eighth time around the block.

We cannot really love anybody with whom we never laugh.

Job interview

A man goes in for a job interview. The manager asks him, "What do you think is your worst quality?"

The man says, "I'm probably too honest."
"That's not a bad thing," the manager says. "I think being honest is a good quality."

The man replies, "I don't care about what you think!"

Work — a laughing matter

- My memory has gotten so bad that I lost my job. I'm still employed. I just can't remember where.
- Nothing ruins a Friday more than realizing it's actually Tuesday.
- There's a new trend in our office; everyone is putting names on their food. I noticed it today, while I was eating a sandwich named Jason.
- My performance review says I lack "passion and intensity." I guess my boss has never seen me alone with a Big Mac.
- A clean desk is a sign of a cluttered desk drawer.
- The only thing worse than seeing something done wrong is seeing it done wrong slowly.
- The probability of someone watching you is proportional to the stupidity of your action.
- I don't mind coming to work, it's the eight-hour wait to go home I can't stand.
- All I ask is a chance to prove money can't make me happy.
- Nothing is foolproof to a sufficiently talented fool.

Pancakes

A husband and wife had just finished eating pancakes for breakfast. To the wife's surprise, her husband walked back to the stove and started making more pancakes.

Confused, she asked, "Honey, we just ate. Why are you making pancakes? Are you still hungry?"

"No, they're for the dogs," he replied.

"Why are you making pancakes for the dogs?" she asked.

"Because they don't know how."

A good laugh is sunshine in the house.
— William Thackeray

Find the sweet spot

Some people know exactly what they want to do with their lives at an early age. Not Rebecca Stephens. The first British woman to summit Mount Everest came to mountaineering in her late 20s, after graduate school and years of working as a journalist.

A magazine assigned her to cover an expedition to the Himalayas. There she realized that her true goal in life was to climb to the peak of the highest mountain in the world. So she quit her job and spent years working to fund a climbing expedition. The fear of dedicating herself to such a goal without a job, during a recession, and with a mortgage to pay was daunting, but she didn't let it stop her from pursuing her dream.

Since reaching the peak in 1993, Stephens has gone on to summit the "Seven Sisters," the highest peaks on every continent. Her advice to people still looking for their calling? "Don't panic. It's OK to explore. It's OK to try different things," she tells the Insider website. "It's a question of finding the sweet spot. But quite often if you follow what it is that really fulfills and interests you, the rest falls into place."

Still a champion

Charlie Boswell was an all-American athlete who was offered professional contracts in both football and baseball. But when WWII erupted, Charlie enlisted in the military and was assigned to a tank division.

During a battle in Europe, a shell hit Charlie's tank. As the tank burned, he made sure everyone else got out safely, but then a second shell hit, throwing him 50 feet, breaking his bones and burning his body.

After a weeklong coma, Charlie woke up in a hospital and learned that he'd be blind for the rest of his life. Refusing to be discouraged, he worked hard at his rehabilitation, learning to live in a world of darkness.

One day a friend came to visit him. "Would you like to play some golf?" he asked.

"How in the world can I hit a golf ball when I can't even see it?" Charlie asked, but the friend was persistent. He took Charlie to a golf course, showed him how to hold and swing a club, and let him hit the ball.

Charlie's first drive traveled 200 yards straight down the fairway.

Charlie began training, and slowly his abilities improved. Ultimately Charlie won a world championship, shooting a 38 on nine holes.

The moral, as the Conscious Panda website puts it: There is always an alternate route if you just have the will to find it.

Storytelling is our obligation to the next generation.

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word - the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."
