FEBRUARY DAILY

Groundhog Day, Feb 2. Will the groundhog see its shadow?

Feed the Birds Day, Feb. 3. Early February is when your backyard birds need your help the most. The seeds in your feeder provide energy and strength to help birds make it through the rest of winter.

Autism Sunday, Feb. 13. Also known as the International Day of Prayer for autism spectrum disorders, this event is observed annually on the second Sunday of February.

Valentine’s Day, Feb. 14. Spend the day with someone you love.

President’s Day, Feb. 21. The day honors George Washington (born Feb. 22), and Abraham Lincoln (born Feb. 12) and all U.S. presidents.

Lack of knowledge fuels health care worries

We’re all worried about the cost of medical care, whether we’ve got insurance or not. Business Wire reports that 75% of people with health insurance are nervous about suffering financial problems because of medical bills, only slightly less than the uninsured 77% who are just as worried.

The MITRE-Harris Poll Survey on Health Insurance Literacy and Perception found that 47% of people have experienced not having their insurance pay for as much as they expected, 42% have discovered that a procedure wasn’t covered, and 33% didn’t realize that a doctor or facility they used was out of network.

The problem may be our lack of understanding of health coverage. The survey found that 53% of people say they understand their plan only “somewhat,” with just 33% feeling they know the details of their coverage “completely.” Twenty-six percent said they never check what’s covered ahead of time. Trying to figure out what is covered is the most frustrating aspect of health care to 28%, along with finding someone to answer their questions (20%), and determining whether a physician or hospital is or isn’t in their network (20%).

A healthy outside starts from the inside.

— Robert Ulrich

FEBRUARY CALENDAR

Black History Month. During Black History Month, Americans reflect on more than 400 years of Black history and heritage in communities and national parks across the country. Use this month to find special places, historic moments, and personal journeys that contribute to conversations about Black representation, identity, and diversity in our nation's history and today.

National Embroidery Month. No one is quite sure how this celebration of the art of embroidery got started, but it remains an opportunity for embroiderers everywhere to share their love of the craft. Many museums or local stores have events during this month.

National Time Management Month. During February, the National Association of Productivity and Organizing Professionals emphasizes the importance of improving time management to achieve a more balanced life.

Teen Dating Violence Awareness and Prevention Month. This campaign strives to follow the wisdom of young people as they work to prevent teen dating violence, advocate for healthy relationships, heal from trauma, and engage in social justice.

FEBRUARY WEEKLY

Women's Heart Week, Feb 1–7. Heart disease is the No. 1 killer of American women. Recognizing symptoms and risks, making lifestyle changes, and getting timely care can save a woman's life. Women's Heart Week is a national outreach campaign aimed at improving women's outcomes from this deadly disease.

Children's Mental Health Week, Feb. 7–13. This year's theme is "Growing Together," encouraging children (and adults) to consider how they have grown and how they can help others to grow.

National Entrepreneurship Week, Feb 12–19. Celebrating America's entrepreneurship ecosystem, National Entrepreneurship Week is a nonpartisan, congressionally chartered initiative founded in 2006 that takes place the third week of February annually.

National Eating Disorders week, Feb. 21–27. An annual campaign to educate the public about the realities of eating disorders, and to provide hope, support, and visibility to individuals and families affected by them.

Job interview

A man goes in for a job interview. The manager asks him, "What do you think is your worst quality?"

The man says, "I'm probably too honest."
"That's not a bad thing," the manager says. "I think being honest is a good quality."

The man replies, "I don't care about what you think!"

Work — a laughing matter

- My memory has gotten so bad that I lost my job. I'm still employed. I just can't remember where.
- Nothing ruins a Friday more than realizing it's actually Tuesday.
- There's a new trend in our office; everyone is putting names on their food. I noticed it today, while I was eating a sandwich named Jason.
- My performance review says I lack "passion and intensity." I guess my boss has never seen me alone with a Big Mac.
- A clean desk is a sign of a cluttered desk drawer.
- The only thing worse than seeing something done wrong is seeing it done wrong slowly.
- The probability of someone watching you is proportional to the stupidity of your action.
- I don't mind coming to work, it's the eight-hour wait to go home I can't stand.
- All I ask is a chance to prove money can't make me happy.
- Nothing is foolproof to a sufficiently talented fool.

Pancakes

A husband and wife had just finished eating pancakes for breakfast. To the wife's surprise, her husband walked back to the stove and started making more pancakes.

Confused, she asked, "Honey, we just ate. Why are you making pancakes? Are you still hungry?"

"No, they're for the dogs," he replied.

"Why are you making pancakes for the dogs?" she asked.

"Because they don't know how."

A good laugh is sunshine in the house.

Keep your diet balanced with this simple advice

Staying healthy, especially during the winter months, requires commitment, but it's not all that complicated. Just remember these health and wellness tips from the Savvy Mom website:

- Eat breakfast every day. Eating something in the morning helps kick your metabolism into gear. A piece of toast, some oatmeal, or a smoothie can help you wake up and feel energized for the day.
- Practice moderation. You don't have to starve yourself or deny yourself your favorite foods. Just keep things in the right proportion. Eat slowly, and resist the temptation to binge. You'll find yourself just as satisfied if you give your body a chance to digest without stuffing your stomach.
- Stay hydrated. Water helps flush things through your system and makes you feel full. You can add some flavor to it with a slice of lemon or a drop of orange or cranberry juice if plain water is too boring.
- Monitor your emotions. Depression and anxiety can push you into overeating. Don't wallow in guilt for having a good meal. Put it behind yourself and focus on maintaining a healthy balanced routine going forward.
- Keep a food journal. Write down everything you eat. This helps you keep track of habits and patterns so you can make better choices during and between meals.

A hero of the pandemic

Many heroes stepped up to raise money to help people during the COVID-19 pandemic. One of them, as told on the Baxter Restoration website, was Captain Tom Moore, a 99-year-old British veteran of WWII. Wanting to support Britain's National Health Service, he announced he would walk laps around his garden to encourage people to pledge money to his cause. Moore promised to do 100 laps by his 100th birthday, hoping to raise $1,000.

Much to his surprise, Captain Moore became a hit on the internet, raising $33 million. He's still doing his laps.

Stories have to be told or they die, and when they die, we can't remember who we are or why we're here.

Listening to the groundhog

Most of us know the story of Groundhog Day. On Feb. 2, the legend goes, a groundhog that comes up out of its burrow to check the weather will go back inside if it sees its shadow, and winter will continue for six more weeks. But if the sky is cloudy and it casts no shadow, the harsh winter weather is over.

Punxsutawney, Pa., hosts the best-known Groundhog Day event, featuring “Punxsutawney Phil” (who gained fame in the 1993 film Groundhog Day), but other towns in Pennsylvania and Maryland hold similar celebrations.

Where does the legend come from? It may have origins in ancient European beliefs involving a badger or a bear as a weather forecaster, as well as the pagan festival Imbolc, whose traditions point to a bear or a serpent as a herald of good or bad weather. In the United States, Groundhog Day can be traced back to 1841, when a Pennsylvania shopkeeper wrote in his diary that that Candlemas day (Feb. 2) was the day on which, “according to the Germans, the Groundhog peeps out of his winter quarters and if he sees his shadow he pops back for another six weeks nap, but if the day be cloudy he remains out, as the weather is to be moderate.”

So keep an eye out for the groundhog’s report, and dress appropriately.

Love is in the air on Feb. 14

Although today the word “Valentine” is synonymous with love, several early Christian martyrs shared the name. The Valentine most closely associated with the holiday was a priest who lived in Rome in the 3rd century. The Emperor Claudius II had outlawed marriage, under the theory that married men didn’t make fierce soldiers. When Valentine continued to perform weddings, Claudius had him put to death.

In another version of the story, Valentine attempted to convert Claudius to Christianity while in prison and was executed. In other tales, Valentine healed his jailer’s blind daughter, and the two fell in love. According to legend, Valentine’s final letter to her was signed, “From your Valentine.”

Valentine’s Day began to take off in the late 18th century, when a British publisher brought out a book called The Young Man’s Valentine Writer, full of sentimental poems for lovers unable to compose their own romantic messages.

Better printing technology and lower postal rates combined to make holiday cards more convenient. The first line of Valentine’s Day cards was launched in 1847 by Esther Howland, whose father owned a book and stationery store in Worcester, Mass.

Valentine’s Day is celebrated today in many countries around the world, including the United States, Canada, Mexico, the United Kingdom, France, and Australia.

A Sunday School teacher was testing the children in her class to see if they understood the concept of getting to heaven. She asked them, “If I sold my house and my car, had a big garage sale, and gave all my money to the church, would that get me into heaven?”

“No!” the children answered.

“If I cleaned the church every day, mowed the yard, and kept everything neat and tidy, would that get me into heaven?”

Again, the answer was, “No!”

“Well, then, if I was kind to animals and gave candy to all the children, and loved my husband, would that get me into heaven?” she asked.

Again, they all answered, “No!”

Bursting with pride, she asked, “Then how can I get into heaven?”

A five-year-old boy shouted out, “You have to be dead!”

Drawn to the light

A man walked into a brain surgeon’s office in the hospital. “Can I help you?” the surgeon asked.

“I keep thinking that I’m a moth,” the man replied.

“Well, you probably want to see a psychiatrist for that,” he said. “I’m a brain surgeon.”

“Yeah, I know,” he replied.

The surgeon looked confused. “Then why are you here?”

“The light was on.”

Divine intervention

After starting a new diet, a man altered his commute to work to avoid driving past his favorite bakery. One day he accidentally drove by the bakery and saw in the window a wide selection of chocolates, donuts, and cheesecakes.

The man prayed. “Lord, it’s up to you. If you want me to have any of those delicious goodies, create a parking place for me directly in front of the bakery.”

And sure enough, he found a space on the eighth time around the block.

We cannot really love anybody with whom we never laugh.
