From the Board of Directors

Roland Doucette, President

The next Board of Directors meeting will be held on Tuesday March 15th at 7pm in the clubhouse. Please mark your calendar and plan to attend. The Board also holds operations meetings at the clubhouse each Monday at 8:30 AM. These are your best bets to find out what is going on in Blue Jay.

As homeowners are preparing to go north, please make sure to leave your home “hurricane ready”. That means EVERYTHING is taken out of your carport and stowed indoors as well as anything else that is around your home. It is important if you have storm shutters that they be lowered before you leave. If you have someone taking care of your home in your absence you should make sure to “exercise” your shutters to assure they can be lowered in your absence. Any item can become a projectile in strong winds causing damage to your home or others. Please plan ahead for the safety of yourself and your neighbors.

Also, as you prepare to go north, please notify the Association by completing a change of address and letting us know who is looking after your home while you are gone. This ensures Association mail is received in a timely manner, and provides a local contact that can take care of issues that may occur with your home during your absence.

Hopefully you are all enjoying the great spring weather.

From The Social Club

George Toper, Chairman

After a busy February, Blue Jay moves right into March with our Annual Sale on the 4th and 5th. In addition to the income from the tables, the bake sale always brings in extra income for the Social club. Help is needed with the setup on Thursday as well as the sale days on Friday and Saturday.

The St. Patrick’s dance on March 12th from 7-10pm is another event with music by Dino. Seating charts and sign up sheets are available at the club house.

The golf tournament at Countryway is on March 10th. See John Broderick to sign up. Happy Spring and warmer weather!

St. Patrick's 2022 Dance Party. Are you Irish?

By Mike McKenna

Are you Irish? Growing up I was always Irish. However I couldn't resist checking it out. So I sent for an "Ancestry.com Kit". A few days later it arrived. Inside I find a short glass tube. About 1.5 inches long and as big around as a pencil. So with the tube in hand I head to the bathroom. Have you ever tried to fill a tube that size? After the blast, I decided to read the instructions. It said to fill with "Saliva" and return. So after I fill it, I put it in the mail. About 12 days later my report arrives. I anxiously open and read the results.

Yes I'm Irish---and British and Scottish. About 80%. I read on. It says I am also 10% Italian, 10% Viking and .01% Moroccan. Surprised and a little shocked I had to figure this out. Then I finally got it. The Roman Army comes over and marches through Ireland. They took over my Village, and things happened. Then later here comes the Viking Ships. They pilferage my Village, and things happened. And so on and on and here I am. My Ancestry history solved!

Later I thought about Adam and Eve and then my light bulb goes on. I NOW have my final analysis! We are all connected together. We are all IRISH.

Hope to see you at our very popular St. Patrick's Dance Party, at our Club House, on Sat. March 12th, at 7:00pm. Sign up and pay at the Club House. You don't want to miss it.

"When your Irish heart is happy, all the world seems bright and gay. And when Irish eyes are smiling, sure they steal your heart away".

Slainte (cheers) everyone,

Blue Jay Estates Community Service

Project Coordinators: Cindy Boedeker and Susan Pisano

Project: Special Ladies Project

We would like to thank the Blue Jay Estates community who came together to support our "Special Ladies Project".

On Monday, February 7, 2022, we delivered 30 lovely bags filled with gently used purses and a generous assortment of both personal care and useful items for them.

We were able to create 3 "Welcome Home" baskets with all of the extra donations which will be distributed to 3 ladies when they move into their new homes.

It has been a pleasure to work with all of you on our "Special Ladies Project" for the 30 residents living in the Baldwin Women's Residence.

Red Hats

Roz Powell, Coordinator

On 1-20-22 we had a “High Tea” hosted by Nickie Nameth at the club house. There were 14 Red Hat ladies that attended. We had delicious finger sandwiches, scones, fruit, cookies and tea. There was a 50/50 drawing and the center pieces at each table (beautiful succulent plants) were given to the person who had a birthday nearest to our luncheon. A good time was had by all.

Red Hatters Linda Dingman and Barbara McCorkle are planning a Calypso boat trip at Clearwater Beach for February. Tell you more next month. We would like to welcome any new residents to come join us for a Red Hat luncheon. It is a good way to meet your neighbors and find out what activities we have here at Blue Jay.

LIBRARY NEWS

Nancy Jo & Ron Beardsley, Coordinators

The library is stocked with many books by known authors for your reading enjoyment. There are paper back, hard cover as well as large print editions.

The books are arranged alphabetically by the author's last name. If you have a favorite author you're looking for, they can easily be found.

The library has many movies in DVD and music CD's which can be taken out.

The library also stocks many puzzles which can be borrowed.

There are also current magazines which have been donated. These can be taken for your enjoyment.

There is a box on a top shelf marked "Eyeglasses". If you have eyeglasses you no longer use or need, put them in the box and they will be donated to the Lions club for their use.

When you visit the library, you will see the "Visitation Guidelines" that are now in place due to the Covid-19 Pandemic and now the Omicron Virus. Please read and follow for everyone's safety.

Book Return: Boxes for each day of the week are at the library entrance for book return. It's important that returned books be put in the boxes. A book returned on a Monday, will go into the box labeled "Monday". They are left there for 72 hours to insure that any "virus" is no longer active. We ask that you do not put books on the shelves. The librarians re-shelve all books after they are cleaned. Your follow through is important.

Book Re-shelving: Book covers are cleaned with a anti-bacterial sanitizer before re-shelved. This is to keep books clean as you browse through them.

Personal Books: The library is not accepting personal books at this time. We ask that you do not "drop off" your unwanted books.

By following these guidelines, we can enjoy the library and feel confident that we're doing our best to stay safe and healthy.

The Librarians and the Board of Directors thank you for your cooperation during this critical period of time.

Could be worse

James was walking down the street one day, and he happened to see his old high school friend, Harry. "Harry, Harry, how are you?"

"Not so good," said Harry.

"Why? What happened?"

"I just went bankrupt," Harry said, "and I don't know what I'm going to do."

"Could be worse," James replied calmly. "Could be worse."

A month or so later, James again encountered Harry, this time in a restaurant. "How are things now?" he asked.

"Terrible!" said Harry. "Our house burned down last night."

"Could be worse," said James again, and he went to sit down at his table.

A month later, James ran into Harry a third time. "Well, how goes it?" he inquired.

"Oh!" said Harry. "Things just get worse and worse. Now my wife has left me."

Harry nodded his head. "Could be worse."

This time, Harry grabbed James by the shoulders. "Wait a minute!" he said. "I'm not letting you off so easy this time. Every time I tell you about the latest disaster in my life you say the same thing: 'Could be worse.' This time, Harry, I want you to tell me: How in heaven's name could it have been any worse?"

James looked at Harry with a little wisp of a smile. "Could have happened to me."

At the height of laughter, the universe is flung into a kaleidoscope of new possibilities.

The wooden sword

One night a king changed out of his fancy robes for a walk outside his palace. On the edge of town he saw a man sitting in a small house singing as he cooked his modest dinner. Curious, the king knocked at the door, and the man let him in.

“How can you be so happy with such a small house and small meal?” the king asked.

“I make just enough money fixing people’s shoes to get by,” the man explained.

The king thought this poor man was very foolish. The next day he signed a law forbidding anyone to fix shoes for pay.

That night he visited the man again. “The king passed a law against fixing shoes,” the man explained, “so I got a job carrying water from the river.”

Annoyed, the next day the king passed a law against carrying water for pay.

The man took a job as a woodcutter. Losing patience, the king ordered all woodcutters to report to his palace and serve as guards. He gave them all swords.

The man, needing money, carved a sword from wood and sold his own sword to a peasant. But the next day the king spotted the peasant carrying a sword. Enraged, he arrested the man and then ordered his guards to the palace. Spotting the man he’d been talking to, he pointed his finger and said, “I order you to cut off this thief’s head.”

At first the man protested. “I have never killed even a fly.”

But the king insisted. So the man approached the peasant, his hands trembling. Then he had an idea.

He lifted his head and cried, “Oh, God, if this man is guilty, let my sword slice his head clean off. But if he is innocent, turn my sword to wood so that I may spare him!”

He drew his sword, and the people cheered, believing they had seen a miracle.

The king was suddenly moved by the man’s cleverness. Calling him over, he revealed that he had been the man’s visitor, and said, “Now that I see how wise you are, I would like you to come live in the palace and be my chief advisor. I have much to learn from you.”
