April Crossword

April Calendar

Financial Literacy Month. Financial Literacy Month is a chance to reflect on the state of your personal finances and an opportunity to improve those finances one step at a time. The first and most important step in developing and following a financial plan is to examine your attitudes about money. Are you ready to accept responsibility for changing your financial situation?

Mathematics and Statistical Awareness Month. Both mathematics and statistics play a significant role in addressing many real-world problems—internet security, sustainability, disease, climate change, and much more. Research in these areas reveals new results and applications every day in fields such as medicine, manufacturing, energy, and business.

National Arab American Heritage Month. Arab Americans celebrate their heritage in hopes that all Americans will appreciate their contributions to the U.S. The month of April is a special opportunity to enhance understanding of the nuanced and diverse aspects of Arab American heritage.

National Garden Month. Take some time this month to engage your family, friends, and neighbors in gardening. Get outside and garden with your family. Make a window box salad garden, find new ways to be green, garden in the city or the country, and much more.

Weekly

National Library Week, April 3–9. A time to celebrate our nation's libraries and library workers, and promote library use and support. National Library Week is sponsored by the American Library Association (ALA) and observed in libraries across the country. All types of libraries—school, public, academic, and special—participate.

National Dog Bite Prevention Week, April 10–16. With an estimated population of nearly 85 million dogs living in U.S. households, millions of people—most of them children—are bitten by dogs every year. The majority of these bites, if not all, are preventable.

National Park Week, April 16–24. Parks across the country host a variety of special programs, events, and digital experiences. Entrance fees are waived on April 16 to kick off National Park Week and encourage everyone to enjoy their national parks.

National Youth Violence Prevention Week, April 25–29. Founded in 2001, National Youth Violence Prevention Week is a time for youth to lead communities on effective strategies to prevent youth violence.

April Days

April Fool's Day, April 1. Play a (harmless) prank on someone you love today.

National Beer Day, April 7. Celebrating the day in 1933 when the sale of beer became legal. Upon signing the legislation, President Franklin D. Roosevelt remarked, "I think this would be a good time for a beer."

Easter, April 17. A Christian celebration of the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Earth Day, April 22. The 2022 theme, "Invest in Our Planet," centers on finding solutions to climate change and encouraging governments, citizens, and businesses to do their part.

Talk Like Shakespeare Day, April 23. Try talking like the Bard for a day. One tip: When in doubt, add "eth" to the end of verbs: he runneth, he trippeth, he falleth.

Love on the rocks

Are love and marriage dying? CNN reports that Americans these days don't seem to be forming relationships, moving in together, and even having as much sex as they once did.

The 2021 General Social Survey found that 26% of Americans 18 and up didn't have sex at all in the past year. That's up from 23% in 2016 and also 2018, so it's not just fear of the pandemic preventing hookups. Only slightly more than 50% reported having sex once a month or less, the first time that figure exceeded 50%.

Americans aren't shacking up as much either. The GSS found that about 62% of Americans 25–54 were living together, married or unmarried, in 2019, far below the 70% who lived together in 1990, which serves as a baseline. Ten percent more men, and seven percent more women, were living alone than in 1990.

Even without living together, partnerships aren't as popular in recent years. The GSS found that 30% of adults 25–54 had a steady partner, down from 20% in 1986.

One bright spot: The divorce rate seems to be dropping. Divorces and annulments dropped, with 2.7 per 1,000 people in 2019, down from four per 1,000 in 2000.

Ninety percent of life is fifty percent indecisive. The rest is confusing.

Emergency!

Operator: “This is 911, what’s your emergency?”
Caller: “A man just got hit by a car, and we need an ambulance!”
Operator: “What is your location?”
Caller: “I’m on Eucalyptus Street.”
Operator: “Can you spell that, please?”
Long pause.
Operator: “Hello? Are you still there?”
Caller: “I’m going to drag him over to Pine Street and call you back.”

The password

Conversation at a bar:
Customer: “What’s the Wi-Fi password?”
Bartender: “You need to buy a drink first.”
Customer: “OK, I’ll have a scotch.”
Bartender: “That’s nine dollars.”
Customer: “Here you go. So what’s the Wi-Fi password?”
Bartender: “You need to buy a drink first.”

Memory

A priest bought a lawn mower at a yard sale. Back home, he pulled on the starter rope a few times with no results. He stormed back to the yard sale and told the previous owner, “I can’t get that mower to start!”

“That’s because you have to curse to get it started,” said the man.
“I’m a man of the cloth! I don’t even remember how to curse.”
“You keep pulling on that rope, and it’ll come back to you.”

Keep your body healthy in your golden years

Staying healthy and fit as you age can be a challenge, especially these days. The persistence of the pandemic has put a new focus on taking care of yourself physically and mentally as time goes on. Forbes offers this advice on aging well for people growing older:

- Take care of your brain. Challenge your brain by learning a new language or musical instrument, or taking up a new hobby. Practice mindfulness and meditation for 15 minutes a day. Work on word puzzles and other mental exercises.
- Check your hearing. Hearing loss is associated with dementia, loss of balance, anxiety, social isolation, and diminished self-esteem. Stay away from noisy environments. Get your hearing checked and do what's necessary to get your ears the assistance needed.
- Reward yourself. Don't think in terms of cutting things out of your life. Instead, reward yourself for positive activities and experiences like taking a walk or exercising. Getting up and moving around is good for you, especially as you get older, so save the other activities you enjoy like watching TV until you're finished doing what's good for you.
- Engage with virtual health. These days you don't have to go to a doctor's office for a checkup. Although some functions have to take place in person, many visits can be replaced by Zoom or some other online option. Remote monitoring can keep track of your blood pressure, glucose levels and the like as well. Ask about what's available to streamline your life and make taking care of your health easier.
- Focus on key fitness areas. Everyone's body deteriorates somewhat as we age, but you don't have to give up. Pay attention to strength training, flexibility, and balance. Strength training keeps your muscles in shape; tai chi, yoga, and walking can improve balance; and stretching helps you stay flexible. All of these help you stay safe from falling and serious injury.

Self-esteem is as important to our well-being as legs are to a table. It is essential for physical and mental health and for happiness.

Good news

An elderly woman telephoned a hospital and timidly asked, “Is it possible to speak to someone who can tell me how a patient is doing?” The operator said, “I’ll be glad to help, ma’am. What’s the name and room number of the patient?”

“Norma Findlay, room 302.”

The operator replied, “Let me put you on hold while I check with the nurse’s station for that room.”

After a few minutes, the operator returned to the phone. “I have good news. Her nurse just told me that Norma is doing well. Her blood pressure is fine; her blood work just came back normal and her physician has scheduled her to be discharged tomorrow.”

The woman said, “Thank you. That’s wonderful. I was so worried. Thank you for the good news.”

The operator replied, “You’re more than welcome. Is Norma your daughter?”

The woman said, “No, I’m Norma Findlay in room 302. No one tells me anything.”

The wrong word

A young man was sitting in a dentist’s waiting room after getting a tooth pulled. The receptionist asked him if he was OK.

“Yes,” he said, “but I didn’t like the bad word the dentist used while he was pulling my tooth.”

“What did he say?” asked the receptionist, worried.

““Oops.””

The working life

- Here’s some advice: At a job interview, tell them you’re willing to give 110%. Unless you’re applying for a job as a statistician.
- My boss asked me, “Who is the stupid one here, you or me?” I told him, “Everyone knows you don’t hire stupid people.”
- A man got fired from his job at the unemployment office on Friday. His boss said, “Clean out your desk, and I’ll see you in the office on Monday.”
- I went for an interview for an office job. The interviewer told me I’d start at $2,000 a month and then after six months I’d be at $2,500 a month. I told him I’d start in six months.
- When I got to work one morning, my boss stormed up to me and said, “You missed work yesterday, didn’t you?” I said, “No, not particularly.”
