Message from Park Manager

Resident Files: Please be sure you contact the Park Office when you have a change of phone number, address or email. There are times we receive returned mail, with no forwarding address. When the Office attempts to call the resident for updated info, the phone number on file is not correct.

Update Emergency Contact Info: Please be sure the Office has updated emergency contact info. Also, please keep the office posted.

Seasonal Residents: Please be sure you are checking in with the Office when you arrive in the Park and when you leave. If you check in with the Office in December and tell us you will be here until April, it would be really helpful if you reach out again in April to let us know you are leaving. Again, we need this information for security reasons as well as mail outs.

Renting: If you rent out your Unit, please be sure the renters are going through the Office for Park approval prior to moving in. If you have a renter that returns each year, they still have to check in with the Office.

Respectfully,
Christine Roberts, LCAM
Licensed Community Association Manager

Cookbook Club News

If you like to explore delicious new foods, you will want to join the Cookbook Book Club. Each month we select a cookbook and everyone chooses a recipe from that book to prepare for our wonderful tasting dinners where we enjoy and discuss each delicious dish.

The featured cookbook for May is Rachael Ray's irresistible collection Just in Time. In it Rachael works her 30-minute magic with nearly 100 awesomely delicious brand-new recipes. From pasta to pizzas, soup to sammies and chicken, fish and meat, you'll find a way to suit every appetite. If you don't have even 30 minutes Rachael has you covered with super-fast 15-minute meals.

If you would like to join us for our next dinner and discussion, peruse Rachael's cookbook (it's in the Activities Room), select a recipe to make and bring it with you on Monday, May 9th at 6:00 pm in the Clubhouse.

The History of Memorial Day

One of the earliest commemorations was organized by recently freed African Americans. As the Civil War neared its end, thousands of Union soldiers, held as prisoners of war, were herded into a series of hastily assembled camps in Charleston, South Carolina. Conditions at one camp, a former racetrack near the city's Citadel, were so bad that more than 250 prisoners died from disease or exposure, and were buried in a mass grave behind the track's grandstand.

Three weeks after the Confederate surrender, an unusual procession entered the former camp: On May 1, 1865, more than 1,000 people recently freed from enslavement, accompanied by regiments of the U.S. Colored Troops (including the Massachusetts 54th Infantry) and a handful of white Charlestonians, gathered in the camp to consecrate a new, proper burial site for the Union dead. The group sang hymns, gave readings and distributed flowers around the cemetery, which they dedicated to the "Martyrs of the Race Course."

In May 1868, General John A. Logan, the commander-in-chief of the Union veterans' group known as the Grand Army of the Republic, issued a decree that May 30 should become a nationwide day of commemoration for the more than 620,000 soldiers killed in the recently ended Civil War. On Decoration Day, as Logan dubbed it, Americans should lay flowers and decorate the graves of the war dead "whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village and hamlet churchyard in the land."

According to legend, Logan chose May 30 because it was a rare day that didn't fall on the anniversary of a Civil War battle, though some historians believe the date was selected to ensure that flowers across the country would be in full bloom.

Americans embraced the notion of "Decoration Day" immediately. That first year, more than 27 states held some sort of ceremony, with more than 5,000 people in attendance at a ceremony at Arlington National Cemetery. By 1890, every former state of the Union had adopted it as an official holiday. But for more than 50 years, the holiday was used to commemorate those killed just in the Civil War, not in any other American conflict. It wasn't until America's entry into World War I that the tradition was expanded to include those killed in all wars, and Memorial Day was not officially recognized nationwide until the 1970s, with America deeply embroiled in the Vietnam War.

Although the term Memorial Day was used beginning in the 1880s, the holiday was officially known as Decoration Day for more than a century, when it was changed by federal law. Four years later, the Uniform Monday Holiday Act of 1968 finally went into effect, moving Memorial Day from its traditional observance on May 30 (regardless of the day of the week), to a set day—the last Monday in May.

Kentucky Derby Facts You Never Knew

-  It has a connection to Lewis and Clark - In 1872, Meriwether Lewis Clark, Jr., the grandson of that Clark, went to the Epsom Derby in England. When he got back to the States, he started a racing club called the Louisville Jockey Club and raised enough money to build a permanent racetrack in Louisville.
-  It's the longest running sporting event in the U.S. - The first Kentucky Derby was held on May 17, 1875. A crowd of 10,000 watched 15 three-year-old Thoroughbred horses race for 1.5 miles.
-  Aristides was the first Derby winner - The three-year-old chestnut Thoroughbred won the race in just over two minutes and 37 seconds. His jockey, Oliver Lewis, was 19 and never raced in the Derby again. Aristides' trainer was Ansel Williams, a former slave.
-  The racetrack didn't always have a name - It wasn't until 1883 that Churchill Downs was first used to mark the racetrack that hosts the Derby.
-  The red rose is the race's official flower - Roses first appeared at the Derby in 1896, when the winner Ben Brush was given a garland made of white and pink roses. In 1904, the red rose became the official flower of the Kentucky Derby. Years later, sports columnist Bill Corum accordingly nicknamed the race the "Run for the Roses," which, of course, stuck.
-  That famous rose garland is quite a sight - It's made up of more than 400 red roses sewn on green satin, weighing more than 40 pounds. In the center of the garland is rose "crown," with a single rose pointing up that symbolizes the heart and struggle needed to reach the Kentucky Derby Winner's Circle. The number of roses in the crown is determined by how many horses compete in the Derby.
-  The trophy is pretty nice, too - The Kentucky Derby trophy is made of 14 karat gold and stands on a jade base. It's 22 inches tall and weighs 3.5 pounds.

Pointe West Activities

We are winding down on another fantastic winter season here at Pointe West. Activities included Shuffle Board, Watercise, Friday night Music for Fun, Pool Parties and a wonderful Memorial in honor of our Pointe West residents that passed away during Covid.

That doesn't mean that everything stops in the summer. There is still Aquacise, Watercise, Exercise, Thursday Bingo, Indoor Shuffle, Garden Club, Cookbook Club and a host of extra activities offered through the REC. Check the calendar and come out and participate and have fun. All are welcome!

Mother

You filled my days with rainbow lights,
Fairytale and sweet dream nights,
A kiss to wipe away my tears,
Gingerbread to ease my fears.
You gave the gift of life to me
And then in love, you set me free.
I thank you for your tender care,
For deep warm hugs and being there.
I hope that when you think of me
A part of you
You'll always see.

Joke of the Month

There was a farmer who owned a small ranch with some livestock and two horses, Razzle and Dazzle. One day a traveling salesman knocks on his door. While waiting for the farmer to answer he notices the horses racing around their pen. After he gives his sales pitch he says to the farmer: "You know those two horses are pretty quick. Have you ever thought about racing them?"

After a while the farmer thinks on it and takes them down to a local derby. As soon as the announcer says "GO", gates open his two horses are fighting for the lead. Razzle then Dazzle. Razzle then Dazzle. Razzle wins by a nose. The farmer wins some cash and thinks this could be kinda fun.

Every weekend or so he races them. It's always the same thing. Announcer says "GO", gates open, Razzle and Dazzle fighting for the lead. Razzle then Dazzle. Razzle then Dazzle. Razzle wins by a nose.

Life is going pretty good. The farmer has bought a new truck and trailer with his winnings. He enters the horses in the Kentucky Derby. Announcer says "GO", gates open, Razzle and Dazzle fighting for the lead. Razzle then Dazzle. Razzle then Dazzle. Razzle wins by a nose.

A few years later when Razzle and Dazzle are getting older. The farmer retires Razzle and Dazzle. They're sitting in their pen. Dazzle turns to Razzle and says:

"I know I can beat you. What do you say? One last race?"

"Okay. But it's not an official race unless we have someone to say go. Hey dog, will you say go for us?" The dog nods.

Razzle and Dazzle line up. The dog says "GO". Razzle and Dazzle fighting for the lead. Razzle then Dazzle. Razzle then Dazzle. Razzle wins by a nose. After the race Razzle looks at Dazzle and simply says

"I didn't know dogs could talk"

Recipe Roundup – Classic Mint Julep

Mint julep is a cocktail consisting primarily of bourbon, sugar, water, crushed or shaved ice, and fresh mint. As a bourbon-based cocktail, it is associated with the American South and the cuisine of the Southern United States in general, and the Kentucky Derby in particular.

Classic Mint Julep

Ingredients

-  1 teaspoon powdered sugar
-  2 oz. bourbon whiskey
-  2 teaspoons water
-  4 mint leaves

Instructions:

In a highball glass gently muddle the mint, sugar and water. Fill the glass with cracked ice, add Bourbon and stir well until the glass is well frosted. Garnish with a mint sprig. Served on the rocks poured over ice. Garnish with a sprig of mint

FLORIDA ANCHOR AND BARRIER COMPANY

To our valued customers:

During the current times we wanted to let you know that we are taking as many precautions as we can to ensure not only our workers safety but yours as well. We check workers' temperatures each morning and have limited the amount of contact our crews have with each other. Our crews work in Tyvek suits with respirators which helps to ensure your safety as well as theirs.

As a company, we want your business and there is no need for any contact if you so choose. Our business is deemed an "Essential Business" and we are here for you when you need us. You can schedule your inspection by calling 1-800-681-3772.

A little extra

A man always bought oranges from an older woman at the town market. She would weigh them on a scale and place them in a bag and tell him the price. After he paid, the man usually took one orange out of the bag, peeled it, and tasted one piece. Then he'd say, "This orange is sour," and hand it back to the woman.

She bit into it. "It tastes sweet to me," she always said, but she gave him a few extra oranges to make up for it.

The man's wife went to the market with him every day and saw this happen time after time. One day she asked her husband, "Why do you do that every time? The oranges are always sweet."

The man replied, "That old woman hardly eats. This way I get her to eat one orange a day for her health."

A merchant in a vegetable stall saw the exchange happen every day too. One day she asked the old woman, "Why do you let him get away with that? He always complains about your oranges, and you always give him extra. Why do you put up with it?"

The woman smiled. "He always pays me a little extra when I weigh his bag. That way he can feed me and pretend I don't know what he's doing. His love pays for the extra orange."

Hope

Once there was a man who made and sold pottery to support his family. Unfortunately, his business suffered severe losses, and had to sell much of his property to keep it afloat.

One day his son asked him, "Why are you still running this business when you're losing so much money?"

Why don't you shut it down and do something else?"

The father smiled and replied, "My son, life can bring us many challenges and push us down, but we need to have hope to overcome any problem."

The son asked, "How can hope help us?"

The father said, "Let me show you."

He took his son to a deep well in the back of his house and told him to jump.

In shock, the son said, "Father, I don't know how to swim!" But his father pushed him to the well and walked away.

The son struggled in the cold water for close to five minutes. When he thought he was just about to drown, the father reached in and pulled his son out of the well.

The next day, the father again took his son to the well and told him to jump. At first the son hesitated, then jumped into the well. Again his father walked away.

The boy again struggled to keep from drowning. This time his father left him in the well for 15 minutes, but he managed to stay above the water until his father came and pulled him out.

The father asked, "Why were you fighting harder than yesterday?"

His son replied, "Yesterday, I did not know what to do. But today, I knew that you would come and save me before I drowned."

Moral: When we push ourselves with hope, and trust the people around us, we can overcome anything.
