of Political Action for Region Seven for twelve years as well as on the Cabinet of Board of Directors for four years. From 2000 to 2005, she was president of Substitute Teachers Association of Baldwinsville. New York. She also started and still is a member of two Red Hat Groups, namely “Lavender Roses” and Purple Roses”.

In 1998, Sylvia visited a former resident in the park who convinced her to buy a mobile. “so, I bought Lot 97 in February, 1999.” In 2007, she moved to Florida permanently, but spends summer months in New York. In 2019, Sylvia sold her mobile and moved into Lot 32.

She has many hobbies. Sylvia enjoys crocheting (have you been a recipient of her many dishcloths?) reading, playing Mah Jongg weekly, marbles, and “any kind of cards you name it, I play it”. She enjoys going on cruises which she does on a yearly basis. “I’ve cruised almost all the oceans of the world”.

Sylvia has been very active on the Activity Committee here at ShangriLa. She was secretary of Home Owners Association from 2008 until 2010 and since 2019 is our secretary today. She has participated and hosted in many of our events pre-pandemic. Hopefully we can depend on her willingness to help in the future. It’s great to have good neighbors!!

A Party

On March 30, invited residents and guests came together to celebrate my 93rd. Birthday. What a wonderful gathering! How humble and grateful to feel such love. I'm blessed!

How do I thank you? First, I thank you for attending. The food was delicious, homemade by friends to share, flowers from those who could not attend, and lo and behold a beautiful and tasty "hummingbird" birthday cake made by Roberta O'Brien. Ben cooked the hamburgers, John the hot dogs, and Peter directed traffic. as well as helped Ben to retrieve, set up, take down and return the tables used for the party.

To all of you who came, provided the food, and sang happy birthday, I just want you to know it was one of the best days of my life. A memory to keep. A special thanks to Diane Pelkey who arranged and managed the event. Thank you everyone.

MAY CALENDAR

MAY

ALS Awareness Month. Numerous organizations and communities get together to spread awareness of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), a rare neurological disease affecting nerve cells that control voluntary muscle movement. Though there is no cure for ALS, early detection can help in improving the quality of life of those with the disease.

Lupus Awareness Month. An opportunity for the lupus community to join together across the country to raise funds and awareness of the physical, emotional, and economic impact of lupus. There are many ways to help make lupus visible in May, from sharing your story on social media to starting a fundraiser or making a donation.

Military Appreciation Month. Congress designated May as National Military Appreciation Month in 1999 to ensure the nation was given the chance to publicly show its appreciation for troops past and present. May was chosen because it has many individual days marked to note the military's achievements.

National Inventors Month. National Inventors Month was started in 1998 to help promote a positive image of inventors and the contributions they give to this world. "We want to recognize those talented, brave individuals who dare to be blatantly creative, and therefore different, and whose accomplishments affect every facet of our lives," says Joanne Hayes-Rines, editor of Inventors' Digest and a sponsor of National Inventors Month.

Week

Be Kind to Animals Week, May 1–7. The American Humane Association created Be Kind to Animals Week in 1915 to encourage humanity towards animals. Each year, animal shelters all over the country hold special events to raise awareness about animals in their communities.

EMS (Emergency Medical Services) Week, May 15–21. The 2022 EMS Week theme is "EMS: Rising to the Challenge." This theme reminds people that every day, EMS workers are faced with new challenges, and yet they still respond, support, and care for the needs of their communities.

Bike to Work Week, May 16–22. Forty percent of all trips in the U.S. are less than two miles, making bicycling a feasible and fun way to get around.

American Craft Beer Week, May 16–22. Head over to your local brewpub or taproom and enjoy a pint, or grab a sixer or growler to go. Here's to American craft beer!

A little extra

A man always bought oranges from an older woman at the town market. She would weigh them on a scale and place them in a bag and tell him the price. After he paid, the man usually took one orange out of the bag, peeled it, and tasted one piece. Then he'd say, "This orange is sour," and hand it back to the woman.

She bit into it. "It tastes sweet to me," she always said, but she gave him a few extra oranges to make up for it.

The man's wife went to the market with him every day and saw this happen time after time. One day she asked her husband, "Why do you do that every time? The oranges are always sweet."

The man replied, "That old woman hardly eats. This way I get her to eat one orange a day for her health."

A merchant in a vegetable stall saw the exchange happen every day too. One day she asked the old woman, "Why do you let him get away with that? He always complains about your oranges, and you always give him extra. Why do you put up with it?"

The woman smiled. "He always pays me a little extra when I weigh his bag. That way he can feed me and pretend I don't know what he's doing. His love pays for the extra orange."

Hope

Once there was a man who made and sold pottery to support his family. Unfortunately, his business suffered severe losses, and had to sell much of his property to keep it afloat.

One day his son asked him, "Why are you still running this business when you're losing so much money?"

Why don't you shut it down and do something else?"

The father smiled and replied, "My son, life can bring us many challenges and push us down, but we need to have hope to overcome any problem."

The son asked, "How can hope help us?"

The father said, "Let me show you."

He took his son to a deep well in the back of his house and told him to jump.

In shock, the son said, "Father, I don't know how to swim!" But his father pushed him to the well and walked away.

The son struggled in the cold water for close to five minutes. When he thought he was just about to drown, the father reached in and pulled his son out of the well.

The next day, the father again took his son to the well and told him to jump. At first the son hesitated, then jumped into the well. Again his father walked away.

The boy again struggled to keep from drowning. This time his father left him in the well for 15 minutes, but he managed to stay above the water until his father came and pulled him out.

The father asked, "Why were you fighting harder than yesterday?"

His son replied, "Yesterday, I did not know what to do. But today, I knew that you would come and save me before I drowned."

Moral: When we push ourselves with hope, and trust the people around us, we can overcome anything.

The duck and the bartender

A duck walks into a bar and asks, “Do you have any grapes?”
The bartender says, “No, I’m sorry. We have cherries and olives, but no grapes.”

“Oh,” says the duck, and leaves.

Ten minutes later the same duck returns and asks the same bartender, “Do you have any grapes?”

“Like I said before, we have cherries and olives, but we don’t have grapes,” says the bartender.

“Oh,” says the duck, and leaves.

Ten minutes later the duck returns and again asks, “Do you have any grapes?”

“Listen, beak lips!” yells the bartender. “We have no grapes! We will never have grapes! And if you ask me again, I am going to nail your little webbed feet to the floor!”

“Oh,” says the duck, and leaves.

Ten minutes later, the door swings open and the duck returns again. The bartender is furious. He slams a bottle of beer down on the bar, stares menacingly at the duck and screams, “What?”

“Uh ... uh ... do you have any, uh, nails?” the duck asks.

“Nails? Nails? No, we don’t have nails,” answers the bartender.

“Oh,” says the duck. “So, do you have any grapes?”

A few one-liners

- I bought some shoes from a drug dealer. I don’t know what he laced them with, but I’ve been tripping all day.
- My wife told me to stop acting like a flamingo. So I had to put my foot down.
- I poured root beer in a square glass. Now I just have beer.
- My friend said to me, “What rhymes with orange?” I said, “No, it doesn’t.”
- So what if I don’t know what “Armageddon” means? It’s not the end of the world.
- Why did the old man fall in the well? Because he couldn’t see that well.
- This is my stepladder. I never knew my real ladder.
- My friend asked me to help him round up his 37 sheep. I said, “40.”
- I’ve been told I’m condescending. That means I talk down to people.
- Some people think it’s romantic to carve their names on trees while on a date. I’m more worried about why they’re bringing a knife on a date.

All you need in the world is love and laughter. That’s all anybody needs. To have love in one hand and laughter in the other.

— August Wilson

The diet

A man was overweight, so his doctor put him on a diet. "I want you to eat regularly for two days, then skip a day, and repeat the procedure for two weeks. The next time I see you, you'll have lost at least five pounds," he instructed.

When the man returned, he'd lost nearly 20 pounds.

"This is amazing!" the doctor said. "Did you follow my instructions?"

The man nodded. "I'll tell you, though, I thought I was going to drop dead after a few days."

"From hunger, you mean?" said the doctor.

"No, from all that skipping," replied the man.

How I learned to mind my own business

A man was walking past a school one day when he heard voices shouting beyond a tall fence: "Thirteen ... thirteen ... thirteen ..."

Curious, he walked up to the fence. It was too high for him to see over, but he found a gap in the planks, so he bent over to peer inside.

Someone poked him in the face with a stick, and then everyone inside started shouting, "Fourteen, fourteen, fourteen ..."

Laughter heals all wounds, and that's one thing that everybody shares. No matter what you're going through, it makes you forget about your problems. I think the world should keep laughing.
