Message from Park Manager

Resident Files: Please be sure you contact the Park Office when you have a change of phone number, address or email. There are times we receive returned mail, with no forwarding address. When the Office attempts to call the resident for updated info, the phone number on file is not correct.

Update Emergency Contact Info: Please be sure the Office has updated emergency contact info. Also, please keep the office posted.

Seasonal Residents: Please be sure you are checking in with the Office when you arrive in the Park and when you leave. If you check in with the Office in December and tell us you will be here until April, it would be really helpful if you reach out again in April to let us know you are leaving. Again, we need this information for security reasons as well as mail outs.

Renting: If you rent out your Unit, please be sure the renters are going through the Office for Park approval prior to moving in. If you have a renter that returns each year, they still have to check in with the Office.

Respectfully,
Christine Roberts, LCAM
Licensed Community Association Manager

Father's Day History

It was while listening to a Mother's Day sermon in 1909 that the idea of Father's Day suddenly struck Spokane, Washington resident Sonora Dodd. She wanted to honor her own father, William Smart, who was well-deserving of a special day as a widowed farmer left alone to raise his six kids single-handedly.

A short year later, residents embraced the ideas so warmly that by June 19, 1910 the first Father's Day celebration was proclaimed in Spokane because it was the month of Dodd's father's birth. Decades later, the first presidential proclamation honoring fathers was issued in 1966 by President Lyndon Johnson who designated the third Sunday in June as Father's Day.

Today, due to her efforts, Sonora Dodd is now known as "the mother of Father's Day".

Memories of My Dad

by Rebecca Cook

He wasn't a hero
Known by the world,
But a hero he was
To his little girl.

My daddy was a god
Who knew all things.
And better than Santa,
With the gifts he'd bring.

I knew his voice
Before I could speak
And loved it when
He would sing me to sleep.

He changed my diapers
And sat up all night
When my body was weak
And I'd put up a fight.

He'd come home late
With not much to say
And made us all kneel
As he taught me to pray.

He taught me life's lessons
Of right from wrong
And instilled in me values
That I might be strong.

And so through the years,
Like a hero he stood.
Working to give
All that he could.

His presence was important,
And we loved to see him smile,
For no one in the world
Could emulate his style.

And so, dear Dad,
My best memory to recall
Is the gift of your presence,
The greatest gift of all

Planting a Garden

I'm going to plant a garden this year.

First I'll plant three rows of peas: perseverance, politeness, and prayer.

Next to them I'll plant three rows of squash: squash gossip, squash selfishness, and squash indifference.

Then three rows of lettuce: let us be loyal, let us be truthful, let us love one another.

No garden is complete without turnips: turn up for work, turn up for church, and turn up with a smile!

Wouldn't this be more like the Garden of Eden if we all planted seeds like these?

Recipe Roundup – Hearty Mankcakes

What better way to celebrate Dad than with this sweet and savory Mankcake? Sweet/savory hybrids can be tricky sometimes but I think this worked beautifully. We are talking about bacon, cheese, and onions after all, so it wasn't that big of a shock. The way the chipotle-spiced maple syrup brought everything together was a risk well rewarded.

Ingredients

- 8 ounces bacon, chopped
- ½ cup thinly sliced green onions
- 1 ¼ cups all-purpose flour
- ¾ cup cornmeal
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 1 pinch ground black pepper
- 1 pinch cayenne pepper
- 1 ⅓ cups milk
- 2 ounces sharp Cheddar cheese, grated
- 2 large eggs, beaten
- 2 tablespoons butter, melted
- 1 tablespoon white sugar
- 1 cup warm maple syrup, or to taste
- ⅛ teaspoon chipotle chile powder, or to taste
- 1 teaspoon vegetable oil
- 1 teaspoon butter

Instructions:

Step 1

Place bacon in a large skillet and cook over medium-high heat, stirring occasionally, until evenly browned, about 10 minutes; remove from heat. Stir green onions into bacon and saute in hot fat until slightly softened, 1 to 2 minutes. Transfer bacon mixture to a strainer to drain, retaining drippings.

Step 2

Whisk flour, cornmeal, baking powder, salt, black pepper, and cayenne pepper together in a large bowl. Add drained bacon mixture, milk, Cheddar cheese, eggs, melted butter, and sugar to flour mixture; whisk until batter is smooth. Let batter rest for 10 minutes.

Step 3

Combine maple syrup and chipotle chile powder together in a small bowl; whisk until chile powder is completely dissolved.

Step 4

Heat 1 teaspoon bacon drippings, 1 teaspoon oil, and 1 teaspoon butter on a griddle over medium-high heat. Drop batter by 1/4-cupful onto the griddle and cook until bubbles form and the edges are dry, 3 to 4 minutes. Flip and cook until browned on the other side, 2 to 3 minutes. Repeat with remaining batter. Transfer pancakes to plate and top with maple syrup.

The elephant's tale

A man was visiting the zoo one day. As he was passing the elephant enclosure, he suddenly stopped. The majestic creatures were restrained by only a small rope tied to their front leg—no chains, no cages. It was obvious that the elephants could, at any time, break free, but for some reason, they did not.

He saw a trainer standing nearby and asked why the elephants made no attempt to get away.

“Well,” trainer said, “when they are very young and much smaller, we use the same size rope to tie them. At that age, it’s enough to hold them. As they grow up, they continue to believe they cannot break away. They think the rope can still hold them, so they never try to break free.”

The visitor was amazed. These enormous beasts could break free from their bonds whenever they wanted, but because they thought they couldn’t, they were stuck right where they were.

Like the elephants, how many of us go through life hanging onto a belief that restrains us, simply because it held us back once before?

First things first

A team of high-powered executives hired a consultant to help them develop a better work-life balance. In the conference room, the consultant set a one-gallon glass jar on the table and filled it with large stones. He asked the team if the jar was full. The executives agreed that the jar was pretty full.

Then he pulled out a bag of smaller pebbles and poured them into the jar. The smaller pebbles fell into the spaces between the large stones. Again he asked, “So, is the jar full?”

The team was more hesitant, but they eventually answered that yes, the jar seemed full now.

Then the consultant pulled out a bag of sand and poured it into the jar. “Now is the jar full?”

A smart woman in the front row raised her hand and said, “No, you can still pour water into the jar.”

So the consultant did, filling it to the top.

The woman in the front row said, “I get it. The point is that no matter how busy our schedule is, you can always cram something else in, right?”

The consultant smiled. “Not exactly. My point is that you should put the big items into the jar first. If you don’t focus on the big things, like spending time with your family and having a spiritual life, the little things will always seep in and take up all the space.”

Summer Solstice, June 21. The solstice marks the official beginning of summer in the Northern Hemisphere.

First day of summer—are you ready to celebrate?

Summer begins in 2022 on June 21 with the summer solstice, the day when the Earth's axis tilts our northern hemisphere most prominently toward the sun. On this day, the sun will reach its highest point in the sky, and afterward the daylight hours will grow shorter.

The solstice has been a time of celebration and ritual in cultures around the world throughout history. At Stonehenge, a visitor standing in the center of the stone circle can see the sun rising directly over the Heel Stone, located just outside the ring of stones. The Egyptian Great Pyramids were built in such a way that an observer standing near the Sphinx can watch the sun set directly between two of the Pyramids.

Celts and Slavs celebrated the event with bonfires and dancing to help the sun increase its strength. The Native American Hopi tribe had males dress as dancing spirits of rain and fertility known as Kachinas—messengers between humanity and the gods who left the villages at midsummer to live in the mountains, where they were said to visit the dead.

The ancient Druids' belief that the solstice represented the wedding of heaven and Earth is responsible for the tradition of brides planning a lucky June wedding.

Remember these at your next party

- I just got my doctor’s test results and I’m really upset. Turns out I’m not going to be a doctor.
- As I get older, I remember all the people I lost along the way. Maybe my career as a tour guide was not the right choice.
- I visited my friend in his new apartment. He told me to make myself at home, so I threw him out. I hate having visitors.
- My parents raised me as an only child, which really annoyed my sister.
- I threw a boomerang a few years ago. I now live in constant fear.
- I’ll never forget my grandfather’s last words to me just before he died: “Are you still holding the ladder?”
- My relatives liked to tease me at weddings, saying things like, “You’ll be next!” They stopped once I started saying the same to them at funerals.
- I childproofed my house. Somehow they still got in.

Beware the anti-riddle

Some jokes can be funny precisely because they’re not jokes. It’s a paradox, but these riddles prove it:

- What do you call a joke that isn’t funny? A sentence.
- What did one Frenchman say to the other Frenchman? I don’t know, I don’t speak French.
