MESSAGE FROM EDITOR

If any of you have a favorite recipe you would like to share with your neighbors, please e-mail it to me at kathrynb41@tampabay.rr.com. To be in the July messenger, I need it by the 10th of June.

Homeowners of Oak Crest / Acorn Residents, Inc.

Jill Chambers, President, Lot 234, 440-318-4738

June is here and it's definitely summer. I hope you were able to make the talk by Deputy Dan DiFrancesco. He shared a lot of valuable information about being safe.

Hazel Regan has resigned from the HOA board and has been replaced with Yvonne D'Angelo. She will be bringing a lot of experience to the board and definitely is an asset to our community.

The new bingo machine is up and running. The shuffleboard courts have been repainted and sidewalk repairs continue to be scheduled and work done. If you are planning to work on your driveway and cannot park there for a couple of days let the office know so you won't be ticketed. If you live in Acorn they will tell you a good place to park.

Please know that we do have a suggestion box in the clubhouse if you have any ideas for the HOA. Also our website is up and running and is an informational site. You go to Facebook and search Oakcrest/Acorn HOA info page. And of course you could reach out to any HOA member to share a concern. Our next meeting is June 13 at 7 PM at the clubhouse. There will be no July or August meetings but we'll get together in September on the second Monday of the month which is September 12.

Oak Crest / Acorn Residents' Club, Inc.

Annette Watts, President, Lot 504, 843-457-9599

Hope everyone is enjoying the summer. The Residents' Club would like to wish all the Fathers out there a Happy Father's Day!

Check out Karen's letter for the activities this month. Also check the calendar for more activities. It's located in the middle of the Messenger. They have some great ideas for June.

ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

Karen Stancick, Chairwoman, Lot 205

610-349-7614

Summer is heating up and the temperatures are climbing!!

The Activities Committee has 2 events for June. Sunday, June 5th will be Drive-In Movie Night at the pavilion. The movie will be Top Gun starting at 8:00pm. This is in anticipation of the new Top Gun movie being released soon. Bring your lawn chair, golf cart or blanket (and bug spray!!!) to enjoy the show . We will be selling popcorn for $1.00.

June 25th will be a 60's Dance at the Clubhouse. Admission is free . BYOB and Snacks to dance the night away with your friends.

Refer to June's calendar for other regularly scheduled events.

The Activities Committee would like to thank our community for the outpouring of support during our Easter Egg Hunt and Kentucky Derby night. These were new activities for us and we appreciate your patience as we are learning as we go. We are not perfect and are trying to bring the community together in a positive way. Thank you all again for all of your support 😊

Oakcrest / Acorn-Neighborhood Watch

Larry Arnold, Lot 385 727-224-4317

We need more volunteers to help our Neighborhood Watch Program here in the park. You can use the golfcart provided by the park or you can use your own cart.

There is no confrontation involved. You just call the Sheriff's Dept. non-emergency number, (727-582-6200) if you observe any suspicious activity. And, of course, phone 911 for any emergency situation. The Neighborhood Watch volunteers do not have any legal authority to interact. That being said, if you do see something that needs reported, phone the Sheriff Dept., not the Neighborhood Watch volunteers. The Watch program acts as a deterrent and the more volunteers we have, the more the cart will be seen which results in less temptation to crime.

We currently have a very limited number of volunteers, so please consider giving your help to this group. Pick up a Neighborhood Watch application at the Front Office. If you have any questions about what's involved in being part of the Neighborhood Watch, call Larry Arnold, 727-224-4317.

The elephant's tale

A man was visiting the zoo one day. As he was passing the elephant enclosure, he suddenly stopped. The majestic creatures were restrained by only a small rope tied to their front leg—no chains, no cages. It was obvious that the elephants could, at any time, break free, but for some reason, they did not.

He saw a trainer standing nearby and asked why the elephants made no attempt to get away.

“Well,” trainer said, “when they are very young and much smaller, we use the same size rope to tie them. At that age, it’s enough to hold them. As they grow up, they continue to believe they cannot break away. They think the rope can still hold them, so they never try to break free.”

The visitor was amazed. These enormous beasts could break free from their bonds whenever they wanted, but because they thought they couldn’t, they were stuck right where they were.

Like the elephants, how many of us go through life hanging onto a belief that restrains us, simply because it held us back once before?

First things first

A team of high-powered executives hired a consultant to help them develop a better work-life balance. In the conference room, the consultant set a one-gallon glass jar on the table and filled it with large stones. He asked the team if the jar was full. The executives agreed that the jar was pretty full.

Then he pulled out a bag of smaller pebbles and poured them into the jar. The smaller pebbles fell into the spaces between the large stones. Again he asked, “So, is the jar full?”

The team was more hesitant, but they eventually answered that yes, the jar seemed full now.

Then the consultant pulled out a bag of sand and poured it into the jar. “Now is the jar full?”

A smart woman in the front row raised her hand and said, “No, you can still pour water into the jar.”

So the consultant did, filling it to the top.

The woman in the front row said, “I get it. The point is that no matter how busy our schedule is, you can always cram something else in, right?”

The consultant smiled. “Not exactly. My point is that you should put the big items into the jar first. If you don’t focus on the big things, like spending time with your family and having a spiritual life, the little things will always seep in and take up all the space.”

New mineral discovered in diamond

Scientists have discovered a mineral never before seen in nature—in the heart of a diamond. Scientific American reports that the mineral, a form of calcium silicate perovskite, has been created artificially in laboratories under high-pressure conditions, but it reverts to a different form under normal pressure. However, scientists found three small chunks of the material when examining a diamond from Botswana. Because it has a different crystalline structure, they gave it a new name, davemaosite (after one of the researchers, geologist Ho-Kwang “Dave” Mao).

The diamond was formed deep in the mantle of the Earth, some 410–560 miles down. The davemaosite was found to have high levels of potassium, which may have helped keep it stable; it also contains small amounts of uranium and thorium, which are radioactive and contribute to the heat the Earth generates beneath its surface. Geologists speculate that davemaosite may make up to 5–7% of the material in the Earth’s mantle, providing new clues to the structure of our planet.

Greenland holds clue to ridges on Jupiter’s moon

Jupiter’s moon Europa is covered by ridges that appear in pairs stretching for hundreds of miles over channels of ice, and until recently scientists were puzzled about how they were created. Now, according to the Science News website, they believe the ridges arose from a process resembling the formation of similar ridges found in Greenland on Earth.

A NASA satellite in 2016 showed the existence of an 800-meter-long double ridge system in Greenland. Astronomers analyzed the Greenland ridges, which are much smaller than those on Europa due to Earth’s higher gravity. Radar shows that the Greenland ridges lie on top of a layer of water-filled snow about 10–15 meters deep; meltwater from the surface sinks into the buried snow beneath the ridges of ice.

Scientists theorize that the ridges on Europa have a similar origin, although the lack of meltwater or precipitation on the moon’s surface means that the shallow water probably comes from an ocean under the shell of ice that makes up Europa’s surface. When water rises through cracks, it collects in thick layers of ice from which the ridges grow.

A NASA probe scheduled to launch in 2024 and arrive at Europa in 2030 will provide more data to confirm the theory.

Science and everyday life cannot and should not be separated.

Flag Day trivia

Flag Day is June 14th, when Americans proudly display their patriotism by flying the U.S. flag far and wide. The design of the U.S. flag was originally established by the Second Continental Congress on July 14, 1777. The Flag Resolution stated:

“Resolved, that the flag of the United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation.”

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word – the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."

Guard your home against burglars

We all want to be secure in our homes, but burglars are out there, looking for vulnerable houses to rob. Keep your home safe with this advice from the CNET website:

- Keep doors and windows locked. This is the simplest step to take for security, but it's easy to overlook. Don't make things easy for burglars by leaving any access point unlocked, even when you're home. Doublecheck before you leave or go to bed to make sure everything's locked up tight.
- Strengthen your entrances. Every door leading outside should have a deadbolt to make breaking in more difficult. Make sure your door frames and hinges are secure as well. Replace them if they've gotten old. Look into smart locks that you can engage remotely.
- Get a home security system. Security cameras will scare any would-be burglar off. They can alert you to movement outside even if you're not at home, and notify the police automatically. Motion sensors on your doors and windows can also add extra security.
- Keep valuables hidden. Don't leave jewelry, electronics, cash or credit cards, or anything else of value where they can be seen through a window. Keep curtains and blinds closed so your interior isn't visible to anyone outside. Close your garage doors so passersby can't spot bikes or expensive tools.
- Light up your yard. Install outdoor lighting so no one can get close to your house without being seen. Motion sensor lights will illuminate the outdoors whenever they detect movement, and if you have security cameras, you'll get a good look at anyone trying to break into your house.
- Hide keys effectively. Don't just leave a spare house key in a flowerpot or underneath your welcome mat—that's where most burglars will look first. Use a lockbox that can only be opened with a combination, and hide it away from your front door. If possible, leave an extra key with a neighbor you trust.
- Don't let your house look empty. Burglars target houses where no one is home. Remember to stop your newspaper and mail delivery when you go on vacation. Leave a few lights on inside when you go out at night. Install a system for turning lights on and off when you're away to give the illusion that someone is inside.

A fit body, a calm mind, a house full of love. These things cannot be bought—they must be earned.
