Social Committee Tidbits

Mary Gilmore

As Labor Day in the States and Labour Day in Canada roll around, summer is almost over. The children in our neighborhood started school on August 10. July in Tampa broke all records this summer for the hottest month in Tampa history since 1890, when weather records started being kept. To add to that, June and July set a new record for hottest consecutive months. So far, no hurricane has developed off the west coast of Africa and the Cape Verde Islands from thunderstorm activity. There also has been no hurricane development in the Gulf of Mexico or in the Caribbean. We are thankful for that.

Some all year rounders have taken their vacations already this summer. Their absence is felt when they leave. I will be heading north to visit my family and friends in South Carolina and Connecticut and then I will head up to Maine to enjoy camp and visit with more dear friends. New England is a beautiful place to be in the fall.

There were two work projects that were completed recently by residents and friends of residents. When our American flag's rope on the flagpole at our clubhouse frayed apart, the fabulous five worked to raise our flag again. This was no simple task. A lot of trial and error and thought went into it. Jon, Greg and Cindy and their friends, Bill and Elaine, figured it out. Our flagpole is made in sections that can be taken apart. First step was to get the rope over the pulley at the top of the flagpole. You can't just thread the rope onto the pulley. They learned that the rope had to be duct taped to the pulley and then the pulley was manually turned. Okay done, so far so good. Next, the clips or snaps had to be attached to the rope the same distance apart as the side holes on the flag. Cindy found a chain at the clubhouse and something that looked like a clip and showed me how the clips had been attached. After the clips were attached, they clipped our flag to the rope, held on to the two ends of the rope and put the pole sections back together again. Last step was to tie the ends of the rope together with a square knot. Hallelujah, fine job done. Thanks folks.

The other work project was the trimming of some of the palms in our park that are not foxtail palms. Remember, our foxtail palms go through a natural progression to drop a frond that has turned brown. Don't ever try to just pull off a droopy frond. After Eric returned from a vacation, he trimmed some palms in the park. Sheila helped him pick up and dispose of the debris. Thanks folks.

The Walk/Walk ladies finished two more puzzles. The first one was a 2,000 piece puzzle called Vintage Vacations composed of ten postcards from places like Naples, Florida, Las Vegas, San Francisco and Hawaii. The second puzzle was a 1,000 piece puzzle called Readers Paradise featuring a library like no other. The ladies, Doris, Darlene, Cindy and I, shared our puzzle solving techniques. I would say that all of us studied colors and shades of colors of the puzzle pieces. Some also studied the shapes of the puzzle pieces. That pretty much stumped me. They would look for pieces with a certain number of tags, "inies and outies" or nubbies. I say what? Jon stopped by one day and agreed that looking at shapes of puzzle pieces was his main focus. He would separate all puzzle pieces by shape like one tag, two tags, three tags and so on. Puzzles are fun to solve. The next one that will be worked on is Sunny Side Up. This one came from a painting by Charles Wysocki.

The all year rounders look around the park for what is growing in gardens. Terry found a pineapple plant with a pineapple growing in a pot in front of Heidi and Glen's home. I sent Heidi and Glen a picture of the pineapple plant and they said that when the pineapple was ready...

Enjoy. So Terry and I kept an eye on it and tested the pineapple every so often by trying to pull a leaf from its top. That would tell us when the pineapple should be picked. Well, like so many gardeners learn the hard way, the critters know when fruits and vegetables are ready to be eaten. Terry and I don't know what critter took a big bite out of the pineapple, but that is what happened. The other natural phenomena that has been spotted in two locations around two of our foxtail palms are Fairy Rings made up of lawn mushrooms that form a circle on the lawn. Something to see if you never saw this before.

Since all of our northern neighbors have left from way back in May or so, we really haven't had many social events for me to write about in Social Committee Tidbits. I've told you about basically the day by day things that are happening at Boca Ciega. Please tell us what's going on in your lives. Take care everyone.

Doing your best — is it enough?

Tom Peters, co-author of the influential book In Search of Excellence, learned a very important lesson while serving as a Navy SeaBee in Vietnam. As he writes in his blog, one time he was sent back to headquarters for a short meeting with the commandant of the Marine Corps, General Chapman.

Chapman and Peters spoke briefly, and as he dismissed Peters, Chapman asked, almost as an afterthought, “Tom, are you taking care of your men?” Peters led a detachment of 20 sailors.

“I’m doing my best, sir,” he answered.

Chapman’s face darkened. “Mr. Peters, General Walt and I and General Buse are not interested in whether or not you are ‘doing your best,’” Chapman said. “We simply expect you to get the job done—and to take care of your sailors. Period. That will be all, Lieutenant.”

It was a powerful message: Don’t settle for “doing your best.” A leader’s responsibility is to accomplish his or her task—no excuses.

Be yourself always

A rabbi named Zusya was a quiet man who concealed more than he revealed. One day he stood before his congregation.

“When I die,” he said, “and I have to present myself before the celestial tribunal, they will not ask me, ‘Zusya, why were you not Moses?’ Because I would say, ‘Moses was a prophet, and I am not.’”

He continued, “And they will not say ‘Zusya, why were you not Jeremiah?’ For I would answer, ‘Jeremiah was a writer, and I am not.’”

“And they will not ask, ‘Why were you not Rabbi Akiba?’ I would tell them, ‘Rabbi Akiba was a great teacher and scholar, and I am not.’”

Then he said, “But they will ask me, ‘Zusya, why were you not Zusya?’ And to this I will have no answer.”

The riches inside

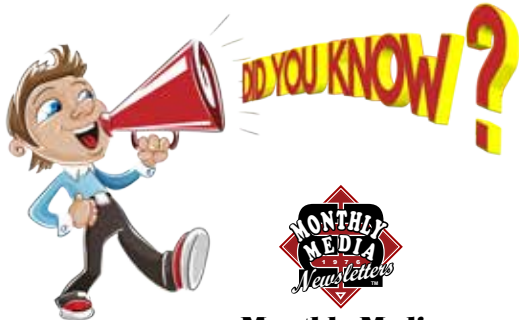

A man walking by the seashore found a canvas bag half-buried in the sand containing hundreds of small clay marbles. After sifting through the marbles for a while, the man strolled along the beach, flinging them one at a time into the water until he had only a few left.

Sitting down, he pounded one marble between two rocks. When the clay cracked, he found a diamond inside. Excited, he broke open the rest of them and found a ruby, an emerald, and another diamond.

Then he realized that he’d just thrown a fortune in precious stones into the waves.

Be careful about what—or who—you discard. You never know what wonders might be inside.

Estate planning

A sixth-grade teacher was giving her class an arithmetic problem: “A wealthy woman died with an estate worth $10 million. She left one-fifth to her daughter, another one-fifth to her son, one-sixth to charity, and the rest to her second husband. Now, what does each person get?”

A smart girl in the back of class answered, “A lawyer.”

Too much of a good thing?

Two sea monsters were prowling the waters of the North Atlantic looking for food. They spotted a ship on the horizon, dived beneath the surface, and attacked. The sailors were all able to reach their lifeboats, but the creatures happily gorged on the cargo of potatoes that stuffed the ship’s hold.

Soon after, they spied another ship and attacked again. Once more the sailors escaped, and once more the sea monsters feasted on a load of potatoes.

Hours later, a third ship approached. And the sea monsters once again capsized it. They again found another cargo of potatoes. By now their stomachs were full, and they were feeling bloated and ill. The first sea monster said, “Why do we keep doing this?”

The second replied, “Well, everyone knows you can’t eat just one potato ship.”

In their genes

Humor was a family business for the Marx Brothers. They traveled the country with their parents as part of a vaudeville act, playing the role of “children” until they were 20. Their mother insisted they be charged half-fare and routinely told everyone she met that her children were only 13 years old.

One day a railroad conductor came to her seat and demanded full fare. Mrs. Marx informed him that her sons were 13. The conductor replied sarcastically, “Well, one of your 13-year-olds is in the washroom shaving, and another one of them is in the club car smoking a cigar.”

The Marx mother just shook her head. “They grow up so fast.”

Laughter is the sun that drives winter from the human face.

What to know about September

It's September! Summer is over, school has started, and the leaves are starting to turn. As we're getting ready for fall and winter, remember these factoids about the ninth month of the year:

- September was originally the seventh month, according to the ancient Roman calendar, and that's where it gets its name. It became the ninth month after the calendar changed in 451 B.C.
- The Romans associated September with Vulcan, the god of fire, possibly because as the seventh month it was in the middle of the hot summer.
- The Anglo-Saxons called September Gerst Monath, which meant “Barley Month,” because barley was harvested at that time of year. The barley was also brewed as a popular beverage in celebration of the harvest.
- In another calendar change, the British eliminated Sept. 2–14 in 1752 to bring the month in accordance with the Gregorian calendar, which replaced the Julian calendar.
- Fall begins in the northern hemisphere on the equinox, which falls between Sept. 21–23. In the southern hemisphere, the equinox signifies the beginning of spring.

What is Labor Day all about?

Labor Day is a yearly celebration of the American worker. Created by the labor movement, it's a national tribute to workers' contributions to the social and economic achievements of the United States.

There is some uncertainty about how Labor Day began. Some records show that Peter J. McGuire, general secretary of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and a co-founder of the American Federation of Labor, was first to suggest a day to honor those “who from rude nature have delved and carved all the grandeur we behold.” Other sources suggest that machinist Matthew Maguire, later the secretary of Local 344 of the International Association of Machinists in Paterson, N.J., proposed the holiday in 1882 while serving as secretary of the Central Labor Union in New York.

The first Labor Day holiday was celebrated on Tuesday, Sept. 5, 1882, in New York City, in accordance with the plans of the Central Labor Union.

In 1884, the first Monday in September was selected as the official holiday.

The first governmental recognition of Labor Day came through municipal ordinances passed in 1885 and 1886. The State of Oregon passed the first law recognizing the Labor Day holiday on Feb. 21, 1887. Four more states—Colorado, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and New York—followed suit that same year.

On June 28, 1894, Congress passed an act making the first Monday in September of each year a legal holiday in all the states, the District of Columbia, and all U.S. territories.

No bull

An official from the government pulled into a ranch in Texas. “I need to inspect your ranch here for illegally grown drugs,” he told the owner.

The rancher shrugged. “Fine with me. Just don’t go into that field over there.”

The government man reached into his pocket and showed the rancher his badge. “See this? This badge means I am allowed to go wherever I wish, on any land, no questions asked. Have I made myself clear?”

The rancher nodded politely. “Whatever you want, officer.”

An hour later, as he was doing his chores in the barn, the rancher heard loud screams coming from the field. He ran out and saw the government man racing toward the fence with a big, angry bull in hot pursuit. The bull was gaining on the officer with every step.

“Help!” the man yelled. “Help! What do I do?”

The rancher dashed to the fence and yelled at the top of his lungs: “Your badge! Show him your badge!”

Bait and switch

A little girl walked into her Sunday school class half an hour late. When the teacher asked why she was so tardy, the young girl replied, “I wanted to go fishing with my Daddy, but he said I had to come to Sunday school.”

Pleased with the father’s spiritual dedication, the teacher asked, “And did he tell you why he wanted you to come here?”

“He said he didn’t have enough bait for the two of us.”

Your body cannot heal without play. Your mind cannot heal without laughter. Your soul cannot heal without joy.

— Catherine Rippenger Fenwick

Nothing else can quite substitute for a few well-chosen, well-timed, sincere words of praise. They’re absolutely free and worth a fortune.

— Sam Walton
