Managers Moment

Carol Alvey

We had a visit from code enforcement last month. He walked the field with me and pointed out several things that need immediate attention, as he will be back In January for a re-inspection.

All vehicles, trailers, boats, etc. MUST have updated tags or they will be towed away. No scrap or dilapidated of anything is to be kept there. You are responsible to keep the weeds trimmed and mowed by your space also. Some of you have already complied and I thank you, the rest have until the 15th of January to complete.

Garbage: The garbage problem has gotten out of control!!! We will no longer except big sofas, sofa sleepers unless you chop them up. It would also be helpful if you would do the same for big chairs.

Also, if you pay a contractor to trim or do work on the inside or outside of your coach, they are responsible to take debris out of the park with them.

I will be having a manager meeting January 22nd at 9:30 am, for information purposes and any new updates at the clubhouse.

FROM THE EDITOR

Well, we welcome 2023 into what hopefully will be a happy, healthy new year to all.

I want to continue to thank all of you that have helped with the Review and hope you continue. It can only be as good as we all help it to be.

I continue to look forward to your suggestions and ideas for future issues.

Remember: If you can be anything....Be Kind.

Residents Club

Paige Andrews

New officers and board members will be assuming the responsibilities this month. They want to start off by wishing everyone a Happy New Year.

Thank you to everyone that helped me make our holiday season a success for our community. I know our Residents Club board is going to put in 100% effort to make 2023 a success also. I appreciate each and every one of you in our Bay Ranch community and I look forward to us all working together so that we can continue our effort for a unified community.

Please help our new board with creating fun activities, meals and dances for you. Join us every Monday at 9am in the club house to get involved in the fun.

In the meantime, watch the bulletin board at the club house and signs at the entrances and soon to be by the dumpsters for new activities. Check neighbors on Facebook and read your review. (ED. Note: Not all activities will be listed here as deadline is often so far in advance, we don't have all the information yet. BUT we try)

Thank You

JUST SAYIN'

Jeanne Hunter

JUST SAYIN'

Happy New Year, everybody. I got an e-mail last week. It read, “A device in your house wants to connect to Alexa.” This concerns me a little. I am getting paranoid about it. The message is anonymous. I don't know which device or what lengths it may go to. How many devices know how to e-mail? Will my coffee pot start spitting at me in the morning or the tv start playing reruns of “Lost” until I find them? I'm making every effort to stay on Alexa's good side by telling her what a great job she does turning on my lights and finding my phone. I went outside so I could think this through, but I think my smart car was spying on me!

Went to the gym yesterday. They've got a new machine. I only used it for half an hour because I started to feel sick. It works great though, does everything...KitKats, Snickers, Hersheys, Reese's, the lot.

Read on for some useless, but interesting information. The US standard railroad gauge (distance between the rails) is 4 feet, 8.5 inches. That's a weird number, but there's a reason for it.

It's because that's the way they built them in England, and English engineers designed the first US railroads. The English built them like that because the first rail lines were built by the same people who built the wagon tramways, and that's the gauge they used. So, why did 'they' use that gauge then?

The people who built the tramways used the same jigs and tools that they had used for building wagons, which used that same wheel spacing. Why did the wagons have that particular odd wheel spacing?

If they tried to use any other spacing, the wagon wheels would break more often on some of the old, long-distance roads in England. That's the spacing of the wheel ruts. So, who built those old, rutted roads?

Imperial Rome built the first long distance roads in Europe (including England) for their legions. Those roads have been used ever since. And what about the ruts in the roads?

Roman war chariots formed the initial ruts, which everyone else had to match or run the risk of destroying their wagon wheels. Since the chariots were made for Imperial Rome, they were all alike in the matter of wheel spacing. Therefore, the United States standard railroad gauge of 4 feet, 8.5 inches is derived from the original specifications for an Imperial Roman war chariot. Bureaucracies live forever.

The next time you are handed a specification/procedure/process and wonder 'What horse's ass came up with this?', you may be exactly right. Imperial Roman army chariots were made just wide enough to accommodate the rear ends of two war horses. (Two horses' asses.)

Now, the twist to the story:

When you see a Space Shuttle sitting on its launch pad, there are two big booster rockets attached to the sides of the main fuel tank. These are solid rocket boosters, or SRBs. The SRBs are made by Thiokol at their factory in Utah. The engineers who designed the SRBs would have preferred to make them a bit fatter, but the SRBs had to be shipped by train from the factory to the launch site. The railroad line from the factory happens to run through a tunnel in the mountains, and the SRBs had to fit through that tunnel. The tunnel is slightly wider than the railroad track, and the railroad track, as you now know, is about as wide as two horses' behinds.

So, a major Space Shuttle design feature, of what is arguably the world's most advanced transportation system, was determined over two thousand years ago by the width of a horse's ass.

And you thought being a horse's ass wasn't important? Ancient horse's asses control almost everything!

Tales of the tails: Pip (my infamous cat) is at it again. This time he decided to make a breakout my back door. As Lucy the warrior princess chihuahua (WPC) came in the back door from her last potty break of the evening, Pip shot out past me...into the very dark backyard went the furry black blur. He planned this for a night the backyard light didn't work. I got my phone, turned on the flashlight and headed out after him. Light from the house lit a small area through the open door. I thought it projected a warm, inviting glow. Obviously, Pip thought otherwise. I prepared my secret weapon...turned on the hose. I sprayed the far corner past the shed – hah – the black blur flew by me RIGHT PAST THE WARM, INVITING GLOW and to the other end of my yard. I made a few comments which I cannot repeat here. It's at times like these I wonder what my neighbors think of me. Crazy old lady in her pj's running around her back yard with a tiny little flashlight cursing and watering plants. So far nobody's called the police. After five or six mad dashes past me, Pip finally headed through the door, meowing at me in a voice I'd never heard before (I think it was kitty cursing).

NOBODY PAYS MORE

Lucy has been sick and so we've had more car rides to vets than usual. Plus we had a couple rainy days, which means we have potty breaks in the front yard. I don't understand canine logic any better than feline logic. If it's raining, Lucy will not go into the backyard. She will happily stand in the front yard and get soaked and that's fine, but not the back yard. Since we all know how quickly our animals learn habits we don't plan on, those few extra trips out the front door have convinced the WPC she should head out any time it opens. When I put shoes on, she heads to the front door in anticipation. So now I have to make sure Pip is not lurking nearby, look mean at the dog, carry something I can block with and try to get out the front door while verbalizing inappropriately. I wonder if the neighbors are watching again.

Amongst other issues, Lucy developed a cough. The vet gave me a couple of medicines. We all know giving a dog a pill is as easy as wrapping it in cheese or peanut butter. No problem. This time they also gave her cough medicine, hydrocodone. That's right, it's an opioid. When her cough is better, I can sell it on a street corner. It came with a little syringe so I could squirt it right in her mouth, easy-peasy. Hmmm, she reacted like I did the first time I had a sip of straight whiskey. She trembled and shook and walked around shaking her head. The next time she knew what was coming. I've discovered giving a dog a liquid is like giving a cat a pill. Lucy's face is stained red and most of my living room is sticky. She ingested some small amount, and it has helped.

And finally, something to look forward to.

A couple made a deal that whoever died first would come back and inform the other of the afterlife. Their biggest fear was that there was no afterlife. After a long life, the husband was the first to go, and true to his word he made contact,

"Connie....Connie. "

"Is that you, Joe?"

"Yes, I've come back like we agreed."

"What's it like?"

"Well, I get up in the morning, I have sex. I have breakfast, off to the golf course, I have sex. I bathe in the sun, and then I have sex twice. I have lunch, another romp around the golf course, then sex pretty much all afternoon. After supper, golf course again. Then have sex until late at night. The next day it starts again."

"Oh, Joe you surely must be in heaven."

"Not exactly, I'm a rabbit on a golf course in Australia."

Residents' Club

9:00 a.m. Mondays, Clubhouse

This is the "official" meeting of/for Bay Ranch residents to hear about on-going and up-coming social events. This is strictly a club that is responsible for and sets up social functions only.

Koffee Klatch

8 a.m. Mondays in the Clubhouse

FOOD PANTRY

Dry goods days in December is the 12th 11:00am. Please keep watch on Neighbors as date and time may change.

HOA

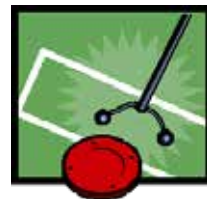

There seems to be some confusion on who is responsible for different functions at the Ranch. The HOA is responsible for grievances or problems that have to do with the park, where they may be able to help with. They also negotiate with the owner yearly for rent increases and improvements to the park. They are not management of the park but might be able to help in making it a better and safer place to be, by working with management/owner.

Let's all work together and help this new board out also. Remember: Teamwork makes the dream work.

COACHES CORNER

In any sport mastering the proper technique is essential if you want to be a winner. In baseball there is one best way to address the ball. In golf there is one way to putt or drive. In shuffleboard it is no different, so learn the proper approach and delivery, and practice until it becomes natural,

Remember shuffleboard is a game of Block and Hide. There are two block positions on the court, one is the St. Pete Block and the other is a Tampa block being the easiest for beginners.

A disc which stops less than eight inches (8) beyond the farthest baseline shall be re-moved.

The referee should inform players at both ends of the court they do not move the discs until the score has been called.

Need a laugh?

I asked my 91 year old father, “Dad, what were your good old days?” His thoughtful reply was: “When I wasn’t good, and I wasn’t old.”

One of the shortest wills ever written:
Being of sound mind and body, I spent all the money!

Household hints

Paige Andrews

1. Kool-aid will clean your toilet
2. Listerine will clean dirty grout.
3. Hot sauce will shine copper.
4. Hairspray cleans dry erase boards.
5. Chalk will remove oil and grease from clothes.

I have been in many places, but I've never been in Cahoots. Apparently, you can't go alone. You have to be in Cahoots with someone.

I've also never been in Cognito. I hear no one recognizes you there.

I have, however, been Insane. They don't have an airport; you have to be driven there. I have made several trips there, thanks to my friends, family and work. I live close so it's a short drive.

I would like to go to Conclusions, but you have to jump, and I'm not too much on physical activity anymore.

I have also been in Doubt. That is a sad place to go and I try not to visit there too often.

I've been in Flexible, but only when it was very important to stand firm.

Sometimes I'm in Capable, and I go there more often as I'm getting older.

One of my favorite places to be is in Suspense! It really gets the adrenaline flowing and pumps up the old heart! At my age I need all the stimuli I can get!

And, sometimes I think I am in Vincible but life show me I am not.

People keep telling me I'm in Denial but I'm positive I've never been there before!

I have been in Deepshit many times; the older I get, the easier it is to get there. I actually kind of enjoy it there.

So far, I haven't been in Continent, but my travel agent says I'll be going soon.

Wishing you all safe travels!

Comments made in the year 1955!

I'll tell you one thing, if things keep going the way they are, it's going to be impossible to buy a week's groceries for $10.00. '

Have you seen the new cars coming out next year? It won't be long before $1, 000.00 will only buy a used one.'

If cigarettes keep going up in price, I'm going to quit; 20 cents a pack is ridiculous. '

Did you hear the post office is thinking about charging 7 cents just to mail a letter.'

'If they raise the minimum wage to $1.00, nobody will be able to hire outside help at the store.'

When I first started driving, who would have thought gas would someday cost 25 cents a gallon. Guess we'd be better off leaving the car in the garage.'

'I'm afraid to send my kids to the movies any more. Ever since they let Clark Gable get by with saying DAMN in 'GONE WITH THE WIND', it seems every new movie has either HELL or DAMN in it.'

'I read the other day where some scientist thinks it's possible to put a man on the moon by the end of the century. They even have some fellows they call astronauts preparing for it down in Texas.'

Did you see where some baseball player just signed a contract for $50,000 a year just to play ball? It wouldn't surprise me if someday they'll be making more than the President. '

'I never thought I'd see the day all our kitchen appliances would be electric. They are even making electric typewriters now. '

'It won't be long before young couples are going to have to hire someone to watch their kids so they can both work.'

I'm afraid the Volkswagen car is going to open the door to a whole lot of foreign business.'

Thank goodness I won't live to see the day when the Government takes half our income in taxes. I sometimes wonder if we are electing the best people to government.'

The drive-in restaurant is convenient in nice weather, but I seriously doubt they will ever catch on.'

There is no sense going on short trips anymore for a weekend. It costs nearly $2.00 a night to stay in a hotel.'

'No one can afford to be sick anymore. At $15.00 a day in the hospital, it's too rich for my blood.'

'If they think I'll pay 30 cents for a hair cut, forget it.'

Laws for 2023 Be Ready

Law of Mechanical Repair -

After your hands become coated with grease, your nose will begin to itch and you'll have to pee.

2. Law of Gravity -

Any tool, nut, bolt, screw, when dropped, will roll to the least accessible place in the universe.

3. Law of Probability -

The probability of being watched is directly proportional to the stupidity of your act.

4. Law of Random Numbers -

If you dial a wrong number, you never get a busy signal; someone always answers.

5. Variation Law -

If you change lines (or traffic lanes), the one you were in will always move faster than the one you are in now.

6. Law of the Bath -

When the body is fully immersed in water, the telephone will ring.

7. Law of Close Encounters -

The probability of meeting someone you know INCREASES dramatically when you are with someone you don't want to be seen with.

8. Law of the Result -

When you try to prove to someone that a machine won't work, IT WILL!!!

9. Law of Biomechanics -

The severity of the itch is inversely proportional to the reach.

10. Law of the Theater & Hockey Arena -

At any event, the people whose seats are furthest from the aisle, always arrive last. They are the ones who will leave their seats several times to go for food, beer, or the toilet and who leave early before the end of the performance or the game is over. The folks in the aisle seats come early, never move once, have long gangly legs or big bel-lies and stay to the bitter end of the performance. The aisle people also are very surly folk.

11. The Coffee Law -

As soon as you sit down to a cup of hot coffee, your boss will ask you to do some-thing which will last until the coffee is cold.

12. Murphy's Law of Lockers -

If there are only 2 people in a locker room, they will have adjacent lockers.

13. Law of Physical Surfaces -

The chances of an open-faced jelly sandwich landing face down on a floor are directly correlated to the newness and cost of the carpet or rug.

14. Law of Logical Argument -

Anything is possible IF you don't know what you are talking about.

Christmas Pageant

December 7th the Bay Ranch chorus put on yet another first rate performance for us to enjoy.

We had the nativity story with an angel (Charlotte Augustine) the Blessed Mother (Debbie Heil) and Joseph (Roger Heil) and was read to us by Jean Rose as the chorus sang to us.

Next up was the full chorus 21 voices strong singing us such classics as It's the Most Wonderful Time of the Year to deck the Halls to Santa Claus is coming to Town. Next up was the sing along concluding with We Wish You A Merry Christmas.

Members of the choir are: Carol Raabe, Jules Vaillancourt, Carol Braga, Charlie Hastings, Jeanne Hunter, Wayne Jones, Lynda MacNell, Carol Olsen, Kathy Jo Labean, Nancy Peterson, Ryan Preuster, Ione Jones, Becky Hunter, Evelyn Hale, Paul Purling, Ray Rose, Joan Seiders, Ed Zygmunt, Millie Zygmunt, Bob Quish and Cindy Douglas.

What a wonderful performance by all.

After the concert cookies, snacks and punch were served by Patty Harwood and team consisting of: Mary Rodgers, Jean Rose, Pat Purling, Cindy Devinney and Cathy Griffin.

If you didn't make it, sorry you missed such a great time.
