National Vietnam War Veterans Day - March 29th, 6th Anniversary

Andy Russell

A day established to recognize the contributions of the Vietnam Veterans. The day was established under the Vietnam War Veterans Recognition Act of 2017. This date is in addition to the other Veterans centered days established under the Title 4 of the US Code §6. These days being Armed Forces Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, National Korean War Day, Veterans Armistice Day, Navy Day and Veterans Day.

Vietnam Veterans Day was established to recognize the contributions of all Veterans who served from November 1, 1955, to May 15, 1975, regardless of the location the Veteran served, as one did not have a choice as to where their service was needed. You can learn more about this day by visiting the website at www.vietnamwar50th.com. On March 29th, join the nation and thank a Vietnam Veteran!

Sharing Short Stories

Over the nineteen years Chuck and I have lived in this park we have gotten acquainted with many wonderful and interesting residents who have very fascinating life experiences.

As I and some other friends were agreeing about our wish to share those stories with more of you, we decided to add an article in the Domei. I hope we can repeat their stories with as much interest and humor as they have done.

My first biography will be short and sweet, because the situation around which I heard about this woman was when I had been in the park for a few weeks.

This lovely woman's name was Grace Michaelson, "Amazing Grace" was the endearing term we gave her as she was often found assisting someone needing a friend, a nurse, a meal or two after coming home from the hospital. You name it Grace was there.

The instance I heard about revolved around a gentleman (a snow-bird) who was terminally ill. He came back to Japanese Gardens, as known at that time, to live out his final days. He loved Florida and his friends here.

He and Grace were friends, so she organized 'her girls' as they were called, the group of her friends, men, and women, who came together to make sure as his time went by, he had nothing to worry about. All his appointments were handled, volunteers drove him to his doctor appointments, picked up all his medications, stayed with him throughout his ordeal and secured his comfort. Everything was done with a blessing and his passing was as peaceful as he could have hoped for.

Over the years we learned a lot about our dear Grace and became good friends. She had a very interesting family. Her children and grandchildren were well educated and had interests and excursions/vacations that enhanced their view of the world.

As time went by Chuck and I were fortunate to become friends with Grace and consider ourselves blessed to call her a dearest friend.

If you know someone here in the park or in your life or ...your own life story and would like to share it with us please call: Charlotte, 727-531-3651 or type it up and email your copy to Cindi Miller, her e-address is in the front pages of the Domei.

Make yourself laugh

If you're feeling blue or grouchy and you want to change your mood, here are a few suggestions for ways to get yourself laughing.

- Do something you normally do in a completely different way. For instance if you're right handed try eating with your left hand.
- Start a humor collection—it could be jokes, quotes or just something you find amusing.
- Pay attention to children—they usually do and say things that give us perspective on ourselves.
- Buy gifts for people you know at a garage sale. —adapted from www.allenklein.com

10 ways to tell a redneck has been working on a computer...

1. The monitor is up on blocks.

3. The six front keys have rotted out.
4. The extra RAM slots have Dodge truck parts installed in them.
5. The numeric keypad only goes up to six.
6. The password is “Bubba.”
7. The CPU has a gun rack mount.
8. There is a Skoal can in the CD-ROM drive.
9. The keyboard is camouflaged.

How to plan an adventure

If you're in need of an adventure, then you'll want to think about the following suggestions.

- To figure out what kind of adventure you want to go on, listen to your own desires. Once you know what your desires are, set your goal for your dream trip. Start a savings account to take the trip. Make a promise to yourself that it's going to happen—and it will.
- Overcome your fears. That's part of what going on an adventure is all about. Prepare yourself so that you can handle potential problems that could occur on your particular trip. Do your homework.
- If traveling alone is too intimidating for you, join a group. There are lots of tour groups, wilderness courses, etc. Check out the Internet. There are lots of services that get everything ready for you. All you have to do is show up and start your adventure. —adapted from Organic Style

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Positive thinking

Three men set out on a journey. Each carried two sacks around his neck—one in front and one in back.

The first man was asked what was in his sacks.

“In this one on my back,” he said, “I carry all the kind deeds of my friends. In that way they are out of sight and out of mind and I don’t have to do anything about them. They’re soon forgotten. This sack in front carries all the unkind things people do to me. I pause in my journey every day and take these out to study. It slows me down, but nobody gets away with anything.”

The second man said he kept his own good deeds in his front sack. I constantly keep them before me,” he said. “It gives me pleasure to take them out and air them.” “The sack on your back seems heavy,” someone remarked to the second traveler. “What is in it?”

“That’s where I carry my mistakes,” said the second man. “I always keep them on my back.”

The third man was asked what he kept in his sacks. “I carry my friends’ kind deeds in this front sack,” he said.

Said an observer, “It looks full. It must be heavy.”

“No,” said the third man, “it is big, but not heavy. Far from being a burden, it is like the sails of a ship. It helps me move ahead.”

Added the observer, “I notice that the sack behind you has a hole in the bottom. It seems empty and of very little use.”

To which the third man replied, “That’s where I put all the evil I hear from others. It just falls out and is lost, so I have no weight to impede me.”

Guess which of the three travelers finished first in their journey through life? —from IdeaBank

On watching your pennies

It’s a well-known fact that Andrew Carnegie had a liking for accountants.

One Sunday, when Carnegie was just a small boy, he went to church.

While he was attending Sunday school, his teacher called upon him to tell the class a quote he knew from the Bible.

Carnegie quoted a well-known Scottish proverb instead: “Take care of your pennies and your pounds will take care of themselves.”

The Sunday school teacher told Carnegie that while his proverb was a good one that it wasn’t in the Bible.

To which young Carnegie answered: “Well, it should be.” —
