PARADISE ISLAND UPDATE

Pat Walker, Park President

Spring is in the air – although it won’t officially arrive until the 20th, many of the winter dormant plants are starting to sprout little green leaves and develop flower buds – the growing season is well on its way! The only down side is that the weeds too are growing and we know what that means – time on our knees with trowel in hand.

We had our Chili Cook-Off last month and were greatly appreciative of those gals and guys who pulled out their favorite recipe and tantalized our taste buds – some had a touch of sweetness, some had a little “kick” and others were more traditional, but we enjoyed each and every one. After all the votes were counted, Bob Rupp walked away with the grand prize and bragging rights. Congratulations!

Steve, the Pizza Party Specialist, worked his magic and made delicious individual pizzas for our dining pleasure which was followed by a game of Trivia. It’s important to not only keep our appetites honed but to keep our brain cells stimulated as well – and what better way than a friendly but competitive – and just a bit challenging - game of unimportant questions. Isn’t it amazing the number of things you didn’t know that you knew? Hope everyone had a fun time – that’s always the objective.

So “What’s on tap for March?” you ask. Well, we’re gonna mix things up a bit just to see how well you adjust to change. 😊 On March 4, we will hold the monthly Association Meeting, but the monthly pot luck dinner is postponed so that you can grab your favorite partner, strap on (or Velcro) your sensible dancing shoes, and prepare to dance the night away.....or at least til the music runs out. Yes, it’s Spring Dance time, so waltz on down to the clubhouse and swing and sway with music provided by Terry Platt. I say “swing and sway” but most of the dances today require a little more energy, and some even require coordination – wait, show me again how to do the Electric Slide; and, I’m sorry but my arms don’t move fast enough to keep up with the beat of YMCA – while y’all are on “C”, I’m still working on “Y”.

Then, on March 11 we’ll celebrate St. Pat’s Day with a Corned Beef & Cabbage pot luck dinner. As always, sign up on the bulletin board and let us know what side dish you will bring. And, don’t forget your place setting and beverage of choice. Guinness anyone?

As you have seen on Facebook, the Corley’s are hosting another great event celebrating everything Irish along with their signature karaoke on March 18. Why not get into the spirit and wear something green – but leave your shillelagh at home. Everyone is welcome to join the party – bring a snack to share if you like and your beverage. I’m certain you won’t go away disappointed.

We’ve enjoyed the larger crowds on bingo nights – it’s always more fun, and financially rewarding, when more folks come. Bingo is always open to all three parks, so hope to see you on Thursday nights. Who knows there just might be a “special bingo” night waiting ‘round the corner.

That’s it folks – see you around the park.

HAPPY ST. PATRICK’S DAY

“May your blessings outnumber the Shamrocks that grow, and may trouble avoid you wherever you go.” (Irish Blessing)

LAKE HAVEN MOBILE HOME OWNER'S INC.

Thanks to those of you who turned out for the Annual HOA Meeting. The HOA Board members appreciate your support.

In addition to the current board members, Bob Spencer from Park #1 volunteered to be nominated to serve on the board. It is encouraging to have members step forward and offer to be involved. Although he was not elected, Bob is committed to Lake Haven and will continue to support the HOA with his time and talents.

President Vern Lusk (Park 1) and Directors Barbara Byram (Park 3) and Don Heller (Park 1) whose terms had expired were re-elected to the board.

The task of Revising the Prospectus and Rules & Regulations is completed and will be available on the Lake Haven Prospectus Facebook Page for resident review. The board acknowledges the outstanding support of Carrie Goetz who set up the page, input prospectus data, monitored resident polls, and prepared the final document. We are very grateful to her – the board could not have gotten through this project without her.

The board meets monthly with the Community Manager on the third Thursday of the month. Prior to meeting with her at 11:00AM, the board gathers at 10:15 AM in the Park 1 Clubhouse to communicate with the residents who opt to attend this open session.

Vern and his wife Toni left on February 15 for an extended vacation in their RV; current plans are to be traveling for three months. During his absence residents are encourage to contact their park board representative with their concerns.

Park 3 Guana Cay

President: Robert Peacock

Here comes March already. In like a lion, out like a lamb. Well, we will have to see, sunny and 75 these days have been beautiful. There are several things coming up this month and so much to touch on, so let's get started...

First of all, Dean Osmon, our all pro, do everything maintenance man, like some of our people in this great community, give it their all. They put others ahead of themselves rarely getting the recognition they deserve. To Dean and all the selfless people, thank you very much for all you do. Dean has a long hard journey ahead of him. Prayers and love our friend.

We would like to extend our heartfelt appreciation to Susan McRae Regan and Barbara Byram. They got Deans "Go Fund Me" going. Between the Go Fund Me and private donations, the amount has now exceeded $10,000.00! Wow! Well exceeding the expectations of its origin.

I hope everyone had a great Valentines Day (happy anniversary babe). We had some great events in February. A vast variety of food at our international potluck topped off with "Happy Days of NY" Thank you Tim and Glo! Thank you to all the cooks for some truly excellent food.

Regarding the Park 3 Association Meeting and the HOA member and election meeting. All members voted to keep the board intact. Some of the issues addressed were, dumpster, pets, neighbors, 360's and the continued hard work and countless hours put into creating a new prospectus.

Congratulations to the Superbowl Board winners. Hope your team won. The half time show and commercials are always of interest and rarely disappoint.

Spring training is back and in full swing. Some members of our community work at the TD ballpark this year. Go on out and cheer them on. Always fun at the old ballpark!

March has a lot going on. St. Pat's and St. Joe's days. Our White Elephant sale on March 11th. Our end of season brunch on March 26th with John and CC throwing down the tunes for everybody!

Please have pets on leashes and scoop the poop, allow Andy room to deliver your mail and please get on the good neighbor vibe by sharing the golden rule with all. Keep our community great!

To our valued customers:

During the current times we wanted to let you know that we are taking as many precautions as we can to ensure not only our workers safety but yours as well. We check workers' temperatures each morning and have limited the amount of contact our crews have with each other. Our crews work in Tyvek suits with respirators which helps to ensure your safety as well as theirs.

As a company, we want your business and there is no need for any contact if you so choose. Our business is deemed an "Essential Business" and we are here for you when you need us. You can schedule your inspection by calling 1-800-681-3772.

Some tips for raising your healthy lifestyle quotient

For improving overall health—try the following tips from Ann Kearney-Cooke, author of Change Your Mind, Change Your Body.

- Follow a good diet. Eating a diet that promotes emotional health may help reduce the possibility of back pain and other problems.
 - Exercise. Short exercise sessions boost brain chemicals that make you feel good. It can help release your anger.
 - Appreciate your accomplishments. Don't forget to take stock of your achievements. Sometimes the world and the people closest to us forget to do this. Doing it for yourself ensures a healthy self-image.
 - Allow yourself your emotions, but don't get stuck in them. If you have a disappointing or frustrating experience, let yourself feel it, but put a time limit on it, so you don't tread water in the land of frustration.
 - Let the small annoyances in life go. Don't let things like traffic and minor insults control how you feel during your day.
 - When you are feeling stressed, connect with a friend and do something distracting.
 - Recognize your emotions. If you deny your negative emotions, they often flood the mind with even more power. Recognizing your emotions does not mean acting on them. It is usually helpful to write about your negative emotions, and then try to learn something from them.
 - Recognize how your life experiences have colored how you now see the world. If you react inappropriately because of some emotional baggage, recognizing it is the first step to being free of it eventually.
 - Don't overcommit. When you over schedule yourself, you deplete your inner resources, and it will be more difficult to deal with the everyday stresses that life is sure to throw your way.
 - Get enough sleep. A good night's sleep helps us cope with stressors. If you find yourself going over the edge quickly, you might be sleep deprived.
- adapted from Natural Health

Does the thought of starting a new exercise program make you cringe?

If you've been thinking or talking about starting an exercise program but you just can't get started, you might want to think about exercise in a new way. Some people think that if they don't exercise at least 30 minutes or more, they might as well not do anything. But that's just not true.

Start off by exercising in the morning before you go to work—shoot for 10 or 15 minutes. Once you get into the groove of your routine you can expand it or not, depending on your preference. A lot of people put off starting a program because they feel like they just don't have the time. But when you're talking about 10 or 15 minutes it's a lot easier to get started.

Eventually you can shoot for two 15 minutes sessions per day. One before work and one after. You'll likely be surprised at the results. — adapted from Self

Positive thinking

Three men set out on a journey. Each carried two sacks around his neck—one in front and one in back.

The first man was asked what was in his sacks.

“In this one on my back,” he said, “I carry all the kind deeds of my friends. In that way they are out of sight and out of mind and I don’t have to do anything about them. They’re soon forgotten. This sack in front carries all the unkind things people do to me. I pause in my journey every day and take these out to study. It slows me down, but nobody gets away with anything.”

The second man said he kept his own good deeds in his front sack. I constantly keep them before me,” he said. “It gives me pleasure to take them out and air them.” “The sack on your back seems heavy,” someone remarked to the second traveler. “What is in it?”

“That’s where I carry my mistakes,” said the second man. “I always keep them on my back.”

The third man was asked what he kept in his sacks. “I carry my friends’ kind deeds in this front sack,” he said.

Said an observer, “It looks full. It must be heavy.”

“No,” said the third man, “it is big, but not heavy. Far from being a burden, it is like the sails of a ship. It helps me move ahead.”

Added the observer, “I notice that the sack behind you has a hole in the bottom. It seems empty and of very little use.”

To which the third man replied, “That’s where I put all the evil I hear from others. It just falls out and is lost, so I have no weight to impede me.”

Guess which of the three travelers finished first in their journey through life? —from IdeaBank

On watching your pennies

It’s a well-known fact that Andrew Carnegie had a liking for accountants.

One Sunday, when Carnegie was just a small boy, he went to church.

While he was attending Sunday school, his teacher called upon him to tell the class a quote he knew from the Bible.

Carnegie quoted a well-known Scottish proverb instead: “Take care of your pennies and your pounds will take care of themselves.”

The Sunday school teacher told Carnegie that while his proverb was a good one that it wasn’t in the Bible.

To which young Carnegie answered: “Well, it should be.” —

Make yourself laugh

If you're feeling blue or grouchy and you want to change your mood, here are a few suggestions for ways to get yourself laughing.

- Do something you normally do in a completely different way. For instance if you're right handed try eating with your left hand.
- Start a humor collection—it could be jokes, quotes or just something you find amusing.
- Pay attention to children—they usually do and say things that give us perspective on ourselves.
- Buy gifts for people you know at a garage sale. —adapted from www.allenklein.com

10 ways to tell a redneck has been working on a computer...

1. The monitor is up on blocks.
2. Outgoing faxes have tobacco stains on them.
3. The six front keys have rotted out.
4. The extra RAM slots have Dodge truck parts installed in them.
5. The numeric keypad only goes up to six.
6. The password is “Bubba.”
7. The CPU has a gun rack mount.
8. There is a Skoal can in the CD-ROM drive.
9. The keyboard is camouflaged.
10. The mouse is referred to as a “critter.” —from computerhumour.com

How to plan an adventure

If you're in need of an adventure, then you'll want to think about the following suggestions.

- To figure out what kind of adventure you want to go on, listen to your own desires. Once you know what your desires are, set your goal for your dream trip. Start a savings account to take the trip. Make a promise to yourself that it's going to happen—and it will.
- Overcome your fears. That's part of what going on an adventure is all about. Prepare yourself so that you can handle potential problems that could occur on your particular trip. Do your homework.
- If traveling alone is too intimidating for you, join a group. There are lots of tour groups, wilderness courses, etc. Check out the Internet. There are lots of services that get everything ready for you. All you have to do is show up and start your adventure. —adapted from Organic Style

You need a contractor— now what?

If you're remodeling your home and you need a contractor, what's the best way to go about getting a good one? Here are a few tips to help you find a quality contractor to transform your home.

- Ask your friends and acquaintances. Ask anyone who has had work done recently and find out if they were happy with the results. If they were, get the contractor's name. You also might get in contact with real estate agents in your area. It's likely they'll know who's reliable and who's not.
 - Make a list of what you need to have done, and be specific. Give model numbers and brand names of what you want installed. Write up the time frame you expect.
 - Get bids from at least three different contractors. Get the contractors' license numbers. Make sure you get license numbers for subcontractors who might come into the picture later as well.
 - Don't automatically go for the lowest bid. That contractor could be inexperienced or he may not know how to do the job correctly. Watch the high-end bids as well—they may be trying to take advantage of you. Do your research and you'll make the right choice.
 - Make a payment agreement before the work starts. For instance, you might put an initial deposit down of 30 percent to 40 percent.
 - Make yourself available to answer questions the contractor might have. This will prevent delays in the completion of the project. If things change during the course of the work—put the changes and the agreements concerning compensation, etc., in writing. Keep communication flowing and you'll end up with a result you love.
- adapted from Cooking Light

Looking good for the camera

Do you want to improve how you come out looking in a snapshot? Here are a couple of suggestions.

- Make sure the photographer is shooting the picture from an angle that is slightly higher than you are. This angle hides features such as slack chins and emphasizes your cheekbones.
- Don't face the camera straight on. Turn slightly. Most people look better photographed at a slight angle. — adapted from Self

On conclusions

A conclusion is the place where you got tired of thinking.

Quotes for the lighter side

On being somebody

I always wanted to be somebody, but now I realize I should have been more specific.
—Lily Tomlin

I don't want to achieve immortality through my work. I want to achieve it through not dying.
—Woody Allen

Eagles may soar in the clouds, but weasels never get sucked into jet engines.
—Attributed to both Jason Hutchison and John Benfield

I'd never join a club that would allow a person like me to become a member.
—Woody Allen

On the universe

Two things are infinite: the universe and human stupidity; and I'm not sure about the universe.
—Albert Einstein

The four building blocks of the universe are fire, water, gravel and vinyl.
—Dave Barry

On walking

My grandmother started walking five miles a day when she was sixty. She's 97 now, and we don't know where the hell she is.
—Ellen DeGeneres

On relativity

When you are courting a nice girl an hour seems like a second. When you sit on a red-hot cinder a second seems like an hour. That's relativity.
—Albert Einstein

On housekeeping

He taught me housekeeping; when I divorce I keep the house.
— Zsa Zsa Gabor

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word - the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."
