Sharing Short Stories

Charlotte Thompson

"All your past except its beauty is gone, and nothing is left but a blessing." This quote probably reminds us of so many wonderful people. For the moment one stands out above all, our very own Dorothy Ravener, 'The Mayor' as she was nicknamed.

Many of us knew her for a long time, and learned she was a strong woman who was civic minded, concerned about everything in our world (she watched the news religiously), the USA, our little community here in the park, her neighbors, some of whom she was personally involved and helped as she was able.

Being Italian, Dorothy could tell stories of her family that really impressed me. Her memory was so clear, she could tell of her family immigrating to America and carry her story on through how they started businesses and worked to keep the family together. To enliven her life stories, one could look around her livingroom and see the many old photos of those family members of whom she spoke.

She told what life was like growing up in New York, of the life-long friends she and her husband, Jay, made over the years. Some of them were in touch with Dorothy up to last summer when she passed.

Dear Dorothy was a faithful devoted friend and always gave her love and care to all of us and we returned that warmth and friendship in many ways. A few of her friends who no longer traveled would call her each evening and laugh and talk, others who came down in the winter months would stop by and visit then they would go somewhere for lunch, spending a lovely time together.

Even though she couldn't get around well, others helped her to her appointments, etc. that does not mean she gave up driving all together ... That gal had a golf cart and she used it quite often. Allow me to share a little "Dot story" of my own that rattled my nerves when she told me what she did ...!

Dorothy had asked me to go to Michael's craft store for a certain kind of needle for her project. I went but couldn't find that particular needle. I went back and told her that specific needle was not in the store. I was willing to go to JoAnn Fabrics. She said not to, I thought the subject was temporarily closed. The next time I went over to her place she had her needle, it looked similar to the letter C. I was so surprised and asked her where she found it because I had one of them in my needle box.

WELL...sometime after I left her the other day she had gotten herself into her golf cart - drove to Michael's and bought herself that needle ! I asked how she did that (she was 91 yrs old and not too steady on her feet) her story was filled with helpful people assisting her out of her cart, into the store and back into her cart. It was a thrilling, chilling story of high adventure, oh my!!!

How Mickey Mouse was born

The legacy of Walt Disney is now a $20 billion media giant. It includes film studios, TV networks, publishing houses, famous theme parks and hundreds of retail stores.

Disney was the last of five children born in 1901 to parents who lived in Chicago. Disney became enamored with drawing and started a company with his brother Roy to try and build an animation business. Disney was barely making it financially.

On a long train ride back from a disastrous business setback in which he lost the rights to a character he had created, the idea came to Disney to create another character based on a mouse that scampered across his drawing board. This idea blossomed into the character of Mickey Mouse.

Later, when Disney spent an unprecedented $1.5 million to produce the masterpiece Snow White, critics and naysayers dubbed the project “Disney’s Folly.” However, the animated film became the most profitable ever released and set Disney on the path of creating animated classics, and he became known as the father of the animated-film genre. — adapted from the Los Angeles Times article “50 people who most influenced business this century”

The devil’s secret weapon

There is an old-time fable that the devil once held a sale and offered all the tools of his trade to anyone who would pay their price.

They were spread out on the table, with each one labeled — hatred, malice, envy, despair, sickness, sensuality — all the weapons that everyone knows so well.

But off on one side, apart from the rest, lay a harmless looking, wedge-shaped instrument marked “DISCOURAGEMENT.” It was old and worn looking, but it was priced far above all the rest.

When asked the reason why, the devil explained: “Because I can use this one so much more easily than the others. No one knows that it belongs to me, so with it I can open doors that are tightly bolted against the others. Once I get inside, I can use any tool that suits me best.” — from IdeaBank

On vision

I had an almost intolerable awareness that every morning began with infinite promise. Any book may be read, any idea thought, any action taken. Anything that has ever been possible to human beings is possible to most of us every time the clock says six in the morning. On a day no different from the one now breaking, Shakespeare sat down to begin Hamlet.

— Ralph Waldo Emerson

Believe in yourself

The night before Douglas MacArthur took the entrance exam for West Point, he was very nervous. At the time, his mother offered him some sage advice. She told her son not to lose his nerve and that he needed to believe in himself, because if he didn't no one else would either. She also told her son that even if he failed, he would succeed in knowing that he had done his best. With this bit of wisdom MacArthur tackled the exam — and when the results came back he finished in the No. 1 slot. — adapted from The Speaker's Library of Business Stories, Anecdotes and Humor by Joe Griffith

A problem-solving legend

In 333 B.C., the famous Macedonian general Alexander and his army arrived in Phrygia to spend the winter.

According to Greek legend, a farmer named Gordius became king of Phrygia by fulfilling a prediction made by an oracle that the next king of the country would ride into the public square on an oxcart. In gratitude, Gordius tied his cart in the temple of the oracle's god, using a knot so intricate that no one was able to untie it, though many tried. A legend arose that whoever untied the "Gordian Knot" would rule Asia.

When Alexander the Great encountered the challenge of the Gordian Knot, he was fascinated. He studied the problem.

Finally, in a burst of inspiration (or was it frustration), Alexander pulled out his sword and sliced the knot in half, solving the complex problem with a simple solution and becoming part of the legend himself. He and his armies went on to capture and rule more territories in the ancient world than anyone who had gone before him. This included Asia, although in Alexander's day that extended only as far as India.

Sometimes, the best way to solve a difficult problem is to slice away some of the complexities with a single stroke, despite opposition and advice to do otherwise. — adapted from IdeaBank

On men

If men can run the world, why can't they stop wearing neckties? How intelligent is it to start the day by tying a little noose around your neck?

— Linda Ellerbee

My ancestors wandered lost in the wilderness for 40 years because even in biblical times, men would not stop to ask for directions.

— Elayne Boosler
