Daily

April Fools’ Day. April 1. A tradition that began in France in 1564. April 1 used to be New Year’s Day, but it was changed to Jan. 1 that year. People who insisted on celebrating the old New Year date became known as April fools, and it became common to play jokes and tricks on them.

Reconciliation Day. April 2. Columnist Ann Landers suggested in 1989 that this day be set aside for writing that letter or making that phone call to mend a broken relationship.

Earth Day. April 22. First observed in 1970, Earth Day was an attempt to accelerate the transition to renewable energy worldwide. The efforts continue. For more information, browse www.earthday.net.

Take Our Sons and Daughters to Work Day. April 27. A national public education campaign sponsored by the Ms. Foundation in which children from ages 8 to 12 go to work with adult hosts. For more information, browse www.daughtersandsonstowork.org.

National Arbor Day. April 28 A day to honor plants and trees. For more information, browse www.arborday.org.

The unexpected and the incredible belong in this world. Only then is life whole.

How Mickey Mouse was born

The legacy of Walt Disney is now a $20 billion media giant. It includes film studios, TV networks, publishing houses, famous theme parks and hundreds of retail stores.

Disney was the last of five children born in 1901 to parents who lived in Chicago. Disney became enamored with drawing and started a company with his brother Roy to try and build an animation business. Disney was barely making it financially.

On a long train ride back from a disastrous business setback in which he lost the rights to a character he had created, the idea came to Disney to create another character based on a mouse that scampered across his drawing board. This idea blossomed into the character of Mickey Mouse.

Later, when Disney spent an unprecedented $1.5 million to produce the masterpiece Snow White, critics and naysayers dubbed the project “Disney’s Folly.” However, the animated film became the most profitable ever released and set Disney on the path of creating animated classics, and he became known as the father of the animated-film genre. — adapted from the Los Angeles Times article “50 people who most influenced business this century”

The devil’s secret weapon

There is an old-time fable that the devil once held a sale and offered all the tools of his trade to anyone who would pay their price.

They were spread out on the table, with each one labeled — hatred, malice, envy, despair, sickness, sensuality — all the weapons that everyone knows so well.

But off on one side, apart from the rest, lay a harmless looking, wedge-shaped instrument marked “DISCOURAGEMENT.” It was old and worn looking, but it was priced far above all the rest.

When asked the reason why, the devil explained: “Because I can use this one so much more easily than the others. No one knows that it belongs to me, so with it I can open doors that are tightly bolted against the others. Once I get inside, I can use any tool that suits me best.” — from IdeaBank

On vision

I had an almost intolerable awareness that every morning began with infinite promise. Any book may be read, any idea thought, any action taken. Anything that has ever been possible to human beings is possible to most of us every time the clock says six in the morning. On a day no different from the one now breaking, Shakespeare sat down to begin Hamlet.

Believe in yourself

The night before Douglas MacArthur took the entrance exam for West Point, he was very nervous. At the time, his mother offered him some sage advice. She told her son not to lose his nerve and that he needed to believe in himself, because if he didn't no one else would either. She also told her son that even if he failed, he would succeed in knowing that he had done his best. With this bit of wisdom MacArthur tackled the exam — and when the results came back he finished in the No. 1 slot. — adapted from The Speaker's Library of Business Stories, Anecdotes and Humor by Joe Griffith

A problem-solving legend

In 333 B.C., the famous Macedonian general Alexander and his army arrived in Phrygia to spend the winter. According to Greek legend, a farmer named Gordius became king of Phrygia by fulfilling a prediction made by an oracle that the next king of the country would ride into the public square on an oxcart. In gratitude, Gordius tied his cart in the temple of the oracle's god, using a knot so intricate that no one was able to untie it, though many tried. A legend arose that whoever untied the "Gordian Knot" would rule Asia.

When Alexander the Great encountered the challenge of the Gordian Knot, he was fascinated. He studied the problem.

Finally, in a burst of inspiration (or was it frustration), Alexander pulled out his sword and sliced the knot in half, solving the complex problem with a simple solution and becoming part of the legend himself. He and his armies went on to capture and rule more territories in the ancient world than anyone who had gone before him. This included Asia, although in Alexander's day that extended only as far as India.

Sometimes, the best way to solve a difficult problem is to slice away some of the complexities with a single stroke, despite opposition and advice to do otherwise. — adapted from IdeaBank

Treating bee stings

Bee stings can be extremely dangerous if you are allergic. So if you are and you get stung, go immediately to the hospital.

If you do not have an allergy, then you can treat most bee stings yourself.

Remember, if you are stung you should scrape the stinger out. You can do this using a credit card, the side of a knife blade or the edge of a long fingernail. Never try to pull the stinger straight out.

You can neutralize some of the swelling that occurs because of inflammatory agents in the venom by rubbing a wet aspirin directly on the sting. However, if you can't take aspirin normally, you should not use it for bee stings either.

Taking an antihistamine can ease pain and swelling for adults. For children, cough syrups that contain antihistamines work better. — adapted from Tyco Wellness

How to avoid blisters on your feet

If you are a walker, you have probably had a few blisters on your feet. The faster you walk the more likely that you will sweat and perspire — and moisture is what makes blisters occur. Here are a few tips to avoid blisters.

- Before setting out on your walk, swab your feet with rubbing alcohol. The alcohol is a drying agent and will help control sweating. Make sure your feet are completely dry after you swab them before you put on your socks and shoes.
- Well-fitting shoes and socks that are made to absorb moisture also help reduce the occurrence of blisters.
- Take an extra pair of socks with you, and when your feet feel like they're getting wet, stop and put the dry pair on.

— adapted from Weight Watchers Magazine

On staying active

If I had to live my life again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week; for perhaps the parts of my brain now atrophied could thus have been kept active through use.

— Charles Darwin

On meaningfulness

The purpose of our Federation is to promote the general welfare of its members, protect the rights and interests of, and be a consumer advocate

FOR MANUFACTURED/MOBILE HOME OWNERS ON RENTED LOTS

Our accomplishments are numerous and include the creation of Florida Statute 723, "The Florida Mobile Home Act", which safeguards your rights as homeowners on rented lots in Florida.

Most recently we've successfully lobbied for the extension of The Mobile Home Tie-Down Program for 10 more years.

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word - the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."

A little Zen ... thoughts for people who take life too seriously

- He who laughs last thinks slowest.
- Remember, half the people you know are below average.
- Save the whales. Collect the whole set.
- A day without sunshine is like, night.
- On the other hand, you have different fingers.
- 42.7 percent of all statistics are made up on the spot.
- Ninety-nine percent of lawyers give the rest a bad name.
- Clones are people two.
- I feel like I'm diagonally parked in a parallel universe.
- Honk if you love peace and quiet.
- Depression is merely anger without enthusiasm.
- The early bird may get the worm, but the second mouse gets the cheese.
- I drive way too fast to worry about cholesterol.
- Support bacteria. They're the only culture some people have.
- Monday is an awful way to spend 1/7 of your week.
- A clear conscience is usually the sign of a bad memory.
- Change is inevitable, except from vending machines.
- Get a new car for your spouse. It'll be a great trade!
- Plan to be spontaneous tomorrow.
- Always try to be modest, and be proud of it!
- If you think nobody cares, try missing a couple of payments.
- How many of you believe in telekinesis? Raise my hand ...
- OK, so what's the speed of dark?
- How do you tell when you're out of invisible ink?
- If everything seems to be going well, you have obviously overlooked something.
- When everything is coming your way, you're in the wrong lane.
- Hard work pays off in the future. Laziness pays off now.

Church bulletin bloopers

- Ladies Bible Study will be held Thursday morning at 10. All ladies are invited to lunch in the Fellowship Hall after the B.S. is done.
- The pastor would appreciate it if the ladies of the congregation would lend him their electric girdles for the pancake breakfast next Sunday morning.
- The pastor will preach his farewell message, after which the choir will sing, “Break Forth Into Joy.”
- Remember in prayer the many who are sick of our church and community.
- The eighth graders will be presenting Shakespeare’s Hamlet in the church basement Friday at 7 p.m. The congregation is invited to attend this tragedy.
- Thursday night Potluck Supper. Prayer and medication to follow.
- Weight Watchers will meet at 7 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church. Please use large double door at the side entrance.
- The Lutheran Men’s group will meet at 6 p.m. Steak, mashed potatoes, green beans, bread and dessert will be served for a nominal fee.
- Don’t let worry kill you, let the church help.
- This being Easter Sunday, we will ask Mrs. Lewis to come forward and lay an egg on the altar.
- Irving Benson and Jessie Carter were married on Oct. 24 in the church. So ends a friendship that began in their school days.
- Announcement for a National Prayer and Fasting Conference: “The cost for attending the Fasting and Prayer conference includes meals.”
- Miss Charlene Mason sang “I will not pass this way again” giving obvious pleasure to the congregation. — from www.a-guide-for-seniors.com

Restoring your spirit

Here are a few ways to restore your innocence of spirit and recapture that childlike mindset of fun:

- Inhale from a helium filled balloon and then make an announcement at work.
- Buy some gag items like fake poop, pepper gum or a joy buzzer and get busy with your friends.
- Go outside and climb a tree.
- Go outside and fly a kite.
- Find some monkey bars, climb up and hang from your knees.
- Find a hill and roll down it.
- Find a swing and go as high as you can.
- Write a letter to a friend using a crayon.
- Play catch at the office.
- Find some water and go wading.
- Make a dart board from your negative thoughts then shoot them.
- Throw a water balloon.

A compassionate prescription for yourself

If you want to be healthy in every aspect of your life, one of the first things you need to do is to develop a genuine compassion for yourself. Here are a few tips for getting started:

- Get out there and do a lot of interesting stuff.
- Always choose wellness.
- Treat every day like the miracle it is.
- Ask yourself what it is that you know unconditionally—not what others just tell you.
- Make as many friends as you can.
- Cultivate your creativity and fun-lovingness as much as possible.
- Exercise.
- Eat a healthy diet.
- Live your life with such fullness that if you become ill or disabled, you'll have no regrets.

How to plant a great herb garden

If you love having fresh herbs at your fingertips here are a few suggestions on setting up a herb garden you will use and love.

- Plant your herb garden as close to the kitchen as you can manage. Your herb garden can be grown in a series of containers if that helps you locate it where it will be most convenient. If you have to go to too much trouble to get to and pick the herbs, you won't use them as much.
 - If you want to get the most pleasure you can from your herbs, plant them along walkways and where people will brush up against them. They won't release their fragrances until something brushes or bruises them.
 - Make sure to place your marjoram, parsley and thyme along borders. These plants only grow a few inches high and they will get lost among taller plants.
 - Dill, tarragon and coriander grow up to 2 feet high. If you have a walkaround garden, the center is the best place. If your garden is up against a wall or object then you will want to place these plants at the back of the garden.
 - Grow bay leaves and rosemary in clay pots just beneath the soil of your garden. When the weather turns cold, just dig them up and take them inside. They will continue to grow and you can enjoy their fragrance and flavor year round.
 - Remember some herbs spread (like mint, wild marjoram and tarragon). Each year they will take more and more room. To contain their growth, confine their roots by burying a section of stovepipe. The pipe will keep them from spreading.
 - Cut your herbs just before they flower for optimum flavor. That's when their oils peak. If you're going to store your herbs, it's best to cut them midmorning on a sunny day.
 - Store your herbs by freezing or drying or in oil or vinegar. You can use the oil and vinegar as seasonings when you cook.
 - If you have refrigerator space, keep your dried herbs there, as they will keep better.
- adapted from the Big Book of Hints from Heloise by Heloise
