PARADISE ISLAND UPDATE

Pat Walker, Association President

Happy 247th birthday America!! I can't help but wonder what the Founding Fathers would think of America today. From thirteen colonies to 50 states, small villages to major metropolises, candlelight to solar energy, horse and buggy to cars that drive themselves, family gardens to supermarkets filled with goods from around the world.....not to mention travelling to the moon and beyond. You've come a long way baby – can you imagine what wonders lie ahead. What's not to love about our country and the ingenuity of its people. God bless America. Let freedom forever ring throughout this incomparable land.

We've planned a fun time for our Independence Day celebration open to everyone in Lake Haven. If you own a golf cart, decorate it and meet at Park 1 Clubhouse at 3PM to parade throughout the park. As they drive by, cheer them on with shouts of encouragement and waving flags. Just to add a bit of competition, a prize awaits the most patriotically decorated cart. What's a celebration without food? The Association will provide fried chicken and table settings. Park 1 Association members bring your beverage and a side dish to share; guests bring your beverage and plunk down $5 at the door – what a bargain. As always there will be a 50/50 drawing, John Corley will provide music, there will be Minute-To-Win-It games, quizzes with huge (LOL) prizes, and a selfie photo backdrop. How about a prize for the guy or gal who “sparkles” the most? Bring on the sequins and bling. Do us a huge favor – if you plan to attend, sign up on the bulletin board or at the very least give me a call (727-733-3755) so we can order enough food and set up enough tables....unexpected guests always make us anxious.

Bingo will be on Thursday, July 20 at 7PM. Come for a fun time and an ice cream social at half time.

It's hurricane season, so keep an eagle eye on the weather and follow evacuation orders should one arise – fingers crossed this won't be a concern this year.

Have a safe and happy Fourth of July however you plan to celebrate. Stay cool, stay safe, and see you around the park.

LAKE HAVEN HOMEOWNERS ASSOCIATION

The monthly HOA board meeting is scheduled for Thursday, July 20, in the Park #1 clubhouse and is open to home owners from 10:15-10:45 AM prior to the board directors meeting with the Park Manager.

As a result of ongoing abuse of the trash dumpsters, cameras have been installed to identify offenders. Lake Haven has been warned by the City of Dunedin that they will discontinue picking up park trash forcing us to go to a third-party vendor if the abuses do not stop. Due to the number of extra trucks and pickups required to accommodate all the unauthorized items, last year Lake Haven was billed an amount more than double what parks comparable to our size were billed. You and I paid these charges even if we were not one of the offenders since trash charges are passed-on and included in the monthly rental statement. The dumpsters are for household trash only; please be considerate of others residing in Lake Haven and comply with posted restrictions. Vendors available to pick up other items to be disposed of are posted on the clubhouse bulletin boards.

The rough draft of the revised Prospectus proposal will soon be posted on Lake Haven Prospectus Facebook page for your review and comments.

Park 3 Guana Cay

President Robert Peacock

Happy July everyone! Time to celebrate once again. July, after 2 years of cancellations and changes, America is ready to celebrate her birthday once again. Picnics, live music movies at the ball park, fireworks, etc... Up and down the Gulf Coast, each town is ready to celebrate. Check for local events. Dunedin will have their celebration on July 3rd this year at TD ballpark including a live band, movie and fireworks. Enjoy your holiday!

Our first tropical storm, Arlene, sustained winds of up to 50mph but soon dissipated with no activity. Beware of the weather as waves are starting up out of Africa. At the time of print, 3 waves have the possibility of forming depressions. Please stay tuned to the forecast and plan accordingly.

Park 3 is currently working on revising the Bylaws previously revised in 2003. After 20 years, we are looking to shorten, condense and eliminate some of its articles. This will be an all-summer project. Your thoughts and ideas are appreciated as we go through each paragraph. A copy will be presented to each board member in October and voted on in the November association meeting. Also, at this time, the board has one opening for Treasurer. This too will be addressed at the October meeting so if you are interested, please let a board member know.

The HOA board is working with all the residents to present management with our concerns... dumpster, yard service, clubhouse issues, infrastructure, older non-compliant homes and new homes are just a few of the topics. Please let the board know if there are any concerns you'd like addressed.

There have been a lot of wildlife sightings as of late. Please be aware of your surroundings. Keep pets on leashes and be vigilant, especially at dawn and dusk. Owls, coyotes and even a wolf have been spotted in our community so be cautious and careful.

The weather is beginning to really heat up so stay hydrated. Folks, we are experiencing a drought. Please use common sense when watering, don't leave sprinklers on for hours. It's not necessary and the cost is being absorbed by all residents for just a few... The office is also expressing no open flames, securing all garbage with the winds about to pick up keeping things out of our waterways. Help keep our community beautiful.

Enjoy America's birthday celebrations and have a great July!

How to convince someone...

In the musical “My Fair Lady,” based on George Bernard Shaw’s novel Pygmalion, Professor Higgins has driven his cockney prodigy Eliza Doolittle to exhaustion teaching her how to speak “proper” English.

Late in the play, Eliza responds with frustration when her would-be swain Freddie talks about his affection for her in romantic phrases but doesn’t kiss or hold her.

“Words! Words! Words!” Eliza explodes. “I am so sick of words! I get words all day through. First from him, now from you! Is that all you blighters can do?”

Then she sings, “Don’t talk of stars burning above; if you’re in love, show me! Tell me no dreams filled with desire. If you’re on fire, show me!”

There is a profound lesson here for anyone trying to persuade someone to his or her point of view.

An old American proverb says: “Tell me, and I will forget, show me, and I may remember; but involve me, and I’ll understand.” —from The IdeaBank Web site

A lesson about getting to the top

A tired and disheartened turkey had a chat with a bull. During the conversation the turkey revealed one of his deepest desires to the bull. “I would love to get to the top of that tree there,” the turkey said, “but I just don’t have enough energy to do the job.”

The bull scratched his head and after a moment he came up with an idea. “Why don’t you eat some of my droppings. It won’t cost you anything, and my dung is packed with nutrients.”

The turkey thought about this for a minute, then began pecking around and nibbling at the dung. After the turkey had finished a whole lump of dung, he suddenly felt the strength to reach the first branch of the tree.

The next day, the turkey ate some more dung, and he was able to reach the second branch.

After two weeks of dining on dung, the turkey could finally be seen proudly perched at the top of the tree. Soon he was spotted by a farmer and shot out of the tree.

Moral: While bullsh*t might help you get to the top, it probably won’t keep you there for long. — adapted from Paul Tomko’s Collection of Humorous Quotes Web site

The anti-cancer lowdown on herbs and spices

Many spices and herbs are believed to be imbued with health-building properties and have anti-cancer effects. Herbs and spices are believed to be full of antioxidants, which prevent the damage that free radicals can do to cells.

The National Cancer Institute has identified the following herbs and spices as having cancer-preventing properties: tarragon, cumin, coriander, anise, caraway, turmeric, fennel, rosemary, thyme, oregano and sage. Some of these; caraway, tarragon, fennel and cumin; may also prevent tumor growth, and they are believed to reduce cholesterol levels. Coriander, it is believed, is effective in combating carcinogens. Turmeric contains curcumin, which gives it a yellow color, and has been shown to protect mice against Alzheimer's. Saffron and paprika are believed to stimulate immunity. Cloves and nutmeg are believed to fight bacteria, and chili peppers and ginger might help prevent tumor formation. Cinnamon could be a possible treatment for diabetes in the future. One to two teaspoons were found to lower blood sugar and prevent insulin spikes. —adapted from the U.C. Berkeley Wellness Letter

A hodgepodge of health tips

Here is a smattering of tips to keep you at your best:

- If you need long-lasting energy, eat foods like lentils, soybeans, couscous and dried fruits.
 - Make sure that you drink plenty of water. Eight to 10 glasses a day help replenish and cleanse the body.
 - Want to feel better? How about popping a chocolate kiss in your mouth. Just one has been shown to raise endorphin levels and make you feel better. More, however, won't make you feel any better than just one.
 - Add ginger to your recipes. Ginger has been used since ancient times in China to help digestion and cleanse the body.
 - After age 30, people begin to lose muscle mass, and it becomes increasingly important to perform weight-bearing exercises.
 - Eat 1 cup of yogurt per day. Women who ate 1 cup of yogurt per day for six months got 33 percent fewer yeast infections, according to a recent study.
- adapted from iVillage.com

To our valued customers:

During the current times we wanted to let you know that we are taking as many precautions as we can to ensure not only our workers safety but yours as well. We check workers' temperatures each morning and have limited the amount of contact our crews have with each other. Our crews work in Tyvek suits with respirators which helps to ensure your safety as well as theirs.

As a company, we want your business and there is no need for any contact if you so choose. Our business is deemed an "Essential Business" and we are here for you when you need us. You can schedule your inspection by calling 1-800-681-3772.

Why you should be careful if barefoot on the beach

If you're planning a family vacation, and visions of walking barefoot down a beach are dancing in your head, you might want to reconsider and wear shoes. Why? Walking down a beach barefoot can lead to hookworm. Dr. Robin Carder, a pediatric dermatologist at Children's Medical Center in Dallas, says that it is common to see families return from vacation and have a member suffer from hookworms. Hookworms come from feces that dogs and other animals leave on the sand. Unfortunately, some of the fecal matter remains in the sand, and when a person walks barefoot, a hookworm can hook into the sole of the foot, Carder says. Symptoms are itchy eruptions that can turn into pus filled blisters. If you think you have hookworm, you should seek treatment from a dermatologist. —adapted from the Children's Medical Center (in Dallas) Web site

A few tips for keeping your dog safe in hot weather

Dogs are often like members of the family, so you will want to treat them with care during hot weather. Here are a few tips to keep your four-legged friends happy and healthy:

- Never leave your dog—or any animal—in the car during hot or even warm weather. The interior temperature of your car can easily soar to 120 degrees in just minutes. The only way your dog can cool down is through panting and through the pads of their feet. Many animals die every year because their owners leave them in cars. Even if you leave the windows partially down, the temperatures can soar to dangerously high levels.
- Don't let your dog ride in the bed of a pickup truck. Serious eye injuries can occur from debris hitting their eyes at up to 70 miles per hour. The dog could also be thrown into oncoming traffic or could fall underneath the truck and be injured. Serious injury or death can also occur when a driver hits the brakes suddenly, swerves or is hit by another vehicle.
- Keep your dog away from fertilizers, plant foods and insecticides. They can be fatal if your pet ingests them. Don't let your pet walk or play on a treated lawn.
- Make sure your pet always wears an ID tag. Even if your dog has an embedded identification chip, you'll still want to make sure he has a tag so that he can be returned quickly to you if he is found. It's also a good idea to keep a current picture of your pet with you. That way, if he disappears or wanders off, you have a photo to show to people when you ask them if they've seen your dog.
- Give your dog prescribed heartworm medicine on a regular basis. It is also a good practice to use only flea and tick medications prescribed by your dog's veterinarian.
- Make sure your pet has plenty of water and shade when he's outdoors. You'll also want to make sure your dog isn't walking on hot asphalt when the heat is high, because it can burn his paws.

The importance of proofreading ...

The following is a list of newspaper corrections that has been widely circulated over the Internet:

- Important notice: If you are one of hundreds of parachuting enthusiasts who bought our Easy Sky Diving book, please make the following correction: on Page 8, line 7, the words state zip code should have read pull rip cord.
- There was a mistake in an item sent in two weeks ago which stated that Ed Burnham entertained a party at crap shooting. It should have been trap shooting.
- There are two important corrections to the information in the update on our Deep Relaxation professional development program. First, the program will include meditation, not medication. Second, it is experiential, not experimental.
- Our newspaper carried the notice last week that Mr. Oscar Hoffnagle is a defective on the police force. This was a typographical error. Mr. Hoffnagle is, of course, a detective on the police farce.
- In a recent edition, we referred to the chairman of Chrysler Corporation as Lee Iacocoo. His real name is Lee Iacocca. The Gazette regrets the error.
- Apology: I originally wrote, “Woodrow Wilson’s wife grazed on front lawn of the White House.” I’m sorry that typesetting inadvertently left out the word “sheep.”
- In one edition of today’s Food Section, an inaccurate number of jalapeño peppers was given for Jeanette Crowley’s Southwestern Chicken Salad recipe. The recipe should call for two, not 21, jalapeño peppers.
- The marriage of Miss Freda vanAmburg and Willie Branton, which was announced in this paper a few weeks ago, was a mistake which we wish to correct.

—from various online sources

How a town got its name

Sometimes towns get their names because of founders, prominent citizens or natural landmarks. But a town in southern Ohio has a more colorful history it would seem. Knockemstiff, Ohio, is a tiny hamlet that has no main roads or stores. One story about how the town got its unusual name is that it was named for the fighting ability of its young men. Another story is that there was a huge brawl in the town saloon. The third, and final story about how the town got its name is that an angry wife asked the town preacher how she could get her cheating husband to stay home. The preacher’s answer: “knockemstiff.”

Famous people who refused to be failures

We've all heard the stories of famous people who had rough or bumpy starts. Here's a few for the record:

- Lucille Ball: She began studying to be an actress in 1927 and was told by the head instructor of the John Murray Anderson Drama School, "Try any other profession. Any other."
- Clint Eastwood and Burt Reynolds: In 1959, a Universal Pictures executive dismissed them at the same meeting with the following statements. To Burt Reynolds: "You have no talent." To Clint Eastwood: "You have a chip on your tooth, your Adam's apple sticks out too far and you talk too slow."
- Marilyn Monroe (Norma Jean Baker): In 1944, Emmeline Snively, director of the Blue Book Modeling Agency, told modeling hopeful Norma Jean, "You'd better learn secretarial work or else get married."
- Elvis Presley: In 1954, Jimmy Denny, manager of the Grand Ole Opry, fired Elvis after one performance. He told Presley, "You ain't goin' nowhere son. You ought to go back to drivin' a truck."
- Alexander Graham Bell: When he invented the telephone in 1876, it did not ring off the hook with calls from potential backers. After making a demonstration call, President Rutherford Hayes said, "That's an amazing invention, but who would ever want to use one of them?"
- Thomas Edison: He was one of the greatest inventors in American history. When he first attended school in Port Huron, Mich., his teachers complained that he was "too slow" and hard to handle. As a result, Edison's mother decided to take her son out of school and teach him at home. In his lifetime, Edison produced more than 1,300 inventions.
- Franklin D. Roosevelt: Paralyzed by polio at 39, he went on to become one of America's most beloved and influential leaders. He was elected president of the United States four times.
- Julia Child: In 1953, she and her two collaborators signed a publishing contract to produce a book tentatively titled French Cooking for the American Kitchen. Julia and her colleagues worked on the book for five years. The publisher rejected the 850 - page manuscript. Child and her partners worked for another year totally revising the manuscript. Again the publisher rejected it. But Julia Child did not give up. She and her collaborators went back to work again, found a new publisher, and in 1961—eight years after beginning—they published Mastering the Art of French Cooking, which has sold more than 1 million copies.
- Douglas MacArthur: He might never have gained power and fame without persistence. When he applied for admission to West Point, he was turned down, not once, but twice. But he tried a third time, was accepted and marched into the history books.
- Abraham Lincoln: He entered the Blackhawk War as a captain. By the end of the war, he had been demoted to the rank of private.
