President's Message

Wendy Duplex

Happy summer to all! We are still in need of volunteers to help run many events. Start small with the summer events. If no one steps up to help, we will have some cancellations. Please contact me, Wendy, if you can help. 781-799-8386. Thank you.

Karaoke

Karaoke on June 10 was amazing! Over 60 people attended. Thank you to DJ Tony for a wonderful time. Hope to repeat this event in July. Thank you to everyone who came and also to those who participated. A big thank you to Greg Schmidt and Warren Duplex for their help too. The 50/50 was $96.50 to the winner and the social club.

July 4

We will have a cookout at the clubhouse. DJ Tony will be playing music. Doors will open at 5 pm. Dinner will be served about 6 – 6:30 pm. Weather permitting, we will go down to the bay to see the fireworks. This is a free event put on by your social club. We will be serving hamburgers, cheeseburgers, hotdogs, baked beans and hopefully potato salad, etc. If you'd like to help with the food, please contact Wendy Duplex, at 781-799-8386.

Ladies Luncheon

Carolyn Mosser

Please join us on the second Tuesday of each month at 11:30 am. On July 11 we will meet at Applebee's, 5110 East Bay, Clearwater. Men are also welcome to attend. Please call Carolyn at 727-601-3473 to RSVP no later than July 3. In order to make reservations at the restaurant, we cannot accept late calls.

Bible Study

Sandy Russell

We'd like to invite you to meet with us every Wednesday afternoon at 2 pm in the clubhouse library. If interested, just come in and have a seat.

Dogs

Please be respectful to others with your dogs. We are very lucky to have fenced areas for dogs to run freely under your supervision. It's noted in the Rules and Regulations for Bayside Waters to keep your dog leashed. Here are five good reasons.

1. It's the law.
2. When your dog is under your control – meaning you have him on a leash – he's less likely to get into something he's not supposed to. (In some situations, it might also be important to use a muzzle, gentle leader, or harness on your dog if your dog is aggressive or if you cannot control your dog.)
3. Just because your dog is friendly does not mean every dog is friendly.
4. Not everyone you meet is physically able to withstand a dog jumping on him or her, even a nice dog.
5. People have the right to walk in public without being confronted by loose dogs.
6. Please review the Bayside Waters Rules and Regulations if you have questions regarding pets. Thank you!

The anti-cancer lowdown on herbs and spices

Many spices and herbs are believed to be imbued with health-building properties and have anti-cancer effects. Herbs and spices are believed to be full of antioxidants, which prevent the damage that free radicals can do to cells.

The National Cancer Institute has identified the following herbs and spices as having cancer-preventing properties: tarragon, cumin, coriander, anise, caraway, turmeric, fennel, rosemary, thyme, oregano and sage. Some of these; caraway, tarragon, fennel and cumin; may also prevent tumor growth, and they are believed to reduce cholesterol levels. Coriander, it is believed, is effective in combating carcinogens. Turmeric contains curcumin, which gives it a yellow color, and has been shown to protect mice against Alzheimer's. Saffron and paprika are believed to stimulate immunity. Cloves and nutmeg are believed to fight bacteria, and chili peppers and ginger might help prevent tumor formation. Cinnamon could be a possible treatment for diabetes in the future. One to two teaspoons were found to lower blood sugar and prevent insulin spikes. —adapted from the U.C. Berkeley Wellness Letter

A hodgepodge of health tips

Here is a smattering of tips to keep you at your best:

- If you need long-lasting energy, eat foods like lentils, soybeans, couscous and dried fruits.
 - Make sure that you drink plenty of water. Eight to 10 glasses a day help replenish and cleanse the body.
 - Want to feel better? How about popping a chocolate kiss in your mouth. Just one has been shown to raise endorphin levels and make you feel better. More, however, won't make you feel any better than just one.
 - Add ginger to your recipes. Ginger has been used since ancient times in China to help digestion and cleanse the body.
 - After age 30, people begin to lose muscle mass, and it becomes increasingly important to perform weight-bearing exercises.
 - Eat 1 cup of yogurt per day. Women who ate 1 cup of yogurt per day for six months got 33 percent fewer yeast infections, according to a recent study.

People are not lazy. They simply have impotent goals — that is, goals that do not inspire them.

Out of about 20,000 bee species, there are only 4 that make honey?

A typical beehive can produce 400 pounds of honey per year?

Honey has natural preservatives and bacteria can't grow in it?

How to convince someone...

In the musical “My Fair Lady,” based on George Bernard Shaw’s novel Pygmalion, Professor Higgins has driven his cockney prodigy Eliza Doolittle to exhaustion teaching her how to speak “proper” English.

Late in the play, Eliza responds with frustration when her would-be swain Freddie talks about his affection for her in romantic phrases but doesn’t kiss or hold her.

“Words! Words! Words!” Eliza explodes. “I am so sick of words! I get words all day through. First from him, now from you! Is that all you blighters can do?”

Then she sings, “Don’t talk of stars burning above; if you’re in love, show me! Tell me no dreams filled with desire. If you’re on fire, show me!”

There is a profound lesson here for anyone trying to persuade someone to his or her point of view.

An old American proverb says: “Tell me, and I will forget, show me, and I may remember; but involve me, and I’ll understand.” —from The IdeaBank Web site

A lesson about getting to the top

A tired and disheartened turkey had a chat with a bull. During the conversation the turkey revealed one of his deepest desires to the bull. “I would love to get to the top of that tree there,” the turkey said, “but I just don’t have enough energy to do the job.”

The bull scratched his head and after a moment he came up with an idea. “Why don’t you eat some of my droppings. It won’t cost you anything, and my dung is packed with nutrients.”

The turkey thought about this for a minute, then began pecking around and nibbling at the dung. After the turkey had finished a whole lump of dung, he suddenly felt the strength to reach the first branch of the tree.

The next day, the turkey ate some more dung, and he was able to reach the second branch.

After two weeks of dining on dung, the turkey could finally be seen proudly perched at the top of the tree. Soon he was spotted by a farmer and shot out of the tree.

Moral: While bullsh*t might help you get to the top, it probably won’t keep you there for long. — adapted from Paul Tomko’s Collection of Humorous Quotes Web site

The importance of proofreading ...

The following is a list of newspaper corrections that has been widely circulated over the Internet:

- Important notice: If you are one of hundreds of parachuting enthusiasts who bought our Easy Sky Diving book, please make the following correction: on Page 8, line 7, the words state zip code should have read pull rip cord.
- There was a mistake in an item sent in two weeks ago which stated that Ed Burnham entertained a party at crap shooting. It should have been trap shooting.
- There are two important corrections to the information in the update on our Deep Relaxation professional development program. First, the program will include meditation, not medication. Second, it is experiential, not experimental.
- Our newspaper carried the notice last week that Mr. Oscar Hoffnagle is a defective on the police force. This was a typographical error. Mr. Hoffnagle is, of course, a detective on the police force.
- In a recent edition, we referred to the chairman of Chrysler Corporation as Lee Iacocoo. His real name is Lee Iacocca. The Gazette regrets the error.
- Apology: I originally wrote, “Woodrow Wilson’s wife grazed on front lawn of the White House.” I’m sorry that typesetting inadvertently left out the word “sheep.”
- In one edition of today’s Food Section, an inaccurate number of jalapeño peppers was given for Jeanette Crowley’s Southwestern Chicken Salad recipe. The recipe should call for two, not 21, jalapeño peppers.
- The marriage of Miss Freda vanAmburg and Willie Branton, which was announced in this paper a few weeks ago, was a mistake which we wish to correct.

—from various online sources

How a town got its name

Sometimes towns get their names because of founders, prominent citizens or natural landmarks. But a town in southern Ohio has a more colorful history it would seem. Knockemstiff, Ohio, is a tiny hamlet that has no main roads or stores. One story about how the town got its unusual name is that it was named for the fighting ability of its young men. Another story is that there was a huge brawl in the town saloon. The third, and final story about how the town got its name is that an angry wife asked the town preacher how she could get her cheating husband to stay home. The preacher’s answer: “knockemstiff.”

Famous people who refused to be failures

We've all heard the stories of famous people who had rough or bumpy starts. Here's a few for the record:

- Lucille Ball: She began studying to be an actress in 1927 and was told by the head instructor of the John Murray Anderson Drama School, "Try any other profession. Any other."
- Clint Eastwood and Burt Reynolds: In 1959, a Universal Pictures executive dismissed them at the same meeting with the following statements. To Burt Reynolds: "You have no talent." To Clint Eastwood: "You have a chip on your tooth, your Adam's apple sticks out too far and you talk too slow."
- Marilyn Monroe (Norma Jean Baker): In 1944, Emmeline Snively, director of the Blue Book Modeling Agency, told modeling hopeful Norma Jean, "You'd better learn secretarial work or else get married."
- Elvis Presley: In 1954, Jimmy Denny, manager of the Grand Ole Opry, fired Elvis after one performance. He told Presley, "You ain't goin' nowhere son. You ought to go back to drivin' a truck."
- Alexander Graham Bell: When he invented the telephone in 1876, it did not ring off the hook with calls from potential backers. After making a demonstration call, President Rutherford Hayes said, "That's an amazing invention, but who would ever want to use one of them?"
- Thomas Edison: He was one of the greatest inventors in American history. When he first attended school in Port Huron, Mich., his teachers complained that he was "too slow" and hard to handle. As a result, Edison's mother decided to take her son out of school and teach him at home. In his lifetime, Edison produced more than 1,300 inventions.
- Franklin D. Roosevelt: Paralyzed by polio at 39, he went on to become one of America's most beloved and influential leaders. He was elected president of the United States four times.
- Julia Child: In 1953, she and her two collaborators signed a publishing contract to produce a book tentatively titled French Cooking for the American Kitchen. Julia and her colleagues worked on the book for five years. The publisher rejected the 850 - page manuscript. Child and her partners worked for another year totally revising the manuscript. Again the publisher rejected it. But Julia Child did not give up. She and her collaborators went back to work again, found a new publisher, and in 1961—eight years after beginning—they published Mastering the Art of French Cooking, which has sold more than 1 million copies.
- Douglas MacArthur: He might never have gained power and fame without persistence. When he applied for admission to West Point, he was turned down, not once, but twice. But he tried a third time, was accepted and marched into the history books.
- Abraham Lincoln: He entered the Blackhawk War as a captain. By the end of the war, he had been demoted to the rank of private.
