September Birthstones

Sapphire

The September birthstone is sapphire –The lustrous beauty of sapphire has been a popular staple in the jewelry world since at least the Middle Ages. Although most people know sapphire as a gorgeous blue color, there are a variety of other colors, including pink, black, and gray. There are even colorless sapphires and a pinkish orange version called padparadscha.

Sapphire itself is one of two gem varieties of corundum, the other being ruby. These beautiful gems are far-reaching and have been found everywhere from Australia to Vietnam. Although the geographic origin of a sapphire doesn't necessarily guarantee its level of quality, the sapphires that fetch the highest premiums often come from the Kashmir, as well as Sri Lanka and Madagascar.

September is the ninth month of the year and has 30 days. It marks the beginning of autumn in the Northern Hemisphere and spring in the Southern Hemisphere. Notably, it's named after 'septem', the Latin term for seven, as it was originally the seventh month in the Roman calendar.

The month sees a change in foliage in the Northern Hemisphere, as leaves start to turn into beautiful autumnal colors.

September Awareness

There are several awareness celebrated in September — though the five that often get the most attention include Blood Cancer Awareness Month, National Alcohol & Drug Addiction Recovery Month, Library Card Sign-up Month, National Suicide Prevention Awareness Month, and World Alzheimer’s Disease Month.

Blood Cancer Awareness Month, a time to honor the 1.5 million people in the U.S. living with or in remission from blood cancers. For all those impacted by cancer, every minute matters—whether it’s racing against time to find the right treatment, achieving remission, or savoring quality moments with friends and family.

National Recovery Month began in 1989 under the name of Treatment Works! Month, to honor the hard work of addiction professionals. Then in 1998, it was decided to rename the event National Alcohol and Drug Addiction Recovery Month in an effort to honor not only the work of healthcare professions in the addiction field, but to also draw attention to the work of individuals suffering from substance use disorder.

September is National Suicide Prevention Awareness Month. National Suicide Prevention Week is September 4 – 10, 2022, with World Suicide Prevention Day on the 10th. Throughout the month, and especially during the week of September 4, individuals and organizations around the country have plans to highlight the problem of suicide and advocate its prevention.

Suicide is a national health problem and currently ranks as the second leading cause of death for ages 10-45. Suicide is also one of the most preventable types of death in our nation.

Throughout the United States, suicide prevention organizations, including The Jason Foundation, will be facilitating prevention and awareness events.

World Alzheimer’s Month in September is such an important observance.

Alzheimer’s disease is the most common form of dementia, affecting about 6 percent of people 65 and older. Although it may seem like just a typical disease for older people — it is, in fact, not a normal part of aging. Scientists don’t know what causes Alzheimer’s, but they suspect it’s a combination of many factors. The disease affects parts of the brain that control memory, thought, and language. There is no cure, but experts think that lowering blood pressure, exercising, and not smoking may reduce the risk.

September Recipes For Fall

Fall Kale and Sausage Pasta Bake

INGREDIENTS

- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 yellow onion finely diced
- 3 garlic cloves finely minced
- ½ lbs. Italian sausage ground
- 14.5 oz tinned tomatoes diced
- ¼ teaspoon red pepper flakes optional
- ¼ cup basil finely chopped
- 1 cup kale leaves removed from stem
- ½ cup mozzarella cheese
- 4 basil leaves extra, roughly torn
- 1 cup penne pasta

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Cook penne according to packet instructions
2. Preheat oven to 400F/200C
3. Heat olive oil in an ovenproof skillet over medium to high heat
4. Add onion, sauté 4 to 5 minutes
5. Add garlic and sauté 1 minute
6. Add ground sausage, and fry until lightly browned. Use a spoon to gently crush the ground sausage into smaller chunks.
7. Add tomatoes and red pepper flakes if using, ¼ cup of the finely chopped basil and salt and pepper to taste.
8. Reduce heat to low and gently simmer 10 minutes until the sauce thickens slightly.
9. Strain penne and add to skillet. Stir through the kale.
10. Sprinkle with the mozzarella cheese
11. Bake in oven 10 minutes, or until cheese starts to melt and brown slightly.
12. Serve with the additional roughly chopped basil

Apple Cider Cocktail

- 2 ounces apple cider I prefer unfiltered
1/2-ounce lemon juice
3 ounces ginger beer recommended: Fever Tree
OPTIONAL: 1/2-ounce orange liqueur recommended: Grand Marnier
or Cointreau; I do not recommend triple sec; it's just too sweet
Garnish: Cinnamon stick apple slice, spring of thyme

The hitchhiker

A hitchhiker caught a ride. As soon as the hitchhiker sat down in the front seat the driver floored the gas pedal and drove right through a red light.

Frightened, the hitchhiker said, “You oughtn’t do that—it’s dangerous.”

The driver looked over at the new passenger and said earnestly, “Why, that’s the way my brother always drives.”

They continued on and when they came to the next traffic light, it was red, and the driver didn’t as much as pretend to slow down. He barreled right through the intersection. Other cars slammed on their brakes to keep from hitting the red-light-running car.

By this time the hitchhiker was starting to lose his temper, “What are you trying to do—kill us? You’re driving like a maniac.”

Again, the driver answered in a sincere fashion and said, “My brother always drives exactly like this.”

They continued down the road, and as they approached the next traffic light, it turned green just as they were about to go through it. Suddenly, the driver slammed on the brakes and stopped the car immediately.

Beside himself, the hitchhiker said, “Why on earth are you driving like this. Why are you running all the red lights and stopping on green?”

The driver looked at the hitchhiker and said: “My brother might be coming through.” — adapted from “Bad driver;” as told by Ivan Amburgey, in Laughter in Appalachia, by Loyal Jones and Billy Edd Wheeler

The sawmill

There was once a sawmill worker who bent down, got too close to the saw and cut his ear off. The ear fell down into the pile of sawdust and disappeared.

The worker got down into the sawdust pit and started scratching around looking for his ear.

I walked by and saw my worker in the pit and I asked, “What you looking for?”

The worker said, “I cut my ear off and I’m down here looking for it.”

“Well, hang on,” I said. “I’ll come down and help you.” I got down into the pit and started feeling around in the sawdust and I found the ear. “I got it,” I called out. “Here it is.”

The worker took hold of the ear and looked at it closely, then he threw it back down in the sawdust. “Better keep on looking,” he said. “Mine had a pencil behind it.” — adapted from “Wrong ear;” as told by Glen Baker, in Laughter in Appalachia, by Loyal Jones and Billy Edd Wheeler
