Golf Cart and Bicycle Parade

Char Franco

It's almost here – our annual Christmas Golf and Bicycle Parade on Saturday, December 2. Our lineup will start at 5:30 pm at the Clubhouse and the parade will start at 6:00 pm. If you are not a participant, please stop by to see (and take some pictures) of the beautiful work everyone does on their carts and bicycles. The golf carts and bicycles will not be able to stop during the parade, as it takes approximately 1 to 1½ hours to complete the whole park. We will also have an after-parade party at the Clubhouse. Everyone is asked to bring a Christmas type dessert to share. Beverages and snacks will be provided. Sign-up sheet is posted on the bulletin board in the Clubhouse for the parade and party. Hope to see a great turn-out this year! Any questions, please contact me #645

Shuffleboard Club News

Martha Russell

WELCOME HOME! Following is the latest information we have regarding the 2023/2024 season.

Sunshine League – Dean Hart, Pres. – Donovans (posted on the bulletin board), Kris Wechter (Captain), Glenn Russell (Co-Captain) – for now.

Blue Sky League - Roger Kydd, Pres. – Sunset Palms (early Dec – tbd), Glenn Russell (Captain), Martha Russell (Co-Captain).

It is apparent that we are going to have to again adjust schedules for the 2023/2024 season. At this point everything is fluid. However, our shuffle courts are open and have been maintained beautifully by the Fairway Village maintenance crew. Some maintenance work is on schedule to be completed prior to December 1st, when the windows will be installed.

We will be ascertaining who will be back to competitive shuffling ASAP. Upon your return to FV, please notify Glenn Russell as to your intentions; (#448) or call number in phone directory.

Changes to 2023/2024 season: there will be NO Monday Ulmerton League, as it has disbanded. Thus, there will only be Wednesday (Sunshine League and the one (1) team on Friday's (Blue Sky League).

Social Shuffle will be determined when enough shufflers have returned. Pinellas Park is open to shuffle (contact for details), Clearwater Shuffle Club (contact for details).

Cal Morris Live

Nancy Whitford

Cal Morris is a violinist and musician who splits his time between both coasts, and his childhood home is Oklahoma. So, it will not surprise you that he was booked for Fairway Village nearly a year ago. I had the pleasure of being at one of his venues back in 2017, and all 240 guests purchased his CD, he is that good.

The very next year, Cal was diagnosed with a rare blood cancer (MDS-Myelodysplastic Syndrome). After a very long four-year battle with cancer and chemo, bone marrow transplants from his brother Micah, and near death in ICU, his life was saved and he returned to music.

Cal taught himself how to play the piano with his twin brother at the age of six and immediately fell in love with the magic of music. At age thirteen they decide to pursue violin and a few months later Dr. Hong Zhu from the University of Central Oklahoma heard him play. He wanted to take them on as classical students, and they wanted to learn as much as they could.

Cal is a classically trained violinist with a deep love of symphony orchestra and cinematic soundtracks, mixed with a modern millennial and current music. “The Instrument Is the Singer” and you will most certainly not be disappointed. Please join us on January 27, 2024 from 7 to 8:30 pm in the main hall for an outstanding performance! The ticket price is $8.00 and ticket sales will begin on January 11th.

10 Ways to Cope with a Shortage of “Jolly” During the Holidays.
Feeling blue during the holidays? You’re definitely not alone! Yet no matter the cause, you can take actions to improve your mood, and maybe even create a little enjoyment along the way. Here’s some ideas to try:

First, care for yourself as you would a dear friend.

1. Tell yourself it’s okay to feel sad or lonely during the holidays. Accepting your emotions is the first step in dealing with them. Avoid unrealistic views shown on social media.
2. Reduce holiday-related stress by having realistic expectations, setting a budget, making a to-do list, and delegating tasks when possible. Guard your self-care time as sacred.
3. Stay active: Physical activity releases endorphins, which can help improve your mood. Go for a walk, try a new exercise class, find some music or a hobby that brings you joy.
4. Maintain a healthy diet, including plenty of fresh vegetables. Avoid overindulging on sugary treats, greasy food and alcohol, which mess with your gut and make you sick.
5. Practice relaxation techniques like meditation, deep breathing, and mindfulness exercises. These help you manage stress, balance hormones, and embrace each moment as a gift.

Next, get out of your head (and your house if possible!).

6. Connect with friends and family members, whether in person or virtually. Giving and receiving support can be a great source of comfort and joy. Don’t be shy, “give to get”.
7. Let go of traditions that cause stress. Create new rituals or traditions that align with your current circumstances and give meaning to your holiday, maybe even inject a bit of mirth.
8. Get out and volunteer to help someone else. Having a sense of purpose and connection is one of the best ways to boost your mood. Find a local charity that needs help.
9. Focus on what you can be grateful for in life, even the tiniest thing. At the end of a day, write down at least three things that made your heart happy that day. Make it a habit!
10. Think ahead and plan an event to look forward to after the holidays- maybe a little solo trip or an outing with a friend. Give yourself the gift of joyous anticipation.

Try these tips, you’ve got nothing to lose but the blues! If the blues continue to overwhelm you despite all your efforts, don’t hesitate to reach out to a mental health professional for further guidance and support.

Do we really want to have the Midas touch?

In modern times, the name Midas is associated with someone who has such good luck that everything seems to go his or her way—and they become rich without even trying. But the original meaning of the King Midas story was very different.

Midas was the king of Phrygia, according to Edith Hamilton’s classic book Mythology. Phrygia was the land of roses, and Midas maintained large, beautiful rose gardens near his palace.

One day, the old man Silenus wandered off from Bacchus’ caravan because he was intoxicated. The rotund and aging drunkard was found passed out in a bower of roses near the palace. The servants, having a little fun, bound him with garlands of flowers and crowned him with a wreath of roses and took him stumbling and looking ridiculous to King Midas as a great joke.

Midas welcomed Silenus and entertained him for two days. Then the king led the old man back to Bacchus, the god of wine and intoxication, where he belonged. Bacchus was so glad to get Silenus back that he told Midas that whatever wish he made would come true.

Without giving the matter any thought, Midas immediately wished that whatever he touched would turn to gold. Bacchus, being a god, of course, immediately saw the folly of the king’s wish, but granted it anyway.

Then Midas sat down at his table to take his dinner, but as he lifted his food to his lips he saw that it had become a lump of metal. Frightened, and beginning to suffer from hunger and thirst, he was forced to hurry off to Bacchus again and beg him to take the favor he had been granted back. Bacchus instructed the king to wash in the source of the river Pactolus and he would lose the fatal gift. The king did so, and that is why, they say, that gold was found in the bed of that river.

And what are we to take from this tale? Midas was not able to profit from his riches because he had committed a folly, which was just as fatal as sin. Even though the poor king meant no harm, he had failed to use his intelligence, and because of that he faced certain doom, had he not begged the gods to rid him of what he had asked for.

The story tells us that failing to use our intelligence can bring us to ruin just as quickly as wrongdoing. That being intoxicated with the so-called “riches” of our world can bring us down quickly, and the best course of action is to stop and think about the consequences of what we are about to ask or wish for.

On giving

Giving frees us from the familiar territory of our own needs by opening our mind to the unexplained worlds occupied by the needs of others.

— Barbara Bush

The habit of giving only enhances the desire to give.

— Walt Whitman
