Co-op Updates

By Al Noeller

Happy New Year and I hope that that you all had a great Holiday, Happy and Safe. The Co-Op update for December was missed and I would like to include some of those missed points.

Thank You to all resident volunteers for all their efforts for all those great activities that benefit our community. This is part of Paradise Island's uniqueness.

The community is looking good and is in good shape, lawns are being taken care of, streets are swept, the pool area restrooms have been refurbished, three new fans have been added to the pool area, and some painting around the clubhouse has been completed. The maintenance work order system is working, so if you see a maintenance repair needed, please report it on a maintenance request form submitted to the office, the office staff doesn't see your Facebook concerns. Please remember to get your planned exterior home improvements authorized before anything is ordered or work is scheduled. Alteration and maintenance forms are available at the office or on the PI website.

With most of our residents on site now and numerous family and friends coming to visit, Think Safety. Please remember the rules we have regarding things like parking (emergency access), guests need to be accompanied to the Clubhouse and Pool by a resident, pool hours for the young and general safety with the additional carts, cars and people walking on our streets.

We have successfully kept Paradise Island a very cost-effective beautiful resort community, with many amenities, while withstanding the rising housing costs and other economic conditions here in Pinellas County. The volunteers of this Board of Directors and previous boards have worked for years to keep Paradise Island as an affordable community for now and into the future.

Thank You to all residents for taking care of your homes, this benefits everyone.

Semi-Annual Flea Market

By Tiffani Neu

The Annual PI Flea Market is being resurrected! We are changing it to be bi-annual (every March and October). If you have ANY donations - furniture, household goods, collectibles, decor, kitchen items/appliances, etc. contact Liz or Tiffani. We might be able to pick some things up now. We may ask that you hold big items until we have enough space to store them.

Tiffani Neu, 713-922-9025 - Liz Neumann, 727-242-4597

SEEKING VOLUNTEERS: If you are interested in volunteering to help us pick up items, price items, run a bake sale, or work on the day of the flea market. contact Liz or Tiffani. We can't do this without our volunteers! All proceeds from the flea markets will be given to the PI Social Committee to use within our community.

Neighborhood Watch

By Nancy LaBelle

Happy New Year to All in Paradise!

Our meetings are held the 3rd Tuesday of every month at 10AM. Everyone is always welcome to attend. Officer Keith Bowling, our Largo PD liaison, is usually there to discuss concerns and plan upcoming events for the residents.

We can't stress enough to lock your vehicles. There always seems to be someone roaming the neighborhood, testing to find an unlocked car. DON'T BE A STATISTIC. Don't leave valuables in your car to tempt thief, and put away your valuables outside. Light carports. Use motion sensor lights.

Regarding COMPUTER VIRUSES! It has been suggested to us to put the word out to deal locally with actual brick and motor companies. On line "We can fix your computer" deals are very often FAKE and steal your money!

There has been an increase in motorcycle fatalities where no helmet was worn. Correct, it is not a Florida law. You should choose wisely.

Keep an eye out for upcoming events:

Senior Olympics and Golf cart/ bicycle registration.

Social Committee Update

By Diane Billman

Another holiday season in the books and we welcome in 2024 in style. Thanksgiving was a great success where we served approximately 220 residents and their relatives. 12 lucky people went home with either a gorgeous Poinsette or Christmas Cactus and another 10 people went home with $50 grocery gift cards. It was a day to give thanks for sure. All this was made possible by donations made by The Church in the Park, PI HOA and PI Social Committee. The Largo PD brought their Senior Empowerment program to us on Nov 29th and what a wealth of information they gave us. There are many programs available to Seniors in the Largo area. Next the ladies enjoyed decking out their tables for the Ladies Holiday Luncheon and enjoyed The Men's Club who cooked and served a delicious meal. When I say decked out, I mean they were absolutely creative and beautiful. At the time of this writing all I can say is I am sure we all had a great time at the Christmas Dinner/Dance. I believe it might have been our largest holiday event with 330 registered residents. We ran out of room and had to start taking a wait list. Not sure that has ever happened. We also partnered with the Largo PD to raise money to benefit High Point Elementary School ASD program. And last but not least we ended 2023 with a great New Year's Eve Dance and brought in 2024 in style! Our wish is that everyone had a joyous holiday season and let's make 2024 even better!

We welcome all the new residents of PI and encourage you to volunteer to help out at your favorite events. The Social Committee operates solely on volunteers and we appreciate your participation.

The Social Committee Board of Directors and Officers would like to wish everyone a Very Merry Holiday Season. May the time you spend with family and friends be filled with love, joy and happy memories!

If you can BE anything, BE KIND! Happy Holidays to all.

Christmas Dinner/Dance

By Ken Jonas and Diane Billman

Merry Christmas!

We were totally at full capacity 1.5 weeks before the Christmas Dinner/Dance. I think this is the first time this may have happened. At the time of this writing, we have 330 residents planning on attending. I am sure a fun time will be had by all listening and dancing to the music of Tom Davis. He always does a great job interacting with everyone. In the Spirit of the Holidays, we decided to partner with the Largo PD and raise money to benefit Largo High Point Elementary School ASD Program. These young students were in need of socks and underwear and hopefully our monetary donation will buy them everything they need. Another holiday season has come to an end and a New Year will soon be here! Thank you, PI residents, for making this the best community to live in.

VETERAN'S CORNER

By Bob Behm

Efforts are underway at the Department of Veterans Affairs to encourage nearly 3 million veterans to come into a VA medical center or clinic and receive a brief five-minute screening for possible exposure to environmental hazards. Under a requirement of the PACT Act, the VA must try to screen all patients enrolled in VA health care for toxic exposures. To date, it has screened 4.8 million veterans, 40% of whom have reported having at least one concern or experience with potential exposures. Next on the list, however, are the 3 million veterans who are enrolled at the VA but don't actually receive their medical care in a VA facility.

According to VA Under Secretary for Health Dr. Shereef Elnahal, the department will embark on an "extensive outreach effort" to ensure that those veterans have the chance to be screened. Elnahal said that he is optimistic that the VA will succeed in the effort, given that the veterans already are enrolled in care and the department has at least some contact information for them. He hopes the effort will encourage the veterans to turn to the "VA for their health care more regularly," he added. "I hope that when they come into our brick-and-mortar institutions or otherwise get screened, they realize that we've got a team and set of teams across the country dedicated to veteran care," Elnahal said during a press call with reporters Monday.

The exposure screening process consists of a medical provider asking a patient a set of questions. Those include whether the patient thinks they were exposed to any toxic substances from burn pits, Agent Orange, radiation, contaminated water or other pollutants; what they think they may have been exposed to; and whether they have questions. The screenings are to be conducted at least every five years, with the results kept in the veterans' health records, according to the VA. Elnahal said that if a veteran has concerns about an exposure or a clinician believes the patient may have a condition related to an exposure, they will be "referred for further care." He could not provide information on whether the screenings have sparked any immediate specialty care referrals and if so, what type of care. But, Elnahal added, VA physicians are trained to understand the veterans' responses and the potential health effects of hazardous materials exposure. According to the department, 97% of its clinicians have completed PACT Act clinical training from the VA's War-Related Illness and Injury Study Center, which is a module for assessing deployment-related environmental exposures.

The PACT Act broadened health care services, disability compensation and benefits for an estimated 5 to 6 million veterans who served overseas during the post-9/11 wars, the first Persian Gulf War and the Vietnam War. The toxic exposure screenings are aimed at those at risk for illness as a result of exposure to burn pits, airborne particulate matter, chemicals such as Agent Orange, toxic water at Camp Lejeune in North Carolina and elsewhere, and other environmental pollutants. Elnahal said that the VA will make every effort to screen all its patients but, ultimately, it's the veterans' decision.

Joseph "Jody" Hochderffer
Lot 754
11/25/23

Jody died at his home on Saturday, November 25th. He is survived by his wife, Kelly. He and Kelly were married on October 31, 1989 and just celebrated 34 years of marriage.

Jody served in the Army and was stationed in Germany.

He and Kelly have lived in Paradise Island for 16 months. Jody was born and raised in Indiana and lived in Indianapolis prior to moving to Florida. He enjoyed watching the wildlife - birds, squirrels and even the alligators that showed up in the ponds from time to time. Another favorite thing was cheeseburgers from the kitchen on Bingo night.

A Memorial service was held in the Paradise Island Clubhouse, Fireplace room on Saturday, December 9, 2023.

Eddie Walas - October, 2023

Gloria Walas - November 26, 2023

Lot 388

Eddie passed away the first week in October and Gloria followed him on Sunday, November 26th. They were always together in life and are now together in death.

Gloria & Eddie lived here in Paradise Island for over 20 years before moving to a facility for additional care.

Eddie was in the Men's Club, received Man of the Year and loved spending time at the pool. Gloria was quite the dresser! She loved to tell jokes (some dirty) over & over. She played Bunko & Bingo. Together they attended many functions at the clubhouse.

There are no services planned here. May our friends rest in peace, together as always.

Please contact me, Dianna Gilmore at 303-748-6572 of any deaths you are aware of in our community. It is my honor to lower our community memorial flag and post notices on the flag board, the clubhouse and in the Monthly Media. Your calls to me will be greatly appreciated. Thank you!
