What some would view as obstacles can serve as great inspiration in life

Imagine being 12 years old and being blinded by a degenerative eye disease. That's exactly the situation that German-born Sabriye Tenberken faced, but the young woman has not let the fact that she is blind hold her back in life. To the contrary, she has used her personal experience to reach out to others across the globe by starting an organization called Braille Without Borders with her boyfriend, Paul Kronenberg.

According to a story on the Rugged Elegance Web site and the New York Times profile: "A German Voyager's Bold Vision for Tibet's Blind" by Jim Yardley, Tenberken went on a mission to Tibet to become one of "the blind leading the blind." There she set up the first school in the country for the blind. Tenberken, now in her 30s, says she wants to help blind people in developing countries, who are often considered out-casts, to shed their shame and gain confidence.

Tenberken says she faced a lot of naysayers when she was making her plans for Tibet. A lot of people didn't think she could do it. But the young woman, not only went to the country and started its first blind school, she also traveled on horseback to small villages, and created the first Tibetan Braille system.

In Tibet, blind children have often been relegated to dark rooms or tied to beds. But Tenberken inspired many of the families she visited, giving them hope that their children could not just survive, but could thrive independently.

Tenberken hasn't stopped there either. She now is in the process of launching an international training center in South India. There she hopes to train blind people from all over the world, especially from developing countries. She wants to help them develop management skills and communication skills to help fight poverty and do something meaningful for society. Tenberken has a goal: to touch the lives of the 161 million blind people of the world.

Tenberken told the NYT, that blind children would never be able to drive a truck. "But they can read and write in the dark," she said. "And who can do that?"

On patience

Patience serves as a protection against wrongs as clothes do against cold. For if you put on more clothes as the cold increases, it will have no power to hurt you. So in like manner you must grow in patience when you meet with great wrongs, and they will then be powerless to vex your mind.

— Leonardo da Vinci

Do not trust all men, but trust men of worth; the former course is silly, the latter a mark of prudence.

— Democritus

I used to think of all the billions of people in the world, and of all those people, how was I going to meet the right ones? The right ones to be my friends, the right one to be my husband. Now I just believe you meet the people you're supposed to meet.

— Diane Frolov and Andrew Schneider, Northern Exposure, The Quest, 1995

SCAM

Family Scams

Scammers are good at pretending to be someone that they're not. They try to trick you into thinking a loved one is in trouble.

Once the scammer makes you think they're your grandson and in trouble, they pressure you to quickly send them money. But it's all a scam.

Your family member was never in trouble.

- The scammer will say it's urgent and that you're the only one who can help.
- The scammer might tell you it's important to keep it secret. They don't want you talking to other family members and friends and realizing it's a scam.
- The scammers will play with your emotions. They're counting on you to act quickly to help your family or friend. And they're counting on you to pay without stopping to check out whether there's really an emergency. If you get a call like this, you can be sure this is a scam.

Slow down. Verify.

Did You Know?

Halloween used to be called All Hallows' Eve. All Hallow's Day, also known as All Saints day, was a Christian festival. It was a day to remember the dead, especially saints. This is where Halloween came from - it was originally All Hallows' Eve (the day before All Hallow's Day). This then turned into Hallowe'en and is now just known as Halloween.

Late to work? This solution's a real pill

John was always late to work. His boss was getting fed up, but John told him that he didn't know why, but he just couldn't seem to get up on time to get to work. The boss was an understanding man and suggested that John see his doctor to find out if there was some kind of physical problem.

So John went to the doctor and told him that no matter what he couldn't seem to get up on time for work. The doctor gave him a pill and told him to take it before he went to bed. So John went home and took the pill.

When John woke up he noticed that he was two hours ahead of schedule. He felt great, so he got up showered and arrived at work well before starting time.

"Boss," he said, "that pill that the doctor prescribed for me actually worked."

"That's great," said the boss, "but where were you yesterday?" — adapted from AhaJokes.com

Grandparent and Family Scams

Here's how they work:

You get a call: "Grandma, I need money for bail." Or maybe an email from someone claiming to be your brother or a friend who says they're in trouble. They need money for a medical bill. Or some other kind of emergency. The caller says it's urgent — and tells you to keep it a secret.

But is the caller who you think it is? Scammers are good at pretending to be someone they're not. They can be convincing: sometimes using information from social networking sites, or hacking into your loved one's email account, all to make it seem more real. And they'll pressure you to send money before you have time to think.

Here's what to do:

1. Stop. Check it out. Look up your family member's phone number yourself and call another family member to check out the story.
2. Pass this information on to a friend. You may not have gotten one of these calls, but chances are, you know someone who will get one — if they haven't already.

How acupuncture works

More people in the mainstream are turning to alternative health therapies, and one of the most popular alternative therapies is acupuncture. For instance, St. Vincent's Hospital in Manhattan, a health care organization that serves nearly 600,000 patients each year, and The Chinese Medical Science Foundation, a non-profit organization whose mission is to integrate acupuncture with the Western medical system, have paired to provide acupuncture to rehabilitation patients. St. Vincent's rehab patients will now have access to free acupuncture treatments through the pro-gram, according to a news story on Acupuncture.com. The purpose of the program is to study and assess the benefits and problems with integrating acupuncture into a Western medical facility.

The National Health Institute's National Center for Complementary and Alternative medicine says that acupuncture originated in China more than 2,000 years ago and is one of the oldest and most common medical procedures in existence. A 2002 survey found that an estimated 8.2 million U.S. adults had ever used acupuncture, and 2.1 million U.S. adults used acupuncture in 2001.

And so with the growing popularity of acupuncture, many people may be asking the question: Just what is acupuncture and how does it work? According to The Longevity Center of Classical Chinese Medicine, this is how acupuncture works:

It strengthens the immune system by increasing T-cell counts. Some people believe this is why the treatment is effective for those who suffer from chronic fatigue syndrome.

It releases pain-killing endorphins, which also play a big role in the functioning of the hormonal system. This is why acupuncture often works well for those who suffer from back pain, arthritis, ulcers and PMS.

It releases endorphins, which helps the whole body to relax. The endorphins also regulate serotonin in the brain, which can affect moods, and which is why some forms of depression are treatable by acupuncture.

It breaks the cycles of muscle spasm, which can cause tightness in the muscles and unrelenting pain. Acupuncture increases circulation to the affected areas, which delivers needed nutrients for nerve and muscle healing.

It balances the energy of our bodies.

Acupuncture needles are as thin as human hair and once inserted are left in for an average of 20 to 40 minutes. Acupuncturists should use packaged sets of disposable needles.

Average treatments can run from one to 10 visits.

Acupuncture has no known side effects and does not usually cause pain.

Tips for Avoiding Facebook Scams

1. Secure your Facebook account with a strong password and two-factor authentication

Avoid including your name, phone number, email address or common words. Don't reuse your Facebook password on other services online, and never share your password with others.

2. Don't accept friend requests from people you don't know

Scammers may create fake accounts in an attempt to friend and manipulate people.

3. Watch out for suspicious links and malicious software

Be careful not to click on suspicious links, open suspicious files or install malicious apps or browser extensions—even if they appear to come from a friend or a company you know.

Manufactured Home Tie Down and Anchoring

Tie-downs anchor the home to the ground providing stability and protection against severe weather events.

Lic# IH/1149363

Tie-downs are important for the safety of manufactured homes, also known as mobile homes, because they stabilize the home during high winds. Strong winds can lift them up or cause them to roll over in a tornado or hurricane.

At United vapor barrier & floors we follow all of the 15C Florida regulations to provide safety and security to your home!
