FROM THE EDITOR

Linda Olone

Hello IITS!!

What a month we have had. I am so very happy that we got through this past month. (I'm writing this as of October 13th) First Helene, then Milton. Milton going down in history as the biggest hurricane ever. The velocity of the hurricane as it strolled through the gulf was frightening. This community came together as we were all going through this. To those that "rode it out" ... you are tough as hell and a little bit crazy! We will all be counting the days for hurricane season to be over. My deepest prayers go out to those who did not make out so well during this time. If we can help, please let us know.

I really would like to make this monthly media something everyone enjoys. I need your help to do that. Tell me what you want to see! Do you want to contribute an article or short story? Tell us a funny story about growing up, funny things your mother used to say, or something embarrassing. Come on let's have some fun! Let's chat or send it anonymously! You know my address...Lot 73.

What type of articles would you like... helpful, informative, just plain fun, or a little bit of everything? Do you like trivia games, more puzzles, word games? Have any ideas or suggestions? Feedback helps make this something you want to read every month!

Please send any articles, suggestions, or photos to me at linda.olone@gmail.com or stop by Lot 73. If you would like to be highlighted or have a resident event highlighted in an upcoming edition for any of our sections, please let me know.

Thank you - Linda Olone – linda.olone@gmail.com – 727-214-7334.

From the HOA president

Happy November Everyone! So happy everyone survived Helene and Milton and I'm hoping for a quiet November. I would like to thank everyone who helped each other through this. I can't name them all but I would like to call out Pattie and Mick McDonough for helping people to get their homes ready and take care of homes of people who were not here to do, I know there were many others and would love to thank you also! I would also like to thank Malissa St Clair, Diane Henriquez, David Kloczkowski, and Thomas Thostenson Zues for Photos and videos so people who evacuated could see their homes. For those who had major damages to your homes I am deeply sorry for the situation you were placed in. It was a rough month, but I was very happy to see the residents coming together to help each other, this is why I live here! The residents are the reason I and the negotiation team will take on Cal-Am come time! You are the greatest! Thank you all!

SCAM ALERT

Grandparent and Family Scams

Here's how they work:
 You get a call: "Grandma, I need money for bail." Or maybe an email from someone claiming to be your brother or a friend who says they're in trouble. They need money for a medical bill. Or some other kind of emergency. The caller says it's urgent — and tells you to keep it a secret.
 But is the caller who you think it is? Scammers are good at pretending to be someone they're not. They can be convincing: sometimes using information from social networking sites, or hacking into your loved one's email account, all to make it seem more real. And they'll pressure you to send money before you have time to think.

Here's what to do:

1. Stop. Check it out. Look up your family member's phone number yourself and call another family member to check out the story.
2. Pass this information on to a friend. You may not have gotten one of these calls, but chances are, you know someone who will get one — if they haven't already.

A First Thanksgiving in America for a Brand-New Brit

We arrived in the US in early November. We had rented a place outside of Mountain View in California. I had started high school as had my brother and what a culture shock for us all. Anyway, thanksgiving was coming up although we had no idea what it was. Mum came home from work a few days before saying that she has a gift certificate for a free turkey for Thanksgiving. We were confused but happy for the free turkey. This was pre the internet and cell phones. This was encyclopedia Britannica time and we did not have one of those because our trunks that shipped our belonging from England to the US held minimal space for belongings so much was left behind.

Back then in England, turkeys were more like chickens and we did not eat them often. So Mum and I head off to the supermarket on foot to get this free turkey. The supermarket was about a mile or so from the house and being fresh from England, we walked there. We did not take the shopping cart because it was just on little turkey. It was a beautiful California day and we had a lovely walk up and down hills to the supermarket. And then.... Shock!!

All we found were these huge turkeys that were frozen solid!! We stared at them in horror and dismay!! They were unbelievable and we had to get one home!!! They did not freeze meat in England so we were doubly shocked. So we chose the smallest one we could find – about 12 pounds and bought it with the gift card. They put it in a bag and off we went home. Now we had a solidly frozen turkey that weighed a ton and we had to carry it back in our hands and arms. It was so damn cold!! We were not even wearing jackets!! We would keep passing it back and forth as each of us got frozen chest, arms and hands. We could see the funny side of the whole thing and so we giggled and laughed at ourselves. Could we just kind of roll it down the hill maybe??? No, we discarded that notion as unsanitary. At one point we thought about leaving it on someone's doorstep.. but discarded that notion too. We kept wondering why we should be thankful for a turkey. We certainly did not feel very thankful. Did other people carry frozen turkeys home? But no because they all knew about the giant frozen turkeys and probably drove everywhere anyway because we did not pass anyone else walking.

We finally got the damned free frozen giant turkey home. We thawed it out and we cooked it on Thanksgiving as we found out we were supposed to. We had no idea why still but we did enjoy the turkey with our mashed potatoes and veggies. And so passed out first American Thanksgiving, a fun memory of our new home for sure.

Weird Thanksgiving Traditions....

Turkey Bowling

In 1988, Derrick Johnson, a grocery clerk at a Newport Beach branch of Lucky's grocery store, invented turkey bowling, according to People. He told the magazine he saw a manager slide a turkey on the floor and accidentally knocked down a bottle of soda. Thus the idea was born. He appointed himself commissioner of the Poultry Bowlers Association and set about organizing the sport. Since then, people have taken to the sport and have made turkey bowling into a tradition. Johnson claimed that the association had about 2,000 members back in 1990.

To play turkey bowling, one needs to be playing in a grocery aisle. They have to choose a sizeable turkey, usually a 12-pounder and aim it towards 10 unopened soda bottles acting as bowling pins. Though some people still play turkey bowling, it is generally frowned upon by grocery managers, particularly if you decided to play around Thanksgiving when harried shoppers are trying to find a few more dishes to serve their families.

Turkey Trot

Yes, most Thanksgiving traditions have to do with turkeys; we just have to live with it. And that is why there's something called a Turkey Trot. No, it's not a race for unassuming turkeys to walk down a street. The Las Vegas Turkey Trot is an annual charity fun run, explained Trek America. It's a three to five-mile run where people run to raise money. And, as Thrillist wrote, most people who participate in the Turkey Trot do it in style. The majority of runners like to dress up as turkeys. After all, what better way to burn off all those calories and all that tryptophan than by dressing up as the thing you just inhaled.

Turkey Toss

Alas, dressing up as turkeys isn't even the worst thing we as people do to them. Sometimes we light them up on fire and throw them to see how far they can go. Welcome to the Turkey toss, an annual tradition in Indianapolis recalls Thrillist. It's a waste of food, but some participants don't just toss the turkey; they put baby clothes on them and set them on fire before throwing them. Very concerning but highly entertaining.

Turkducken

But nothing will be more bizarre than the abomination people call a Turducken. It's turkey, stuffed with duck, that's stuffed with chicken. Even though there are dozens of delicious foods on a table, people just want to play with their food. And hey, as Trek America said, some people like it.

25 Senior Discounts You Probably Don't Know About, But Should

While we all love to moan about aging, there's a clear perk to getting older: senior discounts. They can be hard to find, but many of your favorite restaurants, stores and services offer them, if you pay close attention. (Or if you stick with us!)

1. Amazon Prime - Amazon offers up to 50% off a monthly Prime membership for seniors who receive government assistance, including Medicaid and Supplemental Security Income (SSI).
2. Papa John's - AARP members get 20% off online orders. Better Ingredients. Better Pizza. Better Prices. See what we did there?
3. Marriott - Anyone 62 and older is eligible to save at least 10% on a Marriott hotel stay.
4. IHOP - Hey, pancake lovers: IHOP offers a 55+ Menu, with discounted prices for customers who are — you guessed it — 55 years or older. (Some items, like the pancake and egg combo, are nearly 20% off!)
5. DoorDash - If you prefer delivery, DoorDash offers AARP members 25% off their first order of $15 or more. Visit AARP's website for details on how to redeem the coupon.
6. Walgreens - The first Tuesday of every month is Senior Day at Walgreens. Customers 55 and up who are enrolled in the MyWalgreens rewards program can get up to 20% off their purchase, which includes everything from toiletries to snacks. The discount is also available for online shoppers, and it usually lasts for the first week of every month.
7. Kohl's - Shoppers 60 and up can stop by any Kohl's location on Wednesdays to get 15% off select brands.
8. T-Mobile - Customers ages 55+ can sign up for one of T-Mobile's discounted senior plans, which gives users two unlimited lines starting at $60 a month. Some of the plans also include perks like subscriptions to Apple TV+ and Netflix, as well as a complimentary AAA membership.
9. Amtrak - All-board! Amtrak offers a 10% off discount on most rail fares for passengers 65 and older. Take this as your sign to book your next train trip!
10. Hertz - Once you arrive at your destination, save money on your car rental. Drivers over 50 can score up to 20% off base rates when renting a car through Hertz.
11. LensCrafters - AARP offers members steep discounts on glasses, including up to 50% off lenses, 30% off sunglasses and 10% off contact lenses. Members can also get their eyes checked for a $55 co-pay at participating locations.
12. Denny's - Breakfast lovers, Denny's also has a discounted 55+ Menu, available whether you dine in or order online. (AARP members can also claim a 15% discount on Denny's menu items.) Heads up: Customers must show proof of age.
13. Chili's - Chili's offers seniors 10% off their check, excluding alcohol. Behold, your sign to try the new Big Smasher Burger.
14. National Parks Service Pass - Explorers, hikers and nature lovers, this one's for you! U.S. citizens 62 and older can purchase a Senior Annual Pass for $20 (or opt for a Senior Lifetime Pass for $80) that offers access to thousands of national parks and federal recreation sites, as well as discounts of up to 50% off select amenity fees. (For context, some standard individual daily park passes can cost up to $20 each.)

Talking Turkey

“Talking turkey” is an idiom that can refer to a number of things, including:

- Discussing end-of-life wishes

Families can use the phrase “talking turkey” to refer to conversations about how to plan for an older loved one's later years. These conversations can help reduce family stress and disagreements and can help ensure that everyone is on the same page about honoring their loved one's wishes.

- Talking frankly or seriously

The phrase can also mean to discuss something honestly and directly, often in a business context. For example, someone might say "Let's talk turkey about when you last paid your rent on time".

- A Thanksgiving tradition

The phrase may have originated from the pleasant experience of eating turkey with family during Thanksgiving.

- A turkey hunting event

The National Wild Turkey Federation hosts an event called “Talking Turkey” where turkey callers answer questions about turkey hunting and calling.
