WEATHER:

Hurricane season isn't over. Tropical threats could extend through November and possibly into December due to warm water temperatures. Don't get slack on your preparation plans. Make sure everyone knows your plan, have that emergency kit on hand, know your evacuation zone, stay informed, monitor the National Hurricane Center, and know the location of special care shelters.

AFTER HURRICANE HELENE:

In the wake of the devastation caused by Hurricane Helene, our amazing Harbor Lights family truly came together to support one another. There have been so many amazing volunteers, hard workers, disaster relief personnel, and so many others it's hard to recognize them all.

Our park was decimated. Many homes were completely destroyed, so many flooded with over 3 foot of water inside, no electricity, no air conditioning in sweltering heat, and so much more. Those homes left standing are mostly uninhabitable, and many of our residents have lost everything they had.

Roots was here on the spot with a disaster relief team removing furniture, flooring, appliances, all types of debris placed curbside and removed. They are doing a wonderful job keeping our streets passable. They provided food and water. They held a great meeting that not only provided needed information, but valuable reassurance to our residents as well. The appreciation to Roots and this relief team cannot be expressed enough. THANK YOU TO BOTH.

The people in this community have been amazing, helping one another, canvassing the area to see what people needed. Food was donated, prepared throughout the day, and driven around on golf carts to everyone on each street that needed or wanted it. Others prepared food at their homes offering people to stop by, take a break and enjoy a meal. Houses were offered to residents that don't have a place, beds were offered to sleep, showers were available, and laundry was being done for residents. THANK YOU TO ALL.

The hard work of the volunteers did not go unnoticed, even those serving behind the scenes. Profound appreciation goes out to everyone who gave of their time, physical help, homes, donated money and food, and endless ways of showing support. Each one of you touched the lives of the residents that were pushed to their limit, both physically and mentally.
