SCAVENGER HUNT WINNER!

From Jo Haslitt

Congratulations go out to Esther Cox, Lot 201 for winning the Christmas Scavenger Hunt! She won a $50.00 gift card for Winn Dixie, supplied by Kingsley.

A big thank you to Harriet for proof-reading and typing the search list.

FEBRUARY HAPPENINGS

Sunday, February 2nd is National Groundhog Day each year asks the questions: Will he see his shadow? Will there be six more weeks of winter? Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, has hosted the annual Groundhog day event, where Punxsutawney Phil looks checks if he sees his shadow. This day is celebrated each year in the United States and Canada. Make your own prediction for National Groundhog Day.

Monday, February 10th is National Clean Out Your Computer Day to organize, de-clutter, remove old files, run updates and clean up you computer(s). We tend to save emails, documents, and photos on our hard drives when other media can store them for us. Old programs also create havoc and waste space. Make sure you are using the latest versions of programs and operating systems.

Friday, February 14th is Valentine's Day (began as St. Valentine's Day). During 18th century England, this day evolved into an occasion in which lovers expressed their love for each other by presenting flowers and candy, and sending Valentine cards.

Monday, February 17th, National Random Acts of Kindness Day has grown in his day encourages acts of kindness. Not only do the acts of kindness bring joy to the receiver, but they spread positive reactions to the giver, too!

Also on Monday, February 17th, the United States celebrates Presidents Day. This is the birth month of the country's two most prominent presidents, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. We celebrate this federal holiday with public ceremonies.

Friday, February 21st is National Caregivers Day which honors the healthcare professionals across the country providing long-term and hospice care.

Around the nation, dedicated healthcare professionals provide vital services, reassuring patients and the families who care about them. Often loved ones require care we are unable to provide due to our inability physically or not having the skills or means to provide the care. Their care enables the family to focus on their loved one's healing process. In hospice care, a caregiver allows the family to spend time with their loved one without worrying about medical responsibilities.

PARADE AND KARAOKE FUN

By Terri C

The Christmas Parade held on Saturday, December 21st was short and sweet but enjoyable, nonetheless.

Rather than a Talent Show, as originally considered, Christmas Karaoke with music by resident Frank Komar provided fun for the crowd. Frank had his favorite holiday sweater on.

Hot chocolate and hot cider was provided along with a variety of cookies and goodies (including some homemade jello shots) and homemade "Buckeyes" – chocolate covered balls of peanut butter, and "loaded" fudge were offered.

It was a group sing-a-long with "featured" singers including Tom O'Shea, Rick and Sharon Landon, Frank Komar, Terri Campbell and Bonnie Brown sang her own "re-worded" song of thanks to those participating... hilarious! Everyone enjoyed the fun and Christmas spirit.

A BIG THANK YOU goes out to Bonnie, Tom, Frank, Connie and all the volunteers and attendees who participated! Can't wait to do it again next year...

Thank you to Teresa Russell for the attached photos and singing for our table.

SOUTHWIND'S HOLIDAY SPIRIT

By Terri Campbell

A big THANK YOU to all residents who decorated our community for the 2024-25 Holiday season!

What a wonderful sight to see all the creative and festive artwork on display throughout Southwind this past season! Although there were no contests, prizes or rewards for decorating, the displays were most impressive and heart-warming, and they were all winners by making spirits rise for this occasion.

Resident Harriet Scherer went around and took pictures of 15 light poles that were decorated throughout Southwind. She printed out the pictures and posted them on a large photo board in the Clubhouse. Attached is a picture of her display board.

As you can see there were: Christmas stockings, candy canes, wreaths, reindeer, Santa, nutcracker, a red hand-crocheted/knit large Christmas tree, snowman, a sled filled with presents, shiny bright tinsel, a green light tree, garland, and silver bells, OH MY! Everything you can think of and more...

Thank you Harriet for capturing this beautiful display in pictures and sharing them with our fabulous community for all to see!

February is Heart Health Awareness Month

Help promote American Heart Month throughout February and National Wear Red Day on Friday, February 7th to bring greater attention to heart disease as a leading cause of death for Americans.

For more information or to take an online CPR & First Aid Class please go to: cpraedcourse.com

There is a link between dental health and heart health. People with dental infections are at higher risk of endocarditis (infection of the heart valve). February is a good month to get a Dental check up to prevent/ treat gum disease and cardiovascular risk factors.

Included in this issue of the Southwind Breezes, resident Harriet Scherer tells her personal story in the hope that she may help someone understand that the symptoms of a heart attack are different for women, than they are for men.

Thank you so much, Harriet, for your courage to tell others and your kindness to share your story!

Harriet's Heart What not me???

By Harriet Scherer

Having read an article on women and their hearts, I vaguely remembered that heart attack symptoms were different for men and women. The evening of November 5th, Greg and I had walked for mail and on the way home I noticed some pain and tingling in my hands and later heartburn which I contributed to some fried (but delicious) food.

On the morning of November 6th I awoke having some pain and tingling in my hands and generally not feeling my perky self. Shortly after getting out of bed I felt nauseous with pain creeping up my arms and into my shoulders. Immediately I knew it was a heart attack but hadn't showered yet. Being a diva and remembering a prior hospitalization several years ago which lasted five days, I quickly (and I mean QUICKLY) hit a minute shower. By this time the pain had intensified and was also radiating throughout my chest. With pressure both on my chest and across my shoulder blades, I let Greg know I was having a heart attack.

A very brief discussion ensued at whether to go to the ER or call an ambulance. Instinctively I knew this was not something to wait on (again remembering the article I had read that heart attacks are a silent killer for women). Palm Harbor EMS arrived within minutes; I was sweating profusely in pain and mostly unable to move. EMS administered a spray nitrol under my tongue while sweating profusely meant hooking up leads to my chest was nearly impossible but being the pro's they were able to get a read out which confirmed their suspicion and my suggestion of a heart attack. Loaded into the ambulance off to Mease Countryside and now experiencing a small dry cough, I had a massive heart attack. Five shots of nitrol later and my first ambulance ride was not forgettable. (By the way, nitrol gives you a major headache later in the day) I arrived at the ER to a surgical team which placed a stent into the aorta through my wrist.

I was lucky. I knew what the symptoms were for women and heart attacks. I had a full blood panel completed earlier in the summer with great results. I do have a family history of heart issues. I grew up in a land where cheese and salt were a daily staple. I had Greg who recognized my distress and EMS that were fast, efficient, and professional. I am in cardio rehab reteaching my heart to react to an exercise load. I am attending classes which are enabling me to choose to become more nutritionally heart healthy. I am on medication to prevent rejection of my stent and another to control my blood pressure. My new normal is to take my nitroglycerin with me everywhere I go.

I hope telling my story can help any woman reading this and any partner who cares for a woman to recognize the signals of a heart attack and quickly respond. I am lucky, thankful, and I am fortunate.

Groundhog Day is actually based on a German superstition? Instead of a groundhog, Germany uses a badger.

Americans spend over 18 billion dollars every year on Valentine's Day!

February is the most commonly misspelled word in the English language.

COLD WEATHER JOKES

Wife texts husband on a cold winter morning: “Windows frozen, won’t open.”
Husband texts back: “Gently pour some lukewarm water over it and then gently tap edges with a hammer.”
The wife texts back 10 minutes later: “Computer really messed up now.”

<https://humornama.com/jokes/winter-jokes/>

Which one is faster: hot or cold? Hot. You can catch a cold.
As I grow, I come closer to the ground. What am I? An icicle.
What do you call a skeleton that goes out in the snow? A numb-skull.

<https://www.rd.com/list/winter-jokes/>

What did the mitten say to the hand? I've got you covered.
Why is a sled always discouraged? It's continuously on a downward slide.
What did the black ice ask the car? Wanna go for a spin?
What is the best way to build a snow fort? I-gloo it together.
When is an igloo a bad investment? During global warming.
When does winter begin? When autumn leaves.
What has the best chance of surviving a fall? Snow.
Why should you invite an ice fisherman to your party? To help break the ice.
Why was the snowman looking through the carrots? He was picking his nose.
What type of beer is served in Iceland? Only drafts.
What do the elves eat for lunch in the North Pole? Cold cuts and chilly.
What song do you sing to honor a snowman? Freeze a jolly good fellow.
What do you call a snapshot from the North Pole? A polaroid.
How do you stay warm in any room during the winter? Go into a corner. It's always 90 degrees.

<https://parade.com/living/winter-jokes>

HOW COLD IS IT?

It's so cold that we didn't have to clean the house. We just defrosted it.

FLIRT WITH SOMEONE AND WARM THINGS UP:

It's so cold and I lost my scarf. Can I wrap you around me instead?
It's so cold outside, but you're so hot it's making me melt.
You're so cool if I wanted to get you off my mind, I'd need ice scrapers.
What would the opposite of a cold front be? The opposite is a warm back.

The art of cleaning out your closet

When you go to your closet to choose an ensemble are you overwhelmed by the choices? Do you have too many clothes? The better question might, in fact, be: Do you have too many clothes, most of which you would never be caught dead in but that you insist on keeping? If so, you may want to review your clothing philosophy, according to Don Aslett in Clutter be Gone!

Aslett recommends that before you make any more purchases, you think on these things:

- How much care is this garment going to require. Does it have to be pressed? Does it have to be dry-cleaned? Do you have the time and will to take care of this garment? If you ask yourself this question, you will avoid filling your closet with high-maintenance items.
- Are you hanging on to clothing that looked very good on you—10 or 15 years ago? Are you unable to let go of things you once thought were adorable, but you now think are silly? If so, you need to categorize these things as being obsolete for you now—and get rid of them.
- Is your closet filled with things you bought, but never wore? A skirt that was on sale, but a little too tight and you were going to lose weight to fit into it? A shirt that was beautiful, marked down—and a little too transparent for your taste—but what the heck, you were planning on becoming a little more risqué anyway?
- Do you have a lot of T-shirts that say things that embarrass you and you would never wear now. Are you emotionally attached to these items from your past?

Here are some guidelines from Aslett for cleaning your closet out:

- If you know it's not flattering on you, remove it from the closet.
- If it doesn't fit, remove it from the closet.
- If it's too complicated to wear, remove it from the closet.
- If it's too fragile to wear, remove it from the closet.
- If it's badly damaged, or missing something you won't replace, remove it from the closet.
- If it needs to be altered or repaired, remove it from the closet.
- If you wear it never or rarely, remove it from the closet.

Now sort these things, into three piles. One for cleaning and repairing. One to donate to your favorite charity. And one to pitch. When all is done, arrange what's left in your closet. Make sure that the only items you hang on to are ones you feel good in and wear consistently.
