Lighter Side

On love

Once you have loved someone, you'd do anything in the world for them ... except love them again.

— Anonymous

Love has the power of making you believe what you would normally treat with the deepest suspicion.

— Mirabeau

Three things can't be hidden: cough-ing, poverty and love.

— Yiddish proverb

To love is to suffer. To avoid suffer-ing one must not love. But then one suffers from not loving. Therefore to love is to suffer; not to love is to suf-fer. To suffer is to suffer. To be happy is to love. To be happy then is to suffer. But suffering makes one unhappy. Therefore, to be unhappy one must love, or love to suffer, or suffer from too much happiness. I hope you're getting this down.

— Woody Allen

On marriage

A lady of 47 who has been married 27 years and has six children knows what love really is and once described it for me like this: 'Love is what you've been through with somebody.'

— James Thurber

The people people have for friends Your common sense appall But the people people marry Are the queerest folk of all.

— Charlotte Perkins Gilman

On Valentine's Day

Sales Ad at a Store: 'You are my one and only' valentine cards, now on sale: 4 for $5. I feel bad for people who die on Valentine's Day. How much would flowers cost then, ten grand?

— Jay Leno

On hesitation

He who hesitates is a damn fool.

— Mae West

It's like magic. When you live by yourself, all your annoying habits are gone!

— Merrill Markoe

On time

Instant gratification takes too long.

— Carrie Fisher

February

February is a fascinating month with a lot of unique characteristics! Here are some interesting facts about February:

Shortest Month: February is the only month with fewer than 30 days. It has 28 days in common years and 29 days in leap years.

Leap Year: Every four years, February has 29 days instead of 28. This extra day is called Leap Day, and it helps synchronize the calendar year with the solar year.

Named After Purification: The name February comes from the Latin word "februum," which means purification. The ancient Roman festival of purification, Februa, was held on February 15.

Birthstone and Flower: February's birthstone is the amethyst, symbolizing piety, humility, and sincerity. The birth flowers are the violet and the primrose.

Historical Events: Many significant historical events have occurred in February, such as the founding of the Boy Scouts of America (February 8, 1910) and the signing of the Treaty of Paris, ending the Spanish-American War (February 6, 1899).

Zodiac Signs: February is associated with two zodiac signs: Aquarius (January 20 - February 18) and Pisces (February 19 - March 20).

Black History Month: In the United States and Canada, February is celebrated as Black History Month, honoring the contributions and history of African Americans.

Groundhog Day: Celebrated on February 2, this quirky tradition involves a groundhog predicting the weather for the next six weeks based on whether it sees its shadow.

A few famous people born in February:

Michael Jordan (February 17, 1963): Legendary basketball player and six-time NBA champion.

Abraham Lincoln (February 12, 1809): The 16th President of the United States, known for leading the country during the Civil War and abolishing slavery.

Steve Jobs (February 24, 1955): Co-founder of Apple Inc. and a pioneer of the personal computer revolution.

Rihanna (February 20, 1988): International pop star and entrepreneur.

Charles Darwin (February 12, 1809): Naturalist and biologist known for his theory of evolution by natural selection.

A woman wrote a letter to her husband: Dear Husband, I have decided to plant a garden this year. I will be putting the plants out directly. When do you think the best time to plant would be?"

The prisoner, knowing that the prison guards read all the mail replied to his wife: "Whatever you do. Do not touch the back garden. That is where I hid all of the money."

In about a week, the prisoner received another letter from his wife: "Dear Husband, You will not believe what has happened. Some men came with shovels to the house. They dug up the whole back garden."

The prisoner wrote another letter back: "Dear Wife, Now is the best time to plant the garden." —As retold From Eric's Clean Jokes

The trials of customer service

TECH: Hello, Friendly Internet. May I help you?

CUSTOMER: Oh, hello young man. I was wondering if you offer online banking?

TECH: We're an Internet service provider, ma'am. You can certainly use our service to connect to online banking.

CUSTOMER: What do I need to do that?

TECH: You just need the modem in your computer. That plugs into a phone jack. Sign up for an account, and sign up for online banking with your bank.

CUSTOMER: But where does the money come out?

TECH: I'm not sure I understand?

CUSTOMER: You know ... Does the money come out from that slot on the computer?

The kind of creativity you don't want in the workplace

A pharmacist comes back from his break and sees a man leaning against the wall, his face strained and nervous. He asks his assistant: "What's wrong with that man over there?"

"He came in looking for cough medicine," she replies. "I couldn't find any, so I gave him a whole bottle of laxatives."

"Oh great!" steamed the pharmacist. "He is going to sue us now. You don't give laxatives to a person with a cough!"

"Well," said the clerk defensively, "look at him. He's afraid to cough!"

On the power of words and their meanings

A policeman on patrol watched the car go zooming by and run right through a four-way stop sign. In response, the policeman turned on his light and pulled the motorist over. When the policeman began to write the ticket, the motorist protested. "What are you doing?" he said. "You can't give me a ticket for that!"

"Why not?" the officer asked.

"It's true, I didn't stop," the motorist admitted. "But I did slow down — and that's almost the same."

"But you didn't stop," the officer said. "And the sign clearly says 'STOP.'"

"But it was clear. Nothing was coming," the motorist replied.

The officer then proceeded to pull out his baton and start to hit the motorist.

"What are you doing?" yelled the motorist in surprise.

"Do you want me to slow down or STOP?" asked the officer. — As retold from Eric's Clean Jokes
