No one wants to do shoddy work

Charles Handy tells this story about his friend Richard in Waiting for the mountain to move: Reflections on work and life.

Richard was made head of a decent-sized business. “One of the first things I did,” he told Handy, “was to gather all the work force together. I told them that I was not going to stand for second-class work going out; we had to produce quality, to be the best. I expected grumbles, but instead they almost started to cheer.”

Richard reported the employees said: “You can’t imagine how ashamed we have been in the past of some of the stuff we have sent out these doors, but we were always told that we could not afford to do it better.”

“I’m telling you,” Richard said to the employees, “that we can’t afford not to do it better.”

The employees then told Richard that they needed some new equipment to do the job better, to which Richard replied, “Point taken. But it will take time. Give me some time.”

The moral: Doing your best and giving things time can solve some of even the most difficult problems.

A shave with death

Once, while actor John Barrymore was traveling in the Riviera, he realized he had undertaken the trip without his razor in his bag. Barrymore realized it was Sunday and the barbershops in town would be closed; he had a date to meet with the belle of the neighborhood and consulted frantically with the hotel manager in an attempt to find some way to rid himself of his two-days’ growth of beard.

“Can’t you find somebody in this town who will give me a shave?” he demanded.

Eventually the hotel manager produced a solemn-faced man. “I must ask you to lie flat on your back,” he said.

Barrymore figured it was a custom of the country to lie on your back while being shaved and he complied. The barber’s touch was so light that Barrymore even dozed while the work was being done. As he was paying, Barrymore remarked, “I can’t understand why you made me lie on my back.”

“Pure habit, sir,” the man replied. “This is the first time I ever shaved a live man.” — As retold from Laughter Incorporated, by Cerf Bennett

On breakfast

I went to a restaurant that serves “breakfast at any time.” So I ordered French Toast during the Renaissance.

— Steven Wright

April Fools' Day

April Fools' Day is celebrated on April 1st each year and is known for its tradition of playing practical jokes and hoaxes on others. Here are some interesting aspects of this fun day:

Origins and History

- Ancient Roots: The exact origins of April Fools' Day are unclear, but it is believed to date back to ancient Roman and Celtic festivals that involved playful behavior and pranks.
- Calendar Change Theory: One popular theory suggests that April Fools' Day began in the 16th century when France switched from the Julian calendar to the Gregorian calendar. Those who continued to celebrate the New Year on April 1st, instead of January 1st, were called "April fools".

Traditions and Customs

- Pranks and Hoaxes: People play jokes on friends, family, and colleagues. These pranks can range from simple tricks to elaborate hoaxes.
- Media Involvement: Newspapers, radio, TV stations, and websites often participate by publishing fake stories or reports to fool their audiences.

Famous Pranks

- Spaghetti Tree Hoax: In 1957, the BBC aired a segment about Swiss farmers harvesting spaghetti from trees, which fooled many viewers.
- Taco Liberty Bell: In 1996, Taco Bell announced it had purchased the Liberty Bell and renamed it the "Taco Liberty Bell," causing a stir before revealing it was a joke.

Modern Celebrations

- Global Participation: April Fools' Day is celebrated in many countries around the world, each with its own unique twist on the tradition.
- Digital Pranks: With the rise of social media, many pranks now take place online, with companies and individuals sharing humorous and often believable fake news.

Absurdity

Absurd: A statement or belief manifestly inconsistent with one's own.

— Ambrose Bierce

On common sense

Common sense ... is very uncommon.

— Lord Byron

Judging by common sense is merely another phrase for judging by first appearances; and everyone who has mixed among mankind with any capacity for observing them knows that the men who place implicit faith in their own common sense, are, without any exception, the most wrongheaded and impracticable persons with whom he has ever had to deal.

— John Stuart Mill

Did You Know?

April Fools' Day was started in France in the 1500s?

The famous quote, "Houston, we've had a problem!" occurred on April 11, 1970?

April celebrates the birth of Queen Elizabeth II, Leonardo da Vinci, William Shakespeare and Thomas Jefferson?

SCAM ALERT

Romance Scams

www.fbi.gov/how-we-can-help-you/scams-and-safety/common-scams-and-crimes

Romance scams occur when a criminal adopts a fake online identity to gain a victim's affection and trust. The scammer then uses the illusion of a romantic or close relationship to manipulate and/or steal from the victim.

The scammer's intention is to establish a relationship as quickly as possible, endear himself to the victim, and gain trust. Scammers may propose marriage and make plans to meet in person, but that will never happen. Eventually, they will ask for money.

If someone you meet online needs your bank account information to deposit money, they are most likely using your account to carry out other theft and fraud schemes.

Tips for Avoiding Romance Scams:

- Be careful what you post and make public online. Scammers can use details shared on social media and dating sites to better understand and target you.
- Research the person's photo and profile using online searches to see if the image, name, or details have been used elsewhere.
- Go slowly and ask lots of questions.
- Beware if the individual seems too perfect or quickly asks you to leave a dating service or social media site to communicate directly.
- Beware if the individual attempts to isolate you from friends and family or requests inappropriate photos or financial information that could later be used to extort you.
- Beware if the individual promises to meet in person but then always comes up with an excuse why he or she can't. If you haven't met the person after a few months, for whatever reason, you have good reason to be suspicious.
- Never send money to anyone you have only communicated with online or by phone.

Earth Day

Earth Day is celebrated annually on April 22 to demonstrate support for environmental protection. It was first observed in 1970 and has since grown into a global movement involving millions of people in over 190 countries.

Key Aspects of Earth Day

- Origins: The first Earth Day was organized by Senator Gaylord Nelson and activist Denis Hayes as a teach-in to raise awareness about environmental issues in the United States.
- Global Impact: Over the years, Earth Day has expanded globally, mobilizing people to take action on various environmental issues such as climate change, pollution, and deforestation.
- Activities: Common activities include tree planting, clean-up drives, educational events, and advocacy campaigns. Many organizations and communities host events to promote sustainability and environmental stewardship.

Earth Day 2025 Theme

The theme for Earth Day 2025 is “Our Power, Our Planet”, focusing on renewable energy and the goal to triple the global generation of clean electricity by 2030. This theme encourages everyone to take action by educating, advocating, and mobilizing for a sustainable future.

On nature

All things share the same breath — the beast, the tree, the human ...

What are people without the beasts?

If all the beasts were gone, people would die from a great loneliness of spirit.

— Chief Seattle

In nature there are neither rewards nor punishment — there are consequences.

— Robert Ingersoll

Looking for a soul mate who's a little offbeat?

The London Review of Books is known for its quirky and eccentric personal ads section, according to Buzzy Jackson in his review of They Call Me Naughty Lola, a collection of the ads, on the Salon Web site.

Here are a few examples gleaned by Jackson:

- “My finger on the pulse of culture, my ear to the ground of philosophy, my hip in the medical waste bin of Glasgow Royal Infirmary. 14% plastic and counting — geriatric brainiac and compulsive NHS malingering fool (M, 81), looking for richer, older sex-starved woman on the brink of death to exploit and ruin every replacement operation I’ve had since 1974. Box 7648 (quickly, the clock’s ticking, and so is this pacemaker).”
- “Shy, ugly man, fond of extended periods of self-pity, middle-aged, flatulent and overweight, seeks the impossible. Box no. 8623.”
- “Things I won’t do for love include replacing corroding soil pipes and trepanning at home. Everything else is A-OK. Eager-to-please woman (36) seeks domineering man to take advantage of her flagging confidence. Tell me I’m pretty, then watch me cling, at box no. 3286.”
- “Reply to this advert, then together we can face the harsh realities of my second mortgage. M, 38, WLTM woman to 70 with active credit cards. Box no. 8624.”

A new hobby

A man decided that he needed a new hobby, so he took up skydiving. On his first solo jump he pulled the rip-cord at just the right moment—but nothing happened. His parachute would not open. Remembering his training he pulled the cord on his emergency chute, but that too, to his great dismay, was stuck and would not open. The man glanced down and saw the ground rushing toward him, and noticed a man hurling upward right at him.

“Hey,” he called out to the man on his way up, “Do you know anything about parachutes?”

“No,” the man called back. “Do you know anything about gas stoves?” — As retold from Good Clean Jokes, by Anne Kostick, Charles Foxgrover and Michael J. Pellowski

On being a philosopher

I’m a philosophy major. That means I can think deep thoughts about being unemployed.

— Bruce Lee

On nouvelle cuisine

Nouvelle Cuisine, roughly translated, means: I can’t believe I paid $96 and I’m still hungry.

— Mike Kalin
