Flag Day

It's just a piece of cloth, that is all it is, just a piece of cloth.
But when a little breeze comes along, it stirs up and comes to life, and flutters and snaps in the wind, all Red and White and Blue...

Then we realize that no other piece of cloth could be like it.
It has our whole life wrapped up in it.

The meals we enjoy, the time we spend with our family and friends.
The kinds of things we as Girls and Boys learned in school about that piece of Cloth.

The Stars on it, don't they make us imagine we are as free as the stars in the wide deep night?
The Stripes. They are the bars of blood to any dictator, who would try to change or break
Our way life.

It's just a piece of Cloth, until we put our Soul into It. Then it becomes the symbol of Liberty,
Decency and Empathy for the fair dealing of everyone. Until we all make it stand for everything
We believe in, and refuse to Live without it.

That piece of Cloth, I was taught, is a living representation of Our Country, and should Never be taken lightly.

To the Women and Men who have, who are, and will continue to defend these United States, under that piece of cloth, Our Nations Flag.
Thank you!

June Birthstones

June has three birthstones: pearl, alexandrite, and moonstone.

Pearls are the only gemstones made by living creatures. Mollusks produce pearls by depositing layers of calcium carbonate around microscopic irritants—usually a grain of sand, as it's commonly believed—that get lodged in their shells.

A relatively modern gemstone, Alexandrite was discovered in Russian emerald mines located in the Ural Mountains. Legends claim that it was discovered in 1834 on the same day that future Russian Czar Alexander II came of age, hence the name honoring him.

June's third birthstone, Moonstone, was named by the Roman natural historian Pliny, who wrote that moonstone's shimmery appearance shifted with the phases of the moon.

June Fun Facts & Recipes

June 1215 King John of England was forced to sign the Magna Carta, a document that established the principles of limited government and the rights of Englishmen, according to the Great Courses Plus.

June 1815 The Battle of Waterloo took place, marking the final defeat of Napoleon Bonaparte and ending his reign, according to History Extra.

June 1865:

Juneteenth, the anniversary of the emancipation of enslaved African Americans in the United States, is celebrated

The month of June comes from the Roman, or Julian, calendar. June was initially named Iunius. The name either comes from the Roman goddess Juno, wife of Jupiter, or from the word "iuniores", the Latin word for "younger ones". In the early Roman calendar June only had 29 days. It was Julius Caesar who added the additional day giving June 30 days.

June recipe from 1783

Florentine Rabbits

"Skin three young rabbits, but leave on their ears, and wash and dry them with a cloth. Carefully take out the bones, but leave the head whole. Lay the rabbits on the table and put in the following forcemeat: Take the crumb of a penny loaf, the livers shred fine, half a pound of fat bacon scraped, a glass of red wine, an anchovy, two eggs, a little winter savory, some sweet marjoram, thyme, and a little pepper, salt, and nutmeg. Having put this into the bellies, roll them up to the heads, skewer them with packthread, as you would a collar of veal. Wrap each in a cloth, and boil them an hour and a half, in a saucepan covered, with two quarts of water. Have ready a white sauce made of veal gravy, a little anchovy, the juice of half a lemon, or a tea-spoonful of lemon-pickle. Strain it, and take a quarter of a pound of butter rolled in flour, so as to make the sauce pretty thick. Keep stirring it while the flour is dissolving. Beat the yolk of an egg, put to it some thick cream, nutmeg, and salt, and mix it with the gravy. Let it simmer a little over the fire, but not boil, and pour it over the rabbits."
