FLORIDA ANCHOR AND BARRIER COMPANY

To our valued customers:

During the current times we wanted to let you know that we are taking as many precautions as we can to ensure not only our workers safety but yours as well. We check workers' temperatures each morning and have limited the amount of contact our crews have with each other. Our crews work in Tyvek suits with respirators which helps to ensure your safety as well as theirs.

As a company, we want your business and there is no need for any contact if you so choose. Our business is deemed an "Essential Business" and we are here for you when you need us. You can schedule your inspection by calling 1-800-681-3772.

Wishing you good health and safety,

August Daily

Lughnasadh, Aug. 1. A Gaelic festival marking the beginning of the harvest season.

Book Lovers Day, Aug. 9. An unofficial holiday observed to encourage bibliophiles to celebrate reading and literature. Put away your smartphone and pick up a book instead.

National Honey Bee Day, Aug. 15. An opportunity to celebrate honey bees, recognize their contribution to our everyday lives, and take steps to protect this important species for future generations.

World Orangutan Day, Aug. 19. This event is to help encourage the public to take action in preserving this amazing species.

National Dog Day, Aug. 26. National Dog Day celebrates all breeds and serves to help galvanize the public to recognize the number of dogs that need to be rescued each year.

What employees expect upon return

Seventy-two percent of employees are eager to get back to the office, according to the Human Resource Executive website. What do they expect when they walk through the door? Here's what they think employers might do:

- Seventy-nine percent expect their employer to provide disinfectant or hand sanitizer.
- Fifty-four percent expect employers to require masks and gloves in the office.
- Forty-five percent anticipate that employers will space workstations at least six feet from other co-workers.
- Thirty-eight percent expect their employer to check employees' temperatures upon arriving at work.

August Monthly

Black Business Month. Black business owners account for about 10% of U.S. businesses and about 30% of all minority-owned businesses. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, that amounts to approximately two million companies owned by African Americans. Support these businesses in August and all year round.

Children's Eye Health and Safety Month. Sponsored by the American Academy of Ophthalmology, which encourages parents to take children for an eye examination as part of their back-to-school checklist. In addition to immunizations and school orientations, it is highly recommended that children receive an eye examination before going back to school.

National Water Quality Month. The average person uses approximately 80 gallons of water or more per day for bathing, cleaning, household waste, and drinking. Protecting our water resources and educating ourselves about water quality is an important goal of National Water Quality Month.

Psoriasis Awareness Month. An opportunity to educate and inform sufferers on a range of topics varying from treatment, causes, triggers, and management of this inflammatory and often irritating disease. The cause of psoriasis is still unknown, but specialists do know that it is largely affected by the immune system and genetics

Weekly

World Breastfeeding Week, Aug. 1-7. The WBW 2020 campaign will focus on the impact of infant feeding on the environment/climate change and the imperative to protect, promote, and support breast-feeding for the health of the planet and its people.

International Assistance Dog Week, Aug. 2-8. Created to recognize all the devoted, hardworking assistance dogs helping individuals mitigate their disability related limitations. Its goals are to recognize and honor assistance dogs; raise awareness and educate the public about assistance dogs; honor puppy raisers and trainers; and recognize heroic deeds performed by assistance dogs in our communities.

Safe + Sound Week, Aug. 10-16. A nationwide event held each August that recognizes the successes of workplace safety and health programs and offers information and ideas on how to keep America's workers safe.

National Aviation Week, Aug. 16-22. Always occurring during the week of August 19, the date coincides with National Aviation Day, which celebrates Orville Wright of the Wright Brothers, who made the first flight for 12 seconds and 120 feet at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina on December 17, 1903.

TA great teacher for Bill Gates

When Microsoft founder Bill Gates attended Seattle's View Ridge Elementary, he was a typical nerdy 4th-grade introvert who kept to himself. However, a kindly librarian named Blanche Caffiere helped him into his own in a way that would one day change the world forever. Gates tells the tale on his blog:

"When I first met Mrs. Caffiere, she was the elegant and engaging school librarian at Seattle's View Ridge Elementary, and I was a timid 4th-grader. I was desperately trying to go unnoticed, because I had some big deficits, like atrocious handwriting ... and I was trying to hide the fact that I liked to read—something that was cool for girls but not for boys ... Mrs. Caffiere took me under her wing and helped make it okay for me to be a messy, nerdy boy who was reading lots of books."

Mrs. Caffiere encouraged Gates' passion for reading by helping him explore it through introspective questions, such as what he liked to read and why. She went out of her way to find books that were progressively more interesting and challenging for him. Once he'd read them, she would ask him if he liked what he had read, and more importantly, what he'd learned and why. "She genuinely listened to what I had to say," Gates recalls.

Blanche Caffiere passed away in 2006, shortly after reaching her 100th birthday—but not before Gates was able to thank her personally for the lasting impact her love and curiosity had on his life.

Problem

Two parents came to a counselor because they were having trouble with their 25-year-old son. The son had refused come to the counseling session with them. "He doesn't think he has a problem," the father said.

"Maybe he's right," the counselor said. "Tell me about it."

The son was having trouble staying in school and finding a job. He was using drugs, keeping questionable company, and avoiding responsibility in general.

The parents said they'd tried everything: Always making sure he had everything he needed, giving him plenty of money at college so he wouldn't have to work and he'd have plenty of time for study and a social life, and helping him find another college when he flunked out of his first one.

Finally, the counselor said, "I think your son is right. He doesn't have a problem."

The parents stared at him in shock. The father said, "Did I hear you right? You don't think he has a problem?"

"That's correct," the counselor said. "He doesn't have a problem. You do. He can do whatever he wants. You pay, you plan, you exert energy to keep him going. He doesn't have a problem because you have taken it from him. Those things should be his problem, but as it now stands, they are yours."

Lights began to go on in the parents' heads.

The counselor said to them, "Would you like for me to help you help him to have some problems?"

Seeing-eye dogs

Two friends were out walking their dogs on a hot day when they passed by a bar. The first guy said, "Let's go in there for a pint."

"They won't let us in with our dogs," said his friend.

"Sure they will. Just follow my lead."

He walked into the pub, and sure enough, the bartender said, "I can't let you in here with that dog."

He replied, "Oh, I'm blind. This is my seeing-eye dog."

The bartender said, "I guess that's OK, then."

The second guy saw and heard the exchange, so he walked into the bar with his dog. Again, the bartender said, "No dogs, sorry."

He replied, "I'm blind and this is my seeing-eye dog."

The bartender crossed his arms, "You have a Chihuahua for a seeing-eye dog?"

"What?" the man exclaimed. "They gave me a Chihuahua?"

Spy story

A secret agent was sent to a small town in Ireland to pick up sensitive information from an agent named Murphy. His instructions were to walk around the town using a code phrase until he met his fellow agent. He found himself on a desolate country road and finally ran into a farmer.

"Hello," said the agent. "I'm looking for a man called Murphy."

"Well you're in luck," said the farmer. "There's a village right over the hill where a butcher is called Murphy, the baker is named Murphy, and three widows are called Murphy. In fact, my name is Murphy."

"Aha," thought the agent, "maybe here's my man." So he whispered the secret code: "The sun is shining, the grass is growing, and the cows are ready for milking."

"Oh," said the farmer, "you're looking for Murphy the spy. He's in the village over the other direction."

New location

A telemarketer called a house, and a friendly woman answered the phone. After explaining who he was, he asked for Mr. Smith.

"I'm sorry," said the woman, "I'm afraid he doesn't live here anymore."

"I'm sorry to hear that," the telemarketer said. "Do you happen to have a number for where he is now?"

"Certainly." She read off a number. The telemarketer thanked her, hung up, and dialed the number.

After four rings he heard, "Thank you for calling Shady Acres Cemetery ..."

August Crossword

Stay cool during those hot August days and nights

The dog days of August can be hot. Other than huddling in front of an air conditioner 24/7, which isn't very practical, how you can stay cool? The Yahoo website offers these tips for beating the heat:

- Stay hydrated. Drink lots of water to keep your body temperature in balance and avoid getting overheated.
It doesn't have to be cold water—actually, your body will heat it up anyway.
- Take a cold shower or bath. This can cool your body's core temperature. Try peppermint soap—peppermint oil can activate brain receptors that tell you whether something you're feeling or eating is cold.
- Use a cold dishrag. Place a cold dishrag on your neck or wrists. Your pulse points are close to the surface of your skin there, so you'll feel cooler more quickly.
- Close your blinds. If your curtains or blinds face west in the afternoon, closing them can keep the air in your home from heating up.
- Close up unused rooms. Keeping the doors closed will contain cool air in the areas of the house where you are.
- Don't refrigerate blankets, pajamas, or anything else. They'll warm up quickly, and the moisture they pick up can create mold in your mattress.
- Push out hot air. Place a box fan facing an open window to blow hot air outside, allowing the cool inside air to predominate.
- Sleep with the right sheets. Breathable cotton linens can keep you cool through the night. Choose sheets with a low thread count for better breathability.

Teach yourself to learn

Creative minds are always learning. Brain coach Jim Kwik, who has worked with millionaire entrepreneur Elon Musk, shared three of his top learning tips on the Make It website:

- Get rid of your ANTs. ANTs are automatic negative thoughts telling you that you can't learn something new. You're too old, you're not smart enough, it'll be too hard, and so forth. Teach yourself to talk back to your ANTs. If you catch yourself thinking, "I can't learn that," tell yourself, "Yes, I can learn that." Expand your mind to fit what's possible, Kwik says.
- Feed your brain. The food you eat can help your brain stay fit and flexible. Avocados, for example, provide monosaturated fat, which can maintain a health blood flow. Blueberries can help protect your brain from oxidative stress, caused by an imbalance of free radicals and antioxidants in your body, and reduce the effects of brain aging.
- Read a lot. Reading promotes learning. Expose yourself to different ideas by reading a wide variety of books and articles. Set a goal—just 10 minutes a day for a start, then increase that. Billionaire Warren Buffett is said to read 500 pages every day.

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word – the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."
