Monthly Calendar

National Hot Tea Month. What better time of year to settle down for a nice relaxing cup of hot tea? According to the Tea Association of the U.S.A. Inc., tea's health benefits include antioxidants, which aid in cancer risk reduction, increased blood flow for cardiovascular health, and increased energy expenditure that may help combat obesity.

National Slavery and Human Trafficking Prevention Month. Aimed at raising awareness of the many forms of human trafficking that still plague the world today: “Children forced to take part in armed conflict or sold to brothels by their destitute families, men and women who toil for little or no pay, who are threatened and beaten if they try to escape,” as the 2013 presidential proclamation put it.

National Volunteer Blood Donation Month. When you give blood at your community blood center, you can save up to three lives. Blood is always needed—up to 40,000 pints every day. Find your local blood donation center to find out more about how you can help.

Train Your Dog Month. Did you know you can start training your puppy when he or she is just seven weeks old? Dogs, like people, are learning every second of the day. For a truly well-mannered dog, you need to reinforce the positive behaviors. “Use it or lose it!” is a good maxim to follow when teaching your dog. For training tips, go to www.trainyourdogmonth.com.

The perils of taking a bath

At the end of a long, stressful day, Allison decided to take a nice relaxing bath. Just as she was settling into the water, her doorbell rang. Because she lived alone, no one else could answer it, and after repeated ringing she got up, put on a robe, and went downstairs.

The caller turned out to be a salesperson, and Allison quickly sent him away. Running some fresh hot water, she returned to her bath, only to be interrupted by the phone. Frustrated and more stressed than ever, she once again tried to lie in the tub, but two minutes later the doorbell rang again.

This time Allison slipped in some water on the bathroom tile and fell down hard. Staggering downstairs in pain, she tripped and tumbled the last few steps. Whoever had rung her doorbell was gone. Aching, Allison managed to climb back upstairs, get dressed, and hobble back down and outside to take a cab to the emergency room.

The doctor checked her over. “There’s no serious injury,” he assured Allison. “You just need to get some rest. How about a nice hot bath?”

The big swindle

One evening back when newsboys were a common sight on the streets of every city, one enterprising young lad dropped his stack of papers on the corner and started yelling: “Fifty businessmen swindled! Read all about it! Fifty businessmen swindled!”

A businessman promptly handed the boy a nickel and scanned the front page. Perplexed, he quickly skimmed the rest of the paper. “Hey,” he demanded, “there’s nothing in here about a big swindle!”

“Read all about it!” the newsboy cried. “Fifty-one businessmen swindled!”

I am thankful for laughter, except when milk comes out of my nose.

True confession?

Tom knelt in the confessional and said, “Bless me, Father, for I have sinned.”

“What sins are you confessing to, my son?”

“The sin of vanity. I spend hours looking at the mirror admiring how handsome I am.”

The priest, who recognized Tom’s voice, just smiled. “Don’t worry, son, that’s not a sin. It’s just a mistake.”

An expensive call

Several men were sitting in the locker room after a game of golf when a cell phone on the bench rang. One of them picked it up: “Hello?”

“Honey? It’s me. I’m at the mall, and I found that fabulous mink coat for only $2,500. Could I buy it?”

“Of course,” the man said. “Is that all?”

“Well, I stopped by the Mercedes dealership, and the guy there offered a great deal on this year’s model—only $60,000! What do you think?”

“And there’s this diamond necklace in the jewelry store that would look fantastic on me. I think it’s $1,500. What do you think?”

“Go for it.”

“Thanks, darling! I love you!”

The man hung up. “Anybody know whose cell phone this is?”

At the height of laughter, the universe is flung into a kaleidoscope of new possibilities.

—Jean Houston
