FLORIDA ANCHOR AND BARRIER COMPANY

To our valued customers:

During the current times we wanted to let you know that we are taking as many precautions as we can to ensure not only our workers safety but yours as well. We check workers' temperatures each morning and have limited the amount of contact our crews have with each other. Our crews work in Tyvek suits with respirators which helps to ensure your safety as well as theirs.

As a company, we want your business and there is no need for any contact if you so choose. Our business is deemed an "Essential Business" and we are here for you when you need us. You can schedule your inspection by calling 1-800-681-3772.

Wishing you good health and safety,

May Days

Hug Your Cat Day, May 1. You should be doing this every day, but in case you're not, today is the day to show your kitty some affection.

Learn to Ride a Bike Day, May 2. Slap on the training wheels if it makes you feel better. The point is, just get on a bike and go for a spin.

No Diet Day, May 6. You don't have to follow the latest trends to change your relationship with food. Start today with a commitment to live a healthier life by decreasing your consumption of junk foods.

Letter Carrier's "Stamp Out Hunger" Food Drive, May 9. Check with your local postal carrier and station to find out what items they are accepting during the largest national food drive in the U.S.

Stay Up All Night Night, May 9. Reconnect with your inner child and have some fun as you stay up (and out) well past the time when the streetlights come on.

Mother's Day, May 10. She carried you in her womb for nine months, and that did a number on her back. Now give her some flowers and take her out to brunch. It's the least you can do.

How to set reasonable goals

Setting a goal is important, but setting a good goal is what really counts. What is a good goal? A good goal usually has a few definable characteristics. Good goals are:

- Specifically focused.
- Neither too hard, nor too easy.
- Shared and agreed upon with others who will be working on them.
- Written down and visualized.

May

Global Civility Awareness Month. This is an opportunity for schools, community organizations, businesses, and people throughout the world to promote dignified, respectful behavior in their daily interactions with others. Take up the charge and be your best, well-mannered self every day, this month.

Mental Health Month. It's estimated that one in five Americans has some form of a mental health issue. Get the facts and get help for yourself or a loved one. Education and action will help to diminish the stigmas surrounding these diagnosable and treatable conditions.

National Good Car-Keeping Month. Clean it out. Get it tuned up. Change the oil. Rotate the tires. Take time to make sure your car has undergone necessary repairs and is up to date on scheduled maintenance.

National Meditation Month. Learn to quiet your mind, focus on your breathing, and appreciate the stillness. Now exhale. Find a class, app, or audio recording to guide you through the process of meditation and discover the benefits it can have on your health and well-being.

Weekly

Choose Privacy Week, May 1-7. The American Library Association and libraries across the nation will help educate and raise public awareness regarding privacy concerns in our digital age. Check your local branch and learn how to safeguard your information and identity.

Update Your References Week, May 3-9. Now is good time to check in with the folks providing your personal and professional job references. Make sure their job titles and contact information are accurate. In the event you have to put yourself out there, at least you'll know the people who are looking to hire

Teacher Appreciation Week, May 4-8. The school year is almost over, so there's no better time than the present to do something nice for the people who take on the job of educating your kid. Check with your local PTA to find out what you can do to honor the special teachers at your child's school.

Limit your spending to stay on budget

When you're saving, you have to pay attention to the small stuff. Here are three simple strategies to help curb your spending and cut down on unnecessary expenses.

- Be your own barista. Skip the lines, the strain on your budget, and the extra calories by brewing your own coffee at home. In fact, bring your own soda, juice, and any other beverages you like to drink throughout the day.
- Organize a lunch swap. One day you make and bring lunch for yourself and a co-worker. The next day, she does the same for you. Don't have a lunch buddy? No problem, brown bag last night's leftovers instead of grabbing takeout.
- Shop smart. Use coupons and hit up the sales. Stock up on your favorite shampoo, personal items, and shelf-stable foods so that you won't have to pay full price in the future.

The neighborly thing to do

It's a good idea to keep on good terms with your neighbors and be—well—neighborly. Here are a few tips that will help you do just that.

- Make a good first effort. When new neighbors move in, go over and greet them. Bring food or another small gift.
- Help out. Lend your neighbors items they might need—and also make sure you return things you borrow in a timely manner. When your neighbors are going out of town or dealing with a crisis, offer to walk the dog, water plants or pick up mail.
- Never pop in. Always call first.
- Be respectful. If you live in a neighborhood of early-to-bedders, keep the noise down at appropriate hours.
- Establish rapport. Organize block parties, park cleanups, and other community events as a way to connect and bond with your neighbors.

Politeness and consideration for others is like investing pennies and getting dollars back.
—Thomas Sowell

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word - the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."

If it's not the flower, it could be the flour

National Allergy and Asthma Awareness Month serves as a reminder to tackle your spring cleaning projects to maintain a safe environment for optimal health.

There's no better time than the present to address these areas:

- Around the house. Shampoo carpets and upholstery, clean window treatments, vacuum out corners and crevices, and address those areas in your home where dust, mold, and allergens could be lurking and waiting to trigger an asthma event.
- In the kitchen. If you or someone in your family is one of the 32 million Americans with a food-based allergy, you'll want to check your pantry and cupboards. After you toss out all the expired food items, take time to review the ingredients of those remaining for known allergens such as wheat, dairy, eggs, soy, nuts, tree nuts, fish, and seafood.

Here are a few more areas you'll want to check for allergens that might be hiding in plain sight:

- Your child or grandchild's room. Make sure stuffed animals and bean bag toys aren't filled with nut shells, crayons are soy-free crayons, and play dough is the wheat-free version.
- Fido's corner. Your dog loves those biscuits and bone treats you give him, but if they contain peanut butter or milk by-products, more sensitive members of your household might have adverse reactions.
- The bathroom. The biggest culprit here might be your shampoo, conditioner, soap, or lotion, so read the labels carefully.

As I get older, I think about the quality of my life and a balanced way to enjoy that. That's true wellness—being well from inside out.
