We would like to thank the Sandpiper Group for the March activities, which were enjoyed by all the residents. We also thank all the volunteers who organized different regular activities throughout the season and the other volunteers who organized the Library, special activities and games, squashed the cans, worked on Park owned homes, etc. We also thank all the Bird Groups for the activities that occurred during the past season. I hope we haven't forgotten anyone! Your help is greatly appreciated! You make our Park special!

A HUGE THANK YOU to all our amazing volunteers of Crosswinds this past winter.

Burn and extinguish candles safely

---

Whether you enjoy candles for a romantic dinner or holiday celebration, you should handle them carefully. The National Candle Association says to properly put out a candle's flame, hold your finger in front of the flame and blow at it. The air will flow around the finger and extinguish the candle from both sides, preventing hot wax from splattering.

Other tips for candle keeping and use:

- Never leave a burning candle unattended.
- Keep lighted candles out of the reach of children and pets.
- Keep burning candles away from combustible materials like drapes.
- Store candles in a cool, dark, dry place.
- Before using, light and extinguish the candles so they burn better.
- Avoid drafts to prevent rapid, uneven burning or excessive dripping.
- Keep wicks trimmed to one-half inch.
- To remove wax from fabrics, scrape off excess and run boiling water through the material.
- Remove wax from holders by running hot water over them.
- Candles refrigerated before use will burn more slowly and evenly.
- Extinguish candles when they get within 2 inches of the bottom.

Walk safely in traffic

Now that spring is here and walking is more manageable in milder weather, here are some reminders about walking safely along busy streets:

- Stay on the sidewalk and crosswalks. If you can't avoid walking on roads with no crosswalks or sidewalks, walk facing traffic.

- Cross at intersections. Most people are hit by cars when they cross the road at places other than intersections. Make sure you stop at the curb. This signals to drivers that you intend to cross.

- Stay out of the driver's blind spot. Make eye contact with drivers when you cross busy streets.

Did you know that April is also...

Alcohol Awareness Month. Since 1987, the National Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence has focused on raising awareness of the struggles associated with alcoholism during April. Go to QuitAlcohol.com to learn more.

Autism Awareness Month. With one in 68 children in the United States diagnosed with Autism Spectrum Disorder, the focus of this month is to educate the public in an effort to foster an atmosphere of acceptance and understanding in our society.

National Garden Month. Grow herbs in a window box, plant flowers that will attract the butterflies and bees, or cultivate a melon patch on a vertical grid. There's still time to plan what you will grow in your garden this year.

National Humor Month. Laughter truly is the best medicine, so why not strengthen your funny bone? Visit HumorMonth.com to find projects and resources that will help bring the laughter.

National Poetry Month. Reading a poem each day is one of the 30 ways the Academy of American Poets suggests you celebrate poetry this month. To learn more, visit Poets.org.

National Library Week, April 8-14. If you haven't been to your local library in a while, you're missing out on all of the free yet valuable resources they provide to your community. Visit a branch this week to learn all of the ways "Libraries Lead," which is the theme of this year's campaign.

National Volunteer Week, April 15-21. Let a cause near and dear to your heart inspire you to take action. Go to AllForGood.org to find a service project in your area and get involved this week.

Week of the Young Child, April 16-20. The National Association for the Education of Young Children shines a spotlight on the importance of early childhood education. Go to NAEYC.org to find out what you can do to engage the little ones in your life.

World Immunization Week, April 24-30. "Protected Together, #Vaccines Work" is the message the World Health Organization is sharing to remind individuals and governments that fatal yet preventable diseases are an all-too-common reality for more than 19 million children throughout the world.

Earth Day, April 22. Since 1970, people around the world have focused on issues that affect our planet. The theme of this year's campaign is "End Plastic Pollution." Go to Earth-Day.org to find out how you can be an environmental steward.

Start thinking green this spring

Most of us can do a lot better when it comes to being ecofriendly. Here are two areas where we can improve upon our good intentions while we lessen our negative impact on the environment:

- Recycling. It's great if you always throw your empty soda cans and water bottles in the recycle bin, but are there other items you are overlooking? If your municipality has a recycling program they probably have a set of guidelines posted online that explains what they accept and how you should prepare those items for disposal. Even though that peanut butter jar is marked as being recyclable, it might be considered garbage if traces of peanut butter are still in it. Find out what you need to know and make a commitment to recycle as much as possible, properly.

- The brown bag lunch. Embrace sustainability when you take your lunch to work by eliminating the amount of disposable products you use. Carry your lunch in a cloth sack, bento box, or small basket. Pack food in glass, metal, or some other kind of reusable containers. Swap out paper napkins with cloth napkins, and plastic straws with metal ones. Consider keeping a coffee mug and set of flatware at your desk in an effort to generate less waste.

A broadband of conservation

In 1989, attorney and activist Susan Tixier mobilized a group of “mature” women on a hike through Utah’s Grand Staircase-Escalante. Most of them were already involved in wilderness preservation efforts, but their goal was to discuss conservation issues surrounding many of the U.S. national monuments and make sure that the voices of older Americans were represented in that conversation.

A member of a passing group of hikers saw them and said, “What a bunch of great old broads!”

On that day, Tixier and her colleagues decided to officially call themselves “Great Old Broads for Wilderness.” Since then they’ve grown their membership to 8,000 across 38 “Broadbands” nationwide.

The group advocates for issues affecting the environment and wilderness protection causes. Their ranks include “Young Broads,” and men of all ages, “Bros.” They host “Broadwalks” where they dedicate a day of stewardship to an area, address conservation issues there, and spend time hiking and exploring.

Visit GreatOldBroads.org to learn more about the Broadbands and the work they are doing.

The waters on Mars: Where did they go?

The surface of Mars was once covered in an ocean 100 meters deep, but most of that water has disappeared. What happened? NASA now believes it knows the answer: dust storms.

According to the Science News website, researchers studying more than a decade of satellite imagery have deduced that the massive dust storms of the red planet, which can engulf Mars for months at a time, are responsible for the water loss.

Water vapor was detected almost 80 kilometers above Mars' surface during a massive storm in 2006-2007, rising on convection currents similar to those found on Earth. At that altitude, ultraviolet rays from the sun can break down the chemical bonds holding hydrogen and oxygen atoms together, allowing the lightweight hydrogen to escape into outer space.

The same phenomenon happens on earth, NASA scientists say, but it's not an issue because of the amount of water we have on our planet.

This substance may revolutionize solar power

Solar power is expanding at a breakneck pace thanks to breakthroughs in a crystalline material called perovskite. Perovskites can darken windows on sunny days and clear them on cloudy ones. Now scientists are using them to generate electricity.

Perovskites are a combination of elements with a specific crystalline structure. According to the AAAS website, solar panels made of perovskites are almost as efficient at transforming sunlight into electricity as the best modern solar panels. The best perovskite panels can convert 22 percent of sunlight energy into power, compared with 25 percent produced by standard silicon panels—and the building materials for perovskite are cheaper than those for today's solar cells, making them a prime candidate for smart windows that can also act as solar panels.

We are at the very beginning of time for the human race. It is not unreasonable that we grapple with problems. But there are tens of thousands of years in the future. Our responsibility is to do what we can, learn what we can, improve the solutions, and pass them on.

—Richard Feynman
