Home Owner's Association

Well, Autumn is finally here. That means drier weather and hopefully some of our snow birds will return, although it doesn't look good for our Canadian neighbors to return, with the border still being closed.

There have been a lot of homes going up for sale in the DY, and so many of them being sold as well. That means new neighbors to welcome. Be kind and welcoming.

We would also like to let you know, that the HOA Board members have been meeting semi-regularly, as issues have developed. The increase in trash charges, has been the most recent main issue. We are in the process of setting up a meeting (virtually), with management, to sort through this issue and find out why the increase. We will be asking the questions that many of you have raised and will hopefully be able to have those answers for you soon.

As you may have also noticed or heard, our lawn care has already stepped into "winter mode", and Alexander's will be coming every other week at this point. With little rain, the grass doesn't get "knee high" this time of year, and evidently, does not warrant weekly cuttings.

We are also trying to troubleshoot the logistics of an HOA meeting in the near future, possibly outdoors, maybe in the parking lot, with regulations regarding masks and distancing. More of that to come, no guarantees though.

As the holidays begin, please be aware that some of your neighbors may not have any family to be with them. Being careful and observant of precautions, please check on them. See if they need help with meals, shopping or just all around fellowship. Sometimes, just someone to check in on them makes all the difference in the world.

We were all put on this earth for a reason. Hopefully your reason is a good one that you can share with others during this holiday season. It doesn't take any effort to be kind and caring.

Have a bountiful, peaceful and happy Thanksgiving.

Another busy month. Steve Kelso had a hard month. He had eye surgery and came thru that fine, then he and Doneta went to Tenn. to their grandsons wedding and he fell and got all scratched on his face, bruised of course and broke his glasses. Guess it happened just before the wedding. Thank goodness it wasnt worse. Get better soon Steve. Peggy Waller will start Chemo soon. Our prayers are with you Peggy. Hope all goes well. Know everyone will help if they can.

Bob Sneddon passed away Sept 14. Bob had been a resident here a long time. He was yard man for many residents here and pitched in to help. Loved the dances and other activities. Our prayers go to his family. He will leave a big hole in the residents of DY lives. Rest in peach Bob we will miss you.

Just head that Roberta Tarris of 197 Social West passed away Oct 13. So very sorry to hear this. Roberta has not been well for awhile. She lived with her sister Gail Curran. Our thoughts and prayers are with the family.

Keep well and be careful . Let me know if you hear of any illnesses or deaths. Till next month. Be careful.

The core of addiction

It's a common experiment: Put a rat in a cage with two bottles of water to drink. One is regular water, but the other one has water laced with cocaine or heroin. The rat quickly gets addicted to the drug-infused water and stops drinking from the other bottle. This explains the power of addiction.

But it may not be that simple, as Johann Hari suggests in Does Capitalism Cause Addiction? One scientist created a “rat park.” Instead of just two water bottles, the park held everything a rat could want— food, colored balls to play with, and other rats for company. In the rat park, none of the rats grew addicted to the drugged water.

What does this show? That addiction is partly a response to one's environment. With enough resources to distract and entertain us, most people won't prefer the drugged water (or whatever). What we need is connection.

Make the call - make a difference

Consultant Michael Hargrove uses this exercise frequently in his training sessions:

Imagine you are on a 747 flying over the ocean. Halfway through the flight, the plane begins experiencing mechanical difficulties. The captain comes on the intercom and explains as calmly as he can that an engine has fallen from the plane, ripping a fuel line. The crew will continue to fly as long as possible until fuel runs low, and then they will attempt a water landing.

Hargrove asks his listeners to write down the name of the one person they would call in the next few minutes, and what they would say. Then he asks: “So what are you waiting for? Today, make the call.”

Two or three things I know for sure, and one of them is that to go on living I have to tell stories, that stories are the one sure way I know to touch the heart and change the world.

— Alexandra Watkins
