Hand and Foot Card Game

The game of Canasta was devised by Segundo Santos and Alberto Serrato in Montevideo, Uruguay, in 1939.

[1] In the 1940s the game quickly spread in myriad variations to Chile, Peru, Brazil and Argentina, where its rules were further refined before being introduced to the United States in 1948, where it was then referred to as the Argentine Rummy game by Otilie H. Reilly in 1949 and Michael Scully of Coronet magazine in 1953. The game quickly became a card-craze boom in the 1950s, providing a sales avalanche of card sets, card trays and books about the subject.

Hand and Foot is a Canasta variant involving four to seven decks and is played by teams of two players (usually two teams, but it also works with three or four teams). The number of decks used is typically one more than the number of players, though this can vary. Each player is dealt two sets of cards - the hand, which is played first, and the foot, which is played when the hand has been used up. Due to the larger pool of available cards, it is much easier to form canastas in Hand and Foot than in standard Canasta, which changes the strategy considerably. Some players feel this version is more enjoyable for beginners. The variant was born in the 1970s; commercial decks to play Hand and Foot have been available since 1987.

Partnership Hand and Foot for Four Players

Players, Cards, Deal

Partners sit opposite each other. Five decks of cards are used, including two jokers per deck (270 cards in all).

Choose which partnership will deal first. After the cards have been thoroughly mixed, one partner takes part of the deck, deals four face-down stacks of 13 cards and passes them around the table in a clockwise direction until each player has a stack - the hand. Meanwhile the partner of the hand dealer takes another part of the deck and deals another four stacks of 13 cards each and passes them also in a clockwise direction until each player has a second stack - the foot.

The remainder of the undealt cards are put in a face-down pile in the middle of the table to form a stock. The top card of the stock is turned face-up and placed next to it to start a discard pile. If this card is a red three or wild card (two or joker) it is buried in the stock and a new card turned up. The players' "foot" stacks are placed face down around the stock and discard piles - the players are not allowed to look at them until they have played all the cards in their hands. Each player picks up their "hand" stack, and play begins with the player to the left of the one who dealt the hands. After the end of the play, the turn to deal passes to the left. A complete game consists of four deals.

SAVE TIME AND MONEY BY CALLING US TODAY TO GET YOUR PROJECT STARTED!

The Object of the Game: Melds

The aim is to get rid of cards from your hand, and then from your foot, by melding them. A meld is a set of from three to seven cards of equal rank placed face up on the table. A meld cannot have fewer than three cards or more than seven. Melds belong to a partnership, not to an individual player. After a meld of three or more cards has been started, either player of the partnership can add further cards to it until there are seven. You can make a meld of cards of any rank from A, K, Q, ... down to 4. Threes have special uses and cannot be melded in the normal way. Twos and jokers are "wild cards" and can be used as substitutes in melds, if there are at least twice as many real cards of the rank of the meld as wild cards. Thus, a meld of 3, 4 or 5 cards can contain at most one wild card and a meld of 6 or 7 can contain at most two. You can also make a meld consisting entirely of wild cards - twos and jokers. In fact, you must make such a meld to be allowed to go out and win the deal. There are three types of meld:

- a clean meld has no wild cards
- a dirty meld has one or two wild cards (but not more than one unless there are at least 6 cards in the meld)
- a wild meld consists entirely of wild cards.

A meld of seven cards is complete and is called a pile. While melds are fanned out face up, complete piles are squared up and the cards placed on top shows the type - a red card for a clean pile, a black card for a dirty pile, and a joker for a wild pile (or a two if it contains no joker). Usually the complete piles of seven cards are kept in front of one member of a partnership (along with red threes), while the other partner keeps the incomplete melds of three to six cards.

You score points for cards you have melded, and lose points for any cards left in your hand at the end of the play. The play ends when someone gets rid of all the cards in their "hand" and "foot", by melding or discarding them; this is known as "going out". To be allowed to go out, you must satisfy all the following conditions:

1. your partnership must have completed at least two dirty piles, two clean piles and one wild pile (exactly seven cards in each);
2. your partner must have picked up their "foot" and played at least part of one turn from it;
3. you must ask partner's permission to go out. If partner agrees you must meld all your remaining cards, or meld all but one of your remaining cards and discard your last card. If partner says no, you are not allowed to go out on that turn.

Card Values

Individual cards have values as follows. They count for you if you have melded them, but against you if they are left in your hand or foot at the end of the play:

Jokers	50 points each
Twos & Aces	20 points each
Eight through King	10 points each
Four through Seven	5 points each
Black Threes	5 points each

Bonus Points

There are also the following Bonus Points. Both teams score points for any complete piles they have made, in addition to the scores for the cards within the pile. Only the team that goes out scores the bonus for going out, obviously. The red threes count plus 100 points if they have been placed face up on the table with your melds, but minus 100 points if not (for example if you do not manage to pick up your foot before an opponent goes out, any red threes in it will score minus 100 points).

Each complete "Clean" Pile of 7 cards	500 points
Each complete "Dirty" Pile of 7 cards	300 points
Each complete "Wild" Pile of 7 cards	1500 points
For "Going Out"	100 Points
Each Red Three	100 points

HOA President

Wendy Copeland

Well, our trip to Indiana is over and we are now back among our beloved community. We were blessed to have many wonderful times with our kids, grands and greats. We made it to an Indians game and watched the 4th of July fireworks from our son’s backyard. We traveled to visit family in Lafayette and to see a pow-wow in Danville. We watched our 4-year-old granddaughter’s dance recital and had picnics at our RV. We were able to accomplish some needed renovations on the RV. All in all, we had fun!

But now it is time to rejoin the community and work together to help make this community a great place to live. Part of that is trying to make sure the Park follows the Rules and we have the Complaint Procedure for that. (Complaint forms can be found on the wall in the Clubhouse). We, as residents, also need to follow the Rules. Most of the Rules are actually parts of local ordinances or county or state law (parking, junk cars, clean carports, noise, pets, etc.). The rest of the Rules are there to give all of us a way to live together in harmony. If there is a Rules that you disagree with, instead of just disobeying it, send a letter to the Office and let them know why you think it should be changed. Some rules are now archaic or don’t make a lot of sense, but they will remain unless someone brings those items to the attention of Management and Management makes the changes through Tallahassee. We all just need to get along, obey the rules, respect each other and try to work together to make things better.

“Respect for ourselves guides our morals, respect for others guides our manners.” Laurence Sterne

Angel Fund

Susan Cooper

The HOA board has set up a special fund to help our neighbors participate in activities, trips and dinners that they might not be able to afford over the year. Any board member will be willing to accept your donation to the fund. Application forms will be available to nominate a neighbor, make a donation, or apply for yourself. The recipients will get a gift certificate to help them enjoy some of the fun events EBO hosts. Funds will be awarded based on the available donations received.

Wednesday Night Game Nights are back!

Summer is here and Wednesday night Bingo is on a hiatus so come join us at the Clubhouse for the "Wednesday Night Games Night". No sense in sitting at home on Wednesday night with nothing to do. We want everyone to continue to enjoy each other's company in a social setting throughout the summer. We will get together every first and third Wednesday evening at 6:30pm to play assorted games such as Bingo, Bango, LCR, or Pokeno. Be sure and bring your own drinks and snacks or you can bring some to share with the group. Our goal is to continue the Games Nights until Wednesday night Bingo starts back up in November.

HELP WANTED

It’s been a pleasure and so much fun being bingo coordinator for the past two years. Unfortunately, I will be stepping down this fall and we will be looking for a new bingo coordinator to head the 2017-2018 season. If you are interested, have the charisma, uniqueness, nerve and talent, please let any HOA board member know. No experience necessary, I will provide training, but won’t be able to transfer my uniqueness and charm!

Shuffleboard

Brian Taylor

Shuffle practice is held on Wednesdays at 10:00 am. (On the third Wednesday of each month it is moved to Tuesdays to accommodate the men's and ladies' luncheons). Games are held on each Tuesday, – a schedule will be provided during practice. New players are welcomed. It is a fun sport, we get to travel around to various parks to play and there are a number of tournaments held each season – which are also very fun. It is a fun, friendly league and you can get more information by contacting coach Brian Taylor or Assistant Coach Ernie Ranger. New season begins in early November.

What in the world is.....

Chocolate may be good for your heart

In case you're looking for an excuse to eat some chocolate, consider this: It may reduce your risk of irregular heartbeat.

An analysis of some 55,000 adults from Denmark found that eating 2-6 ounces of chocolate a week was associated with a 20 percent decreased risk of atrial fibrillation, or A-fib, otherwise known as an irregular heartbeat. A-fib can compromise blood flow in the upper chambers of the heart—the atria. People with A-fib are five times more likely to suffer a stroke, according to the American Heart Association, and have twice the risk of a heart-related death.

Moderate consumption of chocolate, especially dark chocolate, appears to reduce that risk, although binging on larger amounts can obviously lead to weight gain and associated problems.

Carbon monoxide safety tips for your home

Carbon monoxide (CO) is a colorless and nearly odorless gas that's created by the incomplete burning of solid, liquid, and gaseous fuels. Appliances that burn LP gas (liquefied petroleum), oil, coal, kerosene, coal or wood may produce carbon monoxide. Carbon monoxide is also poisonous to animals and people. Symptoms of its effects include:

- Headache
- Fatigue
- Shortness of breath
- Nausea
- Dizziness

To prevent CO poisoning, take these precautions:

- Buy and install a CO alarm. Make sure it is listed with Underwriters Laboratories or that there is information on the package that indicates that it meets the requirements of IAS 6-96 standards. Follow the directions for placement and installation.
- Install appliances properly. Most of them should be installed by a professional.
- Practice good maintenance. Have your heating system (furnaces, flues, and chimneys) inspected and serviced by a professional every year.
- Burn charcoal outdoors only. Never burn it in a tent, home, garage, vehicle, etc. Don't use portable fuel-burning camping equipment indoors or inside tents, etc.
- Make sure you turn off fuel-burning engine equipment when you are inside a garage or basement. Just having the doors open does not ensure your safety.
