THE EMBASSY LIBRARY

Jayne Ann Krentz, born Jayne Castle, is a woman with many hats! She writes contemporary, historical and futuristic romance novels, and also writes under the name of Amanda Quick. My favorite hat is Jayne Castle, author of the futuristic novels..I love the book Silver Master. In it Celinda buys a toy for her dust bunny which turns out to be a powerful ancient relic. Davis Oakes, a security specialist, wants it back. But the dust bunny doesn't want to give it up and hides it. Come read this romantic adventure.

Also, check out the new outside room, which is now open with tall paperbacks, readers digest books and home improvement books inside it!

We have a new fundraiser for the Library-Beach Towel/Pool wraps for $12.00 each. Available in the Office

JOYCE'S BINGO BARK

Ingredients:

1 Stick of butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
1 sleeve of saltine crackers

1 12oz bag chocolate chips
1 8 oz package heath bits

Directions:

Place crackers in a single layer on a cookie sheet (10" x 15" works well)
Melt butter and sugar over low heat until sugar is dissolved
Pour on top of crackers, spread so all are covered
Bake at 350 degrees until crackers are golden
(Approx. 5-10 minutes depending on the oven)
Pour the milk chocolate chips evenly on top of the crackers and as they melt spread them around with a knife
Pour the Heath toffee bits on top
Refrigerate until chilled and then crack apart
ENJOY!!
(Joyce Latuga makes this as a bingo treat several times a season)

4TH OF JULY FLAG FACTS

The United States turned 241 years old. Here are some fun facts about one of our most beloved symbols, the American Flag:

Red, White and Blue are the colors of the flag, of course, but they have meanings. Red stands for courage in battle (commonly called valor); white represents purity and innocence, and blue characterizes vigilance, perseverance and justice.

Each of the 50 states is represented by a star, and the 13 stripes stand for the original 13 colonies

When the flag is flown at night, it must be lit

The flag must be raised quickly, and lowered slowly, with reverence.

There have been 6 flags placed on the moon!

SUMMER SOCIAL EVENTS

On July 4th we had about 45 neighbors and friends come out to our BBQ. A great time was had by everyone that attended. The Summer Club supplied the burgers, potato salad. After that people brought some great side dishes and desserts. I've said it before and I'll say it again, I'm glad we have so many good cooks in our park.

We started the day's festivities with Shirley Irvin leading us all in a sing along of God Bless America and ended the event with Sonny O'Leary winning the 50/50 drawing.

As always thank you to everyone that works hard to run these events. I also want to thank those that attend these events. Your enjoyment is our reward. Hope to see you at the next event.

Next month I will be reporting on our Christmas in July Pajama Party Breakfast.

P.S. Don't forget to sign up by the last Friday morning before the event so we can successfully plan our shopping trip (Editors apology..Sonny sent me pictures from breakfast but I lost them in cyberspace!)

Traditional books are alive and well

Publishers and traditional readers alike have long been worried about the rise of electronic books as sales of Amazon’s Kindle and other devices have grown, but their concerns may have been at least somewhat overblown. New studies suggest that the growth of e-book sales is leveling out—and possibly declining.

According to the Chicago Tribune website, during the first nine months of 2016 e-book sales dropped by 18.7 percent compared with the same period a year earlier. On the other hand, hardcovers, paperbacks, and audiobooks did not suffer a similar decline. In the same time frame, e-books’ share of the total market fell to 17.6 percent from 21.7 percent. In addition, sales of hardcover books in 2016 outpaced e-books for the first time in five years.

Don’t panic—books don’t look like they’re being replaced any time soon.

More Americans taking advantage of technology

The digital revolution continues gaining ground, according to the Pew Research Center. Seventy-seven percent of Americans own a smartphone, a figure that’s almost doubled since Pew began tracking smartphone ownership in 2011.

Similarly, broadband access is on an upswing, with home broadband service rising 6 percent in 2016 (after a slight decline from 2013 to 2015). In November 2016, nearly three-quarters (73 percent) of Americans reported having broadband service.

Finally, 69 percent of U.S. adults are using social media, especially young people—86 percent of 18- to 29-year-olds are on at least one social media platform.

New hope for headache sufferers

Cluster headaches, such as migraines, are rare, but they can cause intense pain to the people (mostly men) who suffer from them.

But there’s hope. According to the NBC News website, the Food and Drug Administration has recently approved a device known as the vagus nerve stimulator for treatment of cluster headaches. Sufferers place the small device, named gammaCore, against the neck and send a mild electrical stimulation to the vagus nerve—a large nerve that runs from the brain to the colon. The jolt disrupts signals along the nerve, reducing the pain.

Vagus nerve stimulation is already used to treat ailments such as epilepsy and depression. GammaCore, manufactured by the organization electroCore, is available in Europe, but electroCore plans to begin offering it in the United States later this year.

Coffee more popular than ever

For more and more people, a morning cup of coffee is part of starting the day off right. According to a National Coffee Drinking Trends consumer survey, the number of Americans drinking coffee daily has increased to 62 percent, up from 57 percent in 2016.

The biggest increase is in the 13-18 age bracket. Their daily coffee habit climbed to 37 percent in 2017, up from 31 percent in 2016. Adults ages 18-24 increased their coffee habit from 48 percent to 50 percent, and 63 percent of adults 25-39 drank more, up from 60 percent.

Sixty-four percent of Americans 40-59 drink a daily cup of joe, up from 53 percent last year. The 60-plus crowd moved to 68 percent in 2017 from 64 percent the previous year.

Consumers prefer the human touch

Electronic self-service may be the wave of the future for many organizations, but lots of consumers are bucking the trend. The CRM Buyer website reports that researchers surveyed more than 24,000 consumers in 12 countries about customer interactions, and here's what they found:

- Eighty percent prefer customer service from a human instead of an automated system.
- Eighty-three percent say that interacting with a customer service rep is important on the phone or in a store.
  - Sixty-eight percent believe they're more likely to get a better deal when negotiating in person instead of online.
  - Eighteen percent said they would renew products or services because of good personal customer service, even if they were more expensive.

The science behind creative thinking

Creativity may seem mysterious and magical, but scientists have been studying it for a long time. From the Fast Company website, here's some of what they've learned:

- Creative insights do come in the shower. In one study, 72 percent of participants reported getting new ideas while taking a shower.
- Solitude boosts creativity. The networks in our brains responsible for creativity and imagination work better when we're alone.
- Trying new things helps. New experiences can trigger dopamine, a neurotransmitter that facilitates mental flexibility.
- Trust your hunches. Intuition isn't well understood, but it's led to many creative insights. Learn to let your unconscious mind noodle on problems and ideas without forcing your brain to work.
- Daydreaming has positive effects. Daydreams can enhance creative thought, self-awareness, and long-term planning by giving you a kind of mental incubation for ideas.

Three levels of imagination

Creativity and innovation come in many different forms. An article on the Bizcommunity website points to three distinct levels of imagination:

- Discovery. Sometimes you just see something that looks like a good idea. Keep an open mind as you look around you, and learn to find opportunities in everyday things.
- Invention. Apply the tools you've got to solve the problem in front of you. Look at all your available resources and see which will help you achieve the results you're looking for.
- Creation. Dig deep into your personal experience for something only you can create. Remember that ideas may be common, but how you put them to work is what makes them stand out.

It is a fair, even-handed, noble adjustment of things, that while there is infection in disease and sorrow, there is nothing in the world so irresistibly contagious as laughter and good humour.

These herbs may ease diabetes symptoms

Type 2 diabetes afflicts millions of people around the world. Medication such as insulin can help keep your blood sugar levels stable, but according to the Medical News Today website, these herbs can also have a beneficial affect:

- Aloe vera. Known for its skin care benefits, aloe may also help increase the amount of insulin produced by the pancreas. It can be consumed as juiced pulp added to beverages or as extracts available as supplements.
- Cinnamon. This tasty spice offers many benefits for diabetes patients, including positive results in maintaining appropriate blood sugar and insulin levels as well as decreasing blood pressure. Consult with your doctor before using it as a supplement, though.
- Bitter melon. Used for centuries as a traditional medicine in China and India, the seeds from this melon appear to lower blood sugar levels. It's also effective when its pulp is mixed with water and when consumed as juice.
- Milk thistle. An extract called silymarin from this herb has antioxidant and anti-inflammatory properties, which are beneficial for people with diabetes.
- Fenugreek. The seeds from this herb contain fibers that help slow the digestion of sugar and other carbohydrates. They may also help to lower cholesterol as well.

Always check with your physician before taking any herbs or supplements, of course.

Tolerance for alcohol? Don't count on it

Think you can handle your booze? Think again. Many heavy social drinkers believe they can build up a tolerance for alcohol that lets them perform routine tasks without loss of coordination, but recent studies suggest that may not be the case.

As reported on the LiveScience website, the Chicago Social Drinking Project, begun in 2004, tracked 155 young adults with an average age of 25 at the time over a period of years. More than 80 percent were heavy drinkers, meaning they had consumed 10-40 drinks per week for two years.

In tests carried out over the years, participants were either given a real drink or a placebo beverage that tasted like alcohol and then were tested on some simple fine-motor tasks. Although heavy drinkers actually improved their scores from previous years on the easier tasks, their performance declined on the more challenging tasks—although they still considered themselves less intoxicated than lighter drinkers.

So be careful. That “tolerance” you’ve built up may be just wishful thinking.

Did you know that August is also...

American Artist Appreciation Month. From Andy Warhol and Andrew Wyeth to Georgia O’Keeffe and Mary Cassatt, America has been the birthplace for some of the world’s most talented and celebrated artists—all of whom are honored during American Artist Appreciation Month.

Child Support Awareness Month. Recognizing the importance of child support and applauding parents who provide financial and medical support for their children, this month is meant to raise awareness of the ways child support helps children reach their full potential and achieve their dreams.

National Immunization Awareness Month. An annual observance held in August to highlight the importance of vaccination for people of all ages, NIAM was established to encourage everyone to make sure they are up to date on the vaccines recommended for them.

National Truancy Prevention Month. Truancy is a pervasive problem for schools across the country, particularly public schools in urban areas. Students who demonstrate a lack of commitment to school are at an increased risk for substance abuse, delinquency, teen pregnancy, and dropping out.

International Assistance Dogs Week, Aug. 6-12. Recognizing all the devoted, hard-working assistance dogs helping individuals mitigate their disability-related limitations.

National Farmer’s Market Week, Aug. 6-12. Throughout this week, the U.S. Department of Agriculture celebrates our nation’s thousands of farmer’s markets, the farmers who make them possible, and the communities that host them.

National Motorcycle Week, Aug. 13-19. For riders, motorcycle lovers, and all enthusiasts of two-wheeled excitement, this weeklong event celebrates one of America’s favorite pastimes—riding motorcycles.

World Water Week, Aug. 17-Sept. 1. In 2017, World Water Week will address the theme “Water and waste—reduce and reuse.” Held in Stockholm but celebrated everywhere, experts, practitioners, decision-makers, business innovators and young professionals meet to network, exchange ideas, foster new thinking and develop solutions to the most pressing water-related challenges of today.

A frugal family tradition

An accountant’s thriving business in a small Scottish town had been in the family for generations. The main offices were in an old building, and clients had to walk up a single marble step to reach the front door. Over time, the marble step wore away until a deep dent developed in it from all the footsteps. One day, the accountant asked a stonemason to take a look and tell him how much a new marble step would cost. The stonemason looked at the step and then scratched his head.

“It’ll be a big job,” said the stonemason. “But I suppose I could give you a new step for 100 pounds.”

The accountant frowned. “That’s a bit more than I wanted to pay.” They both looked at the step, and then the accountant turned to the stonemason: “What if you dug up the step, turned it over, and put it back into the ground? Then it would be good as new.”

The stonemason agreed. “20 pounds.”

“Do it,” said the accountant, and he went back inside the office.

An hour later the stonemason rang the bell. The accountant opened the door and saw the stonemason standing in a hole with the step. A nearly identical dent was evident on the other side.

The stonemason chuckled. “From the looks of it, I’d say your great-great-great-grandfather thought of the same thing about 150 years ago.”
