RECIPE OF THE MONTH

SLOW COOKER CORNED BEEF & CABBAGE

Ingredients:

- 2 Celery stalks, cut into 3-inch pieces
- 3 Carrots, cut into 3-inch pieces
- 1 small yellow onion, cut into 1-inch wedges
- ½ pound small potatoes, halved if large
- 6 sprigs thyme
- 1 corned beef brisket (about 3 pounds)
- pickling spice packet or 1 tablespoon pickling spice
- ½ head Savoy cabbage, cut into 1 ½ inch wedges
- Grainy mustard, for serving

Directions

In a 5-6 quart slow cooker, place celery, carrots, onion, potatoes and thyme. Place corned beef, fat side up, on top of vegetables and sprinkle with pickling spice; add enough water to almost cover meat (4 to 6 cups). Cover and cook on high until corned beef is tender, 4 ¼ hours (or 8 ½ hours on low). Arrange cabbage over corned beef, cover, and continue cooking until cabbage is tender, 45 minutes (or 1 ½ hours on low). Thinly slice corned beef against the grain and serve with vegetables, cooking liquid, and grainy mustard.

Serves 6

Words of Wisdom: “Vegetables are a must on a diet...I suggest carrot cake, zucchini bread, and pumpkin pie!”

AUTHOR OF THE MONTH

Dorothy Gilman started writing when she was 9 years old. Before her career as an author started she was an art teacher and a phone operator. Dorothy’s life is strongly reflected in her writings. She traveled extensively making them the settings for her Mrs. Polifax books. Mrs. Polifax is a bored shall we say an older person who becomes a part time spy! Who would ever suspect a little old lady of being a spy? Come read her many little adventures. Sadly, Dorothy died at age 88 of Alzheimer’s.

Come visit our library. It is open every day 10 – 6. We have wi-fi. And don’t forget our fundraisers that help to support it.

FROM THE OFFICE:

Many evictions have taken place or are in progress; rule violations have been the main reason. This seems to be the only way that I can try to rid Embassy of the “undesirables” that are here. All residents can help my efforts by not being taken in by the sob stories of these vagrants! Due to the recent rent increase, I have increased the amount of income needed to be approved to live here; someone living solely on social security or disability may not qualify in the future. I am also glad to report that the woman in a wheelchair who was scamming residents was arrested (in the Park) and hopefully is going to prison for at least 5 years!!!! This only happened because of the willingness of the resident’s to get involved.

Is your pet properly registered with the Office? This means a photo, shot records and licensing. If your pet is not registered and the rules change, they will not be “grandfathered” in!

This is a reminder that the home owner is responsible for the behavior of their guests, which means they must follow the rules. Allowing a guest to break the Park rules can result in the home owner being evicted. While your family and guests are welcome, we still want to maintain a safe and quiet environment for everyone.

Once again Embassy has come through for a resident...after Elaine made the resident’s need known, several people came forward with offers to help, and she had a refrigerator the next day!

THE NEXT MANAGER’S MEETING WILL BE WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13TH – AS NORMALLY SCHEDULED.

THERE WILL BE A SPECIAL MEETING ON FRIDAY, MARCH 22ndT, OFFICER TRAN OF LARGO PD WILL BE SPEAKING ABOUT SAFETY IN THE PARK AND HOW TO PROPERLY CLOSE YOUR MOBILE FOR THE SEASON...He will speak at 9:30 a.m. , coffee and cake at 9:00 a.m. THIS IS THE ONLY FRIDAY IN MARCH THAT HIS SCHEDULE WORKED WITH EMBASSY’S! THE PLANNING MEETING FOR THAT DAY WILL BE IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING .

A reminder to notify the Office of your leave and return date; make sure we have the correct summer address; that you turn off your water (and hot water tank); if someone in the Park is watching your mobile in your absence, and who is taking care of any needed yard work. I will be evaluating lots by the 1st of September, which is grow season here in Florida (weeds grow better than flowers!). If you plan to return after that date you will definitely need someone to weed regularly or face the possibility of being charged if the Park has to do it for you (all perfectly legal and allowed by the Park Rules and FL Statute 723).

I would like to thank everyone for all the positive vibes at my Manager’s meeting!
FUN NIGHT IS COMING!

Join us on March 8th or 9th for the entertaining show “THE STARZ OF EMBASSY RITZ”. Your friends and neighbors here at Embassy will sing, dance, tell jokes, put on skits, and give you lots of belly laughs! I guarantee you will come out of the show with a smile on your face! Tickets are $5.00 (Best deal in town!) and will be sold Feb. 25th and March 4th from 10 a.m. to Noon in the clubhouse, in the Office after that. See you there!

Neighborhood Watch Safety Tips

Elaine Pepper

As part of the Neighborhood Watch group I have been patrolling the park at night making it appear we have live residents after sundown and watching for anything that appears out of place. A few tips to pass on, based on my observations and information from the police:

1. Have a white outside light on. Anyone looking for a place to commit a crime looks for darkness.
2. Don't leave ladders up against the side of your house, near windows especially. If it won't fit in your shed lay the ladder down next to your house. I'm sure someone will hear it being placed up to a window.
3. Don't have a set routine. Stagger the time you go to bed, wake up, go out shopping, etc. Criminals look for patterns.
4. Report any suspicious activity to the Police.
5. Pay attention to your neighbors. If you see no activity for a few days, check in and make sure everything is ok.
6. Know what's normal on your street so you know when something is out of place
7. Lock your doors and windows.
8. Lock your car.

50TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATIONS

Because of unforeseen circumstances, we have had to cancel our 50th Anniversary Celebration again this year. It has become apparent that some couples who are celebrating 50 years of marriage this year prefer not to participate in a public ceremony of sharing their story, renewing their vows, etc. Is this a sign of the times? Is this because the character of the Park changing? Are there other reasons? The question remains – Do we keep trying to celebrate a “50 Year Anniversary” if the format as we know it is not working? Do we consider changing it from a “50 Year” celebration to a different celebration? Maybe a “25 Year” celebration? Or maybe 25 years plus milestone years (every 5 years thereafter)? Or maybe no special “year” designation, but a ceremony where many couples jointly renew their marriage vows no matter how many years they have been together. If the purpose of the celebration is for couples to publicly announce their commitment to their spouse, could we provide a format for that to be done?

These celebrations fall under the auspices of the Social Club (Decisions as to the format of celebrations are made by the Social Club). We would like you to come to our next Social Club meeting on March 6th and express your opinion as to the direction we should take. We all decide what activities go on in our park, and this is one celebration we could have that makes Embassy the special park it is. Many other parks have let their activities disappear, and residents then complain their park is a “do-nothing” park. Let’s not let that happen at Embassy! We need your opinions, so please come out to the Social Club meeting on Wednesday, March 6th at 9 a.m. for coffee and 9:30 a.m. for the meeting.

Embassy Club Shuffle

Submitted by: Guy McDougall, President Embassy Shuffle Club

Embassy Shuffle Club has their January breakfast on the 19th and had a great turnout. As President I would like to thank everyone who attended our breakfast. As you know it's a fund raiser for our club, it enables us to maintain our courts and allows our players to play on excellent surfaces which gives an advantage when playing opposing teams. This particular breakfast had a Sports Day theme. We asked everyone to wear a jersey representing their favorite sports team whether it's football, hockey, baseball or basketball. It was a great breakfast with a few sports fans wearing their jerseys. Great day, lots of fun.

Americans prefer to stay at home

Planning a vacation overseas this year? You're not exactly alone, but you're not in the majority. As reported on the NerdWallet website, a survey by Priority Pass found that only 14 percent of Americans plan to leave the United States for a vacation this year. Forty-five percent said they'd prefer to stay in the U.S.

The survey included 10,000 people in nine countries. Overall, 32 percent of respondents said they expect to go abroad for their holidays. Among other travel-related findings from the survey:

- Americans are least likely to spend a cash gift on travel. If given $300, U.S. residents are least likely to use it to help pay for a trip. People in the United Kingdom and Mexico are most likely.
- Americans spend more on travel. Although they travel less, Americans have the highest per-person budget for overseas travel.
- Americans don't share. Finally, the survey found that Americans are least likely to share their travel memories on social media, or recommend hotels, airlines, and transportation services than residents of other countries.

We're still looking at our phones on the road

We all know the dangers of texting while driving—or do we? A survey of drivers in Philadelphia, as reported on the Fox 8 website, found that 75 percent admit to using mobile devices behind the wheel.

They're not all kids, either. Although 91 percent of millennials reported using a smartphone or other device while driving, so did 79 percent of Gen Xers and 64 percent of Baby Boomers. What are they doing? Reading text messages or emails (48 percent), updating or checking social media (23 percent), and recording videos (18 percent). Only 9 percent of drivers in the survey said they use a "Do not disturb" app on their phones while driving.

These drawing games can spur your brain

Drawing can spur your creativity. You don't have to be a Picasso. Just try some of these games with your friends (from the My Modern Met website):

- The Exquisite Corpse. In this game, developed by the 20th-century Surrealist artists, one person begins a drawing at the top of a sheet of paper, then folds it over or covers it up so only a bit of the bottom is showing. The next person continues the drawing, folds it down, and so on. Unfolding it to reveal the completed drawing should produce surprises, laughs, and even some ideas.
- Paper Telephone. One person writes a short, descriptive phrase on a piece of paper, then passes it to the next. He or she then draws a picture based on the phrase. The next person looks only at the picture and then writes a phrase or sentence describing it. The following person then draws a picture of that phrase, and so on. By the end, the final picture and the original phrase may have nothing to do with each other.
- Blind Contour. In this exercise you (and a partner) draw something around you, but without looking at the paper—just the subject of your drawing. Keep your pen or pencil on the paper at all times. You might be surprised at what you see.
- Scribbles. One person scribbles on a piece of paper, eyes closed. The next person has to turn that doodle into a drawing. This forces your mind to make sense of nonsense.

A simple exercise for imagination

Your subconscious mind can help you exercise your imagination. Try this technique (used by Thomas Edison):

Ten minutes before you go to sleep, organize your thoughts. Think about a problem you're trying to solve, or ask your brain a question. Keep thinking about this as you drift off to dreamland. Then, during the first 10 minutes after waking up, write down whatever pops into your head. You'll often find that your brain has answered your question during your sleep. In the morning your mind is looser, and you're more likely to remember dreams and connect them to your daytime reality.

INVENTION, STRICTLY SPEAKING, IS LITTLE MORE THAN A NEW COMBINATION OF THOSE IMAGES WHICH HAVE BEEN PREVIOUSLY GATHERED AND DEPOSITED IN THE MEMORY; NOTHING CAN COME FROM NOTHING.

Watch these risk factors while you're driving

Staying safe on the road means being aware of the risks. According to the Knowledge at Work website, these factors can increase the chance of an accident while driving:

- Driving while fatigued or sleep-deprived—six hours of sleep or less triples your risk.
- Driving long distances without taking sufficient breaks for rest.
- Driving through the night, during a midafternoon energy dip, or when you would normally be asleep.
- Driving under the influence of sedating medications like antidepressants, cold tablets, antihistamines, and the like.
- Working more than 60 hours a week. This can raise your risk by 40 percent.
- Drinking alcohol, even in small amounts.
- Driving alone.
- Driving along a long, dark, or boring road.

Mystery of the missing Martian methane

It's a mystery—what happened to the methane on Mars? Science Magazine reports that in 2004, the Martian Express orbiter detected signs of methane in Mars' atmosphere. In 2014, the Curiosity rover observed a methane spike in Gale crater that lasted several months, and a few years later Curiosity detected a small seasonal cycle of methane eruptions in the Martian northern hemisphere.

Some scientists doubted the findings. The European Space Agency sent the Trace Gas Orbiter up, arriving in the red planet's orbit in 2016. Although some issues with the readings remain to be cleared up, researchers report that they haven't found any methane at all.

What happened? No one knows, but the Trace Gas Orbiter will keep reporting data until 2022, so maybe scientists will be able to solve the mystery after all.

Exercise puts the brakes on aging, study suggests

It's no secret that exercise keeps you healthy, but new evidence suggests that it can actually keep your body young as the years roll on. NPR reports that a recent study indicates that people in their 70s who have been exercising regularly for decades appear to have halted the aging process.

A study at the Human Performance Laboratory at Ball State University, looked at individuals in three groups. Two groups consisted of people with an average age of 75, some of whom had exercised strenuously throughout their lives and some who'd performed only mild exercise such as golfing or hiking. The third group was made up of people with an average age of 25, all of whom worked out as strenuously as their older counterparts.

Comparisons of oxygen intake, which tends to decline as people age, showed a strong similarity between the young and older high-energy exercisers. Observations of muscle health were similarly consistent.

You might not be able to go back in time and persuade your younger self to start working out, but aerobic exercise at any age can do wonders for your overall health as you age.

Sleep: Get just the right amount

Getting enough sleep is essential to good health. Now it turns out that getting too much sleep may be detrimental to your health.

An article on the Medical News Today website notes that six to eight hours of sleep is considered necessary for most adults. Sleep deprivation can contribute to such chronic health problems as diabetes, cardiovascular disease, depression, and other unhealthy conditions.

However, data from more than 116,000 people participating in the Prospective Urban Rural Epidemiology (PURE) study found that people who sleep more than eight hours a night are at advanced risk of cardiovascular disease and premature death. The risk is 5 percent higher for those who slept eight to nine hours per night, the study found. For those who slept nine to 10 hours, the risk of heart and blood vessel problems rose to 17 percent, and those who reported sleeping more than 10 hours were 41 percent more likely to develop cardiovascular problems and die early.

One more reason to get a good night's sleep—but not too much sleep.

Monthly

Credit Education Month. Know your credit score, review your budget, and make a plan to pay off debt. This month, focus on your personal and professional finances while you research the tools and services that can help you manage your credit.

Employee Spirit Month. The holidays are over, but cold and flu season is still here, tax time is around the corner, and the weather leaves much to be desired. Boost workplace morale and engagement by giving employees a reason to celebrate this month. Cater lunch or provide a tasty snack to show workers how much they mean to you. Spread good news and encourage others to do the same. Whatever you decide, do something. Your staff deserves it.

International Mirth Month. Keynote speaker, author, and self-proclaimed “Jollytologist” Allen Klein developed this month’s theme as a way of encouraging others to find humor in the mundane and stressful occurrences of life. Beat back the end-of-winter doldrums by infusing a healthy dose of mirth to your home and workplace.

Spiritual Wellness Month. Shift the focus to yourself to keep your spirit nurtured, and encourage others to do the same. It can be as simple as pushing back from your desk each day at 3 p.m. to observe a minute of quiet reflection and deep breathing, or creating a meditation station in an unused cubicle where you can retreat to enjoy a few minutes of quiet and space.

Weekly

National Write A Letter of Appreciation Week, March 1–7. When was the last time you wrote a letter to let someone know just how much they mean to you? Now is the time to do just that. You don’t have to limit yourself to writing only one.

Girl Scouts Week, March 10–16. Show your support for girls and young women in your community as they take on projects and tasks to develop their leadership and stewardship skills.

Welllderly Week, March 18–24. They say age is nothing but a number, so don’t let those digits be an excuse for slowing down. Staying active and engaged is the key to healthy life regardless of your age. Encourage seniors in your family and community to keep busy and move about. Help them find activities and resources to promote a greater sense of well-being.

International Week of Solidarity with People Struggling Against Racism and Discrimination, March 21–27. Attend programs and lectures in your area to elevate your awareness of problems and inequities created by prejudice.

Learn to bounce back from setbacks

Every career comes with a few—or more—setbacks. You can't avoid them, so you have to learn how to deal with them and bounce back. From the CNBC's Make It website comes this advice for recovering from even the toughest failures:

- Learn and adjust. When a disaster strikes, even a small one, take the time to figure out what happened. Then you can adjust your strategy so it doesn't happen again.
- Help other people. If you're generous with your time and expertise, people will willingly help you out when you fail. Make a point of assisting your co-workers and friends so they'll feel inclined to return the favor when you need them.
- Focus on what you can control. Obviously, some things are beyond your reach. Don't worry about them, and keep your mind on what's in your control. This will help you move forward.
- Keep the faith. Remember that you've succeeded before and will again. Think of the setbacks you've survived, and remind yourself that you didn't give up then. Next, commit yourself to action.
- Find allies. Surround yourself with people who not only help you, but encourage you. A circle of positive people who believe in you can give you the confidence to keep going in spite of failure.
- Accept responsibility. Don't blame others for your failure. Maybe they broke promises, but in the end, the responsibility for fixing things is up to you. Own up to your mistakes honestly, and share what you're doing to rectify them today and avoid them in the future.

Small asteroid holds big, wet surprises

A tiny asteroid 1.2 billion miles away is covered with boulders and is moister than previously was thought, NASA reports. An article on the U.S. News & WorldReport website relates that the Osiris-Rex space probe has taken orbit around Bennu, an asteroid only about three city blocks wide and weighing about 80 million tons.

Readings and photographs from Osiris-Rex show that Bennu is surprisingly studded with hundreds of small boulders across its surface. Scientists expected only a handful. Although there's no liquid water, plenty of moisture is evident in wet clay. Researchers speculate that Bennu broke off from a larger asteroid that could have contained water.

Osiris-Rex will orbit Bennu for a year, then dive close to its surface in 2010. A robotic arm will shoot puffs of nitrogen into Bennu's soil and collect grains of dirt from the asteroid; Osiris-Rex will return them to Earth in 2023.
