ELAINE'S EXERCISE PROGRAM RESUMES!

Hello old and new Embassy residents! My name is Elaine. In mid-October I resumed a free exercise program that is held in the Clubhouse. I don't need to tell you the importance of keeping your mind and body as agile and flexible as possible. Mondays and Thursdays, 7:45 – 8:30 a.m. is strength/conditioning using weights, stretch bands and balls. All exercises are done standing or sitting in a chair. Tuesday and Fridays (same time) is Zumba Gold, an aerobic exercise program using dance moves and energetic music. I know that there are many new residents in the Park and I look forward to meeting you. Exercise class is a great way to meet other park residents! I live at Lot 833 – feel free to stop by with any questions, call me at (727) 286-7744 or email me at ekpepper@earthlink.net.

PROJECT GREEK ISLAND (THE BUNKER)

In August my family and I visited The Greenbrier resort in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia. It is a beautiful hotel with pools, a casino, stores and four golf courses. But, for 30 years, the Greenbrier housed a big secret. It was the location for “The Bunker”, a US Government Relocation Facility designed to accommodate the US Senate and House of Representatives in the event of a national emergency. It was built by the Eisenhower Administration between 1958 and 1961. It is buried 720 feet into the hillside under a wing of the hotel. It is surrounded by ceiling and walls that are three to five feet thick reinforced concrete. Included in the facility are 44 separate locations with 153 rooms making up a total of 112,544 feet on two levels. The secret of the location was maintained for more than 30 years until May of 1992, when The Washington Post published a story effectively exposing it. We had a tour of the first floor of the bunker and was amazed at the detail and planning. The bedrooms were dormitory style with bunk-beds. Can you imagine the Democrats and Republicans having to live together? The guide told us that one tunnel was lined with nonperishable foods. Fresh fruits, vegetables, and meats were delivered every 5 days for 30 years, just in case the bunker was needed. Can you imagine? I asked what happened to the fresh foods, and when not used it went to the Greenbrier for the employee cafeteria. At least it didn’t go to waste! Our tax dollar at work! The Bunker was never used, and after exposed was now open for tours. A new “Bunker” has been created, but no one knows where it is. Probably around Washington D.C. We had a great day, and it is worth the visit. If you go, plan to stay at the Greenbrier. It is expensive, but it is the most beautiful hotel I have ever visited.

SUMMER TIME WITH DANA & BOBBI FAULKNER

It was a 4,000-mile road trip; rather than fly and rent a car when we arrived in Maine and then Michigan, we decided to drive. After four days on the road, we arrived in Lemington, Maine and stayed with Dana’s step-daughter, Robyn. Her daughter, Hailey, was getting married that weekend. At the reception we soon realized that the dance music of the younger generation didn’t work with our old feet! Where is Ron Foster and Glenn Begg’s when you need them!

Our biggest disappointment in Maine was when we went to Friendly’s Restaurant for our special lobster roll with French fries cole slaw and an ice cream sundae. Quickly we were informed that they no longer served the lobster roll. What? We had driven 1700 miles to find no lobster rolls. The waiter apologized and I kept telling him we had driven 1700 mile for the lobster rolls, and we were extremely disappointed. We often ate weekly at Friendly’s for this delicious meal; the thought of those lobster rolls had helped the miles fly by, only to be frustrated and disappointed!

After a week's visit, our van was repacked and we headed to Michigan for a visit with my family. My son's family was in New York for a wedding and were now heading to Michigan for our family reunion. I kept looking for a gray Sonoma on the highway, as this vehicle held my nine-month-old twin grandsons and their parents. Can you imagine my excitement had we connected on the highway? No such luck.

While Dana and I had seen the twins on prior visits to Florida, their Michigan visit would introduce them to aunts, uncles and cousins. Excitement prevailed for a week as we took turns holding Luke and Levi. Somehow everyone disappeared when it was diaper changing time!

Now it came time for me to do Nana duty while my daughter and son-in-law went to the Dominican Republic just as hurricane Irma was getting ready to strike. I was to oversee Caleb, 15, Lydia, 13, and Nathan, 5, for a week. Nathan soon became my challenge. We would have daily races to see who could brush their teeth, eat breakfast and get dressed first. Of course, Nathan would win! Sometimes I had to count to 3 to get him motivated or he would lose television. This usually worked unless he was extremely tired. One night while Nathan was bathing, he knew there would be no more TV, so he started crying. I explained that it was bedtime. He replied, "but Nana, I'm not whining!" I told him crying was a form of whining. Three books at bedtime was not enough for Nathan as he would follow up with many questions to avoid sleep. We would finish the night with me telling him how much I loved him and he would reply that he loved me more!

The daily schedule was hectic as we retrieved Caleb and Lydia from track and volleyball practice, then had to drive Nathan to soccer practice and his games. I never knew if I was coming or going! I had driving assistance from my son-in-law's mother, who would chastise me if I didn't remember the schedule.

Meals were a challenge, as my daughter didn't listen to my advice not to cook to her children's wants. Nana had to be tough once again. Nathan tried Grampy's frosted shredded wheat and it became habit forming. Two boxes were consumed in a week! Nathan even requested the cereal for his school lunch.

We continued the tradition of baking fresh apple pies. Somehow Caleb ate two pieces of pie and Nathan had none so the next day we baked another pie! Then Lydia requested a banana cream pie. Now I know why I gained weight while on vacation.

We slept in Caleb's room and the mattress left much to be desired. One-night Dana kept telling me to stop kicking him; I told him I wasn't moving; Nathan had decided to join us and he even put his toes in Grampy's mouth...toe jam anyone? Once the parents left on vacation we were upgraded to a king size bed. I felt like Goldilocks as this mattress was too soft. Now I know why there is no place like home!

While I was concerned about taking care of my grandchildren after being away from them for a couple of years, this journey was a blessing as we were able to bond again. Lesson learned: keep family tight and appreciate the time you have together.

Help for Severe Aortic Stenosis

Severe aortic stenosis is a narrowed aortic heart valve that doesn't open and close properly, reducing blood flow to the rest of the body.

Morton Plant Hospital is now enrolling eligible patients in the Medtronic Evolut R low-risk trial, which investigates the safety and effectiveness of a transcatheter aortic valve replacement (TAVR) system in patients with severe aortic stenosis who are at a low surgical mortality risk. TAVR is a minimally invasive alternative to open-heart surgery used to treat failing aortic heart valves in patients with severe aortic stenosis. Morton Plant Hospital was chosen as the first hospital in Tampa Bay to offer the TAVR procedure for patients with severe aortic stenosis who were at an intermediate or high surgical mortality risk. Our team has completed more than 700 TAVR procedures over the last five years.

To see if you or a loved one with severe aortic stenosis may be eligible for this trial, or for more information on the trial, call the Center for Advanced Valve and Structural Heart Care at Morton Plant Hospital at (855) 44-VALVE (855-448-2583) or visit MortonPlantValveTrial.org.

One minute a day may lead to stronger bones

Keeping your bones in good shape is vital to your health as you grow older, especially for women. Research reported on the Medical News Today website suggests that women may be able to keep their bones strong by running just one minute a day.

Examining data from more than 2,500 women, researchers found that women who participated in high-intensity, weight-bearing physical activity like running 60-120 seconds a day had 4 percent better bone health than women who took part in less than a minute of physical activity. Women who performed more than two minutes of exercise had 6 percent better bone health.

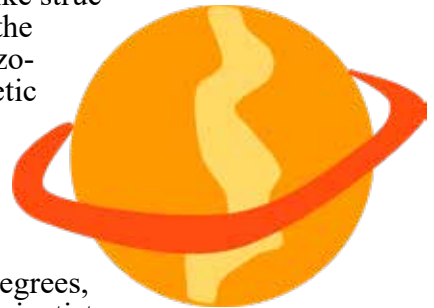

The researchers cautioned, though, that they can't be sure whether high-intensity exercise leads to better bone health, or whether people with better bone health tend to exercise more.

New findings about the solar system intrigue scientists

Our solar system is full of interesting places—maybe not to live or even visit, but locations where life might flourish under the right conditions, or may once have been present. Two recent examples from the Science News website:

• Life on Titan? Scientists have discovered that the atmosphere of Saturn's moon Titan contains vinyl cyanide—a molecule that forms membrane-like structures and could support life. Computer simulations suggest the molecule is capable of forming flexible bubbles known as azotosomes, that could serve as an outer shell “protecting” genetic material from biochemical reactions in the moon's frigid methane seas. No one knows whether azotosomes actually exist on Titan, though. A probe would have to check out the seas to detect them.

• Water on Venus? With a surface temperature of 460 degrees, Venus is too hot to support water or life as we know it, but scientists speculate it might not always have been so inhospitable. The second planet's slow rotation—116 Earth days for a single Venusian day—might have led to a gradual cloud buildup in its atmosphere some 750 million years ago, bringing surface temperatures down to approximately 15 degrees Celsius—enough for the formation of a shallow ocean. What happened to the oceans, or whether they even existed, isn't clear. Scientists speculate they may have boiled away or been absorbed into the planet's interior.

If you are what you eat . . .

This information isn't for the squeamish, but you might want to know it anyway. According to an article on the Huffington Post website, insects are so ubiquitous that the FDA allows a certain amount of bugs and insect fragments in the food we eat. Insect control organization Terro released data on just how much you might be eating in a year:

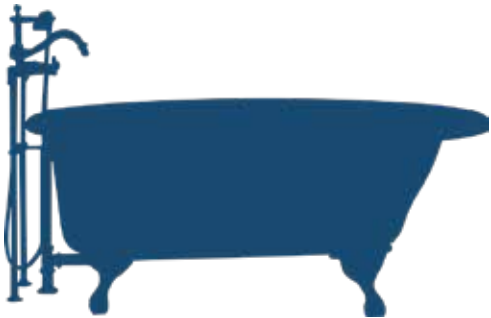

• Coffee beans	136,080 (fragments)
• Wheat flour	91,650 (fragments)
• Macaroni/noodle products	7,031 (fragments)
• Chocolate	5,988 (fragments)
• Broccoli (frozen)	1,660
• Peanut butter	408 (fragments)
• Mushrooms	254
• Berries (canned or frozen)	84
• Brussel sprouts (frozen)	54

Relax with a nice warm bath

What's more relaxing than a long hot bath? Jacuzzi Luxury Bath commissioned a survey to explore Americans' bathing habits, and found that 38 percent of us take baths at least once a week. Frequent bathers take an average of 3.3 baths weekly for an average of 28 minutes. Among other results:

- Timing. The most popular times for taking a bath are weekend evenings and Monday mornings.
- Demographics. Bathing breaks down 50-50 between men and women. Younger people are more likely to be frequent bathers: 48 percent of people 25-44 said they bathe on a regular basis.
- Benefits. Women tend to take baths because it helps them relax, while men feel baths lead to better mental acuity. Bathers 18-44 said baths make them feel more alert.
- Exercise. Baths are popular for relieving soreness and fatigue caused by exercise. Forty-three percent of runner or joggers take a bath to recover after their workout, along with 34 percent who take exercise classes and 33 percent of weightlifters, followed by basketball players, bikers, and swimmers.

Driverless cars coming to a street near you?

Driverless cars can't wait for self-driving cars, according to a survey by Bosch Mobility Solutions. Out of 1,000 U.S.-based new car buyers 18 years or older, 52 percent said they expect to own a self-driving vehicle within the next 10 years. Only 14 percent said they'd never buy a self-driving car, and 14 percent were undecided.

Although 72 percent of survey participants signaled worries about lack of control in a vehicle they don't drive themselves, 61 percent said they believe self-driving cars could lead to a decrease in traffic accidents, and 55 percent highlighted more free time and less stress as a benefit to driverless cars.

Why kids stay home longer

It's not just a stereotype: More and more young Americans are living with their parents, the U.S. Census Bureau reports. According to a recent study, one in three Americans age 18-34 were living in their parents' home in 2015—some 24 million people. In 1975, the figure was closer to one in five.

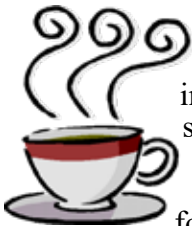

One reason: Young people are delaying marriage longer than their older counterparts did. Eighty percent of Americans were married by age 30 in 1975, but nowadays that 80 percent figure isn't reached until age 45.

Younger Americans are also dealing with high student loan debt, which makes staying at home a convenient way for them to pay bills and save to rent an apartment or buy a house.

Coffee + nap = more energy

Want to take a nap that will leave you refreshed and ready to go again? Try drinking a cup of coffee first.

It sounds counterintuitive, but that's the advice from the Health.com website. The reason why it works: The caffeine in a cup of coffee takes about 30 minutes to kick in. After a 30-minute nap, you'll wake up just as the caffeine takes effect.

Research backs the idea up. In 1997 the journal Psychophysiology reported that sleepy adults who drank 200 mg of caffeine (twice the amount in 8 ounces of brewed coffee) and then took a short nap performed better on a simulated driving test than people who got only the caffeine.

Keep your naps short—15-30 minutes—and take them at least six hours before your regular bedtime so the caffeine doesn't keep you up at night. If you're sensitive to caffeine, try green tea instead.
