New England Breakfast

The New Enganders and their friends and neighbors will meet on Tuesday 9:00 am, October 20th , at 9:00 am, for their monthly breakfast gathering at the Country Skillet Restaurant on Roosevelt Boulevard. Come and join the sociability and delightful food.

Monthly Ladies Luncheon

Come and join the Embassy Ladies at their monthly luncheon to be held at The Roosterfish Restaurant on Missouri Avenue on Wednesday, October 14th, at noontime. Elaine Pepper will be the hostess for the affair.

Pot Luck Supper.

Another pot luck supper will be held at the Clubhouse on Thursday, October 15th, at 5:00 pm. Sign up for one of our favorite activities at the Park, and be sure to bring one of your favorite dishes if you would like to do so. By the way, look for the wonderful recipe elsewhere in this issue of the dish “Sopapilla Cheesecake” that Carol Axe brought for us to share. It was the hit of the night! Don’t forget your place settings, 50/50 and donations.

Embassy’s Halloween Party

It’s time again for one of our favorite nights of celebration here at Embassy Park. The Annual Halloween Party!! What fun there is at this time each year as most of the attendees decide to get gussied up in their most wonderful costumes. What originality! What beauty. What funny stuff! Lots of fun and laughter! And bring along some pastry and fun stuff for the dessert array! Prizes will be awarded.

CANADIAN ANNUAL SUMMER PICNIC

Another wonderful annual picnic took place this past month up in Nova Scotia, Canada. As usual it was a well-attended activity attended by Embassy’s Canadian and American residents who traveled up there for the usual weekend of frivolity, food and friendship. On Friday evening they gathered at Murphy’s, their favorite fish and chips restaurant in Halifax to kick off the weekend. Then on Saturday a wonderful day was spent with sumptuous picnic fare and a spate of wonderful food, fun and games.

Fred and Ferne Barton once again hosted a time at their place on the lake and I imagine the ponton boat probably got another healthy workout!

A great affair took place as Diane and Russ Marsden celebrated a special anniversary at the Barton’s with a very exceptional renewal of their vows before all their friends present. Our Cathy and Ron Russell were there, and Ron stepped forward to officiate as visiting dignitary for the special occasion! Diane gladly flashed her left hand around so that all could view the magnificent wedding band fashioned by guest Arlene Stuart out of a Cucumber Peel, of all things!

Russ had recently been in the hospital with problems with his mouth, tongue, and larynx, diagnosed as Stage 1 Cancer. He was treated for it by a wonderful new remedy by his doctors. He was finally diagnosed, thank goodness, as cancer-free! Hallelujah! So wonderful congratulations are herewith extended to him and Diane to celebrate this particular anniversary all year long!

THANK YOU, THANK YOU !

There are just no words to adequately express how much I appreciate what all my neighbors, friends and residents of Embassy have done to help me through this unbelievable past year of medical and physical ups and downs. Sometimes every day of each week have been spent at the cancer centers, myriad doctors' offices, hospitals, laboratories, chemo infusion centers, radiation centers, home rehab, home nursing, etc! I started this journey over a year ago at 189 pounds, and now weigh in at a PETITE 116 pounds never seen since junior high school! However I would never recommend this diet to anyone at all. I can't even begin to tally the numbers of hours and miles these wonderful people have spent chauffeuring me to all of these medical facilities in their own automobiles.

And I have been the recipient of some of the most tasty culinary delights delivered to me by thoughtful and wonderful Embassy friends and neighbors. I'm almost embarrassed by my elementary (or kindergarten!) style of passing for a cook at all!

Like everyone around these parts knows - - it's not the elegance of our little spot of the world, but the heart and soul and loving generosity of its people that makes our Park shine brighter than any others hereabouts. Thank you, dear Lord for all of our blessings!

GET READY

We've had a wonderful summer this year and have been busy with a great social calendar supervised by our Social Club officers Janis Wilson and Elaine Migliorati, though it was wet, rainy, hot and humid most of the time. The days seem to be simmering down more these days, and it is a sure sign that we can get ready this month and the next to welcome our snowbird friends and neighbors back to the fold, and look forward to equally busy fall and winter season of activities and social gatherings.

Love, honor, and make your payment

One important factor that can unbalance a marriage or romantic relationship is debt. A survey conducted by Harris Poll for NerdWallet determined that 35 percent of adults have brought at least some credit card debt into their romantic relationships—more than student loans, car payments, medical loans, and mortgage debt.

More men than women bring it, with 42 percent of adult men coming into relationships with credit card debt, as opposed to 29 percent of women. Whoever's behind it, though, such debt can have costs beyond interest payments: 25 percent of couples with at least one partner dealing with credit card debt reported that it had a negative impact on their relationship.

Be alert to the signs of Alzheimer's disease

More than 5 million people live with Alzheimer's disease in the U.S. It's an affliction that can't be diagnosed with a blood test or a brain scan, so doctors and patients depend on behavioral clues to determine whether someone is suffering from it. An early diagnosis can help with treatment and care, so pay attention to these warning signs from the Alzheimer's Association:

- Changes in memory that disrupt daily activities
- Difficulty solving problems or making plans
- Problems performing familiar tasks at work or at home
- Confusion over places and times
- Problems processing visual images and spatial relationships
- Growing difficulties with writing and speaking
- Losing items/getting lost outside

If you or a loved one begins exhibiting a number of these symptoms, consult with your doctor. Although Alzheimer's has no cure, many treatments can delay its onset and provide a meaningful quality of life for years.

Follow correct procedures whenever you lift a load

Lifting heavy items incorrectly can injure your back and other parts of your body. Whenever you have a heavy object to move, follow these basic rules for staying safe:

- Bend at the knees.
- Keep your head up.
- Keep your back straight.
- Lift with your legs, not your arms or back.
- Keep the object close to your body.
- Don't twist your back as you walk.
- Maintain stable footing.
- Ask for help if the load is too heavy for you to move on your own.

Strengthen your peer relationships

Getting along with your manager is important to success in any workplace, but so is a good relationship with your co-workers. You need everyone's support to get ahead. Forge strong connections by looking at these factors:

- Expectations. Clarify what you expect from your colleagues in the way of information, assistance, and results. Get to know each other's goals so you can provide the right kind of support.
- Mutual trust. Can you count on each other to follow through on commitments—or at least warn that problems are approaching? This is possible only if you both take responsibility for cooperation and communication.
- Sociability. Can you do more than merely tolerate each other? Go beyond common courtesy and show a genuine interest in other people's lives outside the job. Relationships grow through getting to know each other on a personal basis instead of just talking about work.
- Communication. This is the acid test of any working relationship: Can you tell each other what's on your mind? This isn't simply a matter of airing complaints. Delivering praise or thanks to a co-worker may feel awkward, but it's the heart of a good relationship. Be honest with the people around you, and listen to their words in the same spirit.

Avoiding the dentist? It may cost you

Proper dental care is important to your overall health. Unfortunately, many of us tend to avoid visiting the dentist—often because of the cost.

A survey commissioned by Aspen Dental found that almost two out of five Americans have delayed needed dental work, or had it only partially performed, because of their financial situation. It's a figure that has jumped by almost 8 percent over the last two years, even though 80 percent say they're aware that staying away from the dentist will be more expensive in the long run.

Take one step to lose weight

Want to lose weight? Step onto a scale every day. That may seem like obvious advice, but it's supported by the results of a study reported on the Live Science website.

In the study, researchers challenged 162 people to reduce their weight by 10 percent over the course of the year. They weren't given any specific advice, but about half the participants were given scales and told to check and record their weight every morning.

Although few of the participants in either group achieved their goal of losing 10 percent of their body weight, 29 percent of those given scales succeeded in losing at least 5 percent, but only 11 percent in the scale-free group lost as much. In addition, participants given scales managed to maintain their weight loss for a second year.

The researchers have theorized that checking weight once a day may help people pay more attention to what they eat (and how much), and reinforce positive weight-loss behaviors like skipping dessert.

Thought-controlled robots offer freedom and mobility

Humans can now control robots remotely with their thoughts, thanks to a team of scientists who have developed technology to help people with disabilities regain some independence in their lives.

The robots are equipped with wheels and a video camera. The scientists tested them with a group of 19 subjects, nine with disabilities and 10 without. Each subject wore a helmet studded with electrodes that analyzed with brain signals for several weeks. Then they were told to direct the movements of a robot in Switzerland via the Internet. After less than 10 days of training, all of the nine participants with disabilities were able to control the robot easily, as did those with no disability.

In addition, the robot is able to avoid obstacles on its own without direction from its human controller, allowing people to take a break when they become tired. Such robots could become part of the daily life of people with mobility issues, giving them the opportunity to interact with others outside their homes.

Solar panel promises hope for clean fuel

A new type of solar panel could allow us to split water into hydrogen and oxygen atoms and create a clean hydrogen fuel, according to the NBC News website.

The panel, developed by scientists in Switzerland, looks like the common solar panels found on rooftops. Sunlight passes through a layer of water, and the non-toxic chemical tungsten diselenide works as a catalyst to break the water into its separate hydrogen and oxygen atoms. The scientists hope to commercialize the process to create a cheap source of hydrogen fuel, but a practical version won't be available for at least 10 years.

We can judge our progress by the courage of our questions and the depth of our answers, our willingness to embrace what is true rather than what feels good.

Spiders On The Move: Land, Air, And Water

If you're afraid of spiders, this may not be good news: Scientists have discovered that some spiders can actually walk or sail across water, allowing them to travel great distances and colonize new areas of the world.

Spiders have long been known to travel by “ballooning”—climbing to the top of a plant or tree and shooting out a strand of web that catches the breeze, pulling them through the air. But what happens when they land on water? Some species of spiders have water-resistant legs that prevent them from sinking beneath the surface. With specialized “dance” routines, the spiders are able to make their way across the water. In addition, they're able to lift their legs to catch the wind, sliding on the surface as if sailing. Some spiders are also able to lift their abdomens like sails and take advantage of air currents to transport themselves.

All this helps spiders move about, allowing them to take their place as predators keeping insect populations in check. How far they can actually travel is still unclear, as is the question of whether salt water affects their mobility. Scientists are continuing to study the spiders to find out if they can literally sail across the ocean.

Black Holes: The Truth Is Out There (Just Hidden)

The universe is full of supermassive black holes, according to findings from NASA's Nuclear Spectroscopic Telescope Array (NuSTAR). But they're not always easy to locate because they're typically found at the center of galaxies, and hidden by clouds of dust and gas.

Astronomers found several of them recently them by analyzing high-energy X-rays at nine locations throughout the universe. The NuSTAR confirmed the existence of five black holes and determined that they're much more active than previously was known, consuming huge amounts of interstellar material and emitting large doses of radiation.

The NuSTAR's readings confirm theories of the presence of black holes throughout the cosmos and help to explain why many of them are obscured from view.

We can judge our progress by the courage of our questions and the depth of our answers, our willingness to embrace what is true rather than what feels good.

Badge of authority

A DEA agent pulled into a Texas ranch and knocked on the door. “I need to inspect your land for illegally grown drugs,” he told the rancher.

“Well, you can look wherever you want,” the rancher replied. “But you have to stay out of the north field.”

The agent reached into his pocket and pulled out his badge. “Listen, this badge gives me authority to go wherever I want on your land, so don’t tell me where I can and can’t go! Understand?”

“Certainly.” The rancher backed away.

He watched as the agent searched his property, until finally they reached the north field. The agent climbed over a fence and started to walk.

Suddenly a huge bull spotted him and began to charge. The agent ran, but the bull was catching up.

“Help!” he shouted to the rancher. “What do I do?”

The rancher leaned over the fence. “Show him your badge! Show him your badge!”
