Recipe Of The Month: Easy One-Pot Chicken Dinner For 2

Ingredients:

- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup diced potato
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 teaspoon chopped parsley
- 2 Tablespoons chopped celery
- 1 cup water
- 1 Bay leaf
- 1/8 teaspoon thyme
- 1 cup peas
- 2 3-ounce skinless, boneless chicken breasts

Directions:

1. Heat a heavy skillet, add onions and potatoes.
2. Cook over medium heat while stirring until they begin to brown.
3. Add the remaining ingredients as listed except for the peas and chicken. Stir and bring to a boil.
4. Place chicken in sauce; reduce heat to simmer.
5. Cover and cook for about 12 minutes, then add peas and continue to simmer until the liquid is reduced. This is about 5 minutes or so.
6. To serve, place one chicken breast on each plate and spoon the sauce over the top.

The Embassy Library

Running Blind, a Jack Reacher thriller by Lee Child, kept me enthralled from the very beginning and the ending surprised me! Jack Reacher is a former MP who wanders the U.S. It was very refreshing to be surprised at the end.

Lee Child, born James D. Grant, is a British author who writes thrill novels.

P.S. Don't forget to check out the new room at the Library

We still have mail boxes and pool cover-ups for sale to help fund the Library..check them out in the Office.

Phone Books Are Here!

A reminder to returning residents that their phone books can be picked up in the Office. If you did not have your picture taken and would like a list of residents and phone numbers, please contact Janis Wilson.

From The Office:

REMINDERS:

- Do not leave any standing water to attract mosquitos
- 30 yard dumpster on 3rd street IS NOT for household garbage, household garbage must go into a dumpster that has a lid
- Rent must be in the Office by 5 PM on the 5th or you may be subject to late fees
- Manager's meeting will be Tuesday, Sept. 12th at 10:00 a.m. ALL residents welcome, free coffee and cake, 50/50 tickets sold to benefit the Library

Summer Social Events

The much anticipated PJ Breakfast was cancelled due to the illness of many residents from a virus that spread thru the Park.

Make sure to sign up for the Labor Day BBQ

Breakfast on Sept. 16th at 9 a.m. and Music and dancing by Ron at 7 PM

TRIVIA

Embassy Cat Population

As you know, there is a large population of stray cats that roam the Park. For the most part they do not seem feral, but rather friendly. It is illegal in Pinellas County to feed (or own) outdoor cats. Those of you that continue to do this risk a large fine if caught. The outdoor cat food is also attracting raccoon and possum families to your residence!

MEOW Now's mission is to humanely reduce the free-roaming cat population in Pinellas County by providing targeted T (trap) N (neuter) V (Vaccinate) R (return) caregiver support and advocacy.

The benefits of TNVR:

- Reduces the overpopulation of community cats with spay/neuter
- Stabilizes the feral/free roaming cat population by ending reproduction
- Protects public health as cats are vaccinated against rabies and distemper
- Cat colonies are healthier and less visible
- Reduces nuisance behaviors in cats
- Fewer nuisance complaints
- Lowers intake and euthanasia of cats at shelters
- Saves taxpayer dollars

MEOW now provides vaccination, ear tip, and spay/neuter services to community cats.

My Vacation

By Jessie Buchholtz, Park Manager

I recently made plans to go to MI for 5 days, but after 2 days I decided to extend it another week! (Thank you Liv Parras for covering the Office for me, Roy and Chuck for taking care of everything else)

The weather was in the mid 70's and sunny almost every day, which sure beat the 100 plus heat index here in FL at the same time!

I had planned this trip to attend the Holland Art Fair (which I have been doing for many years). After attending the Art Fair I spent another 4 hours supporting the shops of Holland. It is a great town to visit, lots of great food and street entertainment, very clean and well maintained.

I also spent a day in Saugatuck, which is a resort community on Lake Michigan, packed full of boutique stores, restaurants, and many wineries with free sampling, which I also supported!

I spent a day in South Haven for their annual Blueberry Festival, which is actually 4 days of great events. We spent the day first at the Art Fair, then the downtown market, then the boutiques. I again did my best to support the local merchants! This is a very quaint old town, with a drawbridge that goes up every hour to accommodate boat traffic. It is on the eastern shore of Lake Michigan at the mouth of the Black River

I made 4 night time trips to Wayland, MI to visit the Gun Lake Casino, which was kind enough to provide me with the money to support all of the great little towns that I visited.

Thank you to my oldest daughter Tammy and her husband Don, who are kind enough to put up with me. They recently acquired a new family member, Lucy, who is a King Charles Spaniel, now 4 months old, weighing in at 12 pounds..she goes to puppy school once a week, still a ways to go with the potty training!

VINYL IS FINAL

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word - the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."

Carol Zapiecki, Clearwater, FL

"Just a short note to express my appreciation for the work done on my mobile home. The crews that worked here...were gentlemen at all times, efficient, knowledgeable and prompt. You can be sure if I run into anybody who needs your type of work, I will surely recommend your company. It has been a very satisfying experience!"

Chocolate may be good for your heart

In case you're looking for an excuse to eat some chocolate, consider this: It may reduce your risk of irregular heartbeat.

An analysis of some 55,000 adults from Denmark found that eating 2-6 ounces of chocolate a week was associated with a 20 percent decreased risk of atrial fibrillation, or A-fib, otherwise known as an irregular heartbeat. A-fib can compromise blood flow in the upper chambers of the heart—the atria. People with A-fib are five times more likely to suffer a stroke, according to the American Heart Association, and have twice the risk of a heart-related death.

Moderate consumption of chocolate, especially dark chocolate, appears to reduce that risk, although binging on larger amounts can obviously lead to weight gain and associated problems.

Carbon monoxide safety tips for your home

Carbon monoxide (CO) is a colorless and nearly odorless gas that's created by the incomplete burning of solid, liquid, and gaseous fuels. Appliances that burn LP gas (liquefied petroleum), oil, coal, kerosene, coal or wood may produce carbon monoxide. Carbon monoxide is also poisonous to animals and people. Symptoms of its effects include:

- Headache
- Fatigue
- Shortness of breath
- Nausea
- Dizziness

To prevent CO poisoning, take these precautions:

- Buy and install a CO alarm. Make sure it is listed with Underwriters Laboratories or that there is information on the package that indicates that it meets the requirements of IAS 6-96 standards. Follow the directions for placement and installation.
- Install appliances properly. Most of them should be installed by a professional.
- Practice good maintenance. Have your heating system (furnaces, flues, and chimneys) inspected and serviced by a professional every year.
- Burn charcoal outdoors only. Never burn it in a tent, home, garage, vehicle, etc. Don't use portable fuel-burning camping equipment indoors or inside tents, etc.
- Make sure you turn off fuel-burning engine equipment when you are inside a garage or basement. Just having the doors open does not ensure your safety.

Did you know that September is also...

Blood Cancer Awareness Month. Lymphoma is a type of blood cancer that occurs when lymphocytes—white blood cells that help protect the body from infection and disease—begin behaving abnormally. Lymphoma may develop in many parts of the body, including the lymph nodes, spleen, bone marrow, blood or other organs. This year’s theme for Blood Cancer Awareness Month is “Light it Red for Lymphoma.”

National Child Awareness Month. During National Child Awareness Month, a wide array of organizations set aside their individual agendas to focus on the bigger picture of children in America today and what can be done to address their growing challenges and needs tomorrow.

National Cholesterol Education Month. National Cholesterol Education Month is a good time to get your blood cholesterol checked and take steps to lower it if it’s high. It’s also a good time to learn about lipid profiles and food and lifestyle choices that will help you reach your personal cholesterol goals.

National Piano Month. A good month to sign up for piano lessons. Although invented around the year 1700, the piano took several decades to become a favorite of composers and performers alike. In the 19th century the instrument grew larger and more powerful. At the same time, the instrument became the primary source of home entertainment, and learning to play the piano became an important part of childhood education.

Substitute Teacher Appreciation Week, Sept. 3-9. Five days dedicated to the hundreds of thousands of education professionals who fill in at the schools every day across the United States. This nationwide event is recognized by the U.S. House of Representatives, schools, and school districts around the country.

National Suicide Prevention Week, Sept. 10-16. High schools, colleges, and universities can create their own activities for National Suicide Prevention Week. These locations are ideal to promote public awareness of the goals of suicide prevention, educate the public about the prevalence of suicide, and involve young adults in prevention activities.

Child Passenger Safety Week, Sept. 17-23. Car crashes are a leading cause of death for children up to 13 years old. Many deaths and injuries can be prevented by proper use of car seats, boosters, and seat belts. Getting safety information and car seat instructions to parents and caregivers is crucial to saving young lives.

Complete dinosaur skeleton is spectacular find

Most dinosaur fossils consist of a few bones or teeth, but in 2011 a heavy-equipment operator in Alberta, Canada unearthed something unique—the complete fossilized remains of a newfound type of nodosaur, part of the ankylosaur family, which lived between 100 million and 112 million years old.

As reported on the National Geographic website, the dinosaur is still getting paleontologists excited today. The dinosaur is so well preserved that it “might have been walking around a couple of weeks ago,” says paleobiologist Jakob Vinther, who’s studying the ancient beast at Alberta’s Royal Tyrrell Museum.

Because of its preservation, the fossil is providing new insights into the structure of nodosaurs’ armor, letting paleontologists see how sheaths of keratin—material also found in human fingernails—exaggerated the armor’s size and shape.

Robot can grasp complex objects with new hand

Most robotic hands are clumsy and have a hard time picking up odd-shaped objects like shoes or spray bottles. But according to the Science News website, roboticists at UC Berkeley have created a robot that can pick up and move awkward objects with a success rate of 99 percent.

The robot, DexNet 2.0, uses a process called deep learning to handle objects. The roboticists created a database of three-dimensional shapes using 6.7 million data points. A neural network learned ways to grasp, lift, and move irregularly shaped objects, and then was hooked up to a robotic arm with a 3D sensor. DexNet 2.0 studies an object placed in front of it and then chooses the right grasp to pick it up and move it.

DexNet 2.0’s success rate could be applied to industry, possibly revolutionizing manufacturing and supply chains.

He studies it because he takes pleasure in it, and he takes pleasure in it because it is beautiful.

What to eat? The choices can be confusing

Americans trying to eat healthy have lots of choices, but all those options can be confusing. The CNN website reports that 78 percent of respondents to a survey by the International Food Information Council Foundation said they're not sure what foods they should eat and which they should avoid.

The survey of slightly more than 1,000 American adults found that almost 60 percent named food that's "high in healthy components or nutrients" as one of their top three factors for choosing a "healthy" food, followed by food that's free from artificial ingredients, preservatives or additives (just more than 50 percent). Choices that are "part of an important food group that I need to build a healthy eating style" rounded out the list of foods health-conscious folks are looking for (nearly 50 percent).

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration considers food that can be marketed as "healthy" as having low levels of total and saturated fat, sodium, and cholesterol, and at least 10 percent of the daily requirements for vitamins, fiber, and other nutrients.

Millennial women take less vacation than men

Americans workers have a reputation for not taking all the vacation they have coming. Among them, millennial women seem to take the least: Only 44 percent used all their vacation time in 2016, according to a survey reported on the Mic website, compared with 51 percent of their male co-workers.

What's behind the gap? Thirty-seven percent of millennial women said they want to demonstrate full commitment to their jobs, but only 32 percent of men surveyed expressed the same feeling. Moreover, 35 percent of the women said they feel guilty about taking time off, compared with 25 percent of the men.

Overall, 53 percent of the 7,331 millennials surveyed left unused vacation days, with 55 percent of Gen Xers and 52 percent of Baby Boomers forfeiting vacation days.

Teens: Not glued to social media

Most of us imagine that today's teens do nothing but sit around with their smartphones texting each other, checking social media, posting images to Instagram, and the like. That stereotype, like most, isn't true. An Associated Press-NORC Center for Public Affairs Research survey of teens recently found that 58 percent voluntarily take breaks from social media for various reasons:

- Getting in the way of work or school: 8 percent
- Tired of conflict and drama: 24 percent
- Tired of keeping up: 20 percent
