Glen Ellen Multi Media Messenger

All Glen Ellen residents – we are upgrading from a ‘Focus’ to a ‘Multi-Media Newsletter’ starting January 1, 2015. The Calendar and Focus material will all be in this Newsletter. More details to follow. Enjoy!

Your scribe,
Nancy Labbe

Manager Marilyn Sisti’s Message

We hope that you had a great and healthy holiday!!
Pets, the rules of the park are that your pets are to be leashed at all times, there are some of you that are ignoring this, also when you leave your home please be aware that your dogs are barking constantly while you are away. Please respect others and be a responsible pet owner this includes not letting your pet go to the bathroom on someone else's yard. I have tried to be tolerant and Diane has spoken to many of you when we get complaints. The time now has come for the attorneys to get involved. I have sent a few of you with consistent complaints to the attorneys to begin eviction if this is not corrected. I am assuming you think this won't happen, this is a violation of park rules and be aware that any violation can lead to an eviction.

I know Diane has been doing site inspections and I want to thank all of you that have listened and improved your home and yard. To the other residents that have ignored this, please be aware that this is also a rules violation. If you need help and cannot make the improvements yourself please reach out to your fellow residents as they are always willing to help.

I am very aware that our "pull" homes upset many of you, they upset me also, but since it is not in my power to have them pulled, Jim has tried to make them look as presentable as possible. Please know that I am constantly requesting for them to be pulled out of the park, until that happens please bear with us.

Eat right to avoid the flu

It's never too late to protect yourself (and your friends and family) from the flu. A flu shot may be your best line of defense, but you can also keep the flu virus at bay with help from these foods:

- Chicken soup. Once again, your mother was right. Chicken soup provides fluids that help fight off viruses, and it can reduce inflammation and other symptoms of the flu.
- Garlic. Compounds in garlic (also onions) known as allion and allicin have an antiviral impact. For maximum effect, chew a raw clove every three to four hours. If necessary, try chopping the clove into smaller pieces to swallow like pills.
- Pumpkin seeds. The zinc in pumpkin seeds is said to help white blood cells fight off disease.
- Citrus fruits. The vitamin C found in most citrus fruits (as well as red bell peppers, broccoli, sweet potatoes, and other foods) can reduce cold and flu symptoms by up to 25 percent.
- Blueberries. Antioxidants are more plentiful in blueberries than in lots of other fruits and vegetables. Eat half a cup a day during flu season. Fresh blueberries are best, but even frozen ones offer strong benefits.

Numbers in the News

Love on the rocks? Unmarried adults on the rise

The number of Americans who have never been married has reached an all-time high: In 2012, one out of five American adults 25 and older had always been single, adding up to about 42 million people. In comparison, only one in 10 adults in 1961 had never gotten married.

The Pew Research Center, which examined the data, notes that Americans are getting married later these days, and are also more likely to be living together before marriage. The median age for first marriage is 27 for women, and 29 for men—that’s up from 20 for women and 23 for men in 1960.

What’s behind the decline? Economic reasons may play a role, along with different expectations about what’s important in a potential mate. For 78 percent of women, for example, the No. 1 requirement is a steady job. For men, the biggest draw (70 percent) is “similar ideas about having and raising children.”

Still, more than half of unmarried Americans—53 percent—say they do hope to get married and settle down someday; 32 percent aren’t sure, and only 13 percent are firmly committed to avoiding matrimony in their lives.

A quick look at the affluent American

“[T]he very rich ... are different from you and me,” wrote the famous American novelist F. Scott Fitzgerald. The Ipsos Affluent Survey USA explains just how different in its latest report.

Defining the “affluent” American as a person 18 or older with at least $100,000 in annual household income—about 23 percent of U.S. households—the Ipsos survey reports that spending among Affluents amounted to $2 trillion in 2014, the highest in the survey’s 38-year history. Average household income was $197,400, down slightly from 2013 but higher than the 2011 and 2012 levels. Their liquid assets were worth an average of $592,000.

Affluents are big on technology, making them not so different from everyone else. For example, 58 percent use an iPhone or iPad, 47 percent have a TV connected to the Internet, about 50 percent have made a purchase using their smartphones or tablets, and 10 million have a mobile payment/wallet app on their mobile devices.
