Manager's Message

It is that time of year, everyone is getting ready for summer. The snow birds are heading up North. Some of the snow birds left early due to the coronavirus..

Please be sure your mobile is in good condition before you leave and arrange someone to do the weeding and upkeep on your property while you are gone.

I hope everyone has an enjoyable summer.

Year round residents, enjoy the month of May.

President Debra Delpha's Message

I would like to thank everyone who voted for me in becoming President of Glen Ellen Association. I appreciate your support and will give 100% effort in making Glen Ellen a great place to live. I thank you!

Nancy Labbe's Message

What a month April was! I am sure we will remember it for quite a while.

I think everyone had an enjoyable 'Glen Ellen Season'. There were many activities and everyone seemed to have a good time. Thank you everyone for your support.

I have put all the regular activities on the calendar, but, of course everything is closed, the hall, the pool, etc. I will let everyone know when we can get access. Be safe everyone!

May Days

Hug Your Cat Day, May 1. You should be doing this every day, but in case you're not, today is the day to show your kitty some affection.

Learn to Ride a Bike Day, May 2. Slap on the training wheels if it makes you feel better. The point is, just get on a bike and go for a spin.

No Diet Day, May 6. You don't have to follow the latest trends to change your relationship with food. Start today with a commitment to live a healthier life by decreasing your consumption of junk foods.

Letter Carrier's "Stamp Out Hunger" Food Drive, May 9. Check with your local postal carrier and station to find out what items they are accepting during the largest national food drive in the U.S.

Stay Up All Night Night, May 9. Reconnect with your inner child and have some fun as you stay up (and out) well past the time when the streetlights come on.

Mother's Day, May 10. She carried you in her womb for nine months, and that did a number on her back. Now give her some flowers and take her out to brunch. It's the least you can do.

How to set reasonable goals

Setting a goal is important, but setting a good goal is what really counts. What is a good goal? A good goal usually has a few definable characteristics. Good goals are:

- Specifically focused.
- Neither too hard, nor too easy.
- Shared and agreed upon with others who will be working on them.
- Written down and visualized.

If it's not the flower, it could be the flour

National Allergy and Asthma Awareness Month serves as a reminder to tackle your spring cleaning projects to maintain a safe environment for optimal health.

There's no better time than the present to address these areas:

- Around the house. Shampoo carpets and upholstery, clean window treatments, vacuum out corners and crevices, and address those areas in your home where dust, mold, and allergens could be lurking and waiting to trigger an asthma event.
- In the kitchen. If you or someone in your family is one of the 32 million Americans with a food-based allergy, you'll want to check your pantry and cupboards. After you toss out all the expired food items, take time to review the ingredients of those remaining for known allergens such as wheat, dairy, eggs, soy, nuts, tree nuts, fish, and seafood.

Here are a few more areas you'll want to check for allergens that might be hiding in plain sight:

- Your child or grandchild's room. Make sure stuffed animals and bean bag toys aren't filled with nut shells, crayons are soy-free crayons, and play dough is the wheat-free version.
- Fido's corner. Your dog loves those biscuits and bone treats you give him, but if they contain peanut butter or milk by-products, more sensitive members of your household might have adverse reactions.
- The bathroom. The biggest culprit here might be your shampoo, conditioner, soap, or lotion, so read the labels carefully.

As I get older, I think about the quality of my life and a balanced way to enjoy that. That's true wellness—being well from inside out.

Limit your spending to stay on budget

When you're saving, you have to pay attention to the small stuff. Here are three simple strategies to help curb your spending and cut down on unnecessary expenses.

- Be your own barista. Skip the lines, the strain on your budget, and the extra calories by brewing your own coffee at home. In fact, bring your own soda, juice, and any other beverages you like to drink throughout the day.
- Organize a lunch swap. One day you make and bring lunch for yourself and a co-worker. The next day, she does the same for you. Don't have a lunch buddy? No problem, brown bag last night's leftovers instead of grabbing takeout.
- Shop smart. Use coupons and hit up the sales. Stock up on your favorite shampoo, personal items, and shelf-stable foods so that you won't have to pay full price in the future.

The neighborly thing to do

It's a good idea to keep on good terms with your neighbors and be—well—neighborly. Here are a few tips that will help you do just that.

- Make a good first effort. When new neighbors move in, go over and greet them. Bring food or another small gift.
- Help out. Lend your neighbors items they might need—and also make sure you return things you borrow in a timely manner. When your neighbors are going out of town or dealing with a crisis, offer to walk the dog, water plants or pick up mail.
- Never pop in. Always call first.
- Be respectful. If you live in a neighborhood of early-to-bedders, keep the noise down at appropriate hours.
- Establish rapport. Organize block parties, park cleanups, and other community events as a way to connect and bond with your neighbors.

Make fitness a part of your daily routine

The warm sunny days of May invite us to go outdoors and play. It's also National Physical Fitness and Sports Month, so you have no excuse to be sitting on the couch doing nothing. Even if you think there's not enough time in your busy day to squeeze in a workout, you can find the time to make fitness part of your day.

Here are four strategies that will help you get active. They're inspired by Cat Kom, a working mom, physical trainer, and CEO of the digital exercise platform Studio SWEAT onDemand:

1. Make it a part of your day. Check your schedule and you're sure to find 30-minutes to an hour you can set aside for a workout. It might not be the same time each day, but surely you have free time you can commit doing something for your health.

2. Do what you love, and then some. Start with an activity you like and will be easy for you to commit to. Once you've found your groove and your plan is become a consistent part of your routine, begin to incorporate some different workouts to make sure you are addressing all muscle groups. Don't forget to make warmups, cool downs, and stretching a part of your rou-tines.

3. Try something new. There are so many different ways to stay active these days and you should try some of them. Consider spinning, hula hooping, working out with resistance bands, or a cardio-trampoline class. You'll never get bored trying new things, and it will help you continually develop fun and diverse goals.

4. Be reasonable. Some weeks will be more challenging than others, and there just won't seem like there is enough time to squeeze in a workout, but you can. If you only have 15 minutes you can jump rope, hula hoop, walk/jog around the block, or repeat a circuit of push-ups, planks, and burpees. The point is to do something physical every day.

The clock is ticking. Are you becoming the person you want to be?
