Manager Bob Kelsey's Message

Residents are not observing the rules concerning animals. Respect other individual's property concerning dogs. Do not let cats run free in the park. Do not feed the birds, there is a fine if you do so.

This is a quiet respectable park. Recently the police have been in here numerous times. Do not disrespect the fact that you are able to reside in Glen Ellen. Get along and be considerate of your neighbors.

Administrative Assistant Stephanie Scalise is no longer employed by Glen Ellen. If anyone has a problem please call me at Shangri-la {727}585-2850. I will also be in the office at Glen Ellen Tuesday through Friday 11:30 to 1:30.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Nancy Labbe's Message

A special welcome back to all the “snowbirds”. I hope everyone had an enjoyable and healthy summer. It was a very hot summer this year but we survived

There are new residents in Glen Ellen and we welcome everyone. Enjoy our park and feel free to participate in all the activities. The activities are listed in the Focus on the calendar and are also posted on the bulletin board in the clubhouse of Glen Ellen.

A special thank you to Kevin and Ronnie Kimball for Chairing the month of October. It was a great month and a lot of fun!

Joan Schuring and Barbara Barczak are Chairpersons for the month of November.

The Board of Directors of Glen Ellen wish to extend a Happy Thanksgiving to everyone!

Ditch these financial bad habits

Want to handle your money better? Most of us do. The Motley Fool website advises breaking these three bad habits:

- Paying bills late. A few days or weeks may not seem to matter, but you'll be hit with late fees, interest, and damage to your credit rating. Do your best to pay all your bills on time. Set up reminders so you're always on schedule. Automatic payment is one reliable option.
- Accumulating too much debt. Not all debt is bad, as long as you manage it sensibly and pay it off in a reasonable time. If you can't pay off your credit cards and other debt by the end of the month, set up a budget that helps you monitor and control your spending before debt gets out of control and hurts your credit rating.
- Not saving. Putting money away can be difficult, but not saving any money is a mistake. You should have a reasonable cushion in case of emergencies—at least three months' worth of living expenses. Look for ways to cut costs, and set up a separate savings account so you're able to keep track of savings and spending money easily.

When and where to pay cash

Credit and debit cards are convenient, but sometimes you're better off using cash. The Reader's Digest website suggests keeping your card in your wallet in these situations:

- Tipping. Tipping in cash instead of adding it to your bill ensures that your server gets the full amount.
- Farmer's markets. Many vendors have credit card machines nowadays, but not all of them. And the machines can always go down because of a power outage or spotty Wi-Fi. Keep cash handy so you don't miss out.
- Minimum purchases. Coffee shops and other venues frequently have a $5 or $10 minimum for credit card purchases. Paying cash ensures you don't buy more than you need in order to meet the minimum.
- Private transactions. You want to buy a special gift for your spouse, but you don't want him or her seeing it on a credit card statement. Use cash to keep the transaction secret.

Money and beauty are defenses against the sorrows of this world, but neither can undo the past. Only time will conquer time. The way forward is the only way back to innocence and to peace.

—Dean Koontz

Brainstorming isn't the only solution

Fun fact: The man who popularized brainstorming in the 1940s also touted the benefits of solitude when searching for creative ideas. Alex Osborn's book, Your Creative Power, described how he brought a practice he'd seen in a previous job to the advertising firm BBD&O (he's the "O").

"The early participants dubbed our efforts 'Brainstorm Sessions,' and quite aptly so," the book says, "because, in this case, 'brainstorm' means using the brain to storm a creative problem—and do so in commando fashion, with each stormer attacking the same objective."

But he also advised solo thinking. "A good long shower or a hot tub often induces ideas. One reason is that while we bathe we are shut off from distracting influences." And he describes one particularly fruitful effort:

"Once when I faced a hard creative task, I went to an inn over 100 miles away. Not only was I uninterrupted—not only did I get away from routine—but, because I had made such effort to go so far solely to engage in creative effort, my imagination seemed to work far better. The very taking of that trip tended to sharpen my imagination."

Brainstorming can be useful, but it's not the only tactic for sparking your creativity.

An alphabetical guide to inspiration

Is creativity as simple as ABC? Harvey Mackay thinks so. The businessman and bestselling author shared his formula for innovation and inspiration in a column on the Daily Herald website. Here's how his list begins:

- A: Advertising. "Expand your brand beyond media-generated advertising. For example, we painted our company name and phone numbers on top of our delivery trucks so they were visible to people who worked on upper floors of tall buildings."
- B: Bold. "People are not inspired by ordinary messages, so give them a reason to remember you."
- C: Curious. "Curiosity may not have been good for the cat, but it's a winning formula for people."
- D: Different. "Don't be afraid to do things that have never been tried before. You have to have enough faith in yourself to trust your instincts."
- E: Everyone. "I firmly believe that everyone has the capacity to be creative, if only they allow themselves to be."

Add more plant-based foods to your diet for better heart health

Even if you're not a vegetarian, this information may come in handy. According to the Science Daily website, a new study suggests that cutting back on animal-based foods and eating more plant-based foods may lead to a healthier heart.

Researchers analyzed data on food intake from more than 10,000 middle-aged adults in the United States who participated in a study from 1987 through 2016. None of them had any cardiovascular disease at the outset of the study. The researchers looked at the proportion of plant-based food the participants ate compared to animal-based foods. Those who ate the most plant-based meals had a 16% lower risk of cardiovascular disease (heart attack, stroke, heart failure, and other conditions), a 32% lower risk of dying from a cardiovascular disease, and a 25% lower risk of death in general compared with those who ate the least amount of plant-based food.

Meanwhile, another study reported on the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Health website suggests that a plant-based diet may help ward off type 2 diabetes. Researchers looked at data from nine studies that included health data from more than 300,000 participants, of whom 23,544 had type 2 diabetes. Their review of adherence to an overall predominantly plant-based diet found that people with the highest adherence had a 23% lower risk of type 2 diabetes than those with weaker adherence to the diets.

You may not have to go completely vegan, but cutting out meat and eating more fruits, vegetables, legumes, and whole grains can have a positive effect on your physical well-being.

Top states for top health care

Where you live can affect the quality of the health care you receive. The WalletHub website analyzed the 50 states and the District of Columbia, measuring cost, accessibility, and outcomes. Here are the top 10 states for good health care:

1. Minnesota
2. Massachusetts
3. Rhode Island
4. District of Columbia
5. Vermont
6. New Hampshire
7. Hawaii
8. Maine
9. North Dakota
10. Iowa

The bottom five: Arkansas, South Carolina, Mississippi, North Carolina, and Alaska.

Monthly

Movember. An annual event featuring the growing of moustaches to raise awareness of men's health issues, such as prostate cancer, testicular cancer, and men's suicide. The charity event is run by the Movember Foundation, on the web at Movember.com. The goal of Movember is to "change the face of men's health."

National Epilepsy Awareness Month. One in 26 people will be diagnosed with epilepsy. National Epilepsy Awareness Month in November is an annual event that teaches people about epilepsy's causes and symptoms. During this month, many organizations join together to provide information about prevention, treatment, research, and resources to fight epilepsy.

National Family Stories Month. With Thanksgiving just around the corner, many of us will be reconnecting with family members and listen as grandma and grandpa talk about "the good old days." All the stories that get passed around this time of year give us a great opportunity to learn about our heritage.

National Novel Writing Month. National Novel Writing Month (NaNoWriMo) is a fun, seat-of-your-pants approach to creative writing. On Nov. 1, participants begin working toward the goal of completing a 50,000-word novel by 11:59 p.m. on Nov. 30. Emphasizing enthusiasm, determination, and a deadline, NaNoWriMo is for anyone who has ever thought about writing a novel.

Weekly

National Animal Shelter Appreciation Week, Nov. 3–9. National Animal Shelter Appreciation Week recognizes shelters that provide care and bridge the gap to adoption for many abandoned and stray animals. Get to know your local animal shelter, and learn the types of support it needs to continue to provide services to the animals and community it serves.

Geography Awareness Week, Nov. 10–16. National Geographic magazine created Geography Awareness Week to raise awareness about the deficiency in geographic knowledge among Americans and excite people about geography as both a discipline and as a part of everyday life.

Global Entrepreneurship Week, Nov. 18–24. Connect with a vibrant ecosystem of entrepreneurs, investors, researchers, policymakers, and other startup champions in 170+ countries. Tens of thousands of events, activities, and competitions take place during Global Entrepreneurship Week each year. Find one near you.

American Education Week, Nov. 18–22. American Education Week presents all Americans with a wonderful opportunity to celebrate public education and honor individuals who are making a difference in ensuring that every child receives a high-quality education. 2019's theme will be reflected in special observances each day of the weeklong celebration.

Health insurance decisions can be confusing due to endless coverage changes and many policy types. Fortunately, there is someone who can work diligently to help and without cost to you – Michael Crofts, owner of Best Plan Choice.

Through his own healthcare experience Mr. Crofts learned the value of good health coverage and quality medical care. He dedicates his agency to helping people with Medicare and Medicaid needs. You can visit the office to learn about Medicare plan options or he will come to your home.

Every year your Medicare health plan coverage changes even if you do not change plans. Also, new products are introduced and many offer benefits beyond original Medicare and/or Medicaid plans. Baby Boomers had completely different insurance products during their working years. The indemnity and major medical policies are no longer the only choice and often do not meet the financial needs of consumers today.

Don't waste time trying to figure it out. Michael will sit with you and review all of the documents, and answer all of your questions. Most importantly, he will conduct a needs analysis to determine your individual needs – if you expect a hospitalization, use certain medicines, or want benefit like dental or vision – everything is taken into consideration.

Best Plan Choice is there to help you make the right choice and is available long after the policy is written. This means helping with doctor changes, plan questions, annual review of your benefits, and of course taking great care of any friend or family member you refer. At Best Plan Choice clients become friends, and friends become clients.

Reading makes people better, study suggests

Do you read a lot? If so, chances are you're more kind and empathetic than most people, according to a study reported on the Peace Quarters website.

Researchers in Great Britain asked 123 people about their reading or television watching habits. Then they analyzed participants' social skills, asking questions like, "How often do you consider other people's points of view versus your own?" and "Do you go out of your way to actively help others?"

The results showed that the book readers, usually considered introverted and antisocial, displayed more empathetic traits than people who primarily watch TV. The genre of books seemed to make a difference, with readers of romance and drama showing more empathy and skill at seeing things through another person's eyes.

Of course, it could be that empathetic people tend to read more, instead of reading creating more empathy. Either way, it's good news for bookworms.

Have a safe Thanksgiving

When you fire up the oven to roast your Thanksgiving turkey, you're probably not thinking about tragedy. But home fires are the most common disaster in the United States, and cooking is the leading cause of those fires. Thanksgiving Day is the unfortunate host to about 4,000 fires each year. Here are some safety tips to keep your Thanksgiving fire-free:

- Stay in the kitchen and keep watch while you are cooking.
- Use a timer if you have something in the oven or are boiling or simmering something on the stove.
- Don't wear loose sleeves or loose clothing when cooking.
- Keep anything that can catch on fire—pot holders, oven mitts, towels, etc.—away from your stovetop or oven.
- Turkey fryers are extremely dangerous, and most safety organizations do not recommend their use.
- Make sure you have a smoke alarm installed with working batteries. Push the button to check that it's working every month, and install new batteries at least once a year.
- After your guests leave, do a home safety check to make sure that all candles are extinguished and all of your cooking appliances are turned off.

Improve your self-discipline

Success in any endeavor is a matter of self-discipline. If you can't stay focused on your goals, you'll never achieve them. The Ladders website shares this list of tips for improving your self-discipline:

- Start on Monday. Begin working on your goals on the first day on the week. Researchers say this can help you follow through.
- Write down the reasons behind your goals. Positive affirmations can solidify your goals in your mind and help you stay focused.
- Visualize the benefits. Think about what you'll gain as you work toward your goals and eventually achieve them. They'll become more real in your mind and help you work past obstacles.
- Plan for temptation. You'll sometimes want to abandon your goals, or at least set them aside. Think about how you can respond—"If I want to quit early, I'll work 10 more minutes before making a final decision."
- Combine needs and wants. For example, if you have to go to a networking event, concentrate on meeting old friends as much as on making new contacts. Or plan a reward once you've completed a particular step toward your goal.
- Don't make snap decisions. A quick decision can easily lead you down the wrong path. Teach yourself to analyze information and consider your options before going ahead on a new move.

Build success on the right factors

Success in your workplace requires stability. Like a three-legged stool that stays up no matter how uneven the floor is, a stable workplace rests on three elements:

- The right people. You need talented, motivated employees.
- The right jobs. Make sure your employees are doing what they're best suited for.
- The right conditions. Employees need clear goals, sufficient training and resources, and an atmosphere that allows them to do their best work.

The way to get started is to quit talking and begin doing.

The speeder

Late one night a man was speeding down the empty road. A cop pulled him over. “Are you aware of how fast you were going, sir?”

The man replied, “Yes, I am. I’m trying to escape a robbery I was involved in.”

“Were you the one being robbed, sir?”

“Oh, no, I was the one who committed the robbery. I was escaping.”

The cop was shocked. “So you’re telling me you were speeding and you committed a robbery?”

“Oh, yes,” replied the man calmly. “I have all the loot in the trunk.”

The cop grew angry. “Sir, I’m afraid you have to come with me.”

“Don’t search my car!” the man cried. “I’m afraid that you’ll find the gun in my glove compartment!”

“Wait here.” The cop returned to his car and called for backup. Within minutes there were cars, cops, and helicopters all over. The man was dragged from his car, handcuffed, and put in the back of a police car.

A few minutes later another cop brought him out. “Sir, this officer tells us that you had committed a robbery, had the stolen loot in the trunk of your car, and had a gun in your glove compartment. However, we didn’t find any of these things in your car.”

The man shrugged. “Yeah, and I bet that liar said I was speeding, too.”

Five surgeons

Five surgeons were talking about the best patients. The first surgeon said, “Accountants are the best to operate on, because when you open them up, everything on the inside is numbered.”

The second surgeon said, “Nah—librarians are the best. Everything inside them is in alphabetical order.”

The third surgeon responded, “Try electricians, man! Everything inside them is color coded!”

The fourth surgeon said, “I prefer lawyers. They’re heartless, spineless, and gutless.”

To which the fifth surgeon said, “I like engineers. They always understand when you have a few parts left over at the end.”

Laughter and tears are both responses to frustration and exhaustion. I myself prefer to laugh, since there is less cleaning up to do afterward.

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word – the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."
