Did You Know About These Great Monthly Media Services?

Summer Mailings - If you are heading north for the summer but still want to receive a printed copy of your monthly newsletter, just call our office and sign up for Monthly Media's Summer Mailing Service. We will ship (USPS 1st Class) a printed copy of each month's newsletter to your northern address, for as long as you're away, the cost is $4 per month. Dozens of residents are already taking advantage. Please see our brightly colored insert for more information.

Get Your Picture on the Cover - We select a new and interesting picture every month to be printed on the cover of your newsletter. If you or your neighbors have fun events or activities please send in a picture and we'll enter it to be selected. Please include a description of the image and a brief release allowing us to reprint the picture. Our mailing and email address are located the bottom of this page.

Emporium/Classified Listing - Do you have an event in your community such as a Bake Sale or Flea Market? An item for sale like an old set of golf clubs that needs to go? Help needed or vendors wanted for an event? Maximize the people that see your listing and use the Emporium! Your listing will be printed & delivered to over 20,000 homes in Pinellas County. See the Emporium page toward the end of the newsletter for more info.

Larger Print Newsletters - At the request of some residents we are now offering Larger Print Newsletters to those who request them. The newsletter type will be approximately 20% larger (16 pt article body type vs. 12 pt normally). There is a small service charge of $2 per newsletter for those who request. The larger type newsletters can either be delivered to you every month like they are now or we can mail them directly to your home for an additional $2 per issue shipping charge. Please call Monthly Media (phone number listed below) for more information.

Manager Marilyn Sisti's Message for July:

As some of you may know we have a new Assistant in the office. Diane has retired, we all wish her the best. Our new assistant is Stephanie, please stop by and say hello and introduce yourself. The office hours will remain the same Monday through Thursday 10-3. I am asking that you please do not take out your anger and frustrations onto Stephanie, if you have a problem just let her know and if she cannot resolve it then I will be involved.

We still have several residents who are not complying with our requests from the past months to clean up their homes, yards, paint and pressure wash. I understand if you need more time, just give us a date when it will be completed. We all want to make Glen Ellen a special place to live and having our homes and yards cleaned up helps this happen.

I am still getting several complaints regarding your dogs, please do not walk them on other peoples lawns and always pick up after your pet.

As always, you can reach me at 727-585-2850.

Ancient bones offer clues to evolution

Scientists may have discovered a new human ancestor to go along with “Lucy,” the 3.2 million-year-old Australopithecus afarensis female from eastern Africa. Dubbed “Little Foot” because of his small bones, this specimen was unearthed in South Africa in the early 1990s. His skeleton was almost completely preserved after falling down a narrow cave shaft and dying there. Whether Little Foot was a relative of Lucy’s or a different pre-human species has been a subject of debate among anthropologists, but a new dating process suggests that Little Foot lived and died some 3.67 million years ago, close to the same time as Lucy.

Although some scientists dispute the accuracy of the dating technique, if it holds up it suggests an evolutionary link between different species of Australopithecus in ancient Africa, as well as evidence of where in Africa modern humans began to develop.

Birds do it, bees do it, and so do amorous mice

From time immemorial, men have wooed their lady loves with romantic (if sometimes off-key) music. Now scientists from Duke University believe that love songs aren’t just for humans. Mice also sing to females they hope to attract, although they aren’t likely using Barry White.

Instead, mice rely on high-pitched sounds outside the range of human hearing, using specific tunes when they smell a potential mate and different ones when they finally set eyes on her. The songs are louder and composed of more complex sounds when they smell a female scent, and get simpler—but longer—when they finally meet face to face. The complex songs seem to attract females, although what specifically draws them close is still uncertain.

The very striving and hard work that we so constantly try to avoid is the major building block in the person we are today.

The strongest bonds

A farm boy took his cows to the meadows out to pasture every morning and brought them back to the barn at the end of the day. One evening, as he was tying the cows up for the night, he found that he'd lost the piece of rope he needed for the last one.

He couldn't go all the way town to buy more rope, but he didn't want the cow to wander away. So he went to his grandfather for advice.

"Here's what you do," the grandfather said. "Go up to the cow the same way you do every night and pretend to tie a rope around him, then pretend to tie the rope up to his stall. Make sure he sees you doing it, and he'll be fooled." The boy followed his grandfather's advice, and the next morning when he went to the barn he found the cow still there.

He untied all the rest of the cattle and herded them out to pasture for the day. But when he passed by the barn on his way to do his other chores, he noticed the cow was still there. He went to his grandfather again.

The grandfather smiled and said: "You forgot to untie the cow. Go back and pretend to let him loose, and you'll be able to herd him outside."

Moral: Often what holds us back are the bonds we only think are real.

Correct: A Zen parable

Two monks could not agree on a problem. Finally they went to the master of their monastery to settle the dispute. They agreed to argue their positions one at a time while the master listened.

After hearing the argument presented by the first monk, the master nodded. "You are correct." The first monk was pleased, but the master then told the second monk to speak his piece.

The other monk made his case. Once he finished, the master gave another nod. "You are correct."

"But master!" the two monks cried together. "We can't both be correct!"

Again the master nodded and smiled. "You are correct."

Support innovation with continuous learning

The more you learn, the more material you have for your creative efforts. To master lifelong learning, no matter what your ambitions are, consider these points from the Innovation Excellence website:

- Laughter is good for the brain. Find the humor in whatever you do. Laughter will help you remember incidents better, and also generate a sense of security which supports a well-balanced mind.
- Learn in chunks. Instead of trying to memorize information in big blocks, concentrate on learning a few individual points at a time. You'll retain more without the mental exhaustion of cramming.
- Study a foreign language. Bilingual speakers tend to process information more efficiently than those who speak only one language. People who exercise their brains by learning Spanish, Japanese, or some other tongue frequently find they don't have to work as hard performing other cognitive tasks.

Keep your mouth shut

A turtle was lying on the bank of a river one day when he heard two hunters walk by, talking about how they planned to come back the next day to catch some turtles for soup. He worried all night, because he knew he couldn't outrun the hunters, and in the morning he had a plan.

He saw two birds in the tree overhead. As the hunters approach, the turtle called out, "You up there! Would you help me escape these hunters?"

"What do you want us to do?" the first bird asked.

"I'll hold this stick in my mouth," the turtle said, "and you two pick me up and fly me to the other side of the river."

The birds agreed and flew down to the ground. The turtle clamped a thick stick between its jaws, and the birds slowly lifted him up off the ground.

As the hunters reached the riverbank, they stared in amazement. "Look at those birds! They figured out how to carry a turtle across the river! Those must be the smartest animals in the world!"

Jealous, the turtle cried out: "It was my ideaaaaa ..."

Doctors may soon use lasers to seal wounds

Lasers are common weapons in science fiction movies, but soon a laser may be used to heal wounds in real life if scientists at Tel Aviv University are successful.

As reported on the Reuters website, the scientists developed optical fiber capable of transmitting infrared light and at the same time measuring the heat of the tissue it's pointed at. This allows them to control the laser's power accurately and use it to "weld" tissue effectively without any burning or scarring. Collagen aids the bonding process, growing firm as the skin cools down.

This laser-aided process may result in stronger bonding with fewer scars than traditional suture offers. Initial tests on humans showed successful healing with less scar tissue; examinations one year after surgery should demonstrate whether the laser produces less scarring than needle and thread.

Twin suns may support rocky worlds—in theory

Many solar systems around the universe are binary, with two stars orbiting each other in space. Scientists have long believed that rocky planets can't form in these systems because of gravitational forces that would cause planetesimals (worlds in the process of forming) to destroy themselves in collisions instead of slowly merging with each other. Thus, the common image of a world with two (or more) sunsets on the horizon seemed relegated to movies.

But new studies suggest that planetesimals behave differently than had been thought, according to the Sci-News website. Astronomers previously theorized that small worlds seek a circular orbit, leading to collisions around binary stars; now they believe that planets in these systems may take on an oval orbit as they form, avoiding crashes and eventually accumulating a rocky mass. Such worlds could see more than one sun in the sky, and may be able to support life.

The state of food across the U.S.

Every U.S. state is known for something: slogans, state birds, celebrities, etc. If you're hungry, or planning your vacation menu, consider some of these official state foods found across the country:

- Alaska: Salmon (state fish)
- California: Avocado (state fruit)
- Delaware: Peach piece (state pie)
- Georgia: Grits (state prepared food)
- Illinois: Popcorn (state snack food)
- Louisiana: Sweet potato (state vegetable)
- Maryland: Smith Island Cake—a yellow cake of 8-10 layers with chocolate frosting (state dessert)
- New York: Apple muffin (state muffin)

The creative process—from the artists who know

What do professional artists, writers, and performers think about creativity? From The Guardian come these thoughts on the process from people who depend on their imagination to do their jobs:

- Guy Garvey, musician. “Just start scribbling. The first draft is never your last draft. Nothing you write is by accident.”
- Polly Stenham, playwright. “I’m very fidgety, and I seem to work best when my hands are occupied with something other than what I’m thinking about. During rehearsals, I find myself drawing little pictures or symbols that are somehow connected to the play.”
- Tamara Rojo, ballet dancer. “An idea never comes to me suddenly; it sits inside me for a while, and then emerges.”
- Mark-Anthony Turnage, composer. “If you get overexcited by an idea, take a break and come back to it later. It is all about developing a cold eye with which to look over your own work.”
- Fyfe Dangerfield, musician. “For me, the image of the tortured artist is a myth—you don’t need to be miserable to write songs. In fact, if I am feeling down, the last thing I want to do is write; though it’s important sometimes just to sit down and get on with it, however you’re feeling. Your creativity is like a tap: if you don’t use it, it gets clogged up.”

Eliminate the obstacles to a good night's rest

A good night's sleep is essential to everyone's health, and yet many people have trouble getting the shut-eye they need. If you're not waking up feeling refreshed and ready to start your day with energy, check out these problems that may be preventing you from sleeping soundly:

- Procrastination. You know you should go to bed, but you let yourself get distracted by household tasks or the TV. Set a firm time limit on your evening and stick to it.
- Caffeine. Avoid coffee and other caffeinated drinks after 3 p.m. The effects can linger for up to seven hours, making sleep difficult by the time you need to go to bed.
- Heat. You may not be sweating, but feeling just a little too warm can keep you from dropping off. Try sticking one foot out from under the covers to balance the temperature.
- Stress. The news, your job, or personal worries can make relaxation and sleep difficult. Practice meditation and other techniques to un-tense your body and your mind.
- Work. If your job starts too early in the morning, you'll have trouble waking up and performing well. Try to negotiate a later arrival time. Emphasize how your productivity will increase if you get the right amount of rest.

Prevent back pain before it strikes

Back pain can make your work difficult no matter what job you do. Lifting heavy items is only one potential source of damage; poor posture and repetitive movements can also cause strain and pain. Keep your back in good shape with these general tips from the Mayo Clinic website:

- Get some exercise. Losing weight and staying in shape will decrease wear and tear on your back muscles. Combine aerobic activity with strength training that stretches and strengthens your stomach and back.
- Practice good posture. Your parents were right when they told you to stand up straight. Make a point of keeping your weight balanced on both feet without slouching. Use a chair with good back support, and make sure it's the right height, allowing you to keep both feet flat on the floor and your knees on the same level as your hips.

ATTENTION RESIDENTS!

Did you know this Emporium/ Classified listing reaches over 21,000 homes in Pinellas County? It goes into 60 community newsletters (just like this one) from Dunedin to St. Petersburg. This is a great market to sell items, advertise your next event, try and get help for a function, and many other great things. Remember to think about this the next time you're planning something.

Thanks!
