Manager, Marilyn Sisti's Message

Welcome back to all you snowbirds! Please be sure to come to the office and meet our new Administrative Assistant Stephanie.

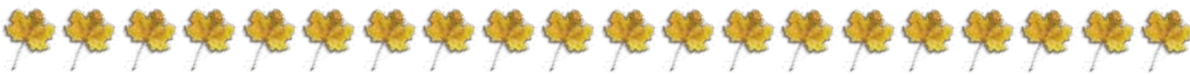

By the time this is delivered the kitchen in the Clubhouse should be completed, a big thank you to all the HOA Officers for their help and input with this project, it was a long time coming, but I think you will all be happy with the results.

Before you snowbirds leave next year, please designate someone to watch your home and tend to your yard, please let Stephanie know who this will be. Also please update your telephone numbers and out of town addresses with the office.

As a reminder, all pets must be on a leash at all times, pick up their poop and please do not allow them to go to the bathroom in any one else's yard.

For those of you who have ignored Stephanie's notices regarding the cleaning of your yard, carports, painting and pressure washing, after the third notice it will go to the attorney as a rules violation.

If you have any questions or concerns, please come to the office or you can call me at Shangri-La 727-585-2850.

Scribe, Nancy Labbe's Message

A special 'welcome back' to all the snowbirds. I hope everyone had an enjoyable and healthy summer!

The exciting news for Glen Ellen residents is that the kitchen in the clubhouse has been completely renovated as mentioned in Marilyn's message. It is a big improvement and much needed. It should be a big plus for Glen Ellen functions in the clubhouse.

It was a very hot and rainy summer in Clearwater this year. It is cooling down now and should be more comfortable, enjoy everyone.

There are quite a few new residents in Glen Ellen and we welcome everyone. Enjoy our park and feel free to participate in all the activities.

The Board of Directors of Glen Ellen wish to extend a Happy Thanksgiving to everyone!

Moo! Cows may be smarter than you think

What's the smartest animal you can think of? Dolphins and chimpanzees may spring to mind quickly, but don't neglect one often-overlooked farm animal: the cow.

College students at the University of Sydney (as reported by the Huffington Post) conducted experiments with dairy cows and found that our bovine friends are capable of quickly mastering a maze to find food, and thus may possess better problem-solving skills than previously known.

The cows were tested in a T-shaped maze similar to those used with mice and rats. They learned to follow a sound through the maze to get to their food, with one of them reaching its goals within the first 20 seconds of the test.

The results suggest that cattle farmers could train cows to obey specific sound signals to come in for milking, producing greater efficiency on dairy farms.

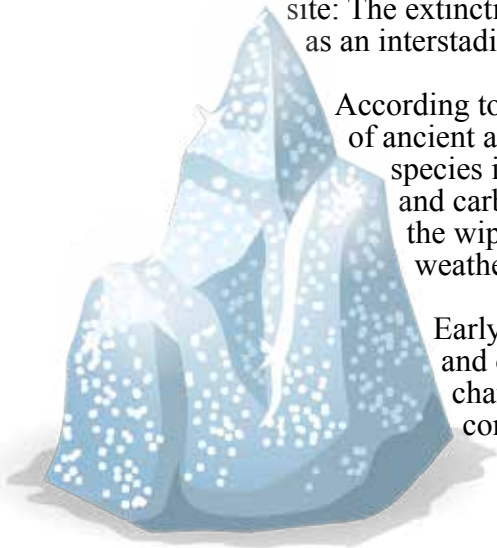

Global warming, not Ice Age, may have killed mammoths

Giant woolly mammoths roamed the Earth until about 11,000 years ago, when they abruptly went extinct. For years, scientists theorized that they were killed by the cold temperatures of the last Ice Age. Now some believe the explanation is just the opposite: The extinction event was caused by a sudden warming event known as an interstadial.

According to research published in the journal Science, DNA studies of ancient animals point to the sudden extinction of many large species in past ages. As more DNA from fossils became available, and carbon dating methods improved, scientists discovered that the wipeouts didn't correspond to the rise of glaciers and cold weather, but rather to periods of rapid global warming.

Early humans also contributed to the demise of the mammoths and other large beasts, but the evidence suggests that climate change was a major factor in their extinction—raising concerns about the future of our present environment.

Have a nice flight (if you can)

Flying may be the fastest and safest way to travel, but we all have our own preferences and quirks when traveling by air. A survey of more than 1,100 family travelers by ExpertFlyer looked at passenger habits. Their findings included:

- Airline choice. United? American? Southwest? Forty-five percent of participants said that airline mile redemption was a factor in choosing which airline to fly on.
- Storage space. Space is at a premium on most airplanes. Seventy-five percent admitted to “stealing” overhead bin space beyond their authorized allotment.
- Food. In-flight meals aren’t the only option if you’re hungry. More than one-third of passengers said they bring their own food to eat during flight.
- Complaints. Flying can be stressful. The top complaint: A bad seat or a seat not near companions (35 percent), followed by delays (25 percent), and general discomfort (24 percent).
- Worries. Lost luggage is one thing, but 21 percent of survey participants said that terrorism is their biggest concern when traveling with their families. That was followed by getting lost or separated (19 percent) and crime (19 percent).

Who’s drinking all the coffee?

Lots of people depend on coffee to get them through the day. According to figures from Gallup, 64 percent of U.S. adults drink at least one cup a day. Some drink more:

- One cup 26 percent
- Two cups 19 percent
- Three cups 8 percent
- Four or more 11 percent
- None 36 percent

Coffee is somewhat more popular with the older generation, with 74 percent of people 55 or older drinking it daily, a habit shared by just 50 percent of the 18-34 crowd. Women drink a little more than men: Sixty-six percent of women report having one or more cups per day, while 62 percent of men say the same. And Caucasians drink more than African-Americans—67 percent to 59 percent.

November Is...

Military Family Appreciation Month. Throughout November, military families serving around the world are honored through a variety of observances and recognized for their commitment and the many contributions they make every day in support of the military and our nation.

National Epilepsy Awareness Month. The Epilepsy Foundation estimates that 65 million people around the world, and 2 million in the U.S., have epilepsy—a neurological condition in which disturbances in the electrical activity of the brain cause seizures. National Epilepsy Awareness Month seeks to break down barriers stopping people with epilepsy from reaching their fullest potential.

National Peanut Butter Lover's Month. Celebrate your love of peanut butter this month by sharing these facts with your friends: One 12-ounce jar of peanut butter contains about 540 peanuts; one acre of peanuts can produce enough peanut butter for 30,000 sandwiches; and peanuts contribute more than $4 billion to the U.S. economy every year.

Native American Heritage Month. Beginning as a single day of recognition for the contributions the first Americans have made to the establishment and growth of the U.S., Native American Heritage Month was designated in 1990 by President George H. W. Bush.

Week to Week in November

National Animal Shelter Appreciation Week, Nov. 2-8. Approximately 3,500 animal shelters across the United States serve the estimated 6-8 million homeless animals in need of refuge each year. Show them some love and support.

National Hunger & Homelessness Awareness Week, Nov. 14-22. Held each year the week before Thanksgiving to give Americans a time to show compassion for people experiencing hunger and homelessness.

Geography Awareness Week, Nov. 15-21. Spatial thinking through maps is one of the most important skills that students can develop as they learn geography, Earth and environmental sciences, and so much more. Celebrate and explore the power of maps!

American Education Week, Nov. 16-20. Take this opportunity to celebrate public education and honor individuals who are making a difference in ensuring that every child receives a quality education.

Stay healthy when you travel

Can your hotel room make you sick? Whether you're on vacation or traveling for work, you don't want your accommodations to create health issues. Try these tips to stay healthy wherever you crash:

- Get a smoke-free room. Avoid exposure to leftover smoke and nicotine by requesting a smoke-free floor when you make your reservations, or at least a nonsmoking room.
- Resist the minibar. Decline a minibar key when you check in. You'll be free of temptation to indulge in unhealthy (and expensive) drinks and snacks.
- Ditch the bed cover. Bed covers can be hiding places for bugs and other pests. Store it in a dresser or a corner of your room before going to bed.
- Bring your own disinfectant. Wipe down the phone, TV remote, and other devices with an antibacterial spray or wipe before using them to get rid of any harmful bacteria and germs from previous guests.
- Use fresh cups. Don't drink from reusable glasses and cups. Stick with your own water bottle, or plastic disposable cups wrapped in plastic.

Don't sabotage your diet during the long afternoon

You can eat a healthful breakfast and a nutritious lunch, yet still undercut your efforts to stay fit if you slack off in the afternoon. Watch out for these post-lunchtime habits that can add on extra pounds (from the Health Magazine website):

- Heavy snacks. A mid-afternoon snack can turn into a second lunch if you're not careful. Don't overdo it. Limit your snacking to 150 calories or fewer.
- Avoiding the gym. Schedule time for exercise; don't skip it just because you're busy or tired. Burning calories is important to staying in shape.
- The coffee shop. If you need a dose of caffeine, don't overload on extra sugar and cream, and resist the scones and muffins. Have a cup of coffee or tea at work, or ask a friend to pick up something salubrious for you so you don't face the temptation.
- Workplace celebrations. Birthdays, showers, good-bye parties and the like usually feature treats that can pack on the pounds. Share your good wishes, but don't go overboard on the goodies.

November Crossword

You are there: The first Thanksgiving

Ever wonder what the first Thanksgiving was like for the people who were there? Here are two on-the-spot reports of American colonists remembering the historic feast:

- William Bradford, in Of Plymouth Plantation: “
They began now to gather in the small harvest they had, and to fit up their house and dwelling against winter, being all well recovered in health and strength and had all things in good plenty. For as some were thus employed in affairs abroad, others were exercised in fishing, about cod and bass and other fish, of which they took good store, of which every family had their portion. All the summer there was no want; and now began to come in store of fowl, as winter approached, of which this place did abound when they came first (but afterward decreased by degrees). And besides waterfowl there was great store of wild turkeys, of which they took many, besides venison, etc. Besides, they had about a peck of meal a week to a person, or now since harvest, Indian corn to that proportion. Which made many afterwards write so largely of their plenty here to their friends in England, which were not feigned by true reports.”
- Edward Winslow, in Mourt’s Relation:
“Our harvest being gotten in, our governor sent four men on fowling, that so we might after a special manner rejoice together after we had gathered the fruits of our labor. They four in one day killed as much fowl as, with a little help beside, served the company almost a week. At which time, amongst other recreations, we exercised our arms, many of the Indians coming amongst us, and among the rest their greatest king Massasoit, with some ninety men, whom for three days we entertained and feasted, and they went out and killed five deer, which we brought to the plantation and bestowed on our governor, and upon the captain and others. And although it be not always so plentiful as it was at this time with us, yet by the goodness of God, we are so far from want that we often wish you partakers of our plenty.”

Don't listen to the critics

If you worry that your work is unappreciated, consider that even knowledgeable critics make mistakes. From Rotten Reviews: A Literary Companion, edited by Bill Henderson (Penguin Books) come these examples of reviewers who missed the mark when evaluating various “failures”:

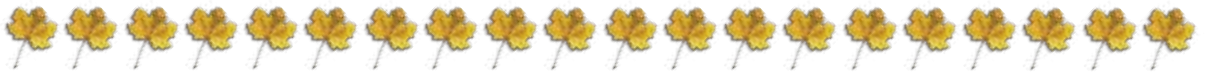

- Emily Dickinson. In describing poet Emily Dickinson for an 1892 review in the Atlantic Monthly, Thomas Bailey Aldrich noted his belief that “an eccentric, half-educated recluse in an out-of-the-way New England village—or anywhere else—cannot with impunity set at defiance the laws of gravitation and grammar.”
- William Faulkner. The New Yorker's Clifton Fadiman didn't mince words in his 1936 review of William Faulkner's Absalom, Absalom! Fadiman declared it “the final blowup of what was once a remarkable, if minor, talent.”
- Rudyard Kipling. A San Francisco Examiner editor summed up the paper's view of Jungle Book author Rudyard Kipling in an 1889 rejection letter that read: “I'm sorry, Mr. Kipling, but you just don't know how to use the English language.”
- Charles Dickens. And in 1859, the Saturday Review made this bold prediction of Charles Dickens, author of Great Expectations, A Tale of Two Cities, and Oliver Twist: “We do not believe in the permanence of his reputation.”

How much is that in galleons?

Converting money when traveling to another country is difficult enough. What happens when you travel to a different planet? Many famous fictional worlds have their own currencies, designed by writers and filmmakers. Take a look at what your cash would buy (as calculated by Mobile Money UK) in places you've only read about or seen on the screen:

- Star Wars. Currency: Galactic Credit Standard. Conversion: 10 GDS = $10.10
- Flintstones. Currency: Clams. Conversion: 10 clams = $32.
- Harry Potter. Currency: Galleons. Conversion: 10 galleons = $73.50

Make no mistake

One morning a grocer put a sign in his window that read: “Eggplants—25 cents, 3 for $1.00.” All day long, customers walked in and complained about the sign. “I should get four eggplants for a dollar!” they all said. The grocer apologized to each one and put four eggplants in bags for them. By the end of the day he was sold out.

The manager of a shoe store next door came in at the end of the day and heard the last customer demand four eggplants. “Why don’t you just fix the mistake on your sign?” he asked.

“What mistake?” The grocer smiled. “Before I put up that sign nobody ever bought more than one eggplant!”

Powers of perception

Two cowboys came upon a member of the Sioux nation lying on his stomach with his ear to the ground. One cowboy said to the other, “You see that guy? He’s listening to the ground. He can hear things for miles in any direction.”

“Really?” The other cowboy got down off his horse. “Is anything nearby?”

The Sioux looked up. “One covered wagon,” he said, “about two miles away. Two horses, one brown, one white. A man, a woman, one child, and a piano in wagon.”

“That’s incredible! How can you know all that?”

“Simple,” the Sioux replied. “It ran over me about a half-hour ago.”

Wrong way

Joe was driving down the freeway when his car phone rang. “Hello?”

“Joe?” It was his wife. “I just heard on the radio that police say there’s a car going the wrong way down Route 280. Isn’t that the highway you’re on?”

“Sure is,” Joe said. “And it’s not just one car—it’s hundreds of them!”
