DUNEDIN COMMUNITY CHORUS

Judy Lee

The talented and committed group is working on Christmas music for the concert at 3:00 PM on December 8. The music will help prepare you for the joyous Christmas season with selections pleasing everyone. Traditional includes "It's the Most Wonderful Time of the Year" and "White Christmas." Classical features "Gloria in Excelsis". Those who enjoy whimsical will enjoy "Dominick the Donkey". The Glenwood Social Committee officers needed to change the date of the Christmas party for residents to December 8 because of a scheduling error (not their error). The concert concludes in less than 90 minutes so those who would enjoy both occasions can easily return to Glenwood for the social time or dinner serving time at 6:00 PM. Please arrive at the concert site early to find a convenient parking place.

The next concert is February 23. Our Glenwood attendees donate as a group this time and are appreciated for our generous support.

Boost your thinking with Limits

Sometimes a few constraints can boost your creativity. As recounted on the Fast Company website, publisher Bennett Cerf bet one of his authors, Theo Geisel—better known as Dr. Seuss—that he couldn’t write a children’s book with just 50 different words. Seuss stepped up to the challenge and won the bet with his book, Green Eggs and Ham.

“Putting limits to encourage creativity might sound counterintuitive,” writes JotForm CEO Aytekin Tank on the website. “But the thing is, constraints encourage more divergent thinking—and you can leverage built-in limits or apply them to the project at hand. For example, sometimes we’ll tell our designers that they can only have 10 elements on a product screen. These limits stretch their problem-solving abilities and typically produce surprising results.”

Four paths to inspiration

Creativity calls for patience and a willingness to make mistakes along the way to success. The Thrive Global website offers some advice on how to begin this sometimes difficult path:

- Anticipate the future. Look at trends instead of the status quo. What’s changing, and how can you take advantage of it? This helps you challenge conventional thinking and start finding new areas to explore.
- Let yourself play. Don’t take your projects too seriously. Take time to relax and do something different. When working, give yourself the freedom to try something new and outlandish. Even if it leads nowhere, it should loosen up your mind so you can spot new possibilities.
- Let your mind wander. Focus is important, but so is a wide perspective. Think about the project you’re working on, and allow your mind to explore all the angles without worrying about what’s “right.” A wandering mind will sometimes come across a useful idea.
- Embrace ambiguity. Look at elements that don’t seem related, and try to forge connections in your mind. Looking for similarities instead of differences can help you link ideas usefully and develop more options than what’s immediately apparent.

A strange thing, words. Once they’re said, it’s hard to imagine they’re untrue.
—Lauren DeStefano

Inventive women from history

Some of the most common things we use every day were invented by creative women. Here are a few, gathered by the Mental Floss website:

- Circular saws. Tabitha Babbit, a weaver in a Shaker community, suggested that instead of a two-man pit saw that worked only when being pulled forward, a circular saw would be more efficient. She attached a prototype to her spinning wheel in 1813 and filed a patent thereafter.
- Paper bags. Margaret Knight created the modern, flat-bottomed paper bag in 1868. Before then, paper bags looked like envelopes. A man tried to steal the idea and file a patent, but Knight filed a lawsuit and won the rights to her creation.
- Windshield wipers. Mary Anderson invented the first manual windshield wipers in 1903. They didn't take off because most drivers thought it was safer to simply drive through rain and snow than keep pulling a lever to clear it. Another woman, Charlotte Bridgwood, invented an automatic version in 1917, but it wasn't accepted either. Still, by 1920 windshield wipers were everywhere, starting with Cadillac, which began installing them on all its cars.
- Liquid paper. A secretary named Bette Nesmith Graham corrected her typing mistakes with white tempera paint. After years perfecting the formula in her kitchen, she patented Liquid Paper in 1958. Gillette bought her company in 1979 for $47.5 million.
- Kevlar. This lightweight material will stop a bullet. It's five times stronger than steel. A chemist named Stephanie Kwolek discovered it by accident in 1966 as she was trying to develop a lightweight fiber for car tires.

The writer must have a good imagination to begin with, but the imagination has to be muscular, which means it must be exercised in a disciplined way, day in and day out, by writing, failing, succeeding, and revising.

—Stephen King

December Days

World AIDS Day, Dec. 1. World AIDS Day is an opportunity for people worldwide to unite in the fight against HIV, to show support for people living with HIV, and to commemorate those who have died from an AIDS-related illness.

International Tea Day, Dec. 15. Enjoy your favorite cup with a friend.

Ugly Christmas Sweater Day, Dec. 20. You know you've got at least one. Grab your least attractive Christmas sweater and show off your lack of good fashion taste.

First night of Hannukah, Dec. 20. Gather together to light the first candle on the menorah.

Christmas, Dec. 25. The highlight of the year to children young and old.

Da Vinci's bridge design would have worked

Leonardo da Vinci is known for such paintings as "Mona Lisa" and "The Last Supper," but he was also a masterful engineer. According to the LiveScience website, in the 16th century he designed what would have been the longest bridge in the world at the time, connecting Constantinople to a nearby area called Galata over the Bosphorus Sea. He was responding to a request for proposals from Sultan Bayezid, the ruler of the Ottoman Empire.

DaVinci's bridge was never built, but modern researchers from MIT have built a 3D replica of the bridge, using materials and construction equipment that would have been available in the 16th century. They found that da Vinci's design, using only a single arch, would have been structurally sound, thanks to compression that would have held the bridge's stones together. Leonardo was a true Renaissance man.
